History: En. Sec. 2038, Ch. 76, L. 1913. This section is constitutional. State v. Dickerman, 16 Mont. 278, 292, 40 Pac. 698.

1244. Trustees may fund floating indebtedness. The board of school trustees of any school district or county high school in the state of Montana shall have, and are hereby given, in addition to the powers already conferred upon them, authority, whenever at any time such district shall have a floating indebtedness incurred, on or before July 1, 1921, for teachers' salaries, school supplies and equipment, new buildings heretofore completed, necessary repairs to school buildings and heating plants therein, or other necessary expenses incurred in the maintenance of schools in such district, to fund such indebtedness and to issue negotiable coupon bonds therefor and to pledge the credit and resources of the district represented by warrants heretofore issued whether in excess of funds on hand and anticipated revenues or otherwise for the payment of the principal and interest of such bonds.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 97, L. 1921.

1245. Issuance of warrants in excess of funds or levy. In addition to the powers conferred by the preceding section, and in anticipation of the subsequent issuance of the funding bonds authorized by this act, but subject to the constitutional limitations as to the total indebtedness of school districts or county high schools, all boards of school trustees are hereby given authority to issue warrants in excess of the available funds of the school district or county high school and in excess of the amount levied by said school district or county high school for the current school year. Said warrants shall be issued only in payment of the current expenses of said school for the completion of the school year of 1920-1921, and not for the purpose of increasing salaries, purchasing new equipment or increasing school facilities in any manner whatsoever. The warrants so issued may likewise be funded in accordance with the terms of this act.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 97, L. 1921.

1246. Funding bonds, when issued. The funding bonds authorized by this act shall be issued under the following conditions, to-wit:

1. When there is not sufficient money to the credit of said school district or county high school applicable to the payment of any such outstanding indebtedness; and,

2. When, in the judgment of the board of school trustees, to levy and collect a tax for the purpose of paying such indebtedness would be a hardship and burden to said school district or county high school;

Provided it shall not be necessary to submit the question of the issuance of such bonds to fund such indebtedness to the vote of the electors of such district, or county high school.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 97, L. 1921.

1247. Resolution to be entered. The board of school trustees shall, by resolution, declare that the existing indebtedness shall be funded by the issuance of bonds, which said resolution shall describe the amount and kinds of indebtedness which is to be funded and declare and certify as to the validity of such indebtedness, which resolution and certificate shall be conclusive against the district as to the validity of the indebtedness so funded in favor of innocent holders of said bonds.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 97, L. 1921.

1248. Contents of resolution—Form of bonds—Registry. The board of school trustees shall, by resolution, fix the rate of interest which said bonds shall bear, not exceeding six per centum per annum, payable semi-annually; the time of payment not exceeding twenty years after date; if redeemable before maturity, the date thereof; and shall prescribe the denomination and form thereof; such bonds shall bear the signature of the chairman of the board of trustees and shall be signed by the clerk of said district; and the coupons attached to the bonds shall be signed by the said chairman and clerk, provided a facsimile of the signatures of the chairman and clerk may be affixed to the coupon, only when so recited in the bonds, and the corporate seal of the school district, or county high school, shall be affixed to each of the bonds. Upon execution, the bonds shall be deposited with the county treasurer, who shall register the same in a book provided for that purpose, which shall show the number and amount of each bond, its date, the date payable and redeemable, and the person to whom the same is issued, and the county treasurer shall deliver the same to the person, or persons, to whom sold, upon their making payment for the same, or, if so directed by the board of trustees, to such person, or persons, as shall surrender an amount of warrants, which, with accrued interest, shall equal the par value of such bonds, and said warrants so received by the treasurer shall be duly canceled.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 97, L. 1921.

1249. Tax levy. The board of school trustees shall provide for a tax levy to pay the principal and interest of said bonds as they mature, in accordance with the provisions of section 1228 of this code.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 97, L. 1921.

1250. Advertisement and sale of bonds—Exchange. When the board issues any bonds authorized by this chapter it is its duty to sell the same and they shall give notice by advertisement in some newspaper published in this state at least once a week for four consecutive weeks, the date of the first publication to be not less than thirty days prior to date of sale, such advertisement must state the date, hour and place where such sale will take place and shall describe the bonds to be sold, giving the amount, denomination, rate of interest, time payable, time redeemable and purpose of the proposed bond issue. The trustees are authorized to reject any and all bids and sell such bonds at private sale if they deem it for the best interests of the district, the proceeds from the sale of such bonds to be used wholly for the purpose of taking up and retiring the outstanding indebtedness of the district as described in the resolution provided by section 1247 of this code; provided, however, that the board may, if in its opinion it would be to the best interests of the district so to do, effect an exchange of such school district, or county high school, bonds to take up such legal outstanding indebtedness by issuing the same to any person or persons holding the school district, or county high school, warrants or just claims against the school district, or county high school, as set forth in the resolution as provided in section 1247 of this code, the exchange to be made dollar for dollar.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 97, L. 1921.

1251. Emergency clause. There being no adequate provision by law for the funding of indebtedness of school districts, or county high schools, and there being a large number of districts which will be unable to continue their school operations unless their present indebtedness be funded into bonds, and this act being deemed of immediate importance, and an emergency existing in the meaning of the constitution, therefore, this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and approval.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 97, L. 1921.

1252. Signers required on petition for bond elections. No election for the issuance of bonds of any school district, or of any town, or city, or county shall be called except upon presentation of a petition therefor to the board of school trustees, or to the town or city council, or to the board of county commissioners, as the case may be, signed by at least twenty per cent. of the qualified registered electors who are taxpayers upon property within said school district, town, city or county, and whose names appear on the assessment-roll for the year next preceding such election, praying for the calling of said election; provided that the board of county commissioners, board of school trustees, town or city council, as the case may be, shall determine as to the sufficiency of such petition, and the findings of such governing body shall be conclusive against the municipality in favor of any innocent holder of the bonds issued under and by virtue of authority conferred by election provided by this act.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 104, L. 1921.

1253. Qualification of voters. In all elections hereafter held for the issuance of bonds of any school district, town or city, only qualified registered electors who are taxpayers upon property therein, and whose names appear on the assessment-roll for the year next preceding such election, shall be entitled to vote thereat.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 104, L. 1921; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 17, Ex. L. 1921.

Note.—The title to the latter act, as well as the amending clause thereof, mentions chapter 103, Laws of 1921, but the title itself recites the title of chapter 104, Laws of 1921.

1254. Repealing clause. All acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed, provided, however, this act shall not apply to any issuance of bonds which have been authorized prior to such time as this act shall take effect and be in full force.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 104, L. 1921.

1255. Establishment of manual and industrial training. Elementary manual and industrial training which shall include industrial art may form a part of the required course of study in all grades of the public schools of the state of Montana. The superintendent of public instruction shall formulate a course of study, or he may approve courses of study formulated by local school officials, which meet the requirements of this section. The clerk of each school district, in his annual report to the county superintendent, shall state whether the above provisions have been complied with within the schools of his district.

1257. Courses. The courses to be presented in these schools shall provide:

1. A general culture, intelligence, and skill for those pupils whose school attendance will end with the elementary or secondary grades; and

A progressive development designed to prepare directly for efficient work in the related technical and scientific courses of the higher institutions of learning.

The courses shall be modified to meet, in the largest measure, the needs of each class of pupils.

Nothing in this section shall be understood as forbidding any school from using other materials than those herein specified, nor as preventing a different assignment of work by grades; provided, that all courses shall have the approval of the state board of education.

History: En. Secs. 1 and 2, Ch. 131, L. 1911; re-en. Sec. 1700, Ch. 76, L. 1913.

1258. Qualification of teachers. Teachers of such schools shall have had special preparation for such instruction and shall be holders of special manual training teachers' certificates, which the superintendent of public instruction is hereby empowered to grant, when satisfied that the applicant has received a sufficient general education and the professional and technical preparation necessary for such manual and industrial training.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 131, L. 1911; re-en. Sec. 1700, Ch. 76, L. 1913.

1259. Special courses in districts with population of over ten thousand. In all school districts having a population of over ten thousand, there shall be, and in school districts of less population there may be, maintained schools of special courses in connection with manual training, or city or county high schools, designed to furnish a direct vocational training, including training in agricultural pursuits and mining for which there shall be a local demand. Classes shall be formed when not less than twenty applicants desire instruction in any vocation. Pupils who have reached the age of twelve years, and who have completed not less than the general school work assigned to the first five grades, may be admitted to these courses upon such terms as the board of trustees of the district may prescribe; pupils above the age of fourteen, together with adults, may be admitted to evening classes providing similar instruction, upon such terms of admittance as the trustees may prescribe; provided, that there shall in no case be any charge for tuition. Teachers of such classes shall be holders of special certificates issued by the superintendent of public instruction, specifying the subject or subjects which the holder is entitled to teach. Applicants for such certificates must present satisfactory evidence not only of general educational qualifications, but of special training and practical experience in the vocations which they are to teach.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 131, L. 1911; re-en. Sec. 1700, Ch. 76, L. 1913.

1260. Support from general school fund—Buildings and equipment. The trustees of any district are hereby empowered to use moneys from the general school fund of the district for the maintenance of manual and industrial schools and courses the same as for other school purposes; provided, that the state treasurer shall pay annually from any funds in his possession not otherwise appropriated ten dollars to each district for each person attending such manual and industrial courses for a period of six months or more yearly; provided, further, that the state treasury shall likewise pay annually to any county high school which maintains a manual training department, from any funds in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, the sum of ten dollars for each child or student attending the manual training department in such county high school for a period of six months or longer yearly. Buildings and furnishing and equipment for manual and industrial training shall be provided in the same manner as now prescribed for the erection and furnishing of buildings for other school purposes.

1262. Any county may establish high school. Any county in the state may establish a high school on the conditions and in the manner hereinafter prescribed, for the purpose of affording better educational facilities for the pupils more advanced than those attending the elementary schools.

Historical Note: The first county free high school act was substitute for H. B. No. 69, pp. 59 to 64, L. 1899. This was superseded by Ch. 29, L. 1907, appearing as Secs. 918 to 938, inclusive, Rev. C. 1907. The act is here given as it appears after amendment by Ch. 76, L. 1913, and acts amendatory thereof as noted after the several sections.

This and following sections, being a local option law, of uniform operation, the taking effect of which in any particular county is made dependent upon a favorable vote of the electors of such county, is not an unwarranted delegation of legislative power to such electors. Evers v. Hudson, 36 Mont. 135, 148, 92 Pac. 462.

A tax levy for the purpose of erecting a county high school building which would raise in excess of the constitutional limit of $10,000 is void unless the approval of the electors for such expenditure is first secured, and by merely voting for the establishment of such school, the electors do not impliedly authorize the expenditure of more than that amount. Panchot v. Leet, 50 Mont. 314, 316 et seq., 146 Pac. 927.

1263. Petition for establishment and location. Whenever one hundred freeholders in any county shall petition the board of county commissioners, requesting that a high school be established in their county, the county clerk shall give twenty days' notice, by publication in the official paper of the county, that such petition has been filed, and that any village, town, or city may become a candidate for the location of said high school upon petition of not less than fifty freeholders of said village, town, or city, requesting that said place be named as the candidate for the location of said high school. All nominations of places for the location of said school shall be filed with the board of county commissioners within thirty days from the date of the first publication of said notice. Any number of places may be candidates for the location of said school, but no freeholder shall append his name to more than one petition. If such petition is filed at any time when the board of county commissioners is not in session, the county clerk shall notify the commissioners thereof, and a special meeting shall be held to call the necessary election herein provided for.

History: En. Sec. 2101, Ch. 76, L. 1913. Seee also history of Sec. 1262.

1264. Election—Voting. At the expiration of thirty days from the date of the first publication of said notice, the county commissioners shall call an election and appoint precinct judges and clerks. Said election shall be conducted in accordance with the general election laws of the state. The county clerk shall give twenty days' notice of such election by publication in the official paper of the county that the question of establishing a high school in said county, and the location thereof, will be submitted to the qualified electors of said county at a designated time. The notice shall distinctly specify the places which are candidates in the forthcoming election. The qualified electors shall vote by ballot, for or against the establishment of a county high school, and on separate ballots, with the names of the place or places that are candidates for the location of said school written or printed thereon, vote for not more than one of the places named upon said ballot as a candidate for the location of said school. The ballots shall be substantially in the following form:

Ballot No. 1. For a County High School. Against a County High School.

Ballot No. 2. Helena. Marysville.

An elector desiring to vote for the establishment of a high school, shall do so by placing an "X" before the clause, "For a County High School," which shall be a vote in favor of establishing a county high school. An elector desiring to vote against the establishment of a high school, shall do so by placing an "X" before the clause, "Against a County High School." An elector desiring to vote for the location of a county high school at a certain place shall do so by placing an "X" before the name of the place desired for the location of such school.

History: En. Sec. 2102, Ch. 76, L. 1913. See also history of Sec. 1262.

The notice of election does not take the place of the election proclamation required by the general election laws, and an election held without such proclamation being issued is void. Evers v. Hudson, 36 Mont. 135, 153, 92 Pac. 462.

Where the defendant county treasurer, in an action to enjoin the collection of a tax imposed for the purpose of establishing a county free high school, interposed a demurrer, and thus admitted an allegation in the complaint that because of the failure of the board of county commissioners to proclaim the holding of a special election provided for in the act, and of the clerk to give proper notice, a large number of qualified electors were prevented from voting, the voters had not been given that opportunity to freely and fairly give expression to their wishes, as contemplated by the election laws, and therefore the election was void, and the tax, levied in pursuance thereof, void. Evers v. Hudson, 36 Mont. 135, 156, 92 Pac. 462.

1265. Canvass of returns. After the election, the ballots on said question shall be canvassed in the manner provided for general county elections, and, if the vote in favor of establishing a county high school shall be a majority of all votes cast upon said proposition, the board of county commissioners shall proceed to canvass the vote for the different candidates for the location of said school, and the village, town, or city having the largest number of votes for the location of said school, provided said number of votes be a majority of all votes cast in favor of the measure, shall be declared to be the place for the location thereof. If the results in favor of establishing such high school, and any candidate for its location has a majority, the board of county commissioners, by an order duly entered on their minutes, shall so declare this fact, and the board shall immediately thereafter appoint six persons, residents and taxpayers of the county, not less than three nor more than four of whom shall be residents of the village, town, or city where the school is located, who shall, with the county superintendent of schools, constitute a board of trustees for said school.

In case of a tie vote between two or more of the candidates having the highest number of votes for the location of said school, the county commissioners shall immediately call another election in the manner provided by law for general county elections, at which the only question to be submitted shall be the location of said school, and only the names of those candidates so tied shall appear upon the ballot.

History: En. Sec. 2103, Ch. 76, L. 1913. See also history of Sec. 1262.

1266. Board of trustees—Composition and terms. The board of trustees shall consist of seven members, of which the county superintendent shall be a member, and the remaining six members shall be appointed by the county commissioners. The term of office of trustees, other than the county superintendent, except of those especially hereinafter provided for, shall be three years and until their successors are appointed and qualified.

History: En. Sec. 2104, Ch. 76, L. 1913. See also history of Sec. 1262. Cited in Hamilton v. Board of County Commrs., 54 Mont. 301, 308, 169 Pac. 729.

1267. Appointment. The county commissioners shall appoint at their regular meeting in March, 1921, two trustees for a term ending January 1, 1924, and at their regular meeting in December, 1921, shall appoint two trustees for a three-year term beginning January 1, 1922, who shall take the place of the two trustees appointed at the regular meeting in March, 1919, and at their regular meeting in December, 1922, shall appoint two trustees for a three-year term beginning January 1, 1923, who shall take the place of the two trustees appointed at the regular meeting in March, 1920, and annually thereafter at their regular meeting in December, they shall appoint two trustees for a three-year term, their term to begin on the 1st day of January after such appointment.

Of the trustees appointed not more than two shall be residents outside of the school district in which the high school is located, and the two trustees resident outside of the school district in which the high school is located, must be appointed in different years.

History: En. Sec. 2104, Ch. 76, L. 1913; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 17, L. 1919; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 190, L. 1921. See also history of Sec. 1262.

1268. Vacancies. Whenever any vacancy occurs in said board of trustees, from any cause, the secretary of the board shall immediately certify such vacancy to the board of county commissioners.

History: En. Sec. 2104, Ch. 76, L. 1913. See also history of Sec. 1262.

1269. Meeting quorum — contracts. The county high school board shall hold four regular meetings each year, on the third Saturday of April, July, October and January, and such special meetings not to exceed two in any one month, as they may deem necessary. The provisions of the general school law as to notice, time and place of meetings shall govern all county high school boards.

A majority of said board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, except it shall be necessary for a majority of the whole board to enter into any contract, on behalf of the board.

History: En. Sec. 2104, Ch. 76, L. 1913; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 106, L. 1921. See also history of Sec. 1262.

1270. Officers. At their regular April meeting in each year, the trustees shall choose from their number a president, vice-president, and secretary, who shall hold office for one year, or until their successors have been appointed and qualified, and said trustees shall have authority to make all necessary rules for their government, not inconsistent with the law. The county treasurer of the county shall be the treasurer of the board and the custodian of all funds available for school purposes.

History: En. Sec. 2104, Ch. 76, L. 1913. See also history of Sec. 1262.

1271. Powers and duties. The board of trustees shall have power and it shall be their duty:

1. To keep a record of all the official acts done by said board, and to keep a full record of all warrants issued against moneys belonging to said county high school. Payments of money can only be made upon warrants drawn against said funds belonging to said high school, and each warrant so drawn must specify upon its face the purpose for which it is drawn.

2. To proceed, as soon as practicable after their appointment and qualification, to select at the place designated as the location for the county high school, the best site that can be obtained, and the title thereto, upon securing said site by purchase or otherwise, shall vest in the county; the trustees shall then proceed to make purchase of material and to let such contracts for necessary school buildings as they may deem proper. They shall not, however, make any purchase or enter into any contract, whereby obligations are assumed in excess of the amount of funds on hand, or available through the levy of taxes for the current year, or the issuance of bonds.

3. To lease, at their discretion, suitable buildings for the use of the high school while the new buildings are in process of erection, or to contract with the trustees of the local school district, or any other parties, for the use of suitable buildings for high school purposes for such time as may be deemed best for the interests of the county.

4. To employ, for a period not to exceed three years, some suitable person to take charge of said school, who shall possess such qualifications as are now required to be possessed by a city superintendent of schools; except that said principal shall not be required to possess more than three years of experience in teaching; to furnish such assistant teachers as they may deem necessary, and to designate the salaries which shall be paid to said principal and assistant teachers; provided, that such teachers shall be required to have the qualifications required of a teacher to hold a position in a district high school, and also to hold a valid Montana certificate.

5. To adopt, on the recommendation of the principal, such courses of study as will properly fit the student attending said high school for admission to the collegiate class of any of the state educational institutions, and such course of study shall contain the work now provided for accredited high schools by the state board of education.

6. To admit pupils without tuition under such rules and regulations as they may deem proper in regard to age and grade of attainments essential to entitle pupils to admission to such school; provided, that no person shall be admitted to such high school who shall not have satisfactorily completed the work of the elementary grades. All eligible pupils in the county are entitled to attend the county high school, and it shall be the duty of the board to provide accommodations for such pupils.

7. To admit pupils from other counties, when there is room, upon the payment of such tuition as the board of trustees may prescribe; but at no time shall such pupils continue in such school to the exclusion of pupils residing in the county in which such school is located.

History: En. Sec. 2104, Ch. 76, L. 1913. See also history of Sec. 1262.

History: En. Sec. 2105, Ch. 76, L. 1913; amd. Sec. 38, Ch. 196, L. 1919. See also history of Sec. 1262.

1273. Principal may make rules. The principal of any such high school, with the approval of the board of trustees, shall make such rules and regulations as he may deem proper in regard to the studies, conduct, and government of the pupils under his charge; and if any such pupils will not conform to nor obey the rules of the school, they may be suspended by the principal or expelled therefrom by the board of trustees.

History: En. Sec. 2106, Ch. 76, L. 1913. See also history of Sec. 1262.

History: En. Sec. 2107, Ch. 76, L. 1913. See also history of Sec. 1262.

1275. Tax levy. At the regular April meeting, or at some succeeding meeting called for such purpose, said trustees shall make an estimate of the amount of funds needed for building purposes, for payment of teachers' wages, and for payment of contingent expenses, and they shall present to the board of county commissioners a certified estimate of the rate of tax required to raise the amount desired for such purposes, and the board of county commissioners must levy such tax as other county taxes are levied. But in no case shall the tax for such purpose exceed in one year the amount of five mills on the dollar on the taxable property of the county.

The board of trustees of a free county high school, required by law to certify to the board of county commissioners an estimate of the tax rate necessary to raise the funds for the establishment thereof, is not by such requirement made a part of the taxing power. Morse v. Jacky, 34 Mont. 165, 168, 85 Pac. 882.

The board of high school trustees is authorized to estimate the amount of funds needed for building purposes and the rate of tax required to raise such amount, after certification of which to the county commissioners, a levy must be made by them. Panchot v. Leet, 50 Mont. 314, 317, 146 Pac. 927.

1276. Submission to electors of question of bond issue. The secretary of the board of county high school trustees, whenever a majority of the board shall so decide, and upon the presentation of a petition in the manner provided by law, shall certify to the board of county commissioners that they have decided to submit to the taxpayers of the county the question whether the county bonds shall be issued for the purpose of the erection or purchase of a building or buildings for high school purposes and the equipment thereof, or for the erection and equipment of a dormitory or dormitories, or gymnasium, and for a suitable site or sites therefor, and shall include in such certificates the amount of such bonds, which amount shall not exceed the sum of four hundred thousand dollars, in any one county of the first class, and three hundred thousand dollars, in any one county of the second or third class, and in all other counties shall not exceed the sum of two hundred thousand dollars, in any one county. Such bonds may run for a term of twenty years or less, but no longer; provided, that any such issue of bonds shall not increase the indebtedness of any county beyond the maximum limit fixed by the state constitution.

It shall also be lawful for a majority of the board of school trustees of any county high school, through its secretary as aforesaid, after the presentation of a petition in the manner provided by law, to certify to the board of county commissioners for submission to the electors of the county, the question as to whether or not county bonds shall be issued for the purposes above specified, the proceeds thereof to be divided between the county high school and the several four-year accredited district high schools of the county in the manner designated by said board. In all such cases the question submitted to the electors shall definitely state the amount of said bond issue which is to be expended for or upon the county high school, and the amount thereof which is to be divided among the several four-year accredited district high schools of the county, which allotment shall be pro-rated so that each of the four-year accredited district high schools shall receive that percentage of the total bond issue which the assessed valuation of the property in the four-year accredited high school district bears to the assessed valuation of the entire county.

That as soon as practicable after receiving such certificate, the board of county commissioners shall fix the term for which said bonds are to run, and the rate of interest they shall bear; and shall proceed to submit the question of issuing such bonds to the qualified electors of the county in the manner provided by law for the issuance of other county bonds. If such bonds are issued, the board of county commissioners, at the time of making the levy of taxes for county purposes each year, shall levy a tax for that year upon the taxable property in the county for the interest and redemption of said bonds, and such taxes must not be less than sufficient to pay the interest on said bonds for that year, and such proportion of the principal as is to become due during the year, and in any event must be high enough to raise annually, for the first half of the term, a sufficient sum to pay the interest thereon, and during the remainder of the term, high enough to pay said annual interest and to pay annually a portion of the principal of said bonds equal to the quotient produced by taking the whole amount of said bonds outstanding, and dividing it by the number of years said bonds have yet to run; and all moneys so levied, when collected, must be paid into the county treasury to the credit of the county high school and kept in a separate fund, and used for the payment of the principal and interest on said bonds, and for no other purpose; provided, however, that the accumulated money may be invested as is provided for the investment of money collected for the payment of school district bonds. Said tax shall be levied and collected as other county taxes.

In any county wherein there are now maintained one or more district high schools, in which a county high school has been created, or may hereafter be created, the trustees of any such school district may, by resolution duly passed at a regular or special meeting of such board of trustees discontinue such district high school to take effect upon the establishment of the county high school; and in case such county high school is located, as provided in this chapter, within any school district maintaining a district high school, it shall be the duty of the board of trustees of such school district to discontinue the district high school.

A levy for the purpose of erecting a county high school building which would raise in excess of $40,000 was void where the approval of the expenditure by the electors had not first been secured, as required by the provision of section 5, article XIII, constitution of Montana, that no county indebtedness or liability for any single purpose in excess of $10,000 shall be incurred without the approval of a majority of the electors voting at the election called for that purpose. When such levy is to be made, the chairman of the board of trustees in each school district in which an accredited high school has been maintained during the preceding school year shall, on or before the first day of August in each year, recommend and advise the board of county commissioners as to the amount of money required, and the board of county commissioners shall thereupon fix such a levy, not exceeding three mills, as will raise sufficient money to meet the expenses of such accredited high school for maintenance during the ensuing school year, and the money derived from such levy shall be apportioned by the county superintendent of schools to the several districts in which such accredited high schools are maintained as follows: Two-thirds of the total amount in proportion to the number of teachers employed and necessary for the effective instruction of pupils in accredited high school work, and one-third of the total amount in proportion to the total number of days' attendance of pupils in accredited high school work for the school year next preceding, as determined by the said county superintendent provided that the number of teachers allotted to any school for the purpose of such apportionment shall be determined in accordance with a uniform method to be announced by the state board of education.

Such warrants shall be issued only in payment of the current expenses of the county high school for the completion of the school year of 1920-1921, and not for the purpose of increasing salaries, purchasing new equipment or increasing school facilities in any manner whatsoever. Note.—The first militia law of the state was enacted March 10, 1885, Laws of 1885, pp. 95 to 100, appearing as sections 1451 to 1471, Fifth Division Compiled Statutes, 1887. This act was superseded by the National Guard Act of March 12, 1889 (pp. 189 to 205, Laws of 1889.) The latter act was superseded as a new military law enacted in 1895 and appearing as sections 2050 to 2245, Political Code 1895. This act was superseded by senate bill No. 13, pp. 149 to 162, Laws of 1897, which act appeared as sections 1045 to 1110, Revised Codes 1907. These sections were repealed by chapter 145, Laws of 1911, which law re-enacted a complete military code. The act of 1911 was referred to the people by referendum of November, 1912, and rejected by them, thus restoring sections 1045 to 1110, Revised Codes 1907, to effect. The law is here given as it appears by the enactment of chapter 191, Laws of 1919.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 191, L. 1919. Cal. Pol. C. Secs. 1895-2112.

1331. Composition of the militia. The militia of the state of Montana shall consist of all able-bodied male citizens of the United States, and all other able-bodied males who have or shall have declared their intention to become citizens of the United States, residing within this state, who shall be more than eighteen years of age, and except as hereinafter provided, not more than forty-five years of age, and said militia shall be divided into two classes, the national guard of Montana and the unorganized militia.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 191, L. 1919.

1332. Governor as commander-in-chief. The militia of the state not in the service of the United States shall be governed and its affairs administered pursuant to law by the governor, as commander-in-chief, through the adjutant-general's department, which shall consist of the adjutant-general as its executive head, and such other officers and such enlisted men and civilian employees as the governor shall from time to time prescribe.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 191, L. 1919.

1333. Composition of organized militia. The organized militia of Montana shall consist of the commissioned officers, enlisted men, organizations, staffs, corps, and departments of the regularly commissioned and enlisted militia of the state, organized and maintained pursuant to law. Its numerical strength, composition, distribution, organization, arms, uniforms, equipment, training, and discipline shall be prescribed by the governor, in conformity with the laws and regulations of the United States and the laws of this state. In the absence of any federal law or regulation to the contrary, its minimum enlisted strength shall be twelve hundred, and it shall include at all times the adjutant-general's department and at least one regiment of infantry. The governor may authorize and cause to be organized from time to time, within the organized militia of Montana, such additional staffs, corps, departments, branches, arms, and organizations as he shall deem necessary, and he shall have power at will to alter, divide, consolidate, disband, muster out, or reorganize any staff, corps, department, branch, arm, or tactical or administrative subdivision, either now existing or hereafter created within the organized militia of Montana, subject to the limitations imposed by the laws and regulations of the United States and the laws of this state.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 191, L. 1919.

1334. Declaration of policy. The duty of maintaining and governing the organized militia not in the service of the United States rests upon the states respectively, subject to the constitutional authority of congress, but the prime object of the force is the national defense. Its efficiency as an agent for national defense necessarily depends upon systematic uniformity in the organization, composition, arms, equipment, training, and discipline of its component parts. Its attainment of such uniformity and efficiency requires on the part of each state a rigid adherence to federal laws and regulations relating to militia. Therefore, the governor shall cause the organized militia of this state always to conform to all such federal laws and regulations as are now or may hereafter, from time to time, become operative and applicable, nothwithstanding anything in the laws of this state to the contrary. The organized militia of Montana, or any part thereof, shall be subject to call for United States service at such times, in such manner, and such numbers as may from time to time be prescribed by the United States.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 191, L. 1919.

1335. Composition of national guard. The national guard of Montana shall consist of the commissioned officers, enlisted men, staffs, corps, departments, and organizations of the organized militia of Montana regularly organized and maintained pursuant to law for land service.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 191, L. 1919.

1336. Governor may order out organized militia. In event of war, insurrection, rebellion, invasion, tumult, riot, mob, or body of men acting together by force with intent to commit a felony or to offer violence to persons or property, or by force and violence to break and resist the laws of this state, or the United States, or in case of the imminent danger of the occurrence of any of said events, or in event of public disaster, the governor shall have power to order the organized militia of Montana, or any part thereof, into the active service of the state, and to cause them to perform such duty as he shall deem proper. The governor shall also have power to order out the organized militia, or any part thereof, to preserve order and keep the people within bounds at any large public assemblage; provided, that such action shall be taken only upon written request of the mayor of the city or the sheriff of the county, or a district judge in the judicial district within which said assemblage is to occur.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 191, L. 1919. Calling out militia for service, see note in 15 L. R. A. 116.

1337. Governor may order out unorganized militia. In event of or imminent danger of war, insurrection, rebellion, invasion, tumult, riot, resistance to law or process or breach of the peace, if the governor shall have ordered into active service all the available forces of the organized militia of Montana and shall consider them insufficient in numbers to properly accomplish the purpose, he may then, in addition, order out the unorganized militia, or such portion thereof as he may deem necessary, and cause them to perform such military duty as the circumstances may require.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 191, L. 1919.

1338. Penalty for failure to obey call. Every member of the militia who shall have been ordered out for either state or federal service under the provisions of the two preceding sections, and who shall refuse or wilfully or negligently fail to report at the time and place and to the officer designated in the order, or to the representative or successor of such officer, shall be deemed guilty of desertion, and shall suffer such penalty as a general court-martial may direct, unless he shall produce a sworn certificate from a licensed physician of good standing that he is physically unable to appear at the time and place designated; provided, that any person chargeable with desertion under this section may be taken by force and compelled to serve.

1339. Penalty for physician making false certificate. Whenever any physician shall knowingly make and deliver a false certificate of physical disability concerning any member of the militia who shall have been ordered out or summoned for active service, such physician shall thereby forfeit forever his license and right to practice in this state, and shall be deemed guilty of perjury.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 191, L. 1919.

1340. Commander-in-chief may order enrollment. Whenever the commander-in-chief shall deem it necessary, in event of or imminent danger of war, insurrection, rebellion, invasion, tumult, riot, resistance to law or process, or breach of the peace, he may order an enrollment by counties of all persons subject to military duty, designating the county assessor or some other person for each county to act as county enrolling officer. Each county enrolling officer may appoint such assistant or assistants as may be authorized by the commander-in-chief. In each county the enrollment shall include every sane, able-bodied male inhabitant not under sentence for an infamous crime, who is more than eighteen and less than forty-five years of age. The enrollment shall be made in triplicate, and shall state the name, residence, age, occupation, and previous or existing military or naval service of each person enrolled. When complete, the rolls shall be verified under oath by the enrolling officer, who shall immediately thereupon file one copy with the adjutant-general of the state and another with the county clerk, retaining the third copy for himself.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 191, L. 1919.

1341. Notice of enrollment. Persons making an enrollment under this act shall, at the time of making same, serve a notice of such enrollment upon each person enrolled, by delivering such notice to him personally, or by leaving it with some person of suitable age and discretion at his place of business or residence, or by mailing such notice to him at his last known place of residence, and shall make a return under oath of such service to accompany the copy of the enrollment filed with the adjutant-general. Such return shall be prima facie evidence of the facts therein shown.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 191, L. 1919.

1342. Exemptions. Whenever an enrollment shall have been ordered under this act, the commanding officer of existing organizations of militia, and the chiefs of all police and fire departments, shall make and deliver to the enrolling officer of the county in which such organization and departments are stationed, verified lists in triplicate of the members of their respective commands and departments, and the enrolling officer shall mark "Exempt" opposite the names of all persons so listed, attaching one copy of each such list to each copy of the enrollment. The enrolling officers shall also mark "Exempt" opposite the names of all federal, state, and county officers. All other persons claiming exemption must, within fifteen days after service upon them of the notice of enrollment, make a written verified claim in duplicate of such exemption, and file the same in the office of the county clerk, who shall within five days thereafter forward one copy thereof with remarks and recommendations to the adjutant-general. Upon the expiration of the time within which any claim of exemption may be filed and received by the adjutant-general, the latter shall notify the county clerk of his decision in each case where exemption has been claimed, and the county clerk shall write upon the roll opposite the name of each person whose claim of exemption has been allowed by the adjutant-general the word "Exempt." All those on the roll not marked "Exempt" shall be subject to military duty.

1343. Penalties for dereliction or false certificate. If any officer or person, who becomes charged under this act with any duty relating to an enrollment of persons subject to military duty, refuses or neglects to perform the same within the time and substantially in the manner required by law, or if he shall knowingly make any false certificate, or if, when acting as county or assistant enrolling officer, he shall knowingly or wilfully omit from the roll any person required by this act to be enrolled, he shall thereby forfeit not less than one hundred nor more than five hundred dollars, to be sued for in the name of the state of Montana by the prosecuting attorney of the county in which such offense shall occur, the amount of the penalty to be determined by the court, and when recovered to be paid into the military fund of the state.

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 191, L. 1919.

1344. Compensation of enrolling officer. Each county enrolling officer shall be allowed the sum of five cents per name enrolled and served with notice of enrollment by him or his assistants, to be audited and paid as other military bills out of any moneys in the military fund not otherwise appropriated, and from such allowance he must pay his assistant or assistants.

History: En. Sec. 16, Ch. 191, L. 1919.

1345. Examination of assessment-rolls and poll-lists. All civil officers in each county, city, and town shall allow persons authorized under this act to make enrollments, at all proper times to examine their records and take copies thereof or information therefrom. It shall be the duty of every person, under the penalties provided in section 1343 of this code, upon application of any person legally authorized to make an enrollment,

The defendant in such action shall be defended by the attorney-general at the expense of the state, but private counsel may be employed by the defendant. No action shall lie against any officer or enlisted man for any acts done by him by virtue of any order which may hereafter be held invalid by any civil court.

The state board of examiners of the state of Montana is hereby authorized, empowered and directed to issue bonds in the name of the state of Montana, to an amount not exceeding the sum of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars in excess of constitutional limitation of indebtedness and over and above any bonded indebtedness heretofore incurred for which the state is now obligated; that the money to be derived from the sale of said bonds, or so much thereof as may be required, shall be used for the purchasing or building of a terminal grain elevator with the necessary equipment at Great Falls, Montana, to be used for the storage and marketing of grain produced in Montana and the said money so acquired shall be deposited in the state treasury of Montana and paid out as provided by law for said purpose and for no other purpose.

Note.—A referendum measure enacted by the legislature as chapter 150, Laws of 1917; approved by the people November 5, 1918, effective under the governor's proclamation December 28, 1918.

Validity of bond issue sustained in State ex rel. Lyman v. Stewart, 58 Mont. 1, 3, 190 Pac. 129. Reversed on the ground of exempting personal property from payment of tax in Stoner v. Timmons, 59 Mont, 196 Pac. 519.

1584. Denominations and interest. The bonds provided for in this act shall be issued in denominations of one thousand dollars each and shall become due in ten years from the date of issuance and be redeemable and payable at the option of the state at any time after five years from the date thereof at any interest paying period and shall bear interest at the rate of not exceeding five per cent. per annum payable semi-annually on the fifteenth of June and December of each year at the office of the state treasurer of the state of Montana and shall bear date as of the day of the issuance thereof.

History: See Sec. 1583.

1585. Condition of bonds. Such bonds issued under the provisions of this act shall contain a condition substantially as follows:

"This bond is one of a series of state bonds of the denomination of one thousand dollars each of like tenor and date and numbered from one (1) to ..... (.....), inclusive, and aggregating the sum of ..... dollars. The right is hereby reserved to redeem this bond at any regular interest paying period as stated herein by payment of the principal and interest in full to the date of redemption; provided, that not less than ten (10) days' notice shall be given by the state treasurer in writing or by publication of such intention on the part of the state to make redemption."

The form of notice and method of giving same relative to the sale of such bonds shall be in accordance with the directions of the state board of examiners.

History: See Sec. 1583.

1586. Charge for storage of grain—Terminal elevator fund. The state board of examiners shall make a charge of not more than two and one-half cents per bushel for grain stored in the terminal elevator and the money so received after paying the expense of maintaining the terminal elevator shall be paid into the state treasury and credited to a separate fund designated as the "Terminal Elevator Fund," and said fund shall be used exclusively for the payment of the interest and redemption of such terminal elevator bonds herein provided for. If the money so paid into the "Terminal Elevator Fund" is not sufficient to pay the semi-annual interest on the bonds and the redemption thereof, then and in that event there shall be levied annually not exceeding one-half of a mill on the dollar on all lands, agricultural in character, which said tax when collected by the county treasurer shall be accounted for and paid over to the state treasurer to be by the state treasurer held in the "Terminal Elevator Fund," which fund shall be used exclusively for the payment of the interest on such bonds and for the redemption thereof.

History: See Sec. 1583.

The levy of a tax upon all lands, agricultural in character, for payment of bond issues for the construction of state terminal grain elevators, is not in violation of the uniformity clause of the constitution. State ex rel. Lyman v. Stewart, 58 Mont. 1, 190 Pac. 129. Reversed on the ground of exempting personal property from taxation in Stoner v. Timmons, 59 Mont. —, 196 Pac. 519.

This section does not fail to provide for the extinguishment of a debt within a specified time as required by section 1 of article XIII of the constitution, since by rules of statutory construction it can be ascertained that the legislature intended to impose a tax for the payment of the bonds and that the surplus from the operation of the elevator might be used to discharge the indebtedness of the bonds at such time as the legislature may make provision therefor. State ex rel. Lyman v. Stewart, 58 Mont. 1, 9, 190 Pac. 129. Reversed as to the validity of the tax levy on the ground of exempting personal property from taxation in Stoner v. Timmons, 59 Mont. —, 196 Pac. 519.

1587. County assessors to designate lands for taxation. The county assessors of the counties in Montana, commencing with the year wherein the bonds herein provided for may be issued and continuing so long as such bonds or any part thereof or any interest thereon may remain unpaid shall designate upon the assessment-rolls the lands subject to the tax in the foregoing section provided for.

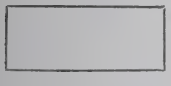
History: See Sec. 1583.

Since the words "agricultural in character" is a term meaning lands susceptible of being plowed and seeded or lands from which crops may be produced, they are sufficiently definite and certain to enable the assessors to determine what lands should be listed for taxation. State ex rel. Lyman v. Stewart, 58 Mont. 1, 7, 190 Pac. 129. Reversed as to the validity of tax levy on the ground of exempting personal property from taxation in Stoner v. Timmons, 59 Mont. —, 196 Pac. 519.

1588. Form and execution of bonds. The bonds herein referred to shall be in such form as may be prescribed by the attorney-general and approved by the state board of examiners and shall be signed by the members of said board and issued under the great seal of the state of Montana and shall be registered in the office of the state treasurer. Said bonds shall have interest coupons attached covering the interest due semi-annually and shall have the lithographed facsimile signature of the members of the state board of examiners affixed thereto.

History: See Sec. 1583.



1589. Disposal of bonds—Not to be sold for less than par. The bonds herein authorized and provided for shall be disposed of by the state board of examiners in such manner and upon such notice as seems for the best interests of the state in carrying out the terms and provisions of this act and none of said bonds shall be sold for less than the face value thereof.

History: See Sec. 1583.

1590. Form of ballots—Voting. Each county clerk in the state, at the next general election shall have separate ballots printed and furnished to each precinct in his county in the same manner as other ballots are furnished to be used by the electors to vote upon the question herein submitted to them for their approval. The separate ballots herein referred to shall have printed thereon the following:

"For the law authorizing the issuance of state bonds in a sum not exceeding two hundred and fifty thousand ($250,000) dollars for terminal elevator purposes."

"Against the law authorizing the issuance of state bonds in a sum not exceeding two hundred and fifty thousand ($250,000) dollars for terminal elevator purposes."

The electors shall vote said ballot by marking an "X" in the square in front of the proposition for which he desires to cast his ballot.

History: See Sec. 1583.

1591. Money—How expended. The money derived from the sale of the bonds hereinbefore referred to shall be expended for the purposes hereinbefore referred to and in the manner perscribed by the legislative assembly.

History: See Sec. 1583.

1592. Board of managers, appointment. There is hereby created a board of managers to consist of five members, for the terminal grain elevator to be constructed at Great Falls, Montana, pursuant to the provisions of chapter 150 of the session laws of the fifteenth legislative assembly (1583-1591.) Within thirty days after the passage and approval of this act the governor shall appoint the said board of managers, one of whom must be chosen from the list of five names submitted to him by the Montana American society of equity, one from the list of five names submitted to him by the farmers' union and one from the list of five names submitted to him by the Montana state grange, all of whom shall be resident freeholders within the state of Montana and not less than three of whom shall be farmers who are growers of grain. At the expiration of their several terms of office, the governor shall appoint members of the said board of managers for the period of three years. In case of a vacancy in the membership in the said board of managers by death, resignation or otherwise, the governor shall appoint to fill the unexpired term of such member.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 204, L. 1919.

State ex rel. Lyman v. Stewart, 58 Mont. 1, 3, 190 Pac. 129. Tax levy for the payment of bonds held invalid on the ground of exempting personal property from taxation in Stoner v. Timmons, 59 Mont. —, 196 Pac. 519.

All expenses incurred in the construction of said terminal grain elevator, including the charges and expenses of the board of managers, prior to the completion of said elevator, and all expenses incurred in investigations and in the employment of engineers and architects, shall be paid out of the fund derived from the sale of bonds.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 204, L. 1919.

1595. Duties of board of managers. The board of managers shall make a careful study and complete investigation into the operation of terminal grain elevators and as to the prices of construction materials and labor, and all matters necessary to be determined pertaining to the construction and successful operation of a terminal grain elevator at Great Falls, Montana. Upon completing such study and investigation and having decided upon a workable plan for the construction and successful operation of said terminal elevator and within sixty days after its organization, the board of managers shall adopt rules and regulations for the operation and management of said elevator, and proceed with the procuring of plans and specifications for the construction thereof.

The said board of examiners of the state of Montana is hereby authorized and directed to proceed with the issuance and sale of bonds of the state of Montana to the amount of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars for the purpose of constructing said terminal grain elevator with the necessary equipment at Great Falls, Montana, pursuant to the provisions of sections 1583 to 1591 of this code.

1597. Construction of elevator. The board of managers are hereby authorized and directed to employ necessary engineers and architects for the purpose of procuring suitable plans and specifications for the construction of said terminal grain elevator. Such plans and specifications must be approved and adopted by the board of managers. Upon the adoption and approval of such plans and specifications the board of managers shall deliver to the board of examiners of the state of Montana the necessary number of copies of such plans and specifications. 1607. Revocation of license. The license granted in section 1605 of this code to build docks and wharves over and upon the lands under the navigable waters of this state conveys no title in such lands, and such license may be revoked by the state of Montana at any time.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 38, L. 1909.

1608. Land under navigable water. By the term "land under water" is meant all land under any navigable waters of this state, extending from high-water mark, or from the meander line where the shores of lakes or streams have been meandered, to the lake or stream.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 38, L. 1909.

1609. Jurisdiction of railroad commission. The railroad commission of this state shall have jurisdiction over all docks and wharves within the state, and have full power to regulate, determine, and fix all dockage and wharfage fees.

CHAPTER 124.

HIGHWAYS—DEFINITION AND CLASSIFICATION.

Section 1610. Name or Title of Act.
1611. Highways Deemed to Include What.
1612. Public Highways Defined.
1613. Classification—Common and Main Highways.
1614. Abandonment or Vacation of Highways.
1615. Width of Way or Road.
1616. Rights Acquired by Public in Highway.

1610. Name or title of act. This act shall be known as the "General Highway Law."

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 72, L. 1913; re-en. Sec. 1, Ch. 141, L. 1915; re-en. Sec. 1, Ch. 172, L. 1917.

Note.—For earlier acts see chapter 44, Laws of 1903, and sections 1337-1456, Revised Codes of 1907.

For discussion of law of highways, see 13 R. C. L. 1.

1611. Highways deemed to include what. Within the meaning of this act, a highway shall be deemed to include its necessary embankments, retaining walls, culverts, sluices, and drains, and a bridge shall be deemed to include its superstructures, abutments, and piers and approaches, except dirt fills.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 72, L. 1913; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 141, L. 1915; re-en. Sec. 2, Ch. 172, L. 1917.

1612. Public highways defined. All highways, roads, lanes, streets, alleys, courts, places, and bridges laid out or erected by the public, or now traveled or used by the public, or if laid out or erected by others, dedicated or abandoned to the public, or made such by the partition of real property, are public highways.

History: En. Sec. 2600, Pol. C. 1895; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 44, L. 1903; re-en. Sec. 1337, Rev. C. 1907; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 72, L. 1913; re-en. Sec. 3, Ch. 141, L. 1915; re-en. Sec. 3, Ch. 172, L. 1917. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 2618.

Note.—For history of this and following sections see Barnard Realty Co. v. City of Butte, 48 Mont. 102, 111, 136 Pac. 1064.

This section, as it appeared in the Political Code of 1895, was construed to be a remedial statute, curing irregularities, but not supplying jurisdiction, where none was acquired, in the creation of roads, and as recognizing the existence of highways by prescription when they had been used or traveled by the people generally for the period named in the statute of limitations. State v. Auchard, 22 Mont. 14, 16, 55 Pac. 361; Montana Ore Purchasing Co. v. Boston & B. Consol. Min. Co., 25 Mont. 427, 431, 65 Pac. 420.

Dedication or abandonment is not shown by mere user until the period of limitations of actions to recover real property has elapsed. Montana Ore Purchasing Co. v. Boston & B. Consol. Min. Co., 25 Mont. 427, 431, 65 Pac. 420.

The keeping of a record by the county commissioners of a certain county road, together with other facts showing its use by the public, was prima facie evidence showing that it was a public road within the meaning of the above section. Smith v. Zimmer, 45 Mont. 282, 293, 125 Pac. 420.

Those roads only are declared to be public highways which had been established by the public authorities, or were recognized by them and used generally by the public, or which had become such by prescription or adverse use, at the time of the enactment of this section as section 2600 of the Political Code of 1895. Barnard Realty Co. v. City of Butte, 48 Mont. 102, 109, 136 Pac. 1064.

In view of the statute upon the subject, a bridge is a part and parcel of the highway upon which it is built. State ex rel. Foster v. Ritch, 49 Mont. 155, 157, 140 Pac. 731; State ex rel. Donlan v. Board of Commrs., 49 Mont. 517, 523, 143 Pac. 984; State ex rel. Furnish v. Mullendore, 53 Mont. 109, 113, 161 Pac. 949, 953.

It was not the intention of the legislature that all public highways, including roads, streets, alleys, courts, culverts, and bridges composing the same, should be appraised as county property, and the value thus set upon them considered in the adjustment of the property rights and liabilities of counties out of which a new one has been created. State ex rel. Foster v. Ritch, 49 Mont. 155, 157, 140 Pac. 731.

Where one voluntarily erects a bridge intending that it should become a part of an existing public highway and belong to the public as such, or does so under an arrangement by which he might be compensated for the labor and materials furnished in constructing it, he may not claim to be the owner, or attempt to restrain the public in the free use thereof. State ex rel. Donlan v. Board of Commrs., 49 Mont. 517, 523, 143 Pac. 984.

The grant authorized by section 2477, Revised Codes of the United States, is nothing more than an offer of a right of way for the construction of a public highway across the public domain, and can only become fixed when the highway is established and constructed in the manner authorized by the laws of the state in which the land is situated, and where that offer is accepted by user, that user must be shown to have continued over the exact route claimed for the statutory period prior to July 1st, 1895. State ex rel. Dansie v. Nolan, 58 Mont. 167, 172, 191 Pac. 150.

Cited or applied as section 2600, Political Code in State ex rel. Rocky Mt. Bell Tel. Co. v. Red Lodge, 30 Mont. 338, 340, 76 Pac. 758; as section 3, chapter 1, Laws of 1913, in State ex rel. Furnish v. Mullendore, 53 Mont. 109, 113, 161 Pac. 949, 953.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 72, L. 1913; re-en. Sec. 4, Ch. 141, L. 1915; re-en. Sec. 4, Ch. 172, L. 1917.

1614. Abandonment or vacation of highways. All public highways once established must continue to be public highways until abandoned by operation of law, or by judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction, or by the order of the board of county commissioners of the county in which they are situated; but no order to abandon any highway shall be valid unless preceded by due notice and hearing as provided in this act; and no state highway can be abandoned except on the joint order of the board of county commissioners and the state highway commission.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 72, L. 1913; re-en. Sec. 5, Ch. 141, L. 1915; re-en. Sec. 5, Ch. 172, L. 1917. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 2619.

Note.—For earlier acts see section 2601, Political Code, 1895; re-enacted as section 2, chapter 44, Laws of 1903; re-enacted as section 1338, Revised Codes of 1907.

The mere use of land by the public as a street for the statutory period, not coupled with an assumption of jurisdiction over it by the city authorities, is insufficient to clothe the city with title by prescription. Barnard Realty Co. v. City of Butte, 48 Mont. 102, 113, 136 Pac. 1064; id. 55 Mont. 384, 390, 177 Pac. 402.

A highway, whether a county road or a street, once established, cannot be vacated, except by an order of the public authorities having jurisdiction over it.

Barnard Realty Co. v. City of Butte, 48 Mont. 102, 114, 136 Pac. 1064.

Travel by one or more persons over a given route, outside of an incorporated city or town, is not of itself, in the absence of an assumption of jurisdiction by the board of county commissioners, by some definite action, sufficient to constitute adverse use of it as a highway Barnard Realty Co. v. City of Butte, 48 Mont. 102, 113, 136 Pac. 1064.

A public road established at public expense in strict conformity with statutory provisions and with the consent of the owner, who relinquished compensation as to such part of the road as ran through his land, remained such until abandoned as provided in the above section, notwithstanding the failure of the county commissioners to comply with the conditions attached to owner's consent. Flynn v. Beaverhead County, 49 Mont. 347, 352, 141 Pac. 673.

Power to vacate street, see note in 2 Ann. Cas. 877.

Persons entitled to compensation on vacation of street, see notes in 15 Ann. Cas. 687; Ann. Cas. 1913D, 790; Ann. Cas. 1916C, 238; 26 L. R. A. 662; 36 L. R. A. (N. S.) 1115.

1615. Width of way or road. The width of all public highways, except bridges, alleys, lanes, must be sixty feet unless a greater or less width is ordered by the board of county commissioners on petition of the person interested. The width of all private highways and by-roads, except bridges, must be at least twenty feet. Nothing in this act must be construed as to increase or diminish the width of either kind of a highway already established or used as such.

History: Ap. p. Sec. 10, p. 106, L. 1874; re-en. Sec. 1061, 5th Div. Rev. Stat. 1879; re-en. Sec. 1822, 5th Div. Comp. Stat. 1887; amd. Sec. 2602, Pol. C. 1895; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 44, L. 1903; re-en. Sec. 1339, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 6, Ch. 72, L. 1913; re-en. Sec. 6, Ch. 141, L. 1915; re-en. Sec. 6, Ch. 172, L. 1917. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 2620.

It is no objection to the proceedings to open a road that the width of such proposed road was not designated either in the report of the viewers or the order opening the road, since the width of highways within the state being regulated by statute, such width prevails where the proceedings are silent upon that point. Crowley v. Board of Commissioners, 14 Mont. 292, 297, 36 Pac. 313.

In this state, the lawful width of public highways is generally sixty feet. City of Butte v. Mikowitz, 39 Mont. 350, 357, 102 Pac. 593.

When a sufficient portion of a public highway is graded or otherwise prepared for travel, the invitation to the public to use the highway is confined to the prepared or used portion, and the duty then devolves upon the traveler to keep within that portion prepared for its use, and for injuries received outside of that portion he cannot recover, unless he can excuse his presence at the place where he was injured. Howard v. Flathead Independent Tel. Co., 49 Mont. 197, 202, 141 Pac. 153.

While theoretically a public highway in this state is sixty feet in width, the county is not required to grade or keep it, for its entire width, in condition for public travel; but its duty is fully discharged if the portion graded or made ready for travel is of sufficient width to accommodate the use which may be fairly anticipated to be made of it, and the authorities in control may use the remaining portions for purposes inconsistent with their use as driveways, as, for instance, for piling stones, cutting down and leaving steep embankments, or for drainage ditches. Howard v. Flathead Independent Tel. Co., 49 Mont. 197, 201, 141 Pac. 153.

Width of highways acquired by adverse user, see note in 2 Ann. Cas. 973.

Rights acquired as against public by enclosure and adverse possession of part of width of highway, see note in 18 L. R. A. 149.

1616. Rights acquired by public in highway. By taking or accepting land for a highway, the public acquires only the right of way and the incidents necessary to enjoying and maintaining the same, subject to the regulations in this act and the civil code provided.

ROAD TAXES AND BONDS.

Section 1617. Road Tax Levy—General Road Tax.
1618. Issuance of Highway Bonds—Limit of Indebtedness.
1619. Employers to Furnish Lists of Employees Liable to Tax.
1620. County Treasurer to Notify Employer of Liability for Tax.

1617. Road tax levy—General road tax. For the purpose of raising revenue for the construction, maintenance, and improvement of public highways, the board of county commissioners of each county in this state shall annually levy and cause to be collected a general tax upon the taxable property in the county of not less than two mills, and not more than five mills on the dollar, which shall be payable to the county treasurer with other general taxes. There is also established a general road tax of two dollars per annum on each male person over the age of twenty-one years, and under the age of fifty years, inhabitant within the county, and payable by each person liable therefor at any time within the year. The collection of these taxes shall be under the direction of the board of county commissioners; taxes from freeholders to be collected the same as other taxes, and from non-freeholders as commissioners may direct; provided, that the foregoing provisions of this section shall not apply to incorporated cities and towns which, by ordinance, provide for the levy and collection of a like general tax and a like special tax within such cities and towns for road, street, and alley purposes. All moneys collected under the provisions of this act shall belong to the general road fund of the county.

Sec. 2, Ch. 2, Ch. 172, L. 1917. Cal. Pol. C. Secs. 2651-2655.

1618. Issuance of highway bonds—Limit of indebtedness. Whenever, in the judgment of the board of county commissioners of any county, it becomes necessary or advisable for the construction or improvement of any main highway or state highway therein, to raise revenue in addition to that furnished by the taxes and licenses authorized by this act, it shall be lawful for such board to issue, on the credit of the county, coupon bonds to such amounts as said board may find necessary; provided that such bonds shall not, together with all other outstanding indebtedness of the county, exceed five per centum of the value of the taxable property within such county, to be ascertained by the last preceding general assessment therein; and provided, further, that such proceedings be had prior to and in the issuance of such bonds, as are required in the case of other county bonds by sections 4614 to 4636 and by 4717 to 4722 of this code.

1619. Employers to furnish lists of employees liable to tax. Every employer having in his or its employment any person or persons liable for the special road tax of two dollars, mentioned in this act, must on or before the third Monday of March in each year, and monthly thereafter until the first day of October, furnish to the county treasurer a complete list of all the persons so employed, and if any such employer shall neglect or refuse to furnish such list, he shall forfeit to the county, in which said road tax is collectible, the sum of fifty dollars, to be recovered by an action brought in the name of the state in any justice court of said county, and the further sum of fifty dollars for each refusal or neglect to furnish such list after any demand shall have been made by the county treasurer. Upon the receipt of said lists it shall be the duty of said county treasurer to furnish to said employer furnishing such lists, printed special road tax receipt-books, with proper stubs containing memorandum of name, amount, and date attached.

1620. County treasurer to notify employer of liability for tax. If any person required to pay the special road tax mentioned in this act does not pay the same and has no property subject to taxation, and the person owning the same is in the employment of any other person, the county treasurer must deliver to the employer a written notice, stating the amount of tax due for such employee, and from the time of receiving said notice the employer is liable to pay said tax, and the tax so paid may be deducted by such employer from the amount then due or to become due to such employee.

SUPERVISION OF PUBLIC HIGHWAYS.

Section 1621. Highway Proceedings to Be Included in Minutes.
1622. Powers and Duties of County Commissioners Respecting Highways.
1623. Purchase of Machinery and Materials.
1624. Road Supervisors—Appointment and Compensation.
1625. Duties of Road Supervisors—Reports, Accounts, and Statements.
1626. Employment of Laborers, Teams, etc.
1627. Removal of Obstructions and Repair of Bridges.
1628. Limit on Amount Expended in Road District.
1629. Examination of Supervisor's Report—Warrant for Claims.

1631. Tools and Implements for Use of Road Supervisor.
1632. Inspection of Construction Work—Compensation.
1633. Law Declared an Emergency Measure.
1634. Minute Entry of Inspection.

1621. Highway proceedings to be included in minutes. The county clerk must include in the minutes of the board of county commissioners all proceedings and orders of the board relative to each highway within the county.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 3 of Ch. 141, L. 1915; re-en. Sec. 1, Ch. 3 of Ch. 172, L. 1917.

1622. Powers and duties of county commissioners respecting highways. The boards of county commissioners of the several counties of the state have general supervision over the highways within their respective counties:

1. They may, in their discretion, keep the county divided into suitable road districts, place each of such road districts in charge of a competent road supervisor, and order and direct each of such supervisors concerning the work to be done upon the public highway in his district.

2. They may, in their discretion, provide and order the county surveyor, or if the county surveyor is incompetent, some other competent surveyor designated by the board, to prepare suitable plat books and have recorded therein with the county clerk a full description of every public highway within the county, showing each course by bearing and distance, with a full and complete map thereof, together with a record of all other proceedings with reference to the same.

3. They must cause to be surveyed, viewed, laid out, recorded, opened, worked, and maintained such highways as are necessary for public convenience, as in this act provided, and cause to be erected and maintained thereon guide-posts, as provided in this act.

4. They must abolish or abandon in the manner provided in this act such public highways as are not necessary for the public convenience.

5. They must contract, agree for, purchase, or otherwise lawfully acquire the right of way over private property for the use of public highways, and for that purpose institute, when necessary, proceedings under sections 9933 to 9958 of the Code of Civil Procedure, paying for such right of way from the general road fund of the county.

6. They may, in their discretion, but subject to the limitations and provisions in the constitution and codes provided, issue bonds upon the faith and credit of the county for the construction or improvement of main highways, state highways, and bridges.

7. They may, in their discretion, but subject to the limitations and restrictions provided in the codes for the letting of public contracts, let out by contract the construction, maintenance, and improvement of the public highways, and the construction, maintenance, or repairs of bridges, when the amount of work to be done exceeds the sum of one thousand dollars.

8. They may, in their discretion, cause to be done whatever may be necessary for the best interests of the roads and road districts of their several counties.

9. They must make such reports, relating to the state roads under their supervision, to the state highway commission, as may be requested by said commission.

10. They may, in their discretion, employ a competent road builder, who shall, in counties of the first class, be the county surveyor, and who shall be paid for his services not to exceed eight dollars per day and his actual expenses, who shall serve during the pleasure of the board, whose duty it shall be, under the direction and control of said board, to prescribe the time and place, when and where, all work shall be done on the roads of the county; report any delinquency or inefficiency of any road overseer, or any other person employed upon such road, to the board of county commissioners, and perform such other duties as may be prescribed by the said board.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 3, Ch. 172, L. 1913; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 3, Ch. 141, L. 1915; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 3, Ch. 172, L. 1917; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 15, Ex. L. 1919. Cal. Pol. C. Secs. 2641-2643.

The liability of county commissioners for injuries resulting from defective highways is not absolute, but depends upon a solution of the question whether or not they have been guilty of negligence. Smith v. Zimmer, 45 Mont. 282, 303, 125 Pac. 420.

Before the individual members of a board of county commissioners can be held personally answerable for negligent conduct in refusing to repair a public highway, the board of which they are members must have actual notice of such defective condition; but if, after such actual notice to the board, any two or more members thereof negligently or wilfully refuse to cause the defect to be repaired, either directly or through the agency of the road supervisors, the members, so guilty of negligent conduct, are answerable to one who, without contributory negligence on his part, is injured thereby. Smith v. Zimmer, 45 Mont. 282, 306, 125 Pac. 420.

Cited or applied as section 2, chapter 141, Laws of 1915, before amendment, in State v. Story, 53 Mont. 573, 581, 165 Pac. 748.

1623. Purchase of machinery and materials. The board of county commissioners may also, in their discretion, out of the general road fund of the county, purchase and operate grading and other machinery that they may deem necessary or desirable for the improvement of the public highways in the county, and may also acquire, out of the same fund, by purchase, condemnation, lease, or gift, deposits or quarries of suitable road-building material; and any crushed rock or gravel, not directly used or needed by such county in the construction, repair, or maintenance of its roads, may be sold at not less than actual cost of production to any person, firm, or corporation desiring to use the same upon any public street or highway within the county, and the proceeds of any such sale shall be paid into the general road fund.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 3 of Ch. 72, L. 1913; re-en. Sec. 3, Ch. 3 of Ch. 141, L. 1915; amd Sec. 3, Ch. 3 of Ch. 172, L. 1917.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 3, Ch. 72, L. 1913; amd. Sec. 4, Ch. 141, L. 1915; re-en. Sec. 4, Ch. 3, Ch. 172, L. 1917; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 15, Ex. L. 1919.

1625. Duties of road supervisors—Reports, accounts and statements. Road supervisors, when appointed and under the direction and supervision of the board of county commissioners, must:

1. Take charge of all highways, bridges, and causeways within their respective districts; open all new roads when the same are duly established and ordered to be opened by the board of county commissioners; perform at the time and in the manner directed by the board of county commissioners whatever shall be lawfully directed by the board concerning the public highways within their respective districts.

2. Make and file with the county clerk verified reports quarterly, or oftener if required by the county commissioners, showing the number of days they have been employed during the previous three months and when and how employed; the number of days' labor performed upon the public highways in their respective districts, when and by whom performed, the character and kind of work done, and the wages agreed to be paid per day; the number of teams and implements, and the amount, value, and kind of material used, by whom and where used, and the price agreed to be paid therefor; the number and character of all the tools and implements belonging to the county within their respective districts.

3. Keep a correct account of all labor performed and animals, implements, or material furnished by himself or others upon the public highways, and give to persons performing such work or furnishing such animals, implements, or materials, a certificate stating the number of days' work performed, the character and kinds of such work, and the price agreed to be paid therefor; and the number of days any animals or implements have been used, and the price to be paid therefor, and the amount and character of all materials furnished.

1626. Employment of laborers, teams, etc. Whenever it becomes necessary for any road supervisor, in the repairing of any public highway in his district, to secure the assistance of other persons, he shall be empowered to employ suitable laborers, teams, and implements, and to contract as to the price to be paid therefor, which must not exceed the rates fixed by the board of county commissioners for such laborers, teams, and implements per day of eight hours; provided, that the time taken by such laborers or teams in going to and from the place of labor shall not be included within such period of eight hours.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 3, Ch. 72, L. 1913; re-en. Sec. 6, Ch. 3, Ch. 141, L. 1915; re-en. Sec. 6, Ch. 3, Ch. 172, L. 1917; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 15, Ex. L. 1919.

1627. Removal of obstructions and repair of bridges. Whenever any public highway becomes obstructed from any cause, or any bridge needs repairing or becomes dangerous for the passage of teams or travelers, the board of county commissioners, or the supervisor of the road district, if there be one, upon being notified thereof, must forthwith cause such obstruction to be removed, or bridge repaired, for which purpose the board of county commissioners or the road supervisor of the district may order out such number of inhabitants of the district as may be necessary to aid in removing such obstructions or repairing such bridge. If any persons after three days' notice, whether said notice be oral or written, being physically able to respond, shall fail to be present at the time and place designated, or, having attended, refuses to obey the direction of the person in charge of the work, or passes his time in idleness, or inattention to the duty assigned him, he shall be liable to punishment as for a misdemeanor; provided, that every person responding to any such order and performing the duties assigned him shall be compensated for his labor at a rate not to exceed four dollars per day of eight hours, the time taken in going to and from the place of labor not included.

Note.—The above section rewritten to correct obvious grammatical errors.

Though a road supervisor or a board of county commissioners do not have sufficient funds at their disposal to repair a dangerous place in a highway, this does not excuse them from taking suitable measures to give notice of the obstruction, or to provide suitable barriers to prevent a traveler from being injured by it. Smith v. Zimmer, 45 Mont. 282, 301, 125 Pac. 420.

Right to temporarily obstruct highway by erecting barrier, see note in Ann. Cas. 1914A, 1197.

1628. Limit on amount expended in road district. The amount of expenditures in any road district for labor and teams, together with the compensation to be paid to the supervisor, shall not exceed in the aggregate the sum apportioned quarterly by the board of county commissioners to such road district, but if such sum is not sufficient, said board may appropriate from the general road fund any amount which may be necessary in their judgment for the use and benefit of such district; provided, however, that the full amount of all road taxes collected in remote and outlying districts shall be expended annually by the county commissioners on the roads within the boundaries of said districts.

1629. Examination of supervisor's report—Warrant for claims. The board of county commissioners, at the first monthly or quarterly meeting held after the filing of any supervisor's report, must examine the same and if found correct and the work reported to have been done was necessary and properly done, cause an order to be drawn on the county treasurer against the road fund for the amount due any road supervisor for his services; and upon the presentation of any certificate issued by road supervisors for labor performed by others, and the verification by the owners thereof, as in other cases of claims against the county, the board shall cause to be issued to the owner or holder of such claims a warrant for the amount thereof, drawn on the county treasurer against the road fund.

1630. Construction of drains and ditches—Penalty for obstructions. The road supervisor, or other person designated by the board of county commissioners, has authority to open or construct drains and ditches for the making and preserving of roads and highways, doing as little injury as may be to the adjoining land, and any person stopping or obstructing the drains or ditches so made forfeits the sum of fifty dollars, to be recovered by the supervisor or board of county commissioners in a civil action in any court of competent jurisdiction. If any person feels aggrieved by the act of any supervisor, or other person designated by the board of county commissioners, he may make complaint in writing to the board of county commissioners, who will allow just damages and pay the same out of the road fund.

1631. Tools and implements for use of road supervisor. Upon the requisition of any road supervisor, the board of county commissioners shall, whenever necessary, furnish to said supervisor any plows, scrapers, or other tools and implements necessary for the use of his road district, and cause the same to be paid for out of the general road fund of the county. The supervisor must preserve such tools and implements, and must not allow the same to be used except on public highways; at the expiration of his term of office, or upon his removal therefrom, he must turn over all such tools and implements to his successor or to the board of county commissioners.

1632. Inspection of construction work—Compensation. The board of county commissioners may direct the county surveyor, or some member or members of said board, to inspect the condition of any proposed highway or highways or work on any highway or bridge in the county during the progress of the work, and before payment therefor, and such member or members of said board shall receive for making said inspection the sum of eight dollars per day and actual expenses, and the county surveyor shall receive for making such inspection when directed, and for all other work performed for the county under the direction of the board of county commissioners, the sum of eight dollars per day and actual expenses, which shall be audited and allowed in the same manner as any other claims against the county.

As respects per diem, a commissioner may receive eight dollars per day for each day's attendance upon sessions of the board and for each day given to inspection of contract road work under order of the board, but shall receive no other compensation. State v. Story, 53 Mont. 573, 583, 165 Pac. 748.

1634. Minute entry of inspection. The county surveyor, or such member or members of said board, when they act jointly, if there be no prior board order so directing, must, at the next regular meeting of the board, make proper entries of such inspection.

ESTABLISHMENT, ALTERATION AND VACATING OF PUBLIC HIGHWAYS.

Section 1635. Petition by Freeholders to Establish, Change, or Discontinue.

1650. Change of Highway Upon Petition of Freeholders.
1651. Defects in Proceedings Not to Invalidate.

1635. Petition by freeholders to establish, change, or discontinue. Any ten, or a majority of the freeholders of a road district, taxable therein for road purposes, may petition in writing the board of county commissioners to establish, change, or discontinue any common or public highway therein. When such a highway is petitioned for upon the dividing line between two counties, the same course must be pursued as in other cases, except that a copy of the petition must be presented to the board of county commissioners of each county, who shall act jointly.

History: En. Sec. 55, p. 35, L. 1901; amd. Sec. 54, Ch. 44, L. 1903; re-en. Sec. 1390, Rev. C. 1907; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 4, Ch. 72, L. 1913; re-en. Sec. 1, Ch. 4, Ch. 141, L. 1915; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 4, Ch. 172, L. 1917. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 2681.

In the absence of statutory provision, the commissioners are not required to state in their proceedings to open a road that the petitioners were citizens of the United States or the county. Crowley v. Board of Commrs., 14 Mont. 292, 297, 36 Pac. 313.

In the absence of constitutional restrictions or prohibitory legislation, the people of a county can establish and construct as many highways, bridges, and ferries as they deem necessary, and by whatsoever method of procedure they may elect. The power of the county to establish a highway by any method of procedure it may elect, and to issue of bonds for that purpose after a valid election, is not taken away because the requisite number of freeholders may not petition therefor, or because it may not be able to acquire rights of way, or because permission has not been obtained from congress to erect a bridge across a navigable stream, where permission has been obtained since the election. Reid v. Lincoln County, 46 Mont. 31, 64, 125 Pac. 429.

See Flynn v. Beaverhead County, 54 Mont. 309, 170 Pac. 13, construing similar sections of Revised Codes of 1907, relating to vacating, opening, laying out, or changing highways.

For general discussion as to establishment, alteration and discontinuance of highways, see 13 R. C. L. 21, 60.

1636. Contents of petition. The petition must set forth and describe particularly the highways to be abandoned, discontinued, altered, or constructed, and if the same are to be altered, laid out, or constructed, the general route thereof, over what lands, who are owners thereof, whether such of them as can be found consent thereto, and if not, the probable cost of the right of way, where consent is not had, the necessity for, and advantage of the proposed road.

1637. Investigation of petitions for change in or discontinuance of public highways. When any petition is filed as authorized in the preceding section, the board of county commissioners shall, at their next regular or special meeting, or at some date within thirty days thereafter, proceed and cause an investigation to be made as to the feasibility, desirability, and cost of granting the prayer of said petition, causing such investigation to be had as may be necessary to properly determine the merits or demerits of the petition.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 4 of Ch. 141, L. 1915; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 4 of Ch. 172, L. 1917; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 4, Ex. L. 1919.

1638. Minute entry of action on petition—Notice to interested parties. After the commissioners shall have considered the petition, provided that not more than one member of the board of county commissioners and the county surveyor shall act as viewers in making the investigation, they shall make an entry on their minutes of their decision with reference thereto, and cause notice to be sent by registered mail to the parties interested therein of their findings on said petition.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 4 of Ch. 172, L. 1917. Cal. Pol. C. Secs. 2685, 2686.

1639. Opening of highway—Survey of same—Claims for damages. If the petition is for the opening of a highway, and the board grants the prayer of said petition and orders the same opened, they shall proceed at once to have the same opened to the public and declare it to be a public highway; and the board may order the county surveyor, or if the county surveyor is incompetent, some other competent surveyor designated by the board to survey the same and plat it and file his field notes with the county clerk and recorder, for which the surveyor shall receive seven dollars per day and actual traveling expenses.

The board of county commissioners, upon making each and every order establishing the location or alteration of any highway, must find the amount of damages sustained by each and every person owning or claiming lands, or any improvements thereon and affected thereby, such amounts to be paid to the proper owner or claimant, if known, upon their showing or establishing their right or title to such lands or improvements, and furnishing proper deeds and releases. If the awards are all accepted, the road must be declared a public highway and opened.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 4, Ch. 172, L. 1917. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 2689.

It is not essential that the compensation due a non-consenting landowner for land appropriated for a public highway be paid in money. The benefit which he might derive from the opening of the new road over a particular route might furnish consideration for the right of way over his land. Flynn v. Beaverhead County, 54 Mont. 309, 313, 170 Pac. 13.

1640. Determination of damages. The damage must be determined by ascertaining the benefits and damages accruing to any person by reason of altering, changing, or laying out such roads, and the sum estimated, as benefits must be deducted from the sum estimated as damages, and the remainder, if any, shall be the amount of damages awarded.

History: En. Sec. 2760, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 65, p. 38, L. 1901; re-en. Sec. 63, Ch. 44, L. 1903; re-en. Sec. 1399, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 8, Ch. 4, Ch. 72, L. 1913; re-en. Sec. 8, Ch. 4, Ch. 141, L. 1915; re-en. Sec. 6, Ch. 4, Ch. 172, L. 1917. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 2688.

1641. Award of damages deemed rejected, when—Proceeding to secure right of way—Validity. If any award of damages is not accepted within twenty days from the day of the award, it shall be deemed rejected by the land owners. The board must, by order, direct proceedings to procure the right of way to be instituted by the county attorney of the county as provided by sections 9933 to 9958 of the Code of Civil Procedure, against all non-accepting land owners. When the board of county commissioners direct the institution of such proceedings the failure of the board of county commissioners to give any notices, or to do any act or thing necessary to be done, as provided in the preceding sections of this chapter, shall in no manner affect or invalidate said proceedings to procure the right of way, nor shall such failure to give any notice as hereinbefore provided be considered by the court as a defense in any proceedings instituted for the purpose of procuring said right of way and such proceedings when instituted, shall be had and taken as separate and apart from any act of the board of county commissioners hereinbefore mentioned, provided that the fact that rights of way sought to be secured shall have been declared by resolution of the board of county commissioners as necessary and desirable for the construction of a public highway shall be made to appear.

History: Ap. p. Sec. 2761, Pol. C. 1895; amd. Sec. 66, p. 38, L. 1901; amd. Sec. 64, Ch. 44, L. 1903; re-en. Sec. 1400, Rev. C. 1907; amd. Sec. 9, Ch. 4, Ch. 72, L. 1913; re-en. 1642. Fund out of which expenses are to be defrayed. All awards by agreement, ascertained by the board of county commissioners or by the proper court, and all expenses, including their own expenses and per diem as is authorized by section 4464 of this code, must be paid out of the general road fund on the order of the board of county commissioners.

1644. Opening highway through or along growing crops. No highway must be ordered opened through fields of growing crops, or along the line where crops would thereby be exposed to stock, until the owner thereof has sufficient time to harvest and care for such crops.

1645. Notice to district supervisor of opening of highway—Award of contract—Bond of contractor. When a highway is to be opened, constructed, altered, or widened, the county clerk must notify the supervisor of the proper district and furnish him with a certified copy of the order of the county commissioners; provided, that when the estimated cost of opening, constructing, altering, or widening exceeds two hundred dollars, the work may, in the discretion of the county commissioners, be let by contract; and if such estimated cost exceeds the sum of five hundred dollars, such work may be let by contract unless the board shall find that such work may be otherwise done at less cost; but before any contract shall be let, as provided herein, the board of county commissioners shall advertise for bids therefor, at least once a week for two successive weeks, in a newspaper of general circulation in the county, and the contract shall then be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder, who shall, before entering upon the performance of the work, execute and deliver to the board of county commissioners an undertaking with two or more sureties, to be approved by the board of county commissioners, in a sum not less than equal the amount for which the contract is awarded, and conditioned for the prompt, faithful, and efficient performance of such work; provided, however, the board of county commissioners may reserve the right to reject any and all bids.

1646. Recording deeds and judgments for right of way. In all cases where consent to use the right of way for a highway is voluntarily given, purchased, or condemned and paid for, either an instrument in writing, conveying the right of way and incident thereto, signed and acknowledged by the party making it, or a certified copy of the judgment of the court condemning the same, must be made and filed and recorded in the office of the county clerk, in which the land so conveyed or condemned must be particularly described.

2. In cities, towns, or villages where traffic is heavy, slow moving traffic must keep as near as possible to the curb. Vehicles turning corners to the right must keep close to the right-hand curb; in turning to the left, vehicles must keep to the right and swing full around the intersection of the center lines of the street. The operator or driver of any vehicle desiring for any reason, either at or between street crossings, to turn to the left, must warn all following by extending his arm full from the shoulder for a period of not less than two seconds, and sufficiently in advance of turning to enable any one following to stop or make the necessary change in course.

The remaining fifty per cent. he shall transmit to the state treasurer, to be deposited to the credit of the state highway fund.

2. If any dealer or motor vehicle is originally registered after July thirty-first in any year, the registration fee for the balance of such year shall be one-half of the regular fee above given.

3. A dealer who shall maintain more than one place of business or who shall maintain any branch establishment or establishments, must register and pay a registration fee for each such place of business or establishment.

4. A registered dealer who may sell and dispose of his entire business to any other person may have his certificate of registration transferred to such purchaser, upon filing with the registrar of motor vehicles a statement containing the name of the registered dealer, the number under which such dealer is registered, the name of the purchaser, and the location of the place of business so sold. Such application shall state the age of the applicant, and whether or not such applicant has ever been convicted of a felony, and no license shall be issued to any person who has ever been convicted of a felony. To each person to whom a license is granted the registrar of motor vehicles shall furnish, without cost other than the license fee herein prescribed, a license certificate in the form prescribed in section 1756, and a suitable metal badge bearing the distinguishing number or mark assigned to him. This badge shall thereafter be worn by the chauffeur affixed to his clothing in a conspicuous place at all times while he is operating or driving a motor vehicle upon public highways. Every person licensed to operate vehicles as chauffeur under this article shall endorse his usual signature on the margin of the license issued to him, immediately upon the receipt of said license, and such license shall not be valid until so indorsed. All licenses issued hereunder shall expire January first of each year, and shall be renewed annually. The provisions of this section, however, shall be operative as to a chauffeur who is a non-resident of this state, only to the extent that under the laws of the foreign country, state, territory, or federal district of his residence, like exemptions and privileges are granted to persons duly licensed and registered as chauffeurs under the laws of this state, and who are residents of this state.

3. No chauffeur having been licensed as herein provided shall voluntarily permit any other person to possess or use his license or badge; nor shall any person operating or driving a motor vehicle use or possess any license or badge belonging to another person, or a fictitious license or badge.

4. No chauffeur or other person having the care of a motor vehicle for the owner shall receive or take, directly or indirectly, any bonus, discount, or other consideration for the purchase of supplies or parts of such motor vehicle, or for work done thereon by others; and no person furnishing such supplies or parts, work or labor, shall give or offer any such chauffeur or other person having the care of a motor vehicle for the owner thereof, either directly or indirectly, any bonus, discount, or other consideration.

Upon the conviction of any chauffeur of a violation of any provision of this article, it shall be the duty of the court or judge, or other judicial officer before whom such chauffeur is convicted, to indorse such conviction on such license card, with the date of the conviction and the character of the offense in the space provided for such indorsement.

2. Reporting conviction to registrar motor vehicles. Upon the conviction of any person for a violation of any of the provisions of this act, the magistrate or other judicial officer before whom the proceedings are held shall immediately certify the fact of the case, including the name and address of the offender, the character of the punishment, and the amount of any fine imposed and paid, to the registrar of motor vehicles, who shall enter the same either in the book or index of licensed chauffeurs, as the case may be, opposite the name of the person convicted, and in the case of any other person, in a book or index of offenders to be kept for such purposes, in alphabetical order. If any such conviction shall be so reversed upon appeal therefrom, the person whose conviction has been so reversed may serve on the registrar of motor vehicles a certified copy of the order of reversal, whereupon the registrar of motor vehicles shall enter the same in the proper book or index in connection with the record of such conviction.

Every sheriff, under-sheriff, deputy sheriff, game warden, and deputy game warden shall be ex-officio a fire-warden, but shall not receive any additional compensation by reason of the duties hereby imposed, and they shall be deemed paid fire wardens under the terms of this act. The supervisors and rangers of the federal forest reserves within this state, whenever they formally accept the duties and responsibilities of fire wardens, may be appointed volunteer fire wardens, and shall have all the powers given to fire wardens by this act. The fire wardens shall promptly report all fires to the state board of forestry, take immediate and active steps toward their extinguishment, report any violation of forest laws, and assist in apprehending and convicting offenders.

1834. Powers of fire wardens. The state forester and all fire wardens shall have the power of peace officers to make arrests without warrants for violations, in their presence, of any state or federal forest laws, and no fire warden shall be liable for civil action for trespass committed in the discharge of his duties. Any fire warden who has information which shows, with reasonable certainty, that any person has violated any provision of such forest laws, shall immediately take action against the offender, by making complaint before the proper magistrate, or by information to the proper county attorney, and shall obtain all possible evidence pertaining thereto. Failure on the part of any paid fire warden to comply with the duties prescribed in this act shall be a misdemeanor, and punishable by a fine of not less than twenty dollars nor more than one thousand dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail for not less than ten days nor more than twelve months, or by both such fine and imprisonment; and upon his conviction, the district court wherein he is convicted shall forthwith declare his office vacant, and notify the proper appointing power thereof.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 147, L. 1909. For authorities relating to prevention of forest fires, see 11 R. C. L. 951.

1835. Additional powers of fire wardens. All fire wardens shall have authority to call upon any able-bodied citizen between the ages of eighteen and fifty years, resident in the vicinity, for assistance in putting out fires; and any such person who refuses to obey such summons, except for good and sufficient reason, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined in a sum not less than fifteen nor more than fifty dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail not less than one nor more than thirty days, or both such fine and imprisonment; provided, that no citizen shall be called upon to fight fire a total of more than five days in one year.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 147, L. 1909.

1836. Duties of fire wardens. The state forester, assistant forester, and all fire wardens (except volunteer wardens), under such rules and regulations as the state board of land commissioners may provide, shall protect the timber of the state, and especially the timber owned by the state, from destruction by fire, and for such purpose, in emergencies, may employ men and incur other expenses, when necessary; provided, that no fire warden shall incur any expense in excess of fifty dollars, without express authority of the state board of land commissioners.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 147, L. 1909.

1837. Expenses of state forester. The actual expenses and expenditures of the state forester, assistant forester, and fire wardens, necessarily incurred under this act, shall be paid in the same manner as are other expenses incurred in managing the state lands.

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 147, L. 1909.

1838. Penalty for destroying notices. Any person who shall destroy, deface, remove, or disfigure any sign, post, or warning notice posted under the provisions of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and punishable upon conviction, by a fine of not less than fifteen dollars and not more than two hundred and fifty dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not less than ten days nor more than three months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

History: En. Sec. 16, Ch. 147, L. 1909.

1839. Prosecutions. Whenever an arrest shall be made for any violation of the provisions of this act, or whenever any information of such violations shall be lodged with him, the county attorney of the county in which this act was committed must prosecute the offender or offenders, if in his judgment the facts warrant the same. If any county attorney shall fail to comply with the provisions of this section, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars; and upon his conviction, the district court wherein he is convicted shall forthwith declare his office vacant, and notify the proper appointing power thereof. Actions against the county attorney shall be brought by the attorney-general in the name of the state. The penalties of this section shall also apply to any magistrate, with proper authority, who refuses or neglects to cause the arrest and prosecution of any person or persons, when a complaint under oath of a violation of any of the provisions of this act has been lodged with him.

CHAPTER 145.

Section 1840. Contest Board.

1840. Contest board. The register of state lands, together with the state land agent and the state engineer, shall constitute a contest board, of which the register of state lands shall be chairman. A majority of said board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, and for rendering any decision. It shall be the duty of the register in any and all contest cases, when hearings are necessary and witnesses may be required to be examined, to set a date for hearing such cases. He shall duly advise the contestants, or their authorized attorneys, of the date set for such hearings, and any member of said board is hereby empowered to administer oaths, and said board may hear and receive evidence, after the manner and procedure established by the United States, in the district land offices, or in accordance with the rules that are or may be adopted by the board governing such cases. All evidence given and provided in such cases before the contest board shall be fully transcribed and arranged at the cost of the parties to the contest, which cost shall be taxed by the contest board in such a manner as they may deem equitable, and such testimony shall form a part of the records of the office of the state board of land commissioners. Whenever said contest board shall deem it advisable, they may initiate contests on behalf of the state, and may order hearings in any matter to protect the interest of the state; and shall hear all controversies between different persons, or between the state and any person, respecting state lands, except as otherwise herein provided, and all such matters shall be heard and determined as other contest cases. As soon as convenient after such hearings, the said contest board shall present a full transcript of the proceedings, together with their decision upon the merits of the case, to the state board of land commissioners, but such decision shall not be final until approved by the state board of land commissioners. Any party to an action or proceeding before said contest board, who is dissatisfied with the decision of the contest board, within thirty days after notice of such decision, and under such rules as the state board of land commissioners may adopt, may appeal from said decision to the state board of land commissioners; provided, that if any member of the said contest board is disqualified in any case, by reason of being a witness or by being instrumental in the bringing of the case, the governor, as president of the state board of land commissioners, shall designate some other state officer or officers to act on the contest board in place of such disqualified member or members.

History: En. Sec. 19, Ch. 147, L. 1909.

This section creates a contest board, of which the register is made the chief officer. State ex rel. Danaher v. Ray, 47 Mont. 570, 572, 133 Pac. 961, Ann. Cas. 1915C, 130.

FORESTRY BOARD.

1842. Duties of Forestry Board.

History: En. Sec. 20, Ch. 147, L. 1909.

1842. Duties of forestry board. It shall be the duty of the forestry board to ascertain the methods of reforesting the denuded forest lands of the state, to prevent forestry waste and the destruction of forests by fire, to manage the forests of the state on forestry principles, to encourage private owners in preserving and growing timber, and to conserve forest tracts around the head waters and on the watersheds of the watercourses of the state; it shall make reports of its doings and recommendations to each session of the legislature, and, from time to time, with approval of the state board of land commissioners, published, for popular distribution, such of its conclusions and recommendations as may be of public interest and concern.

The state board of forestry may reforest the watersheds of the state, and expend such sums of money therefor as may be appropriated for that purpose by the legislative assembly.

1843. Classification of lands. The state board of land commissioners must provide as complete a set of plats and tract books as may be necessary of the surveyed lands of the state; must ascertain what part of the unappropriated government lands in the state are capable of irrigation, and the source and reliability of the water supply for the same, and must select such lands as may be suitable under the various grants made by the United States to the state, and must classify the lands upon the maps and plats so prepared according to the classification made by the constitution of the state of Montana, to-wit:

1. Grazing lands. 2. Timber lands. 3. Agricultural lands. 4. Lands lying within the limits of any town or city, or within three miles of said limits.

Subdivision 3 of such classification shall be subclassified into (a) agricultural lands susceptible of irrigation; and (b) agricultural lands not susceptible of irrigation; and subdivision 4 of such classification shall be subclassified into (a) lands within the limits of any incorporated city, and (b) lands not within the limits of any incorporated city.

The state board of land commissioners shall, as often as they deem it necessary, reclassify and reappraise the lands of the state, so that at no time must any of the lands be sold under a different classification from that to which they actually belong.

The maps, plats, and tract books prepared by the board, as herein provided, shall also contain a classification of the lands according to the respective funds or state institutions to which said lands belong, and the register must mark upon the maps and plats the name of the grant to which each tract belongs.

History: En. Sec. 15, p. 174, Ex. L. 1891; 2155, Rev. C. 1907; amd. Sec. 26, Ch. 147, amd. Sec. 3473, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. L. 1909.

1844. Classification of public lands to be conclusive as against state, when. Where any tract or parcel of the public lands of the state has been classified, or shall hereafter be classified by the state board of land commissioners, as required by section 1 of article XVII of the constitution of the state of Montana, and a contract for the sale thereof has been regularly made and entered into, and a certificate of purchase covering such land has been regularly issued to the purchaser of such tract or parcel, by and on behalf of the state, and the purchaser has paid any portion of the purchase price, and is not in default in accordance with the terms of the said contract of sale, the said classification by the state board of land commissioners shall be final and conclusive as against the state, and shall not be questioned in any action or proceeding by or on behalf of the state or against the said state board of land commissioners, so long as the said purchaser complies with the terms of the said contract.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 78, L. 1919.

1845. Records of timber. The state board of land commissioners shall cause to be kept accurate records showing the location, extent, and character of all forest lands, and the kind and character of timber growing thereon, and also an account of all timber sold, the person or persons to whom sold, the amount of money received therefor, and the disposition of the moneys so received.

History: En. Sec. 27, Ch. 147, L. 1909.

1846. Coal lands, what deemed, and selection. All coal areas in the state which after final examination are defined by the United States geological survey, or other authority under the government of the United States, shall be recognized by the authorities of this state as coal lands, until otherwise determined; and no such lands shall be sold, but such lands may be leased by the state to any person or persons, company, or corporation, but only on a royalty basis as herein provided; provided, however, that the surface rights of such lands may be sold or may be leased for either agricultural or grazing purposes, but any other state lands may be designated as coal lands by the state board of land commissioners, and withdrawn from sale when, in the opinion of the board, such lands contain coal.

1847. Sale of state lands. Any state lands, or any part thereof, situated in or adjacent to a city or town may be, at such time as the board may deem to be for the best interest of the state, surveyed and laid off in lots, blocks, streets, alleys, avenues, highways, public squares, market-places, and parks, in conformity with the laws of the state for the survey and platting of townsites and additions thereto, conforming as nearly as may be with the ordinances of such city or town regarding the platting of additions thereto; and the state board of land commissioners must cause correct maps and plats of such lands to be made and recorded when so surveyed, and not otherwise. No fee shall be charged by the county recorder, or by any city officer, for filing or recording such maps or plats, when recorded on behalf of the state.

The board may, in its discretion, sell the same, or any part thereof, at public auction to the highest bidder. Each block or lot, as numbered and platted upon the maps or plats, must be sold separately, but not until they have been appraised and notice of the sale given in the same manner, and upon the same terms and conditions as is herein provided for the sale of other state lands. It shall be optional with the board as to whether or not state lands, or any part thereof, situated in or adjacent to cities and towns, shall be surveyed and platted as hereinabove provided, in part or in whole; if such lands, or any part of them, are not surveyed and platted into blocks, lots, streets, and alleys, they and the parts not so platted, as well as any other lands described under the fourth subdivision of the classification of state lands in section 1 of article XVII of the constitution of Montana, may be subdivided into lots or tracts of five acres each or less, and sold in the manner prescribed for the sale of other state lands, provided that each lot or tract may be offered for sale and sold separately.

If, at any such sale, any purchaser or bidder shall purchase or bid in more than one of such lots or tracts, the board may, at the option of such purchaser, include in the certificate of purchase, or deed, all of the lots or tracts purchased at said sale by such purchaser.

1848. Reappraisement of lots. All lots leased within the boundaries of any incorporated town or city shall be reappraised at least every five years, and the lessee of all such lands shall pay a rental based upon such reappraisement, or forfeit the land so held; provided, said reappraisement shall not be less than the appraisement at which the same is under lease, except by order of the state board of land commissioners; and, provided, that said board may, in its discretion, offer said lots or lot for sale at any of the public sales held by said board, in the county where the said lots are located, upon the application of the lessee, but not otherwise, during the term of said lease, upon the same terms and in the same manner as though said lease had not been executed.

History: En. Sec. 30, Ch. 147, L. 1909.

1849. Grant to United States. Any land now or hereafter owned by the state of Montana, and needed by the United States in its irrigation and reclamation work, shall, upon application made therefor to the state board of land commissioners, be conveyed to the United States at the minimum price of ten dollars per acre; and there is hereby granted to the United States over all the lands now owned or hereafter acquired by the state of Montana, a right of way for ditches, canals, tunnels, telephone and telegraph lines, now constructed, or to be constructed by the United States government, in furtherance of the reclamation of the arid lands, and that all conveyances of state lands shall contain a reservation of such right of way.

1850. Right of way for highway. Right of way shall be granted by the state board of land commissioners, over any of the lands of the state, to any county or city desiring to construct a public highway across the same; provided, that the right of way must always follow sectional or subdivisional lines, if physically practicable; provided, that a duly attested and sworn copy of the official plat, in duplicate, made by the official county or city surveyor or engineer, shall first be filed with the board, together with a petition from the county or city officials setting forth the necessity of the same; and the aforesaid plat, when approved by said board, shall be and form the official plat of said highway; and the said plat shall show the amount of land taken by the proposed highway, and shall show the remainder of the land in each portion of each legal subdivision crossed by said proposed highway. One copy of said plat shall be retained by the state land office, and the other returned to the county or city from which it was received.

1851. Right of way for public use. The state board of land commissioners may grant the right of way across or upon any portion of state lands, upon such terms as may be agreed upon, for any ditch, reservoir, railroad, private road, telegraph or telephone line, or for any other public use, as defined in the Code of Civil Procedure; provided, that this section shall not be construed to grant authority to convey any such land, except for the purposes above set forth; and provided further, that whenever lands granted for any of the purposes mentioned in this section shall cease to be used for such purposes, said lands shall revert to the state, upon notice to that effect to the person to whom such grant was made, served at his last known postoffice address.

History: En. Sec. 33, Ch. 147, L. 1909.

1852. Board may sell lands. The state board of land commissioners may direct the sale of any state lands, except as provided in this act, in such parcels, to actual settlers only, or to persons who shall improve the same, as they shall deem for the best interests of the state and the promotion of the settlement thereof; but no such sale shall be made, except at public sale and as herein provided; provided, that no lands belonging to the state, within the areas to be irrigated from works constructed or controlled by the United States, shall hereafter be sold, except in conformity with the classification of farm units by the United States, and the title to such lands shall not pass from the state until the applicant therefor shall have fully complied with the provisions of the laws of the United States and the regulations thereunder, concerning the acquisition of the right to use water from such works, and shall produce the evidence thereof duly issued. After the withdrawal of lands by the United States for any irrigation project, no application for the purchase of state lands, within the limits of such withdrawal, shall be accepted, except upon the conditions prescribed in this section; and, provided, that sales of state lands shall be made only to citizens of the United States, or to those who have declared their intention to become such, or to corporations organized under the laws of this state; provided, that the state board of land commissioners may sell to the United States, at the minimum price of ten dollars per acre, any state lands within the limits of a withdrawal of lands by the United States for reclamation purposes; or may exchange the same for other lands of the United States, upon such terms as it may deem for the best interests of the state; and provided, that whenever the soil on any timber land is of such character that when cleared it would make good agricultural land, the land may be sold with the timber thereon as timber lands; and provided further, that all leases and conveyances of state lands by the state board of land commissioners shall contain a reservation to the state of all coal, oil, and gas contained therein.

Note.—Prior acts, section 3478, Political Code 1895; same, p. 88, Laws of 1899; section 2161, Revised Codes 1907.

Sale and grant of state lands generally, see 22 R. C. L. 338.

1853. Lands between low and high-water mark. None of the lands lying between low-water mark and high-water mark of any navigable lake within the state of Montana shall ever be sold or leased by the state of Montana, or the state board of land commissioners, or any officer or board of said state; provided, however, that where the state owns land bordering on any navigable lake, the ownership of the state and its power to sell or lease such land shall be the same as that exercised by individual owners of like land.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 124, L. 1911.

1854. Sales for irrigation. For the purpose of furnishing irrigation for state lands, the state board of land commissioners is hereby authorized when, in their judgment, the interests of the state would be subserved thereby, to sell, at public sale, at not less than the appraised value thereof

(which in no case shall be less than the minimum price of ten dollars per acre), any tract of arid land belonging to the state; provided, that no less than one-half of any section shall be sold, and only in alternate half-sections, to any responsible person or persons, on condition that such person or persons construct an irrigation ditch in such locality, and to and upon said land, and of sufficient capacity to furnish water for the entire tract, and so located that said tract may be irrigated therefrom; provided, that before any state lands shall be offered for sale under this section, the person desiring to purchase said land and construct said ditch, shall enter into a contract with the board, guaranteeing to bid at least the minimum price per acre for said land, and to complete such ditch within the agreed time, which time shall be fixed by the board in contract. The contract shall further provide that such ditch shall furnish sufficient water for the remaining one-half of the state lands, at such reasonable rates as the board and the party constructing such ditch or canal may agree upon. Such contract shall be drawn by the attorney-general and signed by the governor and register of state lands, and by the party desiring to construct said ditch; and provided further, that if any person other than the person making application for the purchase of said lands, shall be the highest bidder at the public sale thereof, such bidder shall immediately enter into a bond, or give the state other sufficient surety, conditioned that he will, within such reasonable time as the board may fix, enter into a contract and bond as required by the provisions of this act, for the construction of said ditch and for the furnishing of water therefrom; and in the event of his failure to furnish a satisfactory bond and enter into the said contract within the time fixed, then such bid shall be disregarded, and said public sale shall be void and of no effect. The sale shall be made upon like conditions as other state lands are sold, and the board shall require a good and sufficient bond from the party desiring to construct such ditch, conditioned for the faithful performance of the contract and the conditions of the sale; and in no case shall the title of any of said lands pass from the state until the ditch shall have been completed and accepted by the board.

Cited or applied as section 35, Laws of 1909, chapter 147, in State ex rel. Gravely v. Stewart, 48 Mont. 347, 350, 137 Pac. 854.

1855. Sale or lease of lands. All sales and leasings of state lands shall be conducted by the register of state lands. Each quarter-section, or such portion thereof as belongs to the state, shall be offered for sale separately; smaller lots only may be sold when it is impossible to sell as above described, or when thereby a larger price may be obtained, but not more than one hundred and sixty acres of agricultural land susceptible of irrigation, and not more than three hundred and twenty acres of agricultural land not susceptible of irrigation, and not more than six hundred and forty acres of grazing land or lands which, by reason of altitude, are valuable only as hay land, shall be sold to one person, or company or corporation; and no land shall be sold for less than the minimum price of ten dollars per acre, nor for less than its appraised value, and the amount of the purchase money to be paid at the time of the sale shall not be less than fifteen per cent. of the whole purchase price.

Lease of state lands as subject to collateral attack, see note in Ann. Cas. 1912B, 91.

1856. Public auction. All sales of state lands shall be at public auction only. The state board of land commissioners shall hold a public sale of state lands at the county seat in each county in the state at least once every two years, and may hold other public sales of such lands in any county of the state at any time they may deem it necessary, at which sales any and all of the state lands subject to sale, situated in said county, may be offered for sale and sold. All sales shall be held at the courthouse in the county in which the same is held.

History: En. Sec. 38, Ch. 147, L. 1909.

The provision of this section, that "all sales of state lands shall be at public auction," means a sale to the highest and best bidder, with absolute freedom from competitive bidding. Any agreement, therefore, to stifle competition or chill the bidding is a fraud upon the principle upon which the sale is founded. State ex rel. Danaher v. Miller, 52 Mont. 562, 568, 160 Pac. 513.

For authorities on puffing bidding at auction sales and the validity thereof, see 2 R. C. L. 1128.

1857. Place of sales and notice. All sales under this act shall be advertised once in each week for four consecutive weeks, in some paper printed and published in the county in which such land is situated, if there be such paper; if not, then in some paper published in an adjoining county. The advertisement shall state the time, place, and terms of sale, and a description of the state lands in the county to be offered.

History: Ap. p. Sec. 3481, p. 89, L. 1899; re-en. Sec. 2164, Rev. C. 1907; amd. Sec. 39, Ch. 147, L. 1909.

1858. Confirmation of sales. All sales of state lands, and all sales of timber on state lands, shall be subject to the approval and confirmation by the state board of land commissioners, and no sale shall be deemed completed until after such approval and confirmation.

History: En. Sec. 40, Ch. 147, L. 1909.

The state board of land commissioners, in proceeding under this section to determine whether it shall or shall not confirm a sale of school lands, acts quasi-judicially, and may not, in the absence of abuse of its discretion, be compelled by mandamus to confirm a sale by the register at a price which it deems inadequate. Bidders at sales of school lands are bound to know that no sale by the register is complete without the approval and confirmation of the board, and that the board, in confirming or rejecting a sale by the register, will be governed by the interests of the trust which it is charged to administer. State ex rel. Gravely v. Stewart, 48 Mont. 347, 350, 351, 137 Pac. 854.

1859. Default in payment of purchase price. Whenever any purchaser of state lands, or his assigns, shall default, for a period of thirty days, in any of the payments of either principal or interest due upon the certificate of purchase issued to him, or his assignor, said certificate may be forfeited, and the lands shall revert to the state of Montana, upon a notice to that effect mailed to the last known address of said purchaser, or his assigns, which notice shall allow him thirty days additional within which to make such payment; provided, that like notice shall be mailed to the bondsmen, if any, of such person or assigns, who, in case of the final default of said purchaser, shall be entitled to redeem said land at any time within thirty days after such final default. If payment be not made as is in this section provided, the state board of land commissioners may sell the said lands, or any part thereof, and all payments made by the previous purchaser shall be forfeited to the state.

A purchaser is not required to give a bond to secure deferred payments. State ex rel. Danaher v. Miller, 52 Mont. 562, 567, 160 Pac. 513.

1860. Purchase price, how paid. State lands shall be paid for as follows: Fifteen per cent. of the purchase price in cash on the day of the sale, and the balance in twenty equal annual payments, drawing interest at the rate of five per cent. per annum, payable annually; but a purchaser may make payment of one or more annual instalments at any time, by paying the principal, together with accrued interest, if paid on the date when one of the annual payments is due; if not, then to the date of the next annual payment.

History: En. Sec. 42, Ch. 147, L. 1909; prior law Sec. 2163, Rev. C. 1907.

1861. Certificate of purchase. Whenever any purchaser of the state lands has paid fifteen per cent. of the purchase price of the land bought, and delivered to the register of state lands the bond herein required to be given, the register shall make out a certificate of purchase and deliver the same to the purchaser, which certificate shall contain a description of the land purchased, the sum paid, the amount remaining due, the date at which each of the deferred payments falls due, and the amount of each, and shall be signed by the governor, as the president of the state board of land commissioners, and by the register, and a record of the same shall be kept in a suitable book.

History: En. Sec. 43, Ch. 147, L. 1909.

While this section enjoins upon the register of state lands the duty to issue a certificate of purchase, it must be signed by the governor as president of the board of land commissioners. If it does not bear the signature of this officer it is not complete, nor is it effective for any purpose. Neither can act effectively without the other. In the absence of a demand upon the governor, therefore, the issuance of a writ of mandate to compel the register to issue a certificate of purchase would not afford the relator any effective relief, for though the register were compelled to perform the duty enjoined upon him so far as he might, the governor would be under no compulsion to act with him, and would be free to refuse to add his signature. State ex rel. Danaher v. Ray, 47 Mont. 570, 572, 133 Pac. 961, Ann. Cas. 1915C, 130.

In signing a certificate of purchase, the governor performs a mere ministerial duty, and if he fails or refuses to perform such duty when he should perform it, mandamus will lie to compel performance. State ex rel. Danaher v. Miller, 52 Mont. 562, 567, 160 Pac. 513.

1862. Report on value of land and improvements—Payment. When an application to purchase any state lands shall be filed in the office of the register, the state board of land commissioners may refer the same to the state land agent, who shall visit the land proposed to be purchased and shall report in writing to the state board of land commissioners, giving the value of said land and the value of all improvements which have been placed thereon, together with any other facts which may have a bearing in determining the value thereof. If any of the improvements consists of cultivation done thereon by a prior lessee, and the land shall be purchased by any other person than such lessee, the full value of such cultivation shall be paid to the person making same, and the other improvements shall be disposed of as herein otherwise provided.

1863. When purchaser entitled to patent. Whenever a purchaser of state lands, or his assigns, shall have paid one-half of the amount of money payable to the state of Montana upon his certificate of purchase, he shall be entitled to have his bond, given to secure such payment, canceled, unless the state board of land commissioners shall order that the same continue in force for a longer period; and when he shall have paid the whole of the said purchase money, he shall be entitled to letters patent for the land sold to him, or his assignor.

History: En. Sec. 45, Ch. 147, L. 1909.

Cited or applied as section 45, Laws of 1909, chapter 147, in State ex rel. Danaher v. Miller, 52 Mont. 562, 567, 160 Pac. 513.

1864. Patents, how executed. The governor, and in case of his absence or inability, the lieutenant-governor, shall be and is hereby authorized to execute deeds or patents of conveyance, transferring, without covenants, any and all lands sold by the state board of land commissioners under the laws of this state. Such deed or patent shall be attested by the secretary of state, countersigned by the register, and have the great seal of the state and the seal of the state board of land commissioners thereto attached, but need not be acknowledged. A certified copy of the record of any such deed or patent shall be receivable in evidence in all courts of record of this state, the same as the original.

History: En. Sec. 46, Ch. 147, L. 1909.

1865. Limitation for cancellation of patent. No action shall be brought to vacate or cancel any patent issued by the state, after the expiration of two years from the date of such patent, except upon the ground of fraud.

History: En. Sec. 47, Ch. 147, L. 1909.

1866. Certificates may be assigned. Certificates of purchase shall be assignable, but all such assignments shall be in writing, and be acknowledged as other conveyances of real estate, and shall be filed for record in the office of the register of state lands; provided, however, that the state board of land commissioners may cancel any certificate of purchase upon the ground of fraud, within three years from the date of its issue, upon giving to the person named in the certificate of purchase, at his last known place of address, thirty days' notice that the same is held for cancellation; and, if the same is registered, hearing shall be had before the board of contest, as in other contested cases provided; provided, that such hearing may be had upon testimony taken before some officer authorized to administer oaths, in the county in which the land involved is situated.

The formal approval of a sale of land by the state board of land commissioners did not preclude the district court from investigating the question of fraud claimed to have entered into the sale, in a proceeding to compel the issuance of a certificate of purchase, since it is manifest from the provisions of this section that the board may cancel a certificate for fraud at any time within three years from its date of issue. State ex rel. Danaher v. Miller, 52 Mont. 562, 567, 160 Pac. 513.

Where two tracts of land were sold to the same person at the same sale, but separately as required by law, the entrance of fraud into the sale of one tract did not invalidate the sale of the second, which was free from fraud, nor rob the buyer of his right to a certificate of purchase therefor. State ex rel. Danaher v. Miller, 52 Mont. 562, 569, 160 Pac. 513.

1867. Lost certificate of purchase. Whenever any certificate of purchase shall be lost, or wrongfully withheld by any person from the owner thereof, the contest board may receive evidence of such loss or wrongful withholding, and report their findings as in other contested cases; and the state board of land commissioners may, in proper cases, cause a new certificate of purchase, or a patent, as the case may be, to issue to such person as shall appear to them to be entitled thereto.

History: En. Sec. 49, Ch. 147, L. 1909.

1868. Lands subject to taxation. All lands sold under the provisions of this act, or any interest therein, shall be subject to taxation; and the register of state lands shall furnish to the county assessors of each county, on or before the fifteenth day of March of each year, a list of all lands sold during the year ending on the first Monday of March, to whom sold, the purchase price, and the amount actually paid; provided, that no purchaser of state lands shall be taxed for a greater percentage of the value of the land than the ratio which the amount actually paid on the purchase price bears to the total purchase price; and provided further, that in case of a sale for taxes, the interest only of said purchaser shall be sold.

Under former statutes, it was held that a purchaser, after he had paid a part of the purchase price, contracted to pay the balance, and taken possession, is the owner for the purpose of taxation, although the state retains the legal title as security for deferred payments. Courtney v. Missoula County, 21 Mont. 591, 593, 55 Pac. 359.

Taxation of state lands held under contract of sale, see Ann. Cas. 1917C, 129.

1869. Interest of purchaser subject to lien. The interest of any purchaser of state lands in the land so purchased shall be subject to the same liens as other real estate; provided, that in case of sale, only the interest of the purchaser shall be sold. In case of any sale under the provisions of this section, or of a sale for taxes, the person purchasing under such provisions shall be substituted for the judgment debtor, and a new certificate of purchase shall be issued to him upon satisfactory proof to the state board of land commissioners that he is entitled thereto.

History: En. Sec. 51, Ch. 147, L. 1909.

1870. If lands revert. In case any lands sold under the provisions of this act shall revert to the state, for any cause whatsoever, the register of state lands shall at once notify the assessor and the county treasurer of the county in which the land is situated, and upon the receipt of such notice, it shall be the duty of the assessor to cancel any assessment of said land for that year, and of the county treasurer to rebate all taxes that have been charged against said land for that year; provided, that the state shall pay to the county in which said land is situated its proportion of any taxes that may have been levied upon said land for a year in which the state has collected an instalment of purchase money upon said land, said payment to be made out of such instalment.

History: En. Sec. 52, Ch. 147, L. 1909.

1871. Timber not to be cut. If any purchaser of state land, before receiving his title therefor, cuts or destroys any timber on said land, more than shall be necessary in the building and repairing of fences and houses and other necessary buildings thereon, and for fuel for the family of the occupant, he shall be liable in damages for all such excess, the amount of such damage to be recovered in an action in the name of the state, to be instituted by the attorney-general, in the county in which the land is situated.

1880. Board to Defend Suits.
1881. State Brand—Penalty for Violation.

1872. Sale of timber. The state board of land commissioners shall have power to sell timber on state lands, at such price per thousand feet as in its judgment shall be for the best interest of the state, but not otherwise; but no such sale of live timber shall be made at a less price than three dollars per thousand feet, except lodge-pole pine, which may be sold at the discretion of the board. But no live timber less than eight inches in diameter, twenty feet from the ground, except lodge-pole pine and cedar poles, shall be sold or permitted to be cut from state lands. All timber sold or cut from state lands shall be cut and removed under such rules and regulations for the preservation of standing timber and the prevention of fires as the state board of land commissioners shall prescribe; in all cases the board must require the person cutting the timber to pile the brush and slashings and dispose of the same in such manner as to prevent forest fires. Before any permit shall be granted, except for cutting of lodge-pole pines and cedar poles, the timber shall be estimated and appraised under the direction of the state forester, upon the request and subject to the approval of the state board of land commissioners, which estimates and appraisals shall show as nearly as may be the amount and value per thousand feet of all timber measuring not less than eight inches in diameter, twenty feet from the ground, and also all other timber measuring below this standard on each tract or lot, together with a statement of the situation of the timber relative to risk from fires or damage of any kind, its distance from the nearest lake, stream, or railroad, and its value and position as a protection to a watershed.

1873. Permits for cutting timber. No permit for cutting live timber shall be granted except to the highest bidder at a public sale held at the state capitol, except as provided in the following sections, notice of which sale shall be published as provided by law for the sale of state lands, but no sale shall be made at a less price than the appraised value of the timber as fixed by the state board of land commissioners; and no timber shall be sold after the passage of this act until the same has been reappraised and estimated since March 19, 1909. Every person purchasing timber at such sale, before the execution of the permit to cut the same, shall execute a bond to the state of Montana, in double the amount of the estimated value of the timber permitted to be cut, with sufficient sureties, to be approved by the board, conditioned upon the payment to the register of state lands of the amount that may be found due under the terms of such permit, and according to the provisions of law; and further conditioned upon the cutting of such timber in compliance with such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the state board of land commissioners.

1874. Permits. All permits to cut live timber under the provisions of this act shall be made according to a form prescribed by the attorney-general, and shall be signed by the party applying for the same, and by the president and secretary of the state board of land commissioners.

Said permits shall contain a description of the land to be cut upon, the estimated amount of timber upon the same, the amount of large timber required to be left standing, the time within which said timber shall be removed, the price per thousand feet, or the entire value of the timber, if the right to clear the land has been sold, for which the same was bid in, the stipulated log-mark, and such other terms and conditions as may be necessary to make all logs cut under its provisions the absolute property of the state, until the same are paid for. Such permits, when properly executed, shall be recorded in the office of the register of the state board of land commissioners, and the log-mark described therein shall vest the ownership of all logs bearing the same in the state; provided, however, that the state board of land commissioners may authorize the state forester to issue permits without notice to citizens of Montana, to cut and take away dead standing timber under such rules and regulations as to price and quality as may be prescribed by the board; and provided further, that the state forester shall issue permits without notice to citizens of Montana, to cut and take away down timber, without price, under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the board; and provided further, that the state board of land commissioners may authorize the state forester to sell live timber in quantities not exceeding one hundred thousand feet in the aggregate, in each forest reserve in any one year, without publishing or giving notice.

1875. Permits to cut and remove timber from state lands. The state board of land commissioners are hereby empowered to authorize the state land agent or the state forester to issue permits without notice to bona fide citizens of the state of Montana, authorizing such citizens to cut and take away from the timber lands of the state timber in small quantities, to be used by such citizens for domestic, building, and fuel purposes only, under such rules and regulations as to price and quantity as may be prescribed by the said board.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 119, L. 1911.

1876. Log-mark. The state forester shall select and designate a log-mark for each person granted a permit to cut logs upon state lands, which log-mark, when so selected and designated, shall be filed in the office of the register of state lands, and shall be distinctly different from any other log-mark selected and designated by him. The state forester shall cause all logs so cut to be scaled, and make a detailed report of the same to the state board of land commissioners, on or before the first day of every month, showing the name of the party cutting, the description of the land cut upon, the number of logs cut and marked, the mark placed thereon, the total number of feet, and the value thereof per thousand, as shown by the records of this office, stating whether such cutting has been according to the terms of the permit, and, if not properly cut, the consequent damage to the state; and such timber or logs shall not be sold, transferred or manufactured into lumber until the amount due the state, according to the report of said forester, shall have been paid in full; and it shall be the duty of the state forester to report to the state board of land commissioners all trespass which has been, or which may hereafter be, made upon the state timber lands, and all logs cut by trespassers shall be disposed of as hereinafter provided.

1877. Payment for timber. Upon receipt of such report from the state forester, the register of state lands shall draw a draft for the amount upon the party from whom the stumpage is due. If said party shall immediately make payment of the required amount, the register shall execute a release of the logs, and transfer of the mark thereon; but in no case shall such release or transfer be made until the lien of the state has been fully satisfied. If such purchaser shall not pay the amount of such draft within ten days after receipt of same, it shall be the duty of the state board of land commissioners to take possession of the logs in question, and sell the same at public auction to satisfy the claim of the state, paying the overplus, if any, after defraying the cost and expenses of such sale, to the party entitled thereto; provided, that if the proceeds of such sale are insufficient to pay the amount due upon the purchase price, together with the cost and expenses of the sale, the amount of such deficiency shall be certified to the attorney-general by the state board of land commissioners, and he shall immediately proceed to collect such deficiency from the purchaser or his bondsman; and provided, that in lieu of taking possession of the logs upon which stumpage is due, the state board of land commissioners may turn the account over to the attorney-general, who shall immediately proceed to collect the same upon the bond hereinbefore provided for; but in no case shall the logs be released until the account is paid. The proceedings upon the bond shall not prevent the state board of land commissioners from seizing the logs at any time before the claim of the state is satisfied.

1878. Penalty for false marks on timber. If any person, or any officer or employee of a corporation, having a contract to cut timber under the provisions of this act, with intent to defraud the state, place any other log mark upon logs cut by him, or if under such contract than the one mentioned therein, he shall be deemed guilty of felony, and when upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not less than five hundred dollars nor more than five thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the state prison for not less than one year nor more than three years, or both; and all logs upon which such false mark has been placed shall be forfeited to the state.

1879. Additional penalty. In addition to the penalties provided for in this title against those committing trespass upon any of the lands owned or held in trust, or otherwise, by the state, the state board of land commissioners is hereby authorized and empowered, without legal process, to seize and take, or cause to be seized and taken, any and all lumber, wood, grass, or other property unlawfully severed from the said lands, whether the same has been removed from said lands or not, and may dispose of the same at either public or private sale, in such manner as will be most conducive to the interests of the state, and all moneys arising therefrom, after deducting the reasonable and necessary expenses of such seizure and sale, shall be a part of the permanent fund to which such lands may belong.

1880. Board to defend suits. For the purpose of determining the title to any property seized and taken under the provisions of this act, the state board of land commissioners is hereby authorized and empowered to defend, in the name of the state, any and all actions that may be brought for that purpose, and to do and perform all things necessary to protect the interests of the state.

History: En. Sec. 8, p. 49, L. 1893; re-en. Sec. 3567, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2220, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 60, Ch. 147, L. 1909.

1881. State brand—Penalty for violation. The state forester, under the direction of the state board of land commissioners, shall select and designate a brand, which he shall place, or cause to be placed, upon all timber, logs, boards, or planks that may be seized, as provided for in this act. Any person or persons, or any officer or employee of any company, association, or corporation, who shall remove, sell, or dispose of any property mentioned in this act, after the same has been seized or marked with the state brand, or who shall erase, deface, cut, or destroy any mark upon any such property, shall, upon conviction, be imprisoned in the state prison for a term of not less than one year nor more than three years, and be subject to a fine of not less than five hundred dollars nor more than five thousand dollars.

1882. Board may lease. The state board of land commissioners may lease any portion of the land of the state at a rental to be determined after the examination of the land by an appraiser, except as herein provided. The lessee shall pay the annual rental in advance to the register of state lands, who shall receipt for the same. If stone, coal, coal-oil, gas, or other mineral not mentioned herein, be found upon the state land, such land must be leased only for the purpose of obtaining therefrom the stone, coal, coal-oil, gas, or other mineral, for such length of time, and conditional upon the payment to the register of such royalty upon the product as the state board of land commissioners may determine.

History: En. Sec. 62, Ch. 147, L. 1909.

Note.—Prior to the enactment of chapter 147, Laws of 1909, the laws with reference to leasing of state land were not as complete as those in the later act and were often combined with statutes regulating the sale of state land. These acts are found in house bill No. 45, pp. 87 to 92, amending sections of Political Code 1895; which acts were carried forward as sections 2161 to 2180, Revised Codes 1907; chapter 147, Laws of 1909, was held by the supreme court to be a complete code of law on the subject dealt with and to entirely supersede the corresponding provisions of Revised Codes 1907.

1883. Lands, how leased. At every public sale of state lands, each tract of land, except timber lands, for which no bid for its purchase has been received, shall be immediately offered for lease to the highest bidder, as follows: By quarter-sections, or so much thereof as belongs to the state, in the case of lands classified as agricultural (a); by half-sections, in the case of lands classified as agricultural (b); and by sections in the case of lands classified as grazing; and smaller tracts shall not be leased, unless it is deemed impossible to lease as above described, or unless a larger price may be obtained thereby; and no land shall be leased for a longer period than five years, nor for a less rental than the minimum rental fixed by the board, which shall not be less than five per centum per annum of the appraised value of such lands.

History: En. Sec. 63, Ch. 147, L. 1909.

Under former statutes, all agricultural and grazing lands, in default of sale, may be leased under the direction of the state land commission for terms not exceeding five years, and the revenue therefrom to be paid to the state treasurer. State ex rel. Koch v. Barret, 26 Mont. 62, 65, 66 Pac. 506.

Under section 2162 of the Revised Codes of 1907, similar to the above, it was held that the question whether state lands lying within three miles of the limits of a city or town shall be leased or sold, being one addressed to the sound discretion of the state board of land commissioners, mandamus does not lie to compel such board to entertain an application to lease. State ex rel. Gibson v. Stewart, 50 Mont. 404, 406, 147 Pac. 276.

1884. Bond and first payment of rental. Each lessee, within twenty-four hours after leasing any land, shall pay to the register the first year's rental, and shall deliver to him a good and sufficient bond, executed by the said lessee and two sureties and approved by the treasurer of the county in which the land is situated; the condition of such bond being that such lessee will keep and perform all the covenants and agreements contained in the lease; and the register shall, upon such payment, and the delivery of such bond, execute and deliver to such lessee a lease of such lands, and shall enter the same in a suitable book to be kept for that purpose.

History: En. Sec. 64, Ch. 147, L. 1909.

1885. Penalty for failure to make first payment. If any successful bidder at a public leasing or public sale refuses or neglects to make payment, or deliver his bond as herein provided, he shall forfeit to the state the sum of two hundred dollars, with costs; and the attorney-general shall institute a suit for the recovery thereof in the name of the state of Montana.

History: En. Sec. 65, Ch. 147, L. 1909; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 87, L. 1919.

1886. Leases conditioned on payment of rental in advance. All leases of state or school land shall be conditioned upon the payment of rent annually in advance, and the violation of this condition shall work a forfeiture of the lease at the option of the state board of land commissioners, after thirty days' notice to the lessee, such notice being sent to his last known postoffice address, as given by himself to the register of the state board, and to the sureties upon his bond; provided, that after the expiration of the said thirty days' notice, the sureties upon the bond of the lessee, or any creditor of the lessee, may pay the said rental and take an assignment of said lease, or have such rights transferred to them or him, as the case may be; provided, that such sureties shall have the preference.

History: En. Sec. 66, Ch. 147, L. 1909.

1887. Term of lease. No state land shall be leased to any person for a longer period than five years. Lots within an incorporated town or city may be leased for a period of five years, with covenants for the renewal of said lease to the lessee, or his assigns, for nine more rental periods of five years each, making a total of not to exceed fifty years, at such rental as may be fixed at the beginning of each five-year term.

History: En. Sec. 67, Ch. 147, L. 1909.

1888. Renewal of lease, how made. Whenever the parties cannot agree as to the reasonable value of such improvements, the value thereof shall be decided by the state land agent or one of his assistants, but nothing herein contained shall be construed to interfere with the right of the purchaser of any such lands to the immediate possession thereof, upon the issuance to him of the certificate of purchase; provided, such original lessee may elect to remove said improvements, as herein provided.

1970. Applications to board to reclaim lands. Any person or persons, company, association, or corporation, constructing, having constructed, or desiring to construct ditches, canals, or other irrigation works to reclaim land under the provisions of this act, may file with the board a request for the selection, on behalf of the state by the board, of the land to be reclaimed, describing said land by the government survey. This request shall be accompanied by a proposal to construct the ditch, canal, or other irrigation works necessary for the reclamation of the land asked to be selected, and to put settlers on the same. The proposal shall be prepared in accordance with the rules of the board, and with the regulations of the department of the interior. It shall state the source of an available and adequate water supply, the location and dimensions of the proposed works, the estimated cost thereof, and that perpetual water rights inseparable from the land reclaimed and to embrace a proportionate interest in the canal or other irrigation works will be sold or leased to settlers on the land to be reclaimed, and be accompanied by a map of the lands to be reclaimed, and the route of the ditches or canals to be constructed.

History: Sec. 2259, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 1966.

1971. State engineer to examine. Whenever the state engineer shall in his judgment, from an examination of the maps and field notes submitted for his examination, be unable to determine whether or not the proposed irrigation works are feasible and adequate, whether or not the proposed cost of construction is reasonable, and whether or not the lands proposed to be irrigated are of such character as to come under the provisions of the aforesaid acts of congress, the board may direct the engineer to make, or cause to be made by some qualified assistant, such survey or examination as will enable him to report intelligently thereon to the board.

History: Sec. 2260, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 1966.

1972. Approval of requests for contracts. If such request shall be approved by the board, it shall forthwith cause reservation of such lands to be made, and enter into appropriate contract with the United States, subject to the limitations by this act prescribed for the reclamation of the same. When requests or proposals are not approved by the board, the board shall notify the parties making such proposal of such action and the reason therefor. The parties so notified shall have sixty days in which to submit a satisfactory proposal, but the board may at its discretion extend the time to six months.

History: Sec. 2261, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 1966.

1973. Deposits to cover preliminary survey. Any person wishing to reclaim land under this act may apply to the board for a reconnaissance, or a preliminary survey, and the board shall require from such applicant a deposit of such an amount as in its judgment will defray the expense thereof, and cause such survey to be made by the state engineer; and thereafter the unused part of such deposit, if any, shall be returned to such person. Persons at whose instance such reservations are made shall pay all land office fees and furnish necessary maps; provided, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to co-operative projects described in section 1977 of this code.

History: Sec. 2262, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 1966.

1974. Contracts and bonds. Upon contracting with the United States for the reclamation of such lands, it shall be the duty of the board immediately to enter into a contract with the parties submitting the proposal in accordance therewith, which contract shall contain complete specifications of the location, dimensions, character, and estimated cost of the proposed ditch, canal, or other irrigation works, the date or dates when the contractor will put settlers on the reclaimed land, and the price and terms upon which the state is to sell or lease the land to the settlers.

The proposed contractor shall execute a bond in such an amount and with such sureties as the board shall require, to be conditioned upon the faithful performance of the contract with the state, and in case he shall fail, within sixty days after being notified by the board that it has contracted with the United States for the reclamation of the said lands and is ready to enter into a contract with him in accordance with his proposal, or if he shall fail within such time to execute such bond, the said board may enter into similar contract with any other person, exacting a like bond. No contract shall be made by the board which requires a greater time than five years for the construction of the works, and all contracts shall state that the work shall begin within one year from the date of contract, and thereafter to be prosecuted diligently to completion.

History: Sec. 2263, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 1966.

1975. Rights of contractor. The builder of any such canal or other irrigation works shall have the right to so construct or to subsequently enlarge or make such changes in the same as will permit the water to be used for power purposes, and to use any surplus water carried therein for such purpose; such construction, enlargement, change, or use to be done without cost to or interference with any purchaser or owner of perpetual water right from such canal. All income from the use of such water for power shall belong to said builder, his heirs, or assigns; but the use for power development shall be subordinate to the irrigation and domestic use of the water, and shall not interfere in any way with perpetual rights.

History: Sec. 2264, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 1966.

1976. Same. Any person or company entering into a contract to construct canals or other irrigation works, and to sell water rights to settlers under this act, may maintain and operate the same until perpetual water rights appurtenant to ninety per cent. of the lands, to reclaim which such works were constructed, have been sold and paid for, when such works shall be turned over to the settlers and others owning rights to take water from such canals, who shall have the right thereafter to maintain and operate it. The contractor, so long as he maintains and operates the irrigation works, shall have the right to collect from settlers on such lands not to exceed one dollar per acre, per year, for each acre of land to which his or her water right is appurtenant, said charge to include the cost of of maintenance, operation, and delivery of water to said land.

History: Sec. 2265, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 1966.

1977. Co-operative reclamation projects. It shall be the duty of the Carey land act board to aid co-operative reclamation projects as follows: Parties desiring such aid shall incorporate as a co-operative irrigation association for the purpose of reclamation by their own labor of arid lands open to reservation under the said acts of congress, and of the settlement upon said lands. Each member shall subscribe to one share of the stock for each forty-acre tract of land to be filed upon and reclaimed by him, and the total number of shares issued by such association shall be limited to one for each forty acres of land filed upon. After the articles of incorporation are filed with the secretary of state, the fee for which shall be five dollars, the association may apply to the Carey land act board for aid, and it shall be the duty of the state engineer or his assistant, under such rules and regulations as the board may adopt, to investigate the proposed project, and, if found feasible, to prepare the maps and data required for reserving the land under the Carey act, and subsequently to furnish the association with the engineering plans necessary for reclamation, and to exercise a general supervisory control over their execution. Thereupon the said board shall, if in the judgment of the state engineer the reclamation of such land is feasible and practicable, cause the same to be reserved, and contract with the United States, subject to the same limitations as hereinbefore provided, for the reclamation of the same. The association shall pay the United States land office fees for the reservation of the lands, and immediately after contract shall have been entered into with the United States shall pay to the Carey land act board twenty-five cents per acre filing fee for each acre reserved. When all or any part of said land has been reclaimed, the board shall apply for patent for same; provided, that all cash outlay required for obtaining patent shall be paid to the board by the association immediately. After water has been available for irrigation of said lands for four seasons, the association shall, not later than November 1st of said fourth season, pay to the Carey land act board such additional amount, not exceeding one dollar per acre, as may have been agreed upon between said board and such association before the reservation was made, for all said land patented to the state, and thereupon deeds shall be issued by the state to each of the stockholders of said association having settled upon any of said lands, for so many acres as their stock may entitle them to respectively. After the state has obtained patent, it may issue deeds at any time when the land is paid for, in tracts of not less than forty acres nor more than one hundred and sixty acres to any stockholder designated by the association, being a settler upon any of said lands. Water rights for said lands shall be apppurtenant to and inseparable from the legal subdivision for which it was appropriated.

History: Sec. 2266, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 1966.

1978. Default of construction. Upon the failure of any parties having contracts with the state for the construction of irrigation works to begin the same within the time specified by the contract, or to complete the same within the time or in accordance with the specifications of the contract with the state, or on a cessation of work under the contract for a period of six months after the second year, it shall be the duty of the board to give such parties written notice of such failure, and if, after a period of sixty days from the receipt of such notice, they shall have failed to proceed with the work, or to conform to the specifications of their contract with the state, the penal bond securing performance of such contract shall at once be declared forfeited to the state, and the contract, in so far as it relates to any of said land not settled or reclaimed, shall immediately thereafter be void. On the application of the said board the attorney-general shall be required to institute or defend any suits or actions in which may, in any manner, be brought in question the rights of the state in any lands in which the state has acquired any interest under any of the said acts of congress, and the said board is hereby authorized and empowered, in the name of the state, to execute any conveyances of any property, the title to which is in the name of the state by reason of any acts of the said board or its predecessor, the arid land grant commission, a conveyance of which is necessary to or made a condition of the relief asked for by the state in any such action.

History: Sec. 2267, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 1966.

1979. Classification of lands. The board shall cause to be classified all lands reserved under this act, the expenses for which shall be paid by the state out of the funds in the Carey land act fund, if any; if none, then out of funds not otherwise appropriated, upon vouchers duly approved by the board. The board shall sell or lease any or all of the lands acquired by the state under provisions of this act, in quantity not to exceed one hundred and sixty acres to one individual, the price and terms of such sale or lease to be fixed by the board according to said classification; provided, the selling price be not less than fifty cents per acre nor more than two dollars and fifty cents per acre.

History: Sec. 2268, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 1966.

1980. Applications to settle lands reclaimed. Any citizen of the United States, or any person having declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States, over the age of twenty-one years, may make application, under oath, to the board, to enter any of said land at any time after the same has been classified, in any amount not to exceed one hundred and sixty acres for any one person; and such application shall set forth that the person desiring to make such entry does so for the purpose of settlement in accordance with the act of congress and the laws of this state relating thereto, and that the applicant has never received the benefit of the provisions of this act to an amount greater than one hundred and sixty acres, including the number of acres specified in the application under consideration. Such application must be accompanied by a certified copy of a contract for a perpetual water right, made and entered into by the party making application with the person, company, or association who has been authorized by the board to furnish water for the reclamation of said lands; and if said applicant has at any previous time entered land under the provisions of this act, he shall so state in his application, together with description, date of entry, and location of said land. The board shall thereupon file in its office the application and papers relating thereto, and, if allowed, issue a certificate of location to the applicant. All applications of entry shall be accompanied by a payment of twenty-five cents per acre, which shall be paid as partial payment on the land if the application is allowed; and all certificates when issued shall be recorded in a book to be kept for that purpose. If the application is not allowed, the twenty-five cents per acre accompanying it shall be returned to applicant; provided, that where the construction company fails to furnish water to any settler under the provisions of its contract with the state, the state shall refund to such settler all payments that he shall have made to the state.

History: Sec. 2269, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 1966.

1981. Execution of deeds. After the state has received a patent for any such land reclaimed, and a purchaser has paid in full for any part of it, said board shall, in the name of the state, execute and deliver to him a deed for the same.

History: Sec. 2271, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 1966.

1982. Failure of claimants to comply with contract. If any claimant having filed on any such land shall fail, for a period of one year after water is available for his land, and after notice thereof is given to him by said board, by letter mailed to the postoffice nearest such land, to make payment of any sums remaining due on account of the purchase price for such land, then, after notice shall have been published once a week for four successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in the county where the land is located, his or her rights to any and all such land and any water right appurtenant to the same, and all payments made, shall be forfeited.

History: Sec. 2272, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 1966.

1983. Water rights—Foreclosure of lien for deferred payments. The water rights to all lands acquired under the provisions of this act shall attach to and become appurtenant to the land as soon as title passes from the United States to the state. Any person, company, or association furnishing water for any tract of land shall have a first and prior lien on said water right and land upon which said water is used for all deferred payments for said water rights; said lien to be in all respects prior to any and all other liens created or attempted to be created by the owner or possessor of said lands. Upon default in any of the deferred payments secured by any lien under the provisions of this act, the person, company of persons, association, or incorporated company holding or owning said lien may foreclose the same in the same manner as mortgages of real property are foreclosed. All sales shall be advertised in a newspaper of general circulation, published in the county where said land or some part thereof is situate, for six consecutive weeks, and the same shall be sold to the highest bidder at the front door of the court-house of the county, or such place as may be agreed upon by the terms of the aforesaid contract. The sheriff of said county shall in all such cases give all notices of sale, and shall sell all such land and water rights, and shall make and execute a certificate of sale to the purchaser thereof, and at such sale no person, company of persons, association, or incorporated company owning and holding any lien shall bid in or purchase any land or water right at a greater price than the amount due on deferred payment for said water right and land, and the cost incurred in making the sale of said land and water right. At any time within twelve months after the foreclosure sale by the sheriff of the land and water right as aforesaid, the original owner against whom the lien has been foreclosed may apply to the person, company of persons, association, or incorporated company purchasing at such sale, to redeem said land and water rights, and the purchaser shall assign the certificate of sale to such land and water rights to such original owner upon the payment by him within such twelve months of the amount of the lien for which the same was sold at such foreclosure sale, together with the interest at ten per cent. per annum, costs, and charges thereon. When the lien holder becomes the purchaser at such foreclosure sale, and such lands and water rights are not redeemed by the original owner within twelve months, then at any time within three months thereafter any person desiring to settle and use such lands and water rights may apply to the purchaser at such foreclosure sale to redeem such land and water rights, and such purchaser shall assign the certificate of sale of such land and water rights to the person desiring to redeem the same, upon the payment by him of the amount of the lien for which the same was sold at such foreclosure sale, together with the interest, costs, and charges thereon. Upon issuing any certificate of sale, it shall be the duty of the sheriff to file for record in the office of the county clerk of the county where such land is situated, a certified copy of such certificate of sale assigned to him by the purchaser as aforesaid, upon his redemption of such land and water rights. In case the land and water rights shall be redeemed by any person other than the original owner, the sheriff shall, upon presentation of such certificate, issue a deed for such land and water rights to the person redeeming the same. If the land and water rights shall not be redeemed by any person within the time and in the manner hereinbefore provided, it shall be the duty of the sheriff, upon presentation of certificate of sale by the original purchaser to issue a deed to such purchaser. Where such land and water rights are not purchased by the lien holder at such foreclosure sale, it shall be the duty of the sheriff to first pay the lien holder out of the proceeds of such sale the amount of the lien, together with all interest, costs, and charges thereon, and to pay any balance remaining to the person against whom such lien has been foreclosed, and for his services in such cases the sheriff shall receive the same fees as are provided by law in civil cases. Under no circumstances shall a lien be foreclosed against land belonging to the state and not filed on by an individual. In case the claimant whose rights to any such land and water shall have been divested by any deed issued, as in this section provided, shall not have paid to the state sums due or to become due to it on account of such land, any person desiring to settle upon the same shall acquire the right so to do upon payment to the grantee under such sheriff's deed of the amount which would have effected a redemption at the time, with ten per cent. additional; provided, that the holder under the deed shall have the right to remove any crops which may be growing upon such land at the time such intending settler offers to pay such sum.

History: Sec. 2273, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 1966.

1984. Rights of way. The map in the office of the board of the lands selected under the provisions of this act shall show the location of the canals or other irrigation works approved in contract with the board, and all lands filed upon shall be subject to the right of way such canals or irrigation works; said right of way to embrace the entire width of the canal and such additional width as may be required for its proper construction, operation, and maintenance, the width of the right of way to be specified in the contracts provided for in this act.

History: Sec. 2274, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 1966.

1985. Board may exercise right of eminent domain. The right of eminent domain may be exercised in the manner prescribed by the Code of Civil Procedure by any person, association, or corporation, foreign or domestic, entering into any contract with the said board to reclaim any lands in order to condemn any property subject to condemnation as therein provided, for right of way the construction of which may be provided for by any such contract, or for the erection or construction of any works to be used in connection therewith.

History: Sec. 2275, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 1966.

1986. Right of board to appropriate water. The said board, or any person, association, or corporation contracting with it for the reclamation of any such lands, shall have the right to appropriate any unappropriated waters of the state necessary to the carrying out of any contracts entered into by them, or either of them, in relation to the same, in the same manner as appropriations are required to be made in behalf of individuals.

History: Sec. 2276, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 1966.

1987. Seal—Fees. The board shall prescribe the duties of all its employees, shall use a seal, and shall collect the following fees: For filing each application, one dollar; for filing each final proof, one dollar; for issuing each patent, one dollar; for making certified copies of records or papers, the same fees as provided to be charged by the secretary of state for like services. The money collected for fees shall be paid to the state treasurer on the last day of each month, and by him credited to the Carey land act fund. The filing fees, when paid for land reserved but not patented to the state, shall be kept in a separate fund, called Carey land filing fund, and can be paid out only for refunds in the event that the land is not reclaimed within the contract period; said refund to be made upon orders from the board to the state auditor, specifying the lands filed on and by whom; but after any of these lands are patented, the filing fees paid for the same shall be transferred from the said fund to the Carey land act fund, upon an order from the board to the state auditor specifying the legal subdivisions of land and total acreage.

History: Sec. 2277, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 1966.

1988. Board may permit limited settlements. For the purpose of expediting the settlement of any lands for the reclamation of which the said board may make contracts, it may, on such terms as may by the said board be prescribed by rule or contract, permit any such lands to be improved and occupied and cultivated for limited periods; provided, however, that such occupancy shall not preclude any person desiring to settle upon such lands from doing so at any time.

History: Sec. 2278, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 1966.

1989. Disposition of proceeds of sale or lease of lands. All moneys received by the board from the sale or lease of lands reclaimed under the provisions of this act shall be deposited upon the last day of each month with the state treasurer to the credit of the Carey land act fund, and such sums as may be necessary shall be used:

1. For the payment of the current expenses of the board and of the state engineer's office hereafter incurred in carrying out the provisions of this act, said engineer's expenses to include a charge for actual cost of time devoted to board matters.

2. To reimburse the state general fund for expenses of the board, two thousand dollars, and of the state engineer two thousand dollars, heretofore incurred and paid out of the general fund.

3. To reimburse the state for expenses of the state arid land grant commission, five thousand seven hundred and seven dollars and sixty-five cents, heretofore paid out of the general fund; provided, that the reimbursements thus made shall be paid into the state engineer's expense fund, which is hereby created, and shall be used under the direction of the state board of land commissioners and the state engineer in carrying out the provisions of paragraphs 2, 3, and 4 of section 1955 of this code. Claims against said expense fund shall be passed upon and paid in same manner as other claims against state funds.

4. After paying the current expenses and reimbursements above designated, if there be a balance in said fund, there shall be estimated by the board the sum that in its judgment will suffice for its next two years' expenses, and whenever the remainder in said fund, less said estimate, shall equal two thousand dollars, the same shall be applied pro rata to the payment of warrants issued by the state arid land grant commission for expenses incurred by it against districts Nos. 1, 2, and 4, and open accounts which are credited on the ledger of said commission to sundry persons for supplies furnished, the aggregate of said warrants and accounts being, without interest, eighteen thousand six hundred ninety-seven dollars and forty-five cents; and any balance remaining shall constitute a trust fund in the hands of the state treasurer, the same to be used only for the reclamation of other arid lands.

History: Sec. 2279, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 1966.

1990. Expenses. That the expenses actually incurred in connection with each district or project to be reclaimed under this act may be determined, it shall be the duty of the state engineer to report to the board his expenses and the time he spends in connection with each. The office and clerical expenses of the board shall be by it apportioned at the end of each fiscal year among various districts and projects, and correct charges of these and the engineer's salary and expenses made against the different districts and projects.

History: Sec. 2280, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 1966.

1991. Board shall issue biennial reports. The board shall issue a biennial report showing the status of various districts and projects, the receipts and expenses, lands reclaimed and patented to the state, if any, and other results of its work. If requested by the governor, a report shall be made at any time.

History: Sec. 2281, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 1966.

1992. Sale of irrigable state land in farm units. In order to assist in the reclamation and settlement of arid lands in this state, and for the purpose of co-operating with and aiding in the construction of works for the irrigation and reclamation of arid lands, all lands now or hereafter owned by the state and designated as irrigable lands under any existing or proposed irrigation system in Montana shall be disposed of in farm units and at public sale.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 123, L. 1911.

1993. Withdrawal of lands embraced within irrigation project. Any irrigation company or association now operating in this state, or which shall hereafter propose to operate for the reclamation of arid lands, shall file with the state board of land commissioners a petition asking that an order be made and entered, withdrawing from sale all irrigable state lands embraced within the irrigation project until the completion of the irrigation system whereby such state land may be reclaimed.

There shall be filed, accompanying said petition, a plat showing the location of the lands owned by the state with reference to the proposed or existing irrigation system, and satisfactory evidence must be submitted to the board showing the ability of the corporation, association, person or persons to complete the irrigation system, and provide a sufficient supply of water to reclaim the state lands embraced in the project, and also showing that the state lands are so located that they can be properly irrigated from such irrigation system.

After investigating the subject, if the board of land commissioners be satisfied that lands owned by the state will be benefited, and that the withdrawal of same from sale until the completion of any irrigation project will benefit and assist such project, it shall make and enter an order withdrawing such lands from sale in accordance with the terms of this act.

Such order may thereafter be revoked by said board if, in its judgment and discretion, the continuance of the withdrawal of such lands is not of benefit to the state, the public, or aidful to the irrigation project.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 123, L. 1911.

1994. Sale of withdrawn lands at public auction. At any time after such withdrawal, the state board of land commissioners shall, upon the application of the said corporation, association, person or persons having such withdrawal made, offer the said lands or the part thereof covered by such application for sale at public auction, in such tracts or parcels as may be designated in such application, not exceeding 160 acres to one person, corporation, or association.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 123, L. 1911.

1995. Lease of withdrawn lands. After withdrawal of any state lands from sale under the terms of this act, the state board of land commissioners may, if it deems it to the best interests of the state, lease said lands or any part or portion thereof.

CHAPTER 157.

DEFINITIONS.

Section 1996. Definition of Terms.

1996. Definition of terms. Whenever the terms mentioned in this section are employed in dealing with the subject of taxation, they are employed in the sense hereafter affixed to them.

First—The term "property" includes moneys, credits, bonds, stocks, franchises, and all other matters and things, real, personal, and mixed, capable of private ownership; but this must not be construed so as to authorize the taxation of the stocks of any company or corporation when the property of such company or corporation represented by such stocks is within the state and has been taxed.

Second—The term "real estate" includes:

1. The possession of, claim to, ownership of, or right to the possession of land.

2. All mines, minerals, and quarries in and under the land, subject to the provisions of section 2088 of this code, all timber belonging to individuals or corporations growing or being on the lands of the United States, and all rights and privileges appertaining thereto.

3. Improvements.

Third—The term "improvements" includes:

All buildings, structures, fixtures, fences, and improvements erected upon or affixed to the land, whether title has been acquired to said land or not.

Fourth—The term "personal property" includes everything which is the subject of ownership, not included within the meaning of the term "real estate" and "improvements."

Fifth—The terms "value" and "full cash value" mean the amount at which the property would be taken in payment of a just debt due from a solvent debtor.

Sixth—The term "credit" means those solvent debts, secured or unsecured, owing to a person.

The term "debts" means those secured or unsecured liabilities, owing by a person.

In making up the amount of credits which any person is required to list, he will be entitled to deduct from the gross amount the amount of all bona fide debts owing by him, but no acknowledgment of indebtedness not founded on actual consideration, and no such acknowledgment made for the purpose of being so deducted, must be considered a debt within the intent of this section; and no person is entitled to a deduction on account of an obligation of any kind given to an insurance company for the premium of insurance, nor on account of any unpaid subscription to any institution or society, nor on account of a subscription to or instalment payable on the capital stock of any company or corporation; and no liability of any person or persons as surety for another must be deducted; and no deduction must be made in any case unless the party claiming such deduction discloses to the assessor, under oath, the name or names of the persons to whom such party is indebted, and the amount of such indebtedness to each, and also that such indebtedness is not barred by the statute of limitations.

Personal property owned by a national bank is not subject to taxation under state laws. First Nat. Bank v. Province, 20 Mont. 374, 376, 377, 51 Pac. 821.

For the purposes of taxation, the word "property" includes "real estate," and within the definition of "real estate" is the possession of, claim to, ownership of, or right to the possession of land. State lands after sale, but before the price is fully paid, are subject to taxation as the property of the purchaser. Courtney v. Missoula County, 21 Mont. 591, 593, 594, 55 Pac. 359.

Stocks of a state bank or trust company fall within the definition of the term "property" as given in subdivisions 1 and 4 of this section. Daly Bank etc. Co. v. Board of Commrs., 33 Mont. 101, 106, 81 Pac. 950.

Moneys due a bank from other banks are credits within the definition of the term given in this section. Clark v. Maher, 34 Mont. 391, 400, 87 Pac. 272.

This section determines the classification of property for purposes of taxation, and courts are limited by that classification in determining how property should be assessed. Helena Water Works Co. v. Settles, 37 Mont. 237, 239, 95 Pac. 838.

For purposes of taxation a water right is personal property. Helena Water Works Co. v. Settles, 37 Mont. 237, 239, 95 Pac. 838.

If unpatented mining claims are not taxable, it is not because they are not property within the definition in this section, but because they have been exempted from the general provisions of the revenue laws. Cobban v. Meagher, 42 Mont. 399, 409, 113 Pac. 290.

The provision of the above section, that "the term 'real estate' includes the possession of, claim to, ownership of, or right to the possession of land," declares a rule independent of statute. Northern Pac. Ry. Co. v. Mjelde, 48 Mont. 287, 294, 137 Pac. 386.

Coal deposits underlying land form a part of the real estate within the definition of that term given in the above section, and the reservation of those deposits in a deed, with the right to mine, constitutes an interest in real estate. Northern Pac. Ry. Co. v. Mjelde, 48 Mont. 287, 294, 137 Pac. 386.

The right reserved in a deed of a railroad company to such use of the surface of the land as may be found necessary for the exploration, mining, and carrying away of the coal that may be found below, is a valuable interest in the land itself, and as such properly subject to taxation under this section and section 1997. The taxable value of the right to the use of the surface of the land for such purposes, omitting the deposit from the estimate, is to be ascertained as if the entire estate or land was vested in the grantee, the assessor to make an equitable apportionment of this value between the grantee and the railway company. Northern Pac. Ry. Co. v. Musselshell Co., 54 Mont. 96, 108, 169 Pac. 53.

All taxable property must be assessed at its full cash value, the terms "value" and "full cash value" being defined as "the amount at which property would be taken in payment of a just debt due from a solvent creditor." Wells Fargo & Co. v. Harrington, 54 Mont. 235, 242, 169 Pac. 463.

An option to purchase real and personal property created no indebtedness which could be enforced, and, therefore, the amount due and unpaid under the contract was not a "credit," within the meaning of this section, namely, a solvent debt, which could properly be taxed. Read v. Lewis and Clark County, 55 Mont. 412, 418, 178 Pac. 177.

Cited or applied as section 2501, Revised Codes, in Anaconda C. Min. Co. v. Ravalli County, 52 Mont. 422, 425, 158 Pac. 682; Cruse v. Fischl, 55 Mont. 258, 265, 175 Pac. 878.

Outstanding accounts or building association stocks subject to taxation, see note in 29 L. R. A. (N. S.) 60; 38 L. R. A. (N. S.) 137.

What constitute taxable credits, see 26 R. C. L. 138.

Amount due under contract for the purchase of land, not evidenced by note or purchase-money mortgage, as a credit subject to taxation, see note in 17 L. R. A. (N. S.) 1220.

CHAPTER 158.

PROPERTY SUBJECT TO TAXATION.

Section 1997. Property Subject to Taxation.
1998. Exemptions from Taxation.

1997. Property subject to taxation.—All property in this state is subject to taxation, except as provided in the next section.

History: Ap. p. Sec. 1667, Comp. Stat. 1887; en. Sec. 1, p. 73, L. 1891; re-en. Sec. 3670, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2498, Rev. C. 1907. Cal. Pol. C., Sec. 3607.

A mortgage regarded as collateral security belongs to the owner of the debt, and is deemed to have no situs except that of the domicile of the owner, and, if owned by one not a resident of the state, is not property in the state, subject to taxation, and can only be assessed at the domicile or place of residence of the creditor, without regard to the domicile of the debtor. Holland v. Board of Commissioners, 15 Mont. 460, 462, 39 Pac. 575, 27 L. R. A. 797. See, also, Monidah Trust v. Sheehan, 45 Mont. 424, 430, 123 Pac. 692.

The provisions of the code relating to revenue, contain a scheme for assessment, equalization, and collection of taxes complete in itself, which is available for all taxing purposes for the state, county, and subdivisions of counties. The fundamental idea of this scheme or plan is that there must be one tax-roll for all purposes, and that the board of county commissioners must levy all taxes for the county and its subdivisions, except incorporated cities and towns which have ordinances providing for the assessment and collection of their own taxes. Hilburn v. St. Paul etc. Ry. Co. 23 Mont. 229, 242, 58 Pac. 551.

The separate estates which different persons may own in the same land, as where one owns the surface, another the growing timber, and a third the mineral underground, may each be subject to taxation, except such as specifically exempted. Northern Pac. Ry. Co. v. Mjelde, 48 Mont. 287, 295, 137 Pac. 386.

Where lands are sold with reservations in the grantor of minerals therein and the right to mine the same, as well as of a right of way over them for mining purposes, and for the removal of timber from adjoining lands, such reservations constitute property subject to taxation under this section and section 1996, post. Anaconda C. Min. Co. v. Ravalli County, 52 Mont. 422, 425, 158 Pac. 682.

Cited or applied as section 3670, Political Code, in Montana Coal & Coke Co. v. Livingston, 21 Mont. 59, 52 Pac. 780; Daly Bank etc. Co. v. Board of Commrs., 33 Mont. 101, 106, 81 Pac. 950; as section 2498, Revised Codes, in Cobban v. Meagher, 42 Mont. 399, 407, 113 Pac. 290; Northern Pac. Ry. Co. v. Musselshell Co., 54 Mont. 96, 108, 169 Pac. 53; Cruse v. Fischl, 55 Mont. 258, 263, 175 Pac. 878.

Property subject to taxation, see notes in 33 A. S. R. 400; 37 A. S. R. 747; 89 A. S. R. 652; 131 A. S. R. 867.

1998. Exemptions from taxation. The property of the United States, the state, counties, cities, towns, school districts, municipal corporations, public libraries, such other property as is used exclusively for agricultural and horticultural societies, for educational purposes, places of actual religious worship, hospitals and places of burial not used or held for private or corporate profit, and institutions of purely public charity, evidences of debt secured by mortgages of record upon real or personal property in the state of Montana, and public art galleries and public observatories not used or held for private or corporate profit, are exempt from taxation, but no more land than is necessary for such purposes is exempt; provided, that the terms public art galleries and public observatories used in this act shall mean only such art galleries and observatories whether of public or private ownership, as are open to the public, without charge or fee at all reasonable hours, and are used for the purpose of education only.

The provisions of the constitution and of this section, making certain property exempt from taxation, do not extend to a charitable institution as an association or corporate body, but only to such property of the institution as is used exclusively for charitable purposes, and the mere intention of such institution to devote certain of its lands to the erection of buildings for charitable purposes does not change the rule. Montana Catholic Missions v. County of Lewis and Clark, 13 Mont. 559, 564, 565, 35 Pac. 2, 22 L. R. A. 684.

Lands to which the state retains the title under a contract of purchase are subject to taxation as property of the purchaser. Courtney v. Missoula County, 21 Mont. 591, 55 Pac. 359.

The provisions of the two preceding sections are general, and are limited by section 17 of article 12 of the state constitution, relative to the taxation of the stocks of companies and corporations. Daly Bank etc. Co. v. Board of Commrs., 33 Mont. 101, 106, 81 Pac. 950.

Assessments for special municipal improvements are not taxes; hence constitutional and statutory provisions exempting property from taxation are not applicable to such assessments. Under this rule the property of a school district, devoted exclusively to school purposes, in the absence of express constitutional or statutory exemption, is liable for assessments made for special municipal improvements. City of Kalispell v. School Dist., 45 Mont. 221, 228, 122 Pac. 742, Ann. Cas. 1913D, 1101. Compare with Ford v. Great Falls, 46 Mont. 292, 308, 127 Pac. 1004, in which the foregoing decision is commented upon and explained.

Property belonging to the United States is exempt from special assessments, as well as from ordinary taxes, even in the absence of such provisions relative thereto as those found in the constitution or state laws. Ford v. City of Great Falls, 46 Mont. 292, 308, 127 Pac. 1004.

The constitution expresses the entire will of the people with respect to property absolutely exempt from taxation, and the extent of legislative power to create exemptions; this section authorizing exemptions from taxation is therefore to be construed strictly; nothing is to be implied; the lawmakers exhausted their power to relieve property from taxation; all other property within the state is subject to taxation under the preceding section. Cruse v. Fischl, 55 Mont. 258 263, 175 Pac. 878.

State and county bonds held in private ownership within the state are "property," within the meaning of that term as employed in the constitution and revenue laws of the state, and, not being declared exempt, are taxable as such. Cruse v. Fischl, 55 Mont. 258, 265, 175 Pac. 878.

Cited or applied as section 2499, Revised Codes, before amendment, in Cobban v. Meagher, 42 Mont. 399, 407, 113 Pac. 290; Northern Pac. Ry. Co. v. Mjelde, 48 Mont. 287, 295, 137 Pac. 286; State ex rel. General Electric Co. v. Alderson, 49 Mont. 29, 33, 140 Pac. 82; Wells Fargo & Co. v. Harrington, 54 Mont. 235, 240, 169 Pac. 463.

CHAPTER 159.

CLASSIFICATION OF TAXABLE PROPERTY.

Section 1999. Classification of Property for Taxation.
2000. Basis for Imposition of Taxes.

1999. Classification of property for taxation. For the purpose of taxation the taxable property in this state shall be classified as follows:

Class One. The annual net proceeds of all mines and mining claims, after deducting only the expenses specified and allowed by section 2565 of the Revised Codes of Montana (2090); also where the right to enter upon land to explore or prospect or dig for oil, gas, coal, or mineral is reserved in land by any person or corporation, the surface title to which has passed to another, the assessor and the state and county boards of equalization shall determine the value of the right to enter upon said tract of land for the purpose of digging, exploring, or prospecting for gas, coal, oil, or minerals, and the same shall be placed in this classification for the purpose of taxation.

Class Two. All household goods and furniture, including clocks, musical instruments, sewing machines, wearing apparel of members of the family, and all personal property actually used by the owner for personal and domestic purposes, or for the furnishing or equipment of the family residence; all agricultural and other tools, implements and machinery, gas and other engines and boilers, threshing machines and outfits used therewith, automobiles, motor trucks and other power-driven cars, vehicles of all kinds, boats and all water craft, harness, saddlery and robes.

Class Three. Livestock, poultry and all agricultural products; stocks of merchandise of all sorts; together with furniture and fixtures used therewith.

Class Four. All land, town and city lots, with improvements, manufacturing and mining machinery, fixtures and supplies, except as otherwise provided by the constitution of Montana.

Class Five. All moneys and credits, secured or unsecured, including all state, county, school district and other municipal bonds, warrants and securities without any deduction or offset; provided, however, that the terms, moneys, and credits as herein used shall not embrace the moneyed capital employed in the banking business by any banking corporation or individual in this state.

Class Six. The shares of stock of national banking associations and the moneyed capital employed in conducting a banking business by any other banking corporation, association or individual in this state. Such money capital to be ascertained by deducting from the moneys and credits of such banking corporation, association, or individual, the amount of the deposits and any indebtedness representing money borrowed for use in said business, and the value of the shares of any national banking association, to be ascertained by deducting the value of all real estate of such association.

Class Seven. All property not included in the six preceding classes.

Note.—Section 2565 above referred to has been superseded by section 2090 of this code.

This section providing for the classification of property for purposes of taxation does not infringe upon the guaranty of the equal protection of the laws. Hilger v. Moore, 56 Mont. 146, 182 Pac. 477.

Taxation of shares of stock of national banks, see notes in 69 A. S. R. 38; 45 L. R. A. 743; 3 L. R. A. (N. S.) 584.

2000. Basis for imposition of taxes. As a basis for the imposition of taxes upon the different classes of property specified in the preceding section, a percentage of the true and full value of the property of each class shall be taken as follows:

Class 1. One hundred per cent. of its true and full value.
Class 2. Twenty per cent. of its true and full value.
Class 3. Thirty-three and one-third per cent. of its true and full value.
Class 4. Thirty per cent. of its true and full value.
Class 5. Seven per cent. of its true and full value.
Class 6. Forty per cent. of its true and full value.
Class 7. Forty per cent. of its true and full value.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 51, L. 1919.

This section is not invalid as in violation of the principle of uniformity of taxation declared by section 1 of article XII of the constitution of Montana. Hilger v. Moore, 56 Mont. 146, 182 Pac. 477.

Validity of statute providing for assessment at fixed per cent of value of property, see note in Ann. Cas. 1915D, 446.

2001. Property assessed at cash value. All taxable property must be assessed at its full cash value. Land and the improvements thereon must be separately assessed.

History: En. Sec. 5, p. 76, L. 1891; re-en. Sec. 3690, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2502, Rev. C. 1907. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3627.

The difficulty which may confront the assessor in ascertaining the full cash value of an interest in real estate reserved by the grantor in himself in a deed conveying the land may not be taken into account in determining whether such interest is subject to taxation. Northern Pac. Ry. Co. v. Mjelde, 48 Mont. 287, 304, 305, 137 Pac. 386.

The stock of a national bank is assessable at its full cash value, less the amount of property representing that stock which has been otherwise taxed. Dennis v. First Nat. Bank of Great Falls, 55 Mont. 448, 456, 178 Pac. 580.

This section is not in anywise affected by sections 2123 et seq. and 2138 et seq., and is to be considered in connection with them. State v. State Board of Equalization, 56 Mont. 413, 444, 185 Pac. 708.

Cited or applied as section 3690 Political Code, in First National Bank v. Province, 20 Mont. 374, 376, 51 Pac. 821; Danforth v. Livingston, 23 Mont. 558, 59 Pac. 916; State v. Fortune, 24 Mont. 154, 157, 60 Pac. 1086; Daly Bank etc. Co. v. Board of Commrs., 33 Mont. 106, 81 Pac. 950; as section 2502, Revised Codes, in State ex rel. General Electric Co. v. Alderson, 49 Mont. 29, 33, 140 Pac. 82; Wells Fargo Co. v. Harrington, 54 Mont. 235, 242, 169 Pac. 463; Hilger v. Moore, 56 Mont. 146, 166, 182 Pac. 477.

For general discussion of subject of assessment for tax purposes, see 26 R. C. L. 340.

2002. When assessment to be made—Credits must be assessed, how. The assessor must, between the first Monday of March and the second Monday of July in each year, ascertain the names of all taxable inhabitants, and all property in his county subject to taxation, except such as is required to be assessed by the state board of equalization, and must assess such property to the persons by whom it was owned or claimed, or in whose possession or control it was at twelve o'clock m., of the first Monday of March next preceding; but no mistake in the name of the owner or supposed owner of real property renders the assessment thereof invalid. Credits must be assessed as provided in section 1996, subdivision 6.

The listing of land in the name of a person other than the owner is not an irregularity or informality which, of itself, does not avoid the assessment nor render the tax illegal or unauthorized, and affords no ground for restraining the collection, by sale of the property itself, of the taxes due thereon. Cobban v. Hinds, 23 Mont. 338, 349, 59 Pac. 1.

The provisions of this section and section 2009, post, are mandatory, and, with the qualifications therein mentioned, require the assessor to assess personal property in the name of the real owner, if known; if not known, then to "unknown owners." A misnomer of the owner of personal property assessed as the property of a particular person vitiates the assessment, and renders a sale thereunder void. Birney v. Warren, 28 Mont. 64, 67, 72 Pac. 293. See, also, Cullen v. Western Mortgage & Warranty Title Co., 47 Mont. 513, 525, 134 Pac. 302.

The assessment and sale of property for delinquent taxes is a proceeding in invitum; the purchaser at such sale buys at his peril, and the rule of caveat emptor applies. Birney v. Warren, 28 Mont. 64, 68, 72 Pac. 293; Larson v. Peppard, 38 Mont. 128, 133, 99 Pac. 136, 129 Am. St. Rep. 630, 16 Ann. Cas. 800.

The authorized capital stock of a corporation engaged solely in a general real estate business, and which does not own any of its capital stock, was not taxable, as such, against the corporation. Butte Land & Investment Co. v. Sheehan, 44 Mont. 371, 372, 120 Pac. 241. See note to section 7, article XII, constitution of Montana.

Where an assessor listed for taxation lands with the reservation of minerals, mining rights, etc., to the grantee for the full cash value, and, at the same time, assessed the grantor's reservations at a certain amount per acre, it was deemed to be a case of double taxation. The grantor was in no position to complain of the double assessment, however, as the only person who could do so was the one who was made to bear more than his proportion of the burden of taxation. Anaconda C. Min. Co. v. Ravalli County, 52 Mont. 422, 425, 426, 158 Pac. 682.

Cited or applied as section 3700, Political Code, in Montana Coal & Coke Co. v. Livingston, 21 Mont. 59, 60, 52 Pac. 780; Danforth v. Livingston, 23 Mont. 558, 562, 59 Pac. 916: Flowerree Cattle Co. v. Lewis and Clark Co., 33 Mont. 32, 35, Sullivan, 45 Mont. 18, 19, 121 Pac. 472; Hill v. County of Lewis and Clark, 54 Mont. 479, 483, 171 Pac. 929; Hayes v. Smith, 58 Mont. 306, 312, 192 Pac. 615.

2003. Statement—What to contain. He must require from each person a statement under oath setting forth specifically all the real and personal property owned by such person, or in his possession, or under his control at twelve o'clock m. on the first Monday in March. Such statement must be in writing, showing separately:

1. All property belonging to, claimed by, or in the possession, or under the control or management of such person.

2. All property belonging to, claimed by, or in the possession, or under the control or management of any firm of which such person is a member.

3. All property belonging to, claimed by, or in the possession, or under the control or management of any corporation of which such person is president, secretary, cashier, or managing agent.

4. The county in which such property is situated, or in which it is liable to taxation, and (if liable to taxation in the county in which the statement is made) also the city, town, school district, road district, or other revenue districts in which it is situated.

5. An exact description of all lands in parcels or subdivisions, not exceeding six hundred and forty acres each, and the sections and fractional sections of all tracts of land containing more than six hundred and forty acres which have been sectionized by the United States government; improvements, and personal property, including all vessels, steamers, and other water-craft, and all taxable state, county, city, or other municipal or public bonds, and the taxable bonds of any person, firm, or corporation, and deposits of money, gold-dust, or other valuables, and the names of the persons with whom such deposits are made, and the places in which they may be found; all mortgages, deeds of trust, contracts, and other obligations by which a debt is secured, and the property in the county affected thereby.

6. All solvent credits, secured or unsecured, due or owing to such person or any firm of which he is a member, or due or owing to any corporation of which he is president, secretary, cashier, or managing agent.

Whenever one member of a firm, or one of the proper officers of a corporation, has made a statement showing the property of the firm or corporation, another member of the firm, or another officer, need not include such property in the statement made by him; but this statement must show the name of the person or officer who made the statement in which such property is included.

7. All depots, shops, stations, buildings, and other structures erected on the space covered by the right of way, and all other property owned by any person, corporation, or association of persons, owning or operating any railroad within the county.

The fact that such statement is not required, or that a person has not made such statement under oath, or otherwise, does not relieve his property from taxation.

History: En. Sec. 14, p. 78, L. 1891; amd. Sec. 3701, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2511, Rev. C. 1907. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3629.

An increase in an assessment by the assessor in obedience to a void order of the board of equalization cannot be sustained under this section or section 2036. Western Ranches v. Custer County, 28 Mont. 278, 283, 72 Pac. 659.

It was the duty of a county assessor to require from the agent of a company to be assessed a verified list of its property in his county on the first Monday of March, which list, among other things, must have shown the particular property belonging to the company, and the county in which it was situated, or in which it was liable to taxation. Flowerree Cattle Co. v. Lewis and Clark County, 33 Mont. 32, 36, 81 Pac. 398, 8 Ann. Cas. 674.

The provisions of this section are general and applicable alike to all taxpayers, whether natural persons or corporations. Daly Bank etc. Co. v. Board of Commrs., 33 Mont. 101, 107, 81 Pac. 950; Clark v. Maher, 34 Mont. 391, 399, 87 Pac. 272.

The purpose of subdivision 6 of this section being merely to ascertain the just amount and value of property subject to taxation, in conformity with section 1 of article XII of the constitution, does not have the effect of exempting from taxation property other than that enumerated in section 2 of said article, and it is therefore constitutional. Daly Bank etc. Co. v. Board of Commrs., 33 Mont. 101, 107, 81 Pac. 950.

This section authorizes any taxpayer to deduct or have deducted from his credits all debts then owing by him; but it does not authorize the deduction of debts from money on hand, and, if it attempted to do so, would clearly violate the provisions of the constitution. Clark v. Maher, 34 Mont., 391, 399, 87 Pac. 272.

2004. County commissioners to furnish blanks, etc. The board of county commissioners must furnish the assessor with blank forms of the statements provided for in the preceding section, affixing thereto an affidavit, which must be substantially as follows: "I, ———, do swear that I am a resident of the county of ——— (naming it), and that my postoffice address is ————; that the above list contains a full and correct statement of all property subject to taxation, which I, or any firm of which I am a member, or any corporation, association, or company of which I am president, cashier, secretary, or managing agent, owned, claimed, possessed, or controlled at twelve o'clock m. on the first Monday in March last, and which is not already assessed this year; and that I have not in any manner whatsoever transferred or disposed of any property, or placed any property out of said county or my possession for the purpose of avoiding any assessment upon the same, or of making this statement; and that the debts therein stated as owing by me are justly due and owing to others." The affidavit to the statement on behalf of a firm or corporation must state the principal place of business of the firm or corporation, and in other respects must conform substantially to the preceding form. The time when taxes become delinquent, and the time of the meeting of the county board of equalization, must be stated in such form.

2005. Statement to be filled out and returned to assessor. The assessor may fill out the statement at the time he presents it, or he may deliver it to the person and require him, within an appointed time, to return the same to him, properly filled out. The assessor must either in person or by mail deliver to the person making the statement a copy of the same, showing any corrections made thereto by such assessor.

2006. General powers of assessor. Every assessor has power:

1. To require any person found within such assessor's county to make and subscribe an affidavit, giving his name and place of residence and postoffice address.

2. To subpoena and examine any person in relation to any statement furnished to him, or which discloses property which is assessable in his county; and he may exercise this power in any county where the person whom he desires to examine may be found, but has no power to require such persons to appear before him in any other county than that in which the subpoena is served. Every person who refuses to furnish the statement hereinbefore required, or to make and subscribe such affidavit respecting his name and place of residence, or to appear and testify when requested so to do by the assessor, as above provided, for each and every refusal, and as often as the same is repeated, forfeits to the people of the state the sum of one hundred dollars, to be recovered by action brought in the name of the assessor in any police or justice's court. In case such affidavit shows the residence of the person making the same to be in any county other than that in which it is taken, or the statement discloses property in any county other than that in which it is made, the assessor must, in the respective case, file the affidavit or statement in his office, and transmit a copy of the same, certified by him, to the assessor of the county in which such residence or property is therein shown to be. All moneys recovered by any assessor under the provisions of this section must by him be paid into the treasury of his county.

2007. Method of making assessment upon refusal of statement. If any person, after demand made by the assessor, neglects or refuses to give, under oath, the statement herein provided for, or to comply with the other requirements of this title, the assessor must note the refusal on the assessment-book opposite his name, and must make an estimate of the value of the property of such person, and the value so fixed by the assessor must not be reduced by the board of county commissioners.

known as the "Classification Fund." All warrants drawn in payment of work and labor performed, in the payment of service rendered under any contract for the classification of land in any county shall be drawn on the classification fund. The board of county commissioners of any county which has heretofore procured the performance of any work or labor or the rendering of any services in the classification of land in the county for taxation or assessment purposes, or incurred any expenses pursuant to the provisions of chapter 89 of the laws of the sixteenth legislative assembly, and have not compensated the person or persons for such work, labor or services, or paid such expenses incurred, are hereby authorized and empowered, and it is hereby made the legal duty of such board, to pay such person or persons for such work, labor or services, and such expenses incurred out of the classification fund of said county.

Any and all contracts heretofore entered into by the boards of county commissioners of the various counties for the classification of lands under chapter 89 of the laws of the sixteenth session of the legislative assembly of Montana are hereby declared to be validated and in full force and effect, and it is hereby made the duty of the various boards of county commissioners where contracts for said classification are partially performed to complete the same according to the terms of said contracts; provided, however, that the said boards of county commissioners may make such supplemental contracts as they deem necessary for the purpose of carrying out the terms of this act.

Whenever at any time before the completion of any contract for classification under the terms of this act or of chapter 89 of the laws of the sixteenth legislative assembly of the state of Montana, a new county is formed, containing any portion of the county included in said contract, such new county shall assume the uncompleted portion of said contract, so far as it applies to the territory within said new county, and such portion of said contracts shall be an obligation of said new county in the same manner as if said contract had been originally entered into by said county; and whenever, before the completion of any contract as above described, a portion of one county is taken from said county and added to another county, such county to which said territory is added shall assume the uncompleted portion of said contract so far as it applies to the territory transferred and such portion of said contract shall be an obligation of said enlarged county in the same manner as if said contract had been originally entered into by said county to which such territory is transferred.

All moneys collected in pursuance of the aforesaid levy shall be by the county treasurer deposited to the credit of the "classification fund" and shall not be used for any purpose other than as herein provided. Whenever the classification of all lands in any county shall have been completed and all warrants drawn upon the classification fund shall have

If the owner of any land is dissatisfied with the classification of his land, the board of county commissioners shall make such investigation as they deem necessary to determine the true and correct classification of such land and when so determined, the same shall be classified in the manner ordered by the board of commissioners.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 239, L. 1921.

2032. Property and money in litigation. Money and property in litigation in possession of a county treasurer, or of a court or a clerk thereof, or receiver, must be assessed to such treasurer, clerk, or receiver, and the taxes paid thereon under the direction of the court.

Property concealed, misrepresented, etc. Any property wilfully concealed, removed, transferred, or misrepresented by the owner or agent thereof to evade taxation, upon discovery, must be assessed at not exceeding ten times its value, and the assessment so made must not be reduced by the board of county commissioners.

Where, after the assessment-roll had passed out of the assessor's hands and the county board of equalization had adjourned, that officer discovered, listed for assessment, and assessed under the authority of this section, personal property belonging to the undistributed estate of a deceased person, the fact that the executors in charge of it were thus deprived of a right to appeal to the board of equalization did not invalidate the additional assessment, since the property was taxable, and appeal to the board is available, not to him who has concealed property, but who has delivered to the assessor a sworn statement of all his taxable property. Hill et al. v. County of Lewis and Clark, 54 Mont. 479, 171 Pac. 929.

Right of taxpayer to notice and opportunity to be heard on assessment of omitted property for taxation, see note in 12 Ann. Cas. 468.

Power to make reassessment of taxes, see note in 6 L. R. A. 802.

2036. Assessment not illegal for informality or delay. No assessment or act relating to assessment or collection of taxes is illegal on account of informality, nor because the same was not completed within the time required by law.

History: En. Sec. 4014, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2732, Rev. C. 1907. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3885.

The listing of land in the name of a person other than the owner is but an irregularity or informality which, of itself, does not avoid the assessment or render the tax illegal or unauthorized. Cobban v. Hinds, 23 Mont. 338, 349, 59 Pac. 1.

An increase in an assessment by the assessor in obedience to a void order of the board of equalization cannot be sustained under this section or section 2003, ante. Western Ranches v. Custer County, 28 Mont. 278, 283, 72 Pac. 659.

2037. Deputies for assessors. The board of county commissioners may allow the assessor such a number of deputies, not exceeding two in counties of the first class, to be appointed by him as will, in the judgment of the board, enable the assessor to complete the assessment within the time prescribed by law.

History: En. Sec. 40, p. 87, L. 1891; re-en. Sec. 3734, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2553, Rev. C. 1907. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3660.

2065. Payment of taxes—Entry of assessment. Every national bank shall pay to the person authorized to collect taxes in the state, county, city, town, or place in which such bank is located, at the time of each year when other taxes become due, the amount of the tax upon the shares in such bank. Said banks shall be liable for the payment of the said tax, and if the same is not paid on or before the thirtieth day of November of each year at six o'clock p. m., the said tax shall become delinquent, and shall be collected in the same manner and be subject to the same laws as all other delinquent taxes.

2066. Statements to be furnished by officers. The cashier of every national bank shall make and deliver to the assessor of the county in which said bank is located, within five days after demand therefor, a statement, verified by his oath, showing the name of each shareholder, with his residence and the number of shares belonging to him at the close of business the day next preceding the first Monday in March, in each year, as the same then appeared on the books of said bank, and showing the face value of the capital stock, and the amount of surplus and undivided profits of said bank, and an estimate of the value for which such stock shall be assessed. If said cashier fails to make such statement as required, the assessor shall forthwith obtain said information from the officers of the bank, and for this purpose he shall have access to the books of the bank, and the assessor shall therefor make an assessment of such stock, which shall be as fair and equitable as he may be able to make from the best information available, or he may adopt the figures disclosed by any prior report of the officers or directors of the bank, made to any state or federal officer to whom such bank is by law required to make reports.

If said cashier shall fail to make the report hereby required the assessor shall forthwith obtain such information from the officers of said bank, and for this purpose he shall have access to the books of said bank, and the assessor shall thereupon make an assessment of the moneyed capital employed in conducting the business of said bank, which assessment shall be as fair and equitable as he may be able to make from the best information available, or said assessor may, for the purpose of said assessment, adopt the figures disclosed by any prior report of the officers or directors of such bank, made to any state or federal officer to whom such bank is by law required to make reports. Any cashier or other person failing to make the statements hereby required shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punishable accordingly.

assessed valuation of such livestock, and such money so received shall be used and applied only in payment of claims for bounty for the killing of wild animals after the passage and approval of this act, and the moneys received from the taxes so levied shall be transmitted annually, with other taxes for state purposes, to the state treasury by the county treasurer of each county, and when received by the state treasurer shall be placed to the credit of the bounty fund, and such money shall thereafter be paid out only on claims duly and regularly presented to the state board of examiners in accordance with the law for the payment of bounty for the killing of wild animals.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 180, L. 1921.

Such petition shall be presented not later than the first day of August of each year, and the board of county commissioners on determining the sufficiency of such petition shall make an order granting such petition, which said order shall fix the levy for that year, and the amount of the bounties to be paid for the killing of each such predatory animal, which shall not exceed the amounts recommended in such petition, and appoint not less than ten, nor more than twenty, stockowners of such county to be bounty inspectors under this act, without compensation, who shall hold their offices for one year.

For the purpose of this act each bounty inspector provided for in this act shall be empowered to administer oaths. The said bounty inspector shall indorse upon such affidavit his approval or disapproval of such claim and shall cut from such skin or pelt the four feet. The person applying for such bounty shall then present the affidavit, with the indorsements thereon, to the county auditor, or in counties not having an auditor, to the county clerk, who shall attach the same to a claim against said county bounty fund and present it to the board of county commissioners for action, the same as any other claim against the county.

CHAPTER 164.

TAXATION OF MINES.

Section 2088. Taxation of Mines.
2089. Statement Gross Yield of Mines.
2090. Net Proceeds—How Computed.
2091. Certification of Net Proceeds to County Clerk.
2092. Penalty for Failure to Make Statement—Estimate of Net Proceeds.
2093. Penalty for False Statement.
2094. Examination of Records by Board of Equalization.
2095. Collection and Lien of Tax.
2096. Surface Ground and Improvements Not Exempt.

2088. Taxation of mines. All mines and mining claims, both placer and rock in place, containing or bearing gold, silver, copper, lead, coal, or other valuable mineral deposits, after purchase thereof from the United States, shall be taxed at the price paid the United States therefor, unless the surface ground, or some part thereof, of such mine or claim is used for other than mining purposes, and has a separate and independent value for such other purposes, in which case said surface ground, or any part thereof so used for other than mining purposes shall be taxed at its full value for such other purposes; and all machinery used in mining, and all property and surface improvements upon or appurtenant to mines and mining claims, which have a value separate and independent of such mines or mining claims, and the annual net proceeds of all mines and mining claims, shall be taxed as other personal property.

History: En. Sec. 3, p. 73, L. 1891; re-en. Sec. 3672, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2500, Rev. C. 1907.

Note.—For history of early acts exempting mines from taxation, see Northern Pacific Ry. Co. v. Mjelde, 48 Mont. 287, 137 Pac. 386.

Under this section, which is a reiteration of section 3, article 12, of the state constitution, the annual net proceeds of coal mines are liable to taxation "as other personal property." Montana Coal & Coke Co. v. Livingston, 21 Mont. 59, 70, 52 Pac. 780.

Machinery used in mining, and all property and surface improvements upon or appurtenant to mines and mining claims, which have a value separate and independent of such mines or mining claims, are properly assessed as personal property. Birney v. Warren, 28 Mont. 64, 66, 72 Pac. 293.

This section follows the language of the constitution. Murray v. Hinds, 30 Mont. 466, 469, 76 Pac. 1039; Cobban v. Meagher, 42 Mont. 399, 407, 113 Pac. 290; Barnard Realty Co. v. City of Butte, 50 Mont. 159, 163, 145 Pac. 946.

Where a mining claim was within the limits of a city, and, while it had never been made an addition to the city, the owners had made a plat, and sold lots and blocks from the claim for townsite purposes, describing the portions sold by metes and bounds, and it appeared that a shaft had once been sunk on such reserve, but that it had been abandoned, and that the lot on which the shaft was sunk had been sold, the so-called reserve was taxable for purposes other than mining. Murray v. Hinds, 30 Mont. 466, 469, 76 Pac. 1039.

A ditch, appurtenant to placer claims, which had always been used to convey water for mining such claims, and for no other purpose, and which, independently of such use, had never been the source of revenue to its owner, although the water could be sold for irrigation and other purposes, and would be valuable in this connection, had no value independent of its use in connection with the placer lands so as to render it subject to taxation under this section. Hale v. County of Jefferson, 39 Mont. 137, 142, 101 Pac. 973.

One claiming an exemption from taxation has the burden of showing that he is entitled to it; but in an action to enjoin the collection of taxes upon a ditch used solely in connection with placer mining operations, and therefore not subject to taxation, the burden rests upon the state to show that the ditch has a value independent of the placer mining claim, so as to render it liable to taxation, as provided in this section. Hale v. County of Jefferson, 39 Mont. 137, 143, 101 Pac. 973.

The surface ground of an unpatented mining claim, when used for other than mining purposes, and when it has a separate value for such other purposes, is subject to taxation. Cobban v. Meagher, 42 Mont. 399, 409, 113 Pac. 290.

Under the state constitution and this section the net proceeds of all mines and mining claims are taxable the same as other personal property; and the assessor need not follow up the proceeds thereof, the tax being a lien on the mine itself until paid. Tong v. Maher, 45 Mont. 142, 144, 145, 122 Pac. 279.

Under the constitution and the above section, before the land embraced in a mining claim becomes subject to taxation at a valuation greater than the price paid the government therefor, the taxing officers must ascertain, and they have the burden of showing when their authority is questioned, that the surface ground, or some portion thereof, is used for other than mining purposes, and has an independent value for such purpose. Barnard Realty Co. v. City of Butte, 50 Mont. 159, 163, 166, 145 Pac. 946. See, also, note of this decision under section 2, article XII, constitution of Montana.

Coal in place, found in lands granted by the government to the Northern Pacific Railway Company, which coal the company reserved to itself in deeds to portions thereof sold by it, constitutes a mine, and as such, in its undeveloped condition, is not a proper subject for taxation. Northern Pacific Ry. Co. v. County of Musselshell et al., 54 Mont. 96, 169 Pac. 53.

Id. The rights, also reserved in deeds referred to above, to such use of the surface of the land as may be necessary for the exploration, mining and carrying away of the coal that may be found below, is a valuable interest in the land itself, and as such properly subject to taxation.

What are minerals within taxing statute, see 15 Ann. Cas. 514.

Interest in minerals as taxable separately from land, see note in 15 Ann. Cas. 1513.

Valuing undeveloped mining property as prospect, see note in 2 A. L. R. 1550.

2089. Statement gross yield of mines. Every person, corporation or association engaged in mining upon any quartz vein or lode, or placer mining claim, or mining from or upon any mine whatsoever containing gold, silver, copper, coal, lead, or other valuable mineral or minerals deposit, must, between the first and tenth days of June in each year, make out a statement of the gross yield of the above-named metals or minerals from each mine owned or worked by such person, corporation, or association during the year preceding the first day of June, and the value thereof. Such statement shall be in the form prescribed by the state board of equalization, and must be verified by the oath of such person, or the manager, superintendent, agent, president or vice-president of such corporation, association, or partnership, and must be delivered to the state board of equalization, on or before the tenth day of July. Such statement shall show the following:

1. The name and address of the owner or lessee of the mine.
2. The description and location of the mine.
3. The number of tons of ore or other mineral products or deposits extracted and treated or sold from the mine during the period covered by the statement.
4. The amount and character of such ores, mineral products or deposits, and the yield of such ores, mineral products or deposits to such person, corporation, or association so engaged in mining, in constituents of commercial value; that is to say, the number of ounces of gold or silver, pounds of copper or lead, tons of coal, barrels of petroleum, or other crude or mineral oil, or other commercially valuable constituents of said ores or mineral products or deposits, measured by standard units of measurement, yielded to such person, corporation, or association so engaged in mining, during the period covered by the statement.
5. The gross yield or value in dollars and cents.
6. Actual cost of extracting same from mine.
7. Actual cost of transporting to place of reduction or sale.
8. Actual cost of reduction or sale.
9. Actual cost of marketing the product, and conversion of same into money.
10. Cost of construction, repairs and betterments of mines, and costs of repairs and replacements of reduction works.
11. The assessed valuation of reduction works for the calendar year next preceding the year within which such return is made.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 237, L. 1921.

Note.—Earlier acts were sections 1047 to 1050, Revised Statutes 1879; re-enacted sections 1791 to 1794, Fifth Division Compiled Statutes 1887; sections 50 to 57, pp. 93 to 95, Laws of 1891; re-enacted sections 3760 to 3768, Political Code 1895; re-enacted sections 2563 to 2571, Revised Codes 1907.

2090. Net proceeds—How computed. The state board of equalization shall thereupon calculate and compute from said return the gross product yielded to such person, corporation or association so engaged in mining, and its gross value in dollars and cents of every mine for the year preceding the first day of June, and also shall calculate and compute the net proceeds in dollars and cents of said mine yielded to such person, corporation, or association so engaged in mining, which said net proceeds shall be ascertained and determined by subtracting from the value in dollars and cents of the gross product thereof the following, to-wit:

All moneys expended for necessary labor, machinery and supplies needed and used in the mining operations and developments; for improvements, repairs and betterments necessary in and about the working of the mine; for costs of repairs and replacements of the milling and reduction works used in connection with the mine; depreciation in the sum of six per cent. of the assessed valuation of such milling and reduction works for the calendar year ending December 31st and immediately preceding; also all money expended for transporting the ores, mineral products or deposits from the mine to the mill or reduction works or to the place of sale, and for extracting the metals and minerals therefrom, and for marketing the product and the conversion of the same into money; but moneys invested in the mines and improvements during any year, except in the year immediately preceding such statement, must not be included in such expenditures, and such expenditures shall not include the salaries, or any portion thereof, of any person or officers not actually engaged in the working of the mine or superintending the management thereof.

Provided, however, that if any such report contains any wilfully false or fraudulent statements as to the gross amount received by any person, corporation, or association so engaged in mining as aforesaid, for any mine's product, then the said state board of equalization shall compute the gross value of such mine's product, and such gross value shall be based upon the average quotations of the price of such mine's product in New York City, or the relative market value at the point of delivery, as evidenced by some established authority or market report, such as the Engineering and Mining Journal, of New York City, or some other standard publication, giving the market reports for the year covered by the statement; and, provided further, that if any such person, corporation or association has sold or otherwise disposed of any of its mine's product at a price substantially below the true market price of such product at the time and place of such sale or disposal, then the state board of equalization shall compute the gross value of such portion of said mine's product, so sold or disposed of substantially below market price as aforesaid, which gross value shall be based upon the quotations of the price of such mine's product in New York City, or the relative market value at the point of delivery at the time such portion of the product was so sold or otherwise disposed of, as evidenced by some established authority or market report, such as the Engineering and Mining Journal, of New York City, or some other standard publication, giving the market reports for the year covered by such statement. Should there be no quotation covering any particular product, then the state board of equalization shall fix the value of such gross product, or such portion thereof, as shall have been sold or otherwise disposed of at a price substantially below the true market price at the time and place of such sale or disposal in such a manner as may seem to be equitable.

In making an estimate of the value of the net proceeds under this section, the state board of equalization shall have the power to subpoena and examine, under oath, any person, members of a partnership or association, officers or agents of a corporation, and the employees of such person, partnership, association, or corporation, and every person who refuses or neglects to appear and testify, when required so to do by the state board of equalization as herein provided, for each and every refusal shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

2095. Collection and lien of tax. The tax on such net proceeds must be levied, collected and the payment thereof enforced as the levy, collection and enforcement of other taxes are provided for, and every such tax is a lien upon the mine or mining claim from which the ore, or mineral products or deposits, are mined or extracted, which lien attaches on the first Monday of March in each year, and the sale thereof for delinquent taxes may be made as provided for the sale of real estate for delinquent taxes.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 237, L. 1921.

CHAPTER 167.

COUNTY BOARDS OF EQUALIZATION.

Section 2113. County Commissioners—When to Equalize Assessment.
2114. Board Empowered to Equalize Assessments.
2115. The Person Aggrieved Must Apply.
2116. Examination of Persons Assessed.
2117. Witnesses May Be Subpoenaed.
2118. Assessor to Be Present—Statement of Property Not Assessed.
2119. County Commissioners to Use Records in Equalizing.
2121. County Clerk Must Keep Record of Proceedings and Make Oath.

2113. County commissioners—When to equalize assessment. The board of county commissioners is the county board of equalization, and must meet on the third Monday of July in each year to examine the assessment-book and equalize the assessment of property in the county. It must continue in session for that purpose from time to time until the business of equalization is disposed of, but not later than the second Monday in August.

History: Note.—Secs. 2113 to 2121 were enacted as Secs. 60 to 70, pp. 96 to 99, L. 1891, appearing as Secs. 3780 to 3790, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Secs. 2572 to 2582, Rev. C. 1907; Sec. 2572, Rev. C. 1907. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3672.

Held under former statutes that the board of county commissioners, sitting as a board of equalization, is responsible for the correctness of the assessment-book of the county. State v. Commrs. of Yellowstone Co., 12 Mont. 503, 509, 31 Pac. 78.

Under the law as it stood in 1898, it was held that since there was no statute providing for an appeal from the action of the county assessor and board of county commissioners, sitting as a board of equalization, under sections 3700 et seq. and sections 3780-3785 of the Political Code, courts would not interfere with the action of such officers where the assessor acted fairly and honestly and the board gave the plaintiff a fair hearing. Danforth v. Livingston, 23 Mont. 558, 562, 563, 59 Pac. 916.

While boards of equalization are provided for in the constitution, their periods of life are prescribed by the legislature, and they cannot hold for any other or longer period than the legislature has fixed. So, when a county board adjourned on the second Monday of August, as provided in the above section, its term of existence for that year absolutely expired. Matador L. & C. Co. v. Custer Co., 28 Mont. 286, 287, 72 Pac. 662.

Cited or applied as section 2572, Revised Codes, in State ex rel. Fadness v. Eie, 53 Mont. 138, 147, 162 Pac. 164.

History: Sec. 2573, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 2113. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3673.

See State v. Ellis, 15 Mont. 224, 227, 38 Pac. 1079, as to the power of the county board of equalization to increase or lower assessments under this section.

Referred to as partially defining the powers and duties of the board of county commissioners, sitting as a board of equalization, in relation to individual assessments and the changes it may make in them. State ex rel. Fadness v. Eie, 53 Mont. 138, 147, 162 Pac. 164.

Cited or applied as section 3781, Political Code, in Montana Ore Purchasing Co. v. Maher, 32 Mont. 480, 486, 81 Pac. 13; as section 2573, Revised Codes, in Anaconda Copper Min. Co. v. Ravalli County et al., 56 Mont. 530, 186 Pac. 332.

Action of board of equalization as affecting right to attack assessment on ground of assessor's fraud, see note in 9 L. R. A. 1284.

2115. The person aggrieved must apply. No reduction must be made in the valuation of property, unless the party affected thereby or his agent makes and files with the board a written application therefor, verified by his oath, showing the facts upon which it is claimed such reduction should be made.

History: Sec. 2574, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 2113. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3674.

As a condition precedent to the reduction of the valuation of property, the party affected thereby, or claiming a reduction, or his agent, must file a written application therefor with the board of equalization, verified by his oath, showing the facts upon which such reduction is claimed. Before a plaintiff in an action to recover taxes paid to the county treasurer, claimed to be unlawfully assessed, could be entitled to relief, his complaint should show a compliance with this essential condition. Barrett v. Shannon, 19 Mont. 397, 399, 400, 48 Pac. 746.

Defining the powers and duties of the board of county commissioners, sitting as a board of equalization, in relation to individual assessments and the changes it may make in them. State ex rel. Fadness v. Eie, 53 Mont. 138, 147, 162 Pac. 164.

History: Sec. 2575, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 2113. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3675.

Cited or applied as section 2575, Revised Codes, in State ex rel. Fadness v. Eie, 53 Mont. 138, 147, 162 Pac. 164.

2117. Witnesses may be subpoenaed. Upon the hearing of the application the board may subpoena such witnesses, hear and take such evidence in relation to the subject pending, as in its discretion it may deem proper.

History: Sec. 2576, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 2113. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3676.

Cited or applied as section 2576, Revised Codes, in State ex rel. Fadness v. Eie, 53 Mont. 138, 147, 162 Pac. 164.

History: En. Sec. 3785, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2577, Rev. C. 1907; (see also Sec. 2538, Rev. C. 1907); amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 53, L. 1921. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3677.

2119. County commissioners to use records in equalizing. The board of county commissioners must use the abstract and all other information it may gain from the records of the county clerk or elsewhere, in equalizing the assessment of the property of the county, and may require the assessor to enter upon the assessment-book any property which has not been assessed; and any assessment made as prescribed in this section has the same force and effect as if made by the assessor before the delivery of the assessment-book to the county clerk.

2120. Board may direct assessor to assess in certain instances. During the session of the board of county commissioners it may direct the assessor to assess any taxable property that has escaped assessment, or to add to the amount, number, or quantity of property, when a false or incomplete list has been rendered, and to make and enter new assessments (at the same time canceling previous entries), when any assessment made by him is deemed by the board so incomplete as to render doubtful the collection of the tax; but the clerk must notify all persons interested, by letter deposited in the postoffice, postpaid, and addressed to the person interested, at least ten days before action is taken, of the day fixed when the matter will be investigated.

History: Sec. 2581, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 2113. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3681.

Where the board, instead of requiring the assessor to do so, itself placed a valuation upon the stock in trade of an Indian post trader licensed to do business upon a reservation, the property in question being subject to state and county taxation so long as the Indians were not interested therein, the irregularity in making the assessment was waived by the appearance of the taxpayer before the board to request it to strike the same, without objecting either to the irregularity or to the valuation adopted. Cosier v. McMillan, 22 Mont. 484, 490, 491, 56 Pac. 965.

The notice of ten days, required by this section to be given a taxpayer, is jurisdictional. Western Ranches v. County of Custer, 28 Mont. 278, 281, 72 Pac. 659; Montana Ore Purchasing Co. v. Maher, 32 Mont. 480, 487, 81 Pac. 13. See, also, Anaconda Copper Min. Co. v. Ravalli County, 56 Mont. 530, 533, 186 Pac. 332.

Failure by the county board of equalization to give a taxpayer the ten days' notice of an increase in his assessment, is not waived by his voluntary appearance before the board, after the raise had been made, for the purpose of seeking a reduction of the assessment. Western Ranches v. County of Custer, 28 Mont. 278, 281, 72 Pac. 659; Montana Ore Purchasing Co. v. Maher, 32 Mont. 480, 488, 81 Pac. 13. See Anaconda Copper Min. Co. v. Ravalli County, 56 Mont. 530, 533, 186 Pac. 332.

Where a county board of equalization gave notice to a taxpayer on August 8, 1896, to appear on September 8th, following, the notice mailed on the former date was void, the functions of the board as a board of equalization having, as prescribed in section 2172, expired on the second Monday of August, which was the tenth of the month. Matador Land & Cattle Co. v. Custer County, 28 Mont. 286, 287, 72 Pac. 662.

The right of the owner of property to obtain relief from illegal taxes by injunction is not in anywise affected by his failure, after notice from the board, to make timely objection. Barnard Realty Co. v. City of Butte, 50 Mont. 159, 167, 145 Pac. 946.

The notice prescribed by this section was designed to give the property owner an opportunity to appear and be heard, and is jurisdictional, and a new assessment so made, of which the property owner was not notified until afterwards, was invalid. Western Ranches v. Custer County, 89 Fed. 577.

2121. County clerk must keep record of proceedings and make oath. The county clerk must record, in a book to be kept for that purpose, all changes, corrections, and orders made by the board, and during its session, or as soon as possible after its adjournment, must enter upon the assessment-book all changes and corrections made by the board, and on or before the first Monday of August must affix his affidavit thereto, subscribed by him as follows: "I, ..., do swear that, as county clerk of ..... county, I have kept correct minutes of all the acts of the board of county commissioners touching alterations in the assessment-book; that all alterations agreed to or directed to be made have been made and entered in the book, and that no changes or alterations have been made therein except those authorized.

Changes wrought in assessments by the board of county commissioners, sitting as a board of equalization, must be noted by the clerk and entered on the book in the proper places. State ex rel. Fadness v. Eie, 53 Mont. 138, 147, 162 Pac. 164.

STATE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION.

Section 2122. Who Constitute the Board.
2123. General Powers and Duties of Board.
2124. Appeal to State Board of Equalization.
2125. Statement of Changes to Be Sent to County Clerk.
2126. Determination of State Rate of Taxation—Notice of.
2127. Penalty for Refusing to Obey Rules and Regulations of Board.
2128. Who May Administer Oaths.
2129. Expenses to Be Allowed.
2130. Employment of Assistants and Clerical Help.

2122. Who constitute the board. The governor, secretary of state, state treasurer, state auditor, and attorney-general constitute a state board of equalization, of which the governor is president and the secretary of state the secretary.

History: En. Sec. 71, p. 100, L. 1891; re-en. Sec. 3800, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2583, Rev. C. 1907.

Statutes such as the above cannot be construed as conferring the power to increase or decrease the total valuation of the property in the state as shown by the abstracts transmitted to it by the county boards, since such power is denied to it by the constitution. State ex rel. State Board of Equalization v. Fortune, 24 Mont. 154, 157, 60 Pac. 1086; State ex rel. Wallace v. State Board of Equalization, 18 Mont. 473, 46 Pac. 266, affirmed. See note to section 15, article XII, constitution of Montana.

Cited or applied as section 2583, Revised Codes, in State ex rel. Fadness v. Eie, 53 Mont. 138, 147, 162 Pac. 164.

2123. General powers and duties of board. The powers and duties of the state board of equalization are as follows:

1. To prescribe rules for its own government and for the transaction of its business.

2. To prescribe rules and regulations, not in conflict with the constitution and laws of the state of Montana, to govern county boards of equalization and the assessors of the different counties in the performance of their duties.

3. To prepare and enforce the use of forms in relation to the assessment of property.

4. To hold meetings at the state capitol as prescribed by its rules, and such special meetings as the president of the board may direct.

5. To annually assess the franchise, roadway, roadbed, rails, and rolling-stock, and all other property of all railroads, and the pole lines and rights of way and all other property of all telegraph and telephone lines, electric power and transmission lines, ditches, canals, and flumes, and other similar properties, constituting a single and continuous property operated in more than one county in the state, and to apportion such assessments to the counties in which such properties are located on a mileage basis; provided, however, that lots and parcels of real estate not included in right of way, with the buildings, structures, and improvements thereon, dams and power-houses, depots, stations, shops, and other buildings erected upon right of way, furniture, machinery, and other personal property, shall not be considered as a part of any such single and continuous property, but shall be considered as separate and distinct therefrom, and shall be assessed by the county assessor of the county wherein they are situate.

6. To transmit to the county clerk of each county its apportionment of all assessments made by such board.

7. To meet at the state capitol on the fourth Monday in July, and remain in session from day to day (Sundays and holidays excepted) until the third Monday of August, and later if the business of the board requires, and at such meetings adjust and equalize the valuation of taxable property among the several counties, and the different classes of taxable property in the same, and in the several counties and between individual taxpayers; supervise and review the acts of the county assessor and the county boards of equalization; change, increase, or decrease valuation made by county assessors or equalized by the county boards of equalization, and exercise such authority and do any and all things necessary to secure a fair, just, and equitable valuation of taxable property among the counties, and between the different classes of property and individual taxpayers; provided, however, that no change shall be made in the assessment of the property of any individual taxpayer as made by any assessor, or as adjusted and equalized by any county board of equalization, without first notifying the taxpayer whose assessment is proposed to be changed, by a letter deposited in the postoffice, postpaid, and addressed to the taxpayer at least ten days before action is taken of the day fixed when the matter will be investigated.

8. To visit as a board, or by the individual members thereof, the several counties of the state, whenever deemed necessary, for the purpose of inspecting the property and learning the value thereof.

9. To call before it, or any member thereof, on such visit, any officers of the county, and to require them to produce any public records in their custody; to issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses or production of books before the board, or any member thereof, which subpoenas must be signed by a member of the board, and may be served by any person.

10. To furnish to the legislative assembly such information as may be requested by such legislative assembly, or either house, or any committee of either house.

11. To keep a record of all its proceedings.

12. To appoint a clerk, who must assist the secretary of the board and perform such other duties as the board may require, and who shall hold office during the pleasure of the board.

13. To require of any person, firm, or corporation against whom the assessment of any property required to be assessed by said board is made, such information as may be necessary or desired by said board for the purpose of making such assessment.

Note.—Sections 2123 to 2129 are here given as enacted by chapter 48, Laws of 1919. This act repealed sections 2584 to 2592, Revised Codes 1907, which appeared as sections 3800 to 3809, Political Code 1895, and which were enacted as sections 71 to 79, pp. 100 to 104, Laws of 1891.

This section, authorizing the state board of equalization to make an original assessment of the rights of way, pole, and transmission lines, distributing systems, etc., of electric power companies, is not constitutionally objectionable as conferring the power upon an unauthorized agency. State v. State Board of Equalization, 56 Mont. 413, 441, 185 Pac. 708.

This act is not invalid because it denies to the taxpayer the right to have his property assessed by the local assessing officer, as well as the right to have the valuation put thereon reviewed by the county board of equalization. It is not a right of the taxpayer to have his assessment made, in the first instance, by any particular officer, or to have it equalized by any particular board. So long as the principles of uniformity and just valuation are observed, his rights are not invaded. State v. State Board of Equalization, 56 Mont. 413, 443, 185 Pac. 708.

Delegation of power of taxation to board of equalization or revision, see note in 15 L. R. A. (N. S.) 66.

2124. Appeal to state board of equalization. Any person, firm, or corporation aggrieved by the action of any county board of equalization, may appeal to the state board of equalization by filing with the county board a notice of appeal, and a duplicate thereof with the state board of equalization, within five days after the action of said county board, which notice shall specify the action complained of, and the reasons assigned for such complaint. The state board may require the county board to certify the minutes of its proceedings resulting in such action, and all testimony taken in connection therewith, and may reverse, modify, or affirm the action complained of.

History: Sec. 3, Ch. 48, L. 1919. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3695.

2126. Determination of state rate of taxation—Notice of. Between the first and third Monday in August of each year, the board must determine the rate of state tax to be levied and collected upon the assessed valuation of the property of the state, which, after allowing twelve per cent. for delinquencies in the cost in collection of taxes, must be sufficient to raise the specific amount of the revenue required by the legislative assembly for state purposes. The board must immediately thereafter transmit to the county clerk of each county a statement of such rate, and upon its receipt the county clerk must, in writing, notify the state board of equalization thereof.

History: Sec. 4, Ch. 48, L. 1919. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3696.

2127. Penalty for refusing to obey rules and regulations of board. Every person served with a subpoena who fails or neglects, without just excuse, to obey it, and every officer who refuses to obey the rules and regulations prescribed by the board, or to perform the duties prescribed therein, shall forfeit to the state of Montana five hundred dollars, to be recovered by action in the name of the state, which action may be commenced and tried in any county of the state.

History: Sec. 5, Ch. 48, L. 1919. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3697.

2128. Who may administer oaths. The secretary or any member of the board may administer and certify oaths.

History: Sec. 6, Ch. 48, L. 1919. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3699.

2129. Expenses to be allowed. Each member of the board is entitled to repayment for actual expenses incurred by him while traveling in discharge of his duties, and all money paid out for necessary clerical work, stationery, and postage-stamps, to be audited and allowed by the state board of examiners.

History: Sec. 7, Ch. 48, L. 1919. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3702.

2130. Employment of assistants and clerical help. The state board of equalization shall have authority and power to employ and appoint such experts, assistants, clerks, and stenographers as may be necessary in order to enable such board to perform the duties imposed on such board by law in connection with the classification, taxation, and equalization of property for taxation, and the enforcement of the laws of this state with reference to taxes and licenses; provided, however, that the total expenses for such experts, assistants, clerks, and stenographers shall not exceed the sum of fifteen thousand dollars per annum.

CHAPTER 169.

ASSESSMENT OF RAILROADS BY STATE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION.

Section 2131. Assessment of Railroads.
2132. Assessment, How Made.
2133. State Board of Equalization Must Transmit Statement to County Clerk.
2134. County Commissioners to Enter Assessment Order.
2135. Dissatisfied Owners of Railroads May Apply Again.
2137. Basis of Taxation.

2131. Assessment of railroads. The president, secretary, or managing agent, or such other officer as the state board of equalization may designate, of any corporation, and each person, or association of persons, owning or operating any railroad in more than one county in this state, must, on or before the first Monday in March of each year, furnish the said board a statement, signed and sworn to by one of such officers, or by the person or one of the persons forming such association, showing in detail for the year ending on the first Monday in March in each year:

1. The whole number of miles of railroad in the state; and, where the line is partly out of the state, the whole number of miles without the state, and the whole number within the state, owned or operated by such corporation, person, or association.

2. The value of the roadway, roadbed, and rails of the whole railroad, and the value of the same within the state.

3. The width of the right of way.

4. The number of each kind of all rolling-stock used by such corporation, person, or association in operating the entire railroad, including the part without the state.

5. Number, kind, and value of rolling-stock owned and operated in the state.

6. Number, kind, and value of rolling-stock used in the state, but not owned by the party making the returns.

7. Number, kind, and value of rolling-stock owned but used out of the state, either upon divisions of road operated by the party making the returns, or by and upon other railroads.

8. The whole number of side-tracks in each county, including the number of miles of track in each railroad yard in the state.

9. The number of each kind of rolling-stock used in operating the entire railroad, including the part without the state, which must include a detailed statement of the number and value thereof, of all engines, passenger, mail, express, baggage, freight, and other cars, or property owned or leased by such corporation, persons, or association.

10. The number of sleeping and dining-cars not owned by such corporation, person, or association, but used in operating the railroads of such corporation, person, or association in the state, or on the line of the road without the state, during each month of the year for which the return is made; also the number of miles each month said cars have been run or operated within and without the state.

11. A description of the road, giving the points of entrance into and the points of exit from each county, with a statement of the number of miles in each county. When a description of the road shall have once been given, no other annual description thereof is necessary, unless the road shall have been changed. Whenever the road, or any portion of the road, is advertised to be sold, or is sold for taxes, either state or county, no other description is necessary than that given by, and the same is conclusive upon, the person, corporation, or association giving the description. No assessment is invalid on account of a misdescription of the railroad, or the right of way for the same. If such statement is not furnished as above provided, the assessment made by the state board of equalization upon the property of the corporation, person, or association failing to furnish the statement is conclusive and final.

12. Also showing in detail for the year preceding the first of January:

(a) The gross earnings of the entire road;

(b) The gross earnings of the road within the state, and where the railroad is let to other operators, how much was derived by the lessor as rental;

(c) The cost of operating the entire road, exclusive of sinking fund, expenses of land department, and money paid to the United States;

(d) Net income for such year, and amount of dividend declared.

(e) Capital stock authorized;

(f) Capital stock paid in;

(g) Funded debt;

(h) Number of shares authorized;

(i) Number of shares of stock issued.

13. Any other facts the state board of equalization may require.

Referred to as section 43, Laws of 1891, in Northern Pac. Ry. Co. v. Brogan, 52 Mont. 461, 464, 158 Pac. 820; Hayes v. Smith, 58 Mont. 312, 316, 192 Pac. 615.

2132. Assessment, how made. The state board of equalization must meet at the state capitol on the fourth Monday in July, and continue in open session from day to day, Sundays excepted, until the second Monday in August, and later if the business of the board requires it. At such meeting the board must assess the franchise, roadway, roadbed, rails, and rolling-stock of all railroads operated in more than one county; but franchises derived from the United States must not be assessed. All rolling-stock must be assessed in the name of the person, corporation, or association owning, leasing, or using the same. Assessment must be made to the corporation, person, or association of persons owning or leasing or using the same, and must be made upon the entire railroad within the state, and must include the right of way, bridges, and culverts of the railroad. The depots, stations, shops and buildings erected upon the space covered by the right of way, and all other property owned or leased by such person, corporation, or association, except as above provided, are assessed by the assessor of the county wherein they are situate. Between the second and third Mondays of August, the board must apportion the total assessment of the franchise, roadway, roadbed, rails, and rolling-stock of each railroad to the counties in which such railroad is located, in proportion to the number of miles of railroad laid in such counties.

2133. State board of equalization must transmit statement to county clerk. The state board of equalization must, within the time mentioned in the preceding section, transmit by mail to the county clerk of each county to which such apportionment has been made, a statement showing the length of the main track of such railroad within the county, with a description of the whole of said track within the county, including the right of way, by metes and bounds or other description sufficient for identification, the assessed value per mile of the same, as fixed by a pro rata distribution per miles of the assessed value of the whole franchise, roadway, roadbed, rails, and rolling-stock of such railroad within the state, and the amount apportioned to the county. The county clerk must enter the statement on the assessment-roll or book of the county, and enter the amount of the assessment apportioned to the county in the column of the assessment-book or roll as aforesaid, which shows the total value of all property for taxation of the county.

History: En. Sec. 45, p. 90, L. 1891; re-en. Sec. 3739, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2558, Rev. C. 1907. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3665.

2134. County commissioners to enter assessment order. On the second Monday in September, the board of county commissioners must make and cause to be entered in the proper record book an order stating and declaring the length of main track of the railroad assessed by the state board of equalization within the county, the assessed value per mile of such railroad, the number of miles of track, and the assessed value of such railroad lying in each city, town, school and road district, or lesser taxing district in the county through which such railroad runs, as fixed by the state board of equalization, which constitutes the assessment value of said property for taxable purposes in such city, town, school, road, or other district; and the county clerk must on application, transmit a copy of each order or equalization to the city or town council or trustees, or other legislative body of incorporated cities or towns, the trustees of each school district, and the authorized authorities of other taxation districts through which such railroad runs. All such railroad property is taxable upon said assessment at the same rates, by the same officers, and for the same purposes, as the property of individuals within such city, town, school, road, and lesser taxation districts, respectively, and such taxes must be collected in the same manner and by the same officers as other taxes are collected.

2135. Dissatisfied owners of railroads may apply again. If the owner of a railroad assessed by the state board of equalization is dissatisfied with the assessment made by the board, such owner may, at the meeting of the board, under the provision of section 2584 (2123 of this code), between the third Monday in July and the second Monday in August, apply to the board to have the same corrected in any particular, and the board may correct and increase or lower the assessment made by it so as to equalize the same with the assessment of other property in the state. If the board increases or lowers any assessment previously made by it, it must make a statement to the county clerk affected by the change in the assessment of the change made, and he must note such change upon the assessment book of the county as directed by the board.

Note.—Section 2584, Revised Codes 1907, has been repealed; for corresponding section see 2123 of this code.

2136. Record of assessment and apportionment of railroads. The state board of equalization must prepare each year a book, to be called "Record of Assessment of Railroads," in which must be entered each assessment made by the board, either in writing or by both writing and printing. Each assessment so entered must be signed by the president and secretary. The record of the apportionment of the assessments made by the board to the counties must be made in a separate book, to be called "Record of Apportionment of Railroad Assessments." In such last-described book must be entered the names of the railroads assessed by the board, the names of the corporations to which, or the name of the person or association to whom each railroad was assessed, the whole number of miles of the railroad in the state, the number of miles in each county, the total assessment of the franchise, roadway, roadbed, rails, and rolling-stock for purposes of state taxation, and the amount of the apportionment of such total assessment to each county for county taxation.

History: En. Sec. 48, p. 92, L. 1891; re-en. Sec. 3742, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2561, Rev. C. 1907. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3666.

2137. Basis of taxation. The assessment made by the county assessor, and that of the state board of equalization, as apportioned by the boards of county commissioners to each city, town, school, road, or other district in their respective counties, is the only basis of taxation for the county, or any subdivision thereof, except in incorporated cities and towns, and may also be taken as such basis in incorporated cities and towns when the proper authorities may so elect. All taxes upon road, school, or other local districts must be collected in the same manner as county taxes.

1. The name and address of each corporation, person, and association owning or operating any telegraph, telephone, electric power or transmission line, canal, ditch, flume, or other similar property in more than one county of the state, whose property, or any part thereof, has been assessed by such county assessor;

2. A complete description of all such property assessed to every such corporation, person, or association, together with the assessed value thereof.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 49, L. 1919.

2140. Statement to be transmitted by county clerk. The county clerk of each county must, on the second Monday in August of each year, transmit to the state board of equalization a statement showing any and all changes, corrections, and orders made by the county board of equalization regarding the assessment of the property of any such corporation, person, or association.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 49, L. 1919.

2141. Hearing before state equalization board. At the regular meeting of the state board of equalization in each year, it shall be the duty of the board to afford an opportunity to any corporation, person, or association owning or operating any such property in this state, or to any taxpayer, to appear before the board and submit any facts which may tend to inform the board or to give it information to the end that a fair and equitable assessment of such property may be made.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 49, L. 1919.

2142. Hearing for the determination of facts pertaining to assessment. If any corporation, person or association shall fail, neglect, or refuse to furnish the state board of equalization with a full, true, and correct statement as required by section 2138 of this code, or if the board shall have reason to believe that any such statement furnished the board is incorrect or erroneous in any particular, the board shall order a hearing for the purpose of ascertaining and determining such facts as will enable the board to assess the property of such corporation, person or association in accordance with the provisions of section 2143 of this code. At least five days' written notice of such hearing shall be given to such corporation, person, or association, and on such hearing the board shall ascertain and determine each and all of the matters and facts which should have been stated in such statement.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 49, L. 1919.

2143. Meeting of state board and assessment of property—Apportionment to counties. The state board of equalization must meet at the capitol on the fourth Monday in July of each year, and remain in session from day to day (Sunday and holidays excepted) until the third Monday in August, and later if the business of the board requires it.

At such meeting the board must assess all the properties described in section 2138 of this code, but franchises granted by the United States must not be assessed.

The value for taxation of the property and plant of each telegraph, telephone, electric power and transmission line, canal, ditch, flume, and other properties to be assessed by the state board of equalization, shall be that portion of the total value of the entire plant and property, wherever situated, that the total mileage within this state bears to the total mileage wherever situated, after deducting from such portion the total assessed value of all property which has been assessed for taxation in this state by the county assessors of the several counties of this state, and the state board of equalization shall assess the same accordingly.

Between the third and fourth Mondays in August, the state board of equalization must apportion the total assessment of each of the properties assessed by such board to the counties in which the same are situated, in proportion to the number of miles in such counties.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 49, L. 1919.

This act does not repeal existing statutes on the subject of assessment, but is to be treated as a supplement thereto. The various sections of the act, and of existing acts, are, therefore, in pari materia, and are to be construed together. State v. State Board of Equalization, 56 Mont. 413, 444, 185 Pac. 708.

This act does not affect section 2001, and that section is to be considered in connection with it. State v. State Board of Equalization, 56 Mont. 413, 444, 185 Pac. 708.

This section does not establish an arbitrary rule of assessment, but only requires that the total value of the plant and property, wherever situated, shall be taken into consideration in determining the actual cash value for taxation of that portion of the plant and property situated within this state. State v. State Board of Equalization, 56 Mont. 413, 446, 185 Pac. 708.

Since the state board of equalization is an agency created by the constitution, with well-defined powers, discretionary in character, and this act does not attempt to direct the board as to the method or means to be pursued by it in arriving at the actual value of the property of electric power corporations, the supreme court cannot, by writ of mandate, interfere and direct the board how to make the assessment; so long as it is not guilty of fraud, and does not adopt a fundamentally wrong principle of assessment, the supreme court cannot interpose, or substitute its judgment for that of such board. State v. State Board of Equalization, 56 Mont. 413, 448, 185 Pac. 708.

2144. Transmission of statement of amount apportioned to counties. The state board of equalization must, not later than the fourth Monday of August, transmit or mail to the county clerk of each county to which such apportionment has been made, a statement showing the length of the property in such county; a description of the same sufficient for identification; the assessed value per mile of the same as determined by a pro rata distribution per mile of the assessed value of the whole; and the amount apportioned to the county. The county clerk must enter the statement on the assessment-roll or book of the county, and enter the amount of the assessment apportioned to the county in the column of the assessment-roll or book which shows the total value of all property for taxation in the county.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 49, L. 1919.

2145. Order of board of commissioners declaring valuation. On the second Monday in September, the board of county commissioners of each county must make and cause to be entered in the proper record book an order stating and declaring the length of the property within the county of each of such properties assessed by the state board of equalization; the assessed value per mile; the total valuation within the county; the number of miles, and the assessed value in each incorporated city and town, and in each school, road, or other taxing district in the county through which such property extends, as fixed by the state board of equalization, which shall constitute the assessment value of such property for taxation purposes in such cities, towns, school, road, and other taxing districts, and the county clerk must transmit a copy of said order to the city or town council, trustees, or other legislative body of each incorporated city and town, to the trustees of each school district, and to the authorized authorities for other taxing districts through which such property extends. All such property is taxable upon said assessment at the same rate, by the same officers, and for the same purposes as the property of individual taxpayers within such cities, towns, school, road, and other taxing districts, respectively, and such taxes must be collected in the same manner, at the same time, and by the same officers as other taxes are collected.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 49, L. 1919.

2146. Assessment-books of state board of equalization—Contents. The state board of equalization must prepare each year a book in which must be entered every such assessment made by the board, either in writing or by both writing and printing. Each assessment so entered must be signed by the president and secretary of the board. The record of the apportionment of assessments made by the state board of equalization to the several counties must be made in a separate book. In the last described book must be entered the name of the corporation, person, or association to whom such property was assessed; the whole number of miles of such property in the state; the number of miles in each county; the value per mile of said property; and the amount of such total assessment apportioned to each county for taxation.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 49, L. 1919.

LEVY OF TAXES.

Section 2147. The Levy.
2148. State Tax Levy of Three and One-Half Mills—Support of University of Montana.
2149. Rate of Taxation Fixed by State Board.
2150. Rate of County Fixed by Board of County Commissioners.
2151. Failure of County Commissioners to Levy.
2152. Tax Operates as a Judgment or Lien.
2153. Tax on Personal Property a Lien on Real Property.
2154. Tax Upon Real Property and Tax on Improvements a Lien Upon Both.
2155. Tax for School Purposes.

History: En. Sec. 80, p. 104, L. 1891; amd. Sec. 3820, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2593, Rev. C. 1907.

The sum of the corrected assessments of the several counties, with the additions made by the state board of equalization, is the basis for taxation for state purposes at the rate fixed biennially by the legislature. State ex rel. Fadness v. Eie, 53 Mont. 138, 147, 162 Pac. 164.

2148. State tax levy of three and one-half mills—Support of university of Montana. The rate of taxation on real and personal property for state purposes for each year for a period of ten years, beginning with the year 1921, shall be increased one and one-half mills on each dollar of valuation, and the legislative assembly is authorized and empowered to levy a tax for state purposes for each of said years of not exceeding three and one-half mills on each dollar of valuation for state purposes, and all money derived from one and one-half mills of such levy for each of such years shall be appropriated by the legislative assembly for the support, maintenance and improvement of the state university at Missoula, the state college of agriculture and mechanic arts at Bozeman, the Montana state school of mines at Butte, and the Montana state normal college at Dillon, now comprised in the university of Montana.

History: Enacted by the people as an initiative measure Nov. 2, 1920. Effective under governor's proclamation Dec. 6. 1920.

2149. Rate of taxation fixed by state board. The state board of equalization must, for state purposes, for each fiscal year fix an ad valorem rate of taxation upon each one hundred dollars of taxable property of the state, after allowing twelve per cent. for delinquencies in the taxes and for costs of collection thereof, as will raise a sufficient amount to meet the levy of the legislative assembly for each fiscal year.

History: En. Sec. 3824, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2597, Rev. C. 1907. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3713.

2150. Rate of county fixed by board of county commissioners. The board of county commissioners of each county must, on the second Monday in August, fix the rate of county taxes and designate the number of mills on each dollar of valuation of property for each fund, and must levy taxes upon the taxable property of the county.

History: En. Sec. 81, p. 104, L. 1891; re-en. Sec. 3825, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2598, Rev. C. 1907. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3714.

Board of county commissioners, at the conclusion of its sitting, must fix the rate of taxation for the year. State ex rel. Fadness v. Eie, 53 Mont. 138, 147, 162 Pac. 164.

History: En. Sec. 3826, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2599, Rev. C. 1907. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3715.

History: En. Sec. 82, p. 104, L. 1891; re-en. Sec. 3827, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2600, Rev. C. 1907. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3716.

Note.—The title referred to in the above section embraced the entire taxation laws contained in the Revised Codes of 1907.

Under this section and the two following, no tax lien attaches to assessed personality, the owner of which owns no realty, and the sale for taxes of such sonalty, the owner of which owns no purchaser should be enjoined. Walsh v. Croft, 27 Mont. 407, 408, 71 Pac. 409.

The fee required of a foreign corporation by section 145 is not a property tax, creating a lien on the property until paid. State ex rel. General Electric Co. v. Alderson, 49 Mont. 29, 33, 140 Pac. 82.

When taxes become a lien on land, see note in 15 L. R. A. 236.

Superiority of lien for special assessments over lien for taxes, see note in 30 L. R. A. (N. S.) 768.

History: En. Sec. 3828, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2601, Rev. C. 1907. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3717.

2155. Tax for school purposes. There must be levied by the legislative assembly, at the time other state taxes are levied, a tax of such number of cents of each one hundred dollars value of taxable property in the state as will produce a net sum equal to the amount reported to them by the state auditor, or as may be otherwise ascertained as being necessary to be raised, by an ad valorem tax for school purposes; and the assessment and collection of said tax must be performed in the same manner and at the same time as other state taxes are assessed and collected.

The column of acres must show the total acreage of the county.

History: Sec. 2604, Rev. C. 1907. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3727.

Note.—Secs. 2156 to 2166 were enacted as Secs. 85 to 95, pp. 105, 107, L. 1891; re-en. as Secs. 3840 to 3850, Pol. C. 1895; appearing as Secs. 2604 to 2614, Rev. C. 1907.

When the assessments have been equalized and the necessary changes made, the clerk must sum up the values of the different kinds of property assessed to each owner, and also the gross amount of all assessments as fixed by the equalizations. State ex rel. Fadness v. Eie, 53 Mont. 138, 147, 162 Pac. 164.

Cited or applied as section 3840, Political Code, in State ex rel. City of Butte v. Weston, 29 Mont. 125, 130, 74 Pac. 415.

2157. County clerk to prepare duplicate statement. The county clerk must, on or before the second Monday in August of each year, prepare from the assessment-book of such year, as corrected by the board of county commissioners, duplicate statements, showing in separate columns:

1. The total value of all property;
2. The value of real estate, including mining claims, stated separately;
3. The value of the improvements thereon;
4. The value of personal property, exclusive of money;
5. The amount of money;
6. The number of acres of land, and the number of mining claims, stated separately.

Cited or applied as section 3841, Political Code, in State ex rel. City of Butte v. Weston, 29 Mont. 125, 130, 74 Pac. 415; as section 2605, Revised Codes, State ex rel. Fadness v. Eie, 53 Mont. 138, 147, 162 Pac. 164.

History: Sec. 2606, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 2156. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3729.

It is the duty of the county clerk to ascertain the gross sum of all assessments and transmit it to the state auditor and the state board of equalization. State ex rel. Fadness v. Eie, 53 Mont. 138, 147, 162 Pac. 164.

Referred to as section 3842 of the Political Code in State ex rel. Board of Equalization v. Fortune, 24 Mont. 154, 155, 60 Pac. 1086; State ex rel. City of Butte v. Weston, 29 Mont. 125, 130, 74 Pac. 415.

2159. To follow directions of state board of equalization. As soon as the county clerk receives from the state board of equalization a statement of the changes made by the board in the assessment-book of the county, or in any assessment contained therein, he must make the corresponding changes in the assessment-book, by entering the same in a column provided with a proper heading in the assessment-book, counting any fractional sum, when more than fifty cents, as one dollar, and omitting it when less than fifty cents, so that the value of any separate assessment shall contain no fractions of a dollar; but he must, in all cases, disregard any action of the board of county commissioners which is prohibited by section 2007 of these codes.

History: Sec. 2607, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 2156. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3730.

When the necessary corrections and additions have been made to it under the direction of the state and county boards of equalization, the clerk must complete the assessment-book by extending the tax so that the amount to be paid by each taxpayer for the year will be made to appear. State ex rel. City of Butte v. Weston, 29 Mont. 125, 130, 74 Pac. 415.

Cited or applied as section 2607, Revised Codes, in State ex rel. Fadness v. Eie, 53 Mont. 138, 147, 162 Pac. 164.

History: Sec. 2608, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 2156. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3731.

After the necessary changes have been made and the assessments equalized, it is the duty of the clerk to calculate and extend to the proper column the amount due from each taxpayer for the year, at the combined rates fixed by the county board and the legislature. State ex rel. Fadness v. Eie, 53 Mont. 138, 147, 162 Pac. 164.

2161. Delivery of duplicate assessment-book to treasurer. On or before the first Monday of October he must deliver a copy of the corrected assessment-book, to be styled "Duplicate Assessment-Book," to the county treasurer, with an affidavit attached thereto, and by him subscribed, as follows:

"I, ..., county clerk of the county of ....., do swear that I received the assessment-book of the taxable property of the county from the assessor, with his affidavit thereto affixed, and that I have corrected it and made it conform to the requirements of the county and state board of equalization; that I have reckoned the respective sums due as taxes, and have added up the columns of valuations, taxes and acreage, as required by law, and that the copy to which this affidavit is affixed is a full, true, and correct copy thereof, made in the manner prescribed by law."

History: Sec. 2609, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 2156. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3732.

The affidavit must cover all the facts showing that the county clerk has done his duty in taking the basis furnished by the assessor in entering the authorized corrections and extensions, and in making the copy furnished by him such as is required by law. State ex rel. City of Butte v. Weston, 29 Mont. 125, 132, 74 Pac. 415.

The limit of time during which the annual roll must be completed is provided for by this section. Carlson v. City of Helena, 39 Mont. 82, 103, 102 Pac. 39, 17 Ann. Cas. 1233.

History: Sec. 2610, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 2156.

2163. County treasurer charged with taxes levied. On delivering the duplicate assessment-book to the county treasurer, the county clerk must charge the treasurer with the full amount of taxes levied.

History: Sec. 2611, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 2156. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3734.

2164. County clerk to verify statements made by him. The county clerk must verify, by his affidavit attached thereto, all statements made by him under the provisions of this title.

History: Sec. 2612, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 2156. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3735.

2165. To transfer from one treasurer to another. The county clerk, if the duplicate assessment-book or the delinquent tax-list is transferred from one collector to another, must credit the one and charge the other with the amount then outstanding on the tax-book.

History: Sec. 2613, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 2156. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3736.

2166. Penalty for neglect of duty. If the county clerk fails or neglects to perform the duties prescribed by sections 2584 and 2585 (section 2123 of this code), he forfeits to the state five hundred dollars, to be recovered by action in the name of the state.

History: Sec. 2614, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 2156.

Note.—The sections above referred to have been repealed. See section 2123 of this code.

History: En. Sec. 3851, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2615, Rev. C. 1907.

This section has no application to the duplicate required for the use of city treasurers; it refers to the duplicate necessary for county uses only. The fact that the county commissioners have dispensed with such duplicate assessment-book does not prevent the county clerk from furnishing a duplicate for a city, though the original is to be used by the county treasurer. State ex rel. City of Butte v. Weston, 29 Mont. 125, 130, 74 Pac. 415.

Although the statute requires the treasurer to publish the delinquent tax-list notice, it must be published in such newspaper as the board of county commissioners directs. This is a part of the county printing, which must be arranged for by the board. Where the finding discloses that at the time the notice was published there was in existence a contract between the paper in which the notice was published and the county, made pursuant to the statutes of the state, its execution may be treated as an absolute direction to the treasurer to publish the notice in that paper. Conklin v. Cullen, 29 Mont. 38, 44, 74 Pac. 72.

2184. Manner of making publication. The publication must be made once a week for three successive weeks in such newspaper published in the county as the board of county commissioners directs. If there is no news-

Where a notice of sale for delinquent taxes was published December 30, 1895, and January 6 and 13, 1896, and the sale took place January 27, 1896, the publication was for a sufficient time. This section does not require the commissioners to designate a paper for publication, but to direct the publication to be made in a certain paper. Conklin v. Cullen, 29 Mont. 38, 43, 44, 74 Pac. 72.

2185. Time and place of sale to be designated. The publication must designate the time and place of sale.

History: Sec. 2632, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 2172. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3767.

2187. Copy of publication and affidavit to be filed with the county clerk. The county treasurer, as soon as he has made the publication required by the preceding sections, must file with the county clerk a copy of the publication, with an affidavit attached thereto that it is a true copy of the same; that the publication was made in a newspaper, stating its name and place of publication, and the date of each appearance; and in case there was no newspaper published in his county, that notices were put up in three public places, designating the places therein, which affidavit is prima facie evidence of all the facts stated therein.

History: Ap. p. Sec. 1730, 5th Div. Comp. Stat. 1887; amd. Sec. 34, p. 95; ex. L. 1887; amd. Sec. 3879, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2635, Rev. C. 1907. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3770.

History: Ap. p. Sec. 1732, 5th Div. Comp. Stat. 1887; amd. Sec. 36, p. 96, Ex. L. 1887; amd. Sec. 113, p. 111, L. 1891; amd. Sec. 3880, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2636, Rev. C. 1907.

2190. Postponement. He may postpone the day of commencing the sale from day to day; but the sale must be completed within three weeks from the day first fixed.

History: En. Sec. 114, p. 111, L. 1891; re-en. Sec. 3881, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2637, Rev. C. 1907.

2191. Designations of portions to be sold—Purchase of least quantity or interest—Sale to county. The owner or person in possession of any real estate offered for sale for taxes due thereon, may designate in writing to the county treasurer, prior to the sale, what portion of the property he wishes sold, if less than the whole; but if the owner or possessor does not, then the treasurer may designate it, and the person who will take the least quantity of the land, or in case an undivided interest is assessed, then the portion of the interest, and pay the taxes and costs due, including fifty cents to the treasurer for the duplicate certificate of sale, is the purchaser. But in case there is no purchaser in good faith for the same, as provided in this chapter, on the first day that the property is offered for sale, then when the property is offered thereafter for sale and there is no purchaser in good faith for the same, the whole amount of the property assessed must be struck off to the county as the purchaser, and the duplicate certificate delivered to the county treasurer and filed by him in his office. No charge must be made for the duplicate certificate when the county is a purchaser; and in such case the county treasurer must make an entry, "Sold to the County," on the duplicate assessment-book opposite the tax, and he must be credited with the amount thereof in the settlement.

Note.—Sections 2191 to 2197 were enacted as sections 115 to 121, pp. 111, 112, Laws of 1891; re-enacted as sections 3882 to 3888, Political Code, 1895; appearing as sections 2638 to 2644, Revised Codes 1907.

History: Sec. 2638, Rev. C. 1907.

A tax deed, showing on its face that it was based on a sale en masse of several non-contiguous parcels, was void. Casey v. Wright, 14 Mont. 315, 319, 36 Pac. 191; North Real Estate, Loan etc. Co. v. Billings L. & T. Co., 36 Mont. 356, 367, 93 Pac. 40; Cullen v. Western Mtg. & W. Title Co., 47 Mont. 513, 526, 134 Pac. 302; Horsky v. McKennan, 53 Mont. 50, 60, 162 Pac. 376. The doctrine laid down in these cases was approved in Lindeman v. Pinson, 54 Mont. 466, 470, 171, Pac. 271.

This section prohibits the county from becoming a competitive bidder at the sale of property for delinquent taxes, and it can only acquire it when there is no other purchaser in good faith; and the recitals in the deed must show the right of the county to take the property, and that it did not enter the lists as a competitive bidder for the same, otherwise the deed is void. The county cannot purchase lands at a tax sale unless authorized to do so by statute, and a strict compliance with the statute must be had before the title of the owner can be divested. Rush v. Lewis and Clark County, 36 Mont. 566, 569, 93 Pac. 943.

A statement in a deed conveying land sold to a county for taxes, that the property was offered for sale "in accordance with law," being merely a conclusion of law, imparts no validity to the deed if the recitals therein show that the sale was had at public auction at which the county was a competitive bidder. Rush v. Lewis and Clark County, 37 Mont. 240, 242, 95 Pac. 836.

2192. Resale when purchaser does not make payment. If the purchaser does not pay the tax and costs before ten o'clock p. m. of the following day, the property, on the next sale day before the regular sale, must be resold for taxes and costs.

History: Sec. 2639, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 2191.

2193. Bid of person once refusing to make payment not to be received. The bid of any person refusing to make the payment for the property purchased by him must not be received on the sale of any property advertised in the delinquent tax-list of that year.

History: Sec. 2640, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 2191.

History: Sec. 2641, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 2191. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3776.

Where from recitals in a tax deed the year of the assessment was made apparent indirectly, the fact that it contained no direct statement imparting such information did not render the deed void. Cullen v. Western etc. Title Co., 47 Mont. 513, 525, 134 Pac. 302.

2195. Signature of certificate of sale, and disposition of copies. The certificate must be signed by the county treasurer, and one copy delivered to the purchaser and the other filed in the office of the county clerk.

History: Sec. 2642, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 2191.

History: Sec: 2643, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 2191.

2197. Lien of state when vests in purchaser—How alone divested. On filing the certificate with the county clerk, the lien of the state vests in the purchaser, and is only divested by the payment to him or to the county treasurer for his use of the purchase money and one per cent. additional for each month that elapses from the date of the sale until redeemed.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 2, L. 1921.

2200. Remission of penalty 1920 taxes—Claims for refund. That the penalty of ten per cent. heretofore added to all taxes delinquent for the year 1920 is hereby remitted until the first day of October, 1921, at which time such penalty shall be added to all such taxes then remaining unpaid; provided, that in all cases where such penalty has been paid on taxes delinquent for the year 1920, such penalty shall be refunded by the board of county commissioners, or the city council, as the case may be, upon claims filed therefor in the same manner as other claims are filed, as required by law; provided, further, that no such claim for refund shall be allowed on any claims filed after June 1, 1921; provided, further, that all delinquent taxes for the year 1920 shall bear interest at the rate of one per cent. per month from November 30, 1920, until paid.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 2, L. 1921.

2201. Time of redemption of property. A redemption of the property sold may be made by the owner, or any party interested, within thirty-six months from the date of the purchase, or at any time prior to the giving of the notice and the application for a deed, as provided for in this act.

History: En. Sec. 122, p. 113, L. 1891; amd. Sec. 3889, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2645, Rev. C. 1907. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3780.

The county treasurer is entitled to receive from the purchaser, for the use of the county, three dollars for making such deed. 2209. Notice of application for tax deed. The purchaser of property sold for delinquent taxes or his assignee, must, thirty days, previous to the expiration of the time for redemption, or thirty days before he applies for a deed, serve upon the owner of the property purchased, if known, and upon the person occupying the property, if said property is occupied, and, if the records in the office of the county clerk and recorder show an unreleased mortgage or mortgages upon the property purchased, upon the mortgagee or mortgagees named in said mortgage or mortgages or, if assigned, upon the assignee or assignees of said mortgage or mortgages, a written notice, stating that said property, or a portion thereof, has been sold for delinquent taxes, giving the date of sale, the amount of property sold, the amount for which it was sold, the amount due, and the time when the right of redemption will expire, or when the purchaser will apply for a deed, and the owner of the property, or the mortgagee, or the assignee of said mortgagee has the right of redemption indefinitely until such notice has been given and the deed applied for, upon the payment of fees, percentages, penalties and costs required by law. Notice to any owner, mortgagee or assignee of mortgagee shall be given by registered letter addressed to such mortgagee or assignee at the postoffice address of said owner, mortgagee or assignee as disclosed by the mortgage records in the office of the county clerk and recorder. In case of unoccupied property, or a mining claim, such notice must be posted in a conspicuous place upon the property, and personally served upon all owners thereof residing in the county where the property is situated, and deposited in the postoffice addressed to any known owner residing outside of said county with the postage thereon prepaid, at least thirty days before the expiration of the time for redemption, or thirty days before the purchaser applies for such tax deed, in addition to notice to the mortgagee or assignee of mortgagee in the manner, and as hereby is provided; provided, that in all cases where the postoffice address of the owner, mortgagee, or assignee is unknown, the applicant shall publish once a week for two successive weeks in a newspaper published in the county where the property is situated, a notice substantially in the following form:

Notice of Application for Tax Deed.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned will on the ..... day of....., 19...., apply to the county treasurer of ..... county for a tax deed to the following described property, to-wit:

(Describe property)

Date .....

Applicant.

The first publication of such notice must be made at least thirty days before the date of redemption or application for said deed. In all cases due proof of service of notice in whatever manner given, supported by the affidavit required by law, must be filed immediately with the clerk and recorder of the county in which the property is situated, and be kept as a permanent file in his office, and such proof of notice when so filed shall be prima facie evidence of the sufficiency of the notice.

Provisions similar in character to those contained in this section and section 2212 are a limitation upon the power of the treasurer to issue the tax deed, and render void any deed issued by him without requiring a compliance with them. The affidavit in particular is the basis upon which the treasurer is to act, and the conditions from which his power to issue the deed arises must appear by the affidavit. Cullen v. Western Mortgage & Warranty Title Co., 47 Mont. 513, 527, 134 Pac. 302.

Cited or applied as section 2651, Revised Codes, before amendment, in Horsky v. McKennan, 53 Mont. 50, 58, 162 Pac. 376.

General principles governing tax deeds are set forth in 26 R. C. L. 418.

2210. Redemption from tax sales. In all cases where real estate has been sold for delinquent taxes the purchaser at such tax sale, or his assignee, may, subsequent thereto, pay the subsequent taxes assessed against said land, and upon the redemption of said land from such tax sale, the redemptioner shall, in addition to the amount for which the said land was sold, with interest thereon, pay the subsequent taxes paid by the purchaser at such tax sale, or his assignee, with interest thereon at the rate of twelve per cent. per annum from the date of the payment of such taxes, and in all notices of application for tax deed the applicant shall state, in addition to the amount paid at the tax sale, the amount of subsequent taxes paid by the applicant or his assignee upon such land, with interest thereon at the rate of twelve per cent. per annum from the date of such payment, and no redemption shall be made until the amount of such sale, with interest, and such subsequent taxes and interest shall have been paid by the person seeking to redeem such lands.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 98, L. 1913.

2211. Redemption from tax sale or payment of tax by incumbrancer. Whenever any person or corporation shall desire to redeem from a tax sale, or to pay any tax upon any lot, piece, or parcel of real estate which said person or corporation shall own or hold a mortgage or other lien against, or have any interest in, it shall be the duty of the county treasurer of the county in which such real estate is situated to permit such redemption or payment; and in case the said real estate shall have been assessed or sold, together with other real estate, or in case the tax assessed against any other property shall be a lien thereon, then it shall be the duty of the said county treasurer to compute and apportion the tax that should have properly been assessed against the said real estate sought to be redeemed, or upon which the taxes are sought to be paid, if the same had been separately assessed. Any personal tax which is a lien upon said real estate shall be likewise computed and apportioned, and upon the payment of the amount ascertained by said computation and apportionment to the said county treasurer, such real estate shall be discharged from the lien of all taxes levied and assessed against the same for the year in which the payment or redemption was made.

A tax deed is not even prima facie evidence that the holding of the certificate had, thirty days before applying for such deed, given the written notice in the manner required by this and the preceding section, prior to the amendment of the latter, of his intention to make such application. Cullen v. Western etc. Title Co., 47 Mont. 513, 527, 134 Pac. 302; Horsky v. McKennan, 53 Mont. 50, 58, 162 Pac. 376.

The reception of tax deeds in evidence, without proof of the fact that the holder of the certificates of purchase gave the thirty-day notice of his intention to apply for the deeds, was error. Horsky v. McKennan, 53 Mont. 50, 58, 162 Pac. 376.

This indenture, made by and between.....(insert name of treasurer), county treasurer of the county of ..... (insert name of county), in the state of Montana, the party of the first part, and ..... (insert name of grantee), the party of the second part, Witnesseth:

Whereas, there was assessed for the year ..... (insert year), in the name of ..... (insert name), that certain tract of land hereinafter described, and the taxes for said year levied against said property amounted to the sum of ..... (insert amount) dollars; and

Whereas, said taxes were not paid and said property was sold for the payment of said taxes to ..... (insert name of grantee), on the ..... (insert day) of ..... (insert month), A. D. ..... (insert year), for the sum of ..... (insert amount) dollars, and certificates of sale were duly issued and filed as required by law; and

Whereas, no redemption from said sale has been made, and the said grantee has given the necessary notice of application for tax deed as required by law;

Now, therefore, I, ... (insert name of treasurer), county treasurer of the county of ..... (insert name of county), in the state of Montana, for and in consideration of the sum of ..... (insert amount) dollars paid, do grant to ..... (insert name of grantee), all the property situated in ..... (insert name of county) county, state of Montana, described as follows: ..... (here insert description of the land sold for taxes and sought to be conveyed).

Witness my hand this ..... (insert day) day of ..... (insert month), A. D..... (insert year).

County treasurer of ..... county, state of Montana.

A tax deed executed in the form as provided in this section, when duly acknowledged and proved, is prima facie evidence that:

1. The property was assessed as required by law.
2. The property was equalized as required by law.
3. The taxes were levied in accordance with law.
4. The taxes were not paid.
5. That notice of tax sale was given and published, and property sold at the proper time and place as prescribed by law.
6. The property was not redeemed, and that the proper notice of application for deed has been served or posted as required by law.
7. The person who executed the deed was the proper officer.
8. Where the real estate was sold to pay taxes on personal property, that the real estate belonged to the person liable to pay the tax.

History: Ap. p. Sec. 1748, 5th Div. Comp. Stat. 1887; amd. Sec. 130, p. 115, L. 1891; re-en. Sec. 3897, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2653, Rev. C. 1907; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 103, L. 1919. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3786.

Where a tax deed shows on its face that it is void because the county was a competitive bidder at the sale, a grantee of the county cannot rely upon the presumption that official duty has been regularly performed, or that the property was sold as prescribed by law. Rush v. Lewis and Clark County, 36 Mont. 566, 570, 93 Pac. 943.

Cited or applied as section 2653, Revised Codes, before amendment, in Cullen v. Western Mortgage & Warranty Title Co., 47 Mont. 513, 523, 134 Pac. 302.

Effect of recitals in tax deed, see note in 31 A. S. R. 233.

2214. Of what deed is evidence—Actions to annul. Such deed, duly acknowledged or proved, is (except as against actual fraud) conclusive evidence of all other proceedings, from the assessment by the assessor, inclusive, up to the execution of the deed, and no action can be maintained to set aside or annul a tax deed upon any ground whatever, unless the action is commenced within two years from and after the date of issuance of such tax deed; provided, that any existing right of action to set aside or annul any tax deed, heretofore issued, shall be barred unless instituted within two years from and after the passage and approval of this act.

History: En. Sec. 131, p. 115, L. 1891; re-en. Sec. 3898, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2654, Rev. C. 1907; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 50, L. 1909. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3787.

When land is sold as the property of a particular person for taxes which have been correctly imposed upon the land, no misnomer or other mistake relating to the ownership thereof affects the sale to render it void or voidable, such mistake being in the nature of an informality or irregularity only. Cullen v. Western Mortgage & Warranty Title Co., 47 Mont. 513, 523, 134 Pac. 302.

The clause of this section, making a tax deed conclusive evidence of all proceedings leading up to its execution, refors to acts and proceedings required at the hands of the officers charged with duties in relation to assessment and taxation, and not to something necessary to be done by the applicant for the deed. Cullen v. Western Mortgage & Warranty Title Co., 47 Mont. 513, 527, 134 Pac. 302.

This section is a statute of limitations, and must be pleaded in the answer by one seeking to take advantage of it. Cullen v. Western Mortgage & Warranty Title Co., 47 Mont. 513, 528, 134 Pac. 302.

Where the sole aim of an action is to do away with a tax deed as a claim of title adverse to the plaintiff, it is an action "to set aside or annul" a tax deed so as to make the provision of this section applicable, even though it may be termed one to quiet title. Cullen v. Western Mortgage & Warranty Title Co., 47 Mont. 513, 529, 134 Pac. 302.

As this section presupposes the issuance of a valid instrument, a tax deed which is void on its face, and therefore not a deed but a nullity, does not come within the purview of its provisions. Horsky v. McKennan, 53 Mont. 50, 64, 162 Pac. 376; Lindeman v. Pinson, 54 Mont. 466, 471, 171 Pac. 271.

Power of legislature to make tax deeds conclusive, see note 4 A. S. R. 187.

2215. Title conveyed by deed. The deed conveys to the grantee the absolute title to the lands described therein, as of the date of the expiration of the period for redemption, free of all incumbrances, except the lien for taxes which may have attached subsequent to the sale, and except when the land is owned by the United States or this state, in which case it is prima facie evidence of the right of possession, accrued as of the date of the expiration of such period for redemption.

2216. Assessment-books, delinquent-books, etc., prima facie evidence of what. The assessment-book, duplicate assessment-book, or delinquent-list, or a copy thereof certified by the county clerk, showing unpaid taxes against any person or property, is prima facie evidence of the assessment, the property assessed, the delinquency, the amount of taxes due and unpaid, and that all the forms of the law in relation to the assessment and levy of such taxes have been complied with.

History: En. Sec. 133, p. 115, L. 1891; re-en. Sec. 3900, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2656, Rev. C. of 1907. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3789.

History: En. Sec. 141, p. 116, L. 1891; re-en. Sec. 3908, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2664, Rev. C. 1907.

2218. Oath administered to treasurer. The county clerk must then administer to the county treasurer an oath, to be written and subscribed in the delinquent-list, that every person and all property assessed in the delinquent-list on which taxes have been paid has been credited in the list with such payment.

History: En. Sec. 142, p. 117, L. 1891; re-en. Sec. 3909, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2665, Rev. C. 1907. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3798.

2219. Final settlement of treasurer with clerk. The county clerk must then foot up the amount of taxes remaining unpaid, and credit the treasurer with the amount, and have a final settlement with him; and the delinquent-list must remain in the county clerk's office.

History: En. Sec. 143, p. 117, L. 1891; re-en. Sec. 3910, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2666, Rev. C. 1907. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3799.

2220. Treasurer's affidavit indorsed on list. At the time mentioned in section 2217 the treasurer must make an affidavit, indorsed on the list, that the taxes not marked "paid" have not been paid, and that he has not been able to discover any property belonging to or in possession of the persons liable to pay the sum whereof to collect them.

History: En. Sec. 144, p. 117, L. 1891; re-en. Sec. 3911, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2667, Rev. C. 1907. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3800.

2221. Rate of interest on delinquent taxes. Interest at the rate of one per cent. per month must be collected on such delinquent taxes from the time they were first delinquent until paid.

History: En. Sec. 3912, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2668, Rev. C. 1907.

2222. Taxes, etc., illegally collected, to be refunded. Any taxes, per centum, and costs paid more than once or erroneously or illegally collected, may, by order of the board of county commissioners, be refunded by the county treasurer, and the state's portion of such tax, percentage, and costs must be refunded to the county, and the state auditor must draw his warrant therefor in favor of the county.

History: En. Sec. 145, p. 117, L. 1891; re-en. Sec. 3913, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2669, Rev. C. 1907. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3804.

Recovery by taxpayer of taxes paid, see notes in 22 Am. Dec. 519; 45 Am. Dec. 164; 94 A. S. R. 425.

2223. When property assessed more than once. When the treasurer discovers that any property has been assessed more than once for the same year, he must collect only the tax justly due and make return of the facts, under affidavit, to the county clerk.

History: En. Sec. 146, p. 117, L. 1891; re-en. Sec. 3914, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2670, Rev. C. 1907. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3805.

The provisions contained in the two preceding sections, and others of like import, are intended to secure the collection of lawful revenue, and to protect the owner whose property is made to bear more than its just proportion of the burden of taxation, and were not enacted to secure immunity from taxation to any one. Anaconda Copper Min. Co. v. Ravalli, 52 Mont. 422, 426, 158 Pac. 682.

2224. Land irregularly assessed, etc., not to be sold. If the treasurer discovers before the sale that on account of irregular assessment, or of any other assessment, any land ought not to be sold, he must not offer the land for sale, and the board of county commissioners must cause the assessor to enter the uncollected taxes upon the assessment-book of the next succeeding year, to be collected as other taxes entered thereon.

History: En. Sec. 147, p. 118, L. 1891; re-en. Sec. 3915, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2671, Rev. C. 1907. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3806.

2225. What mistakes do not affect sale of property for taxes. When land is sold for taxes correctly imposed as the property of a particular person, no misnomer of the owner, or supposed owner, or other mistake relating to the ownership thereof affects the sale or renders it void or voidable.

History: En. Sec. 148, p. 118, L. 1891; re-en. Sec. 3916, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2671, Rev. C. 1907. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3807.

This section does not apply to personal property. Birney v. Warren, 28 Mont. 64, 67, 72 Pac. 293.

Where land is sold as the property of a particular person for taxes which have been correctly imposed upon the land, no misnomer or other mistake relating to the ownership thereof affects the sale to render it void or voidable, such mistake being in the nature of an informality or irregularity only. Cullen v. Western Mortgage & Warranty Title Co., 47 Mont. 513, 524, 134 Pac. 302.

Cited or applied as section 3916, Political Code, in Cobban v. Hinds, 23 Mont. 338, 349, 59 Pac. 1.

Constitutionality and applicability of taxing statutes where sale is irregular, see note in 5 A. L. R. 164.

History: En. Sec. 149, p. 118, L. 1891; re-en. Sec. 3917, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2773, Rev. C. 1907. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3808.

2227. Evidence on trial of suit for such taxes. On the trial a certified copy of the assessment, signed by the county clerk of the county where the same was made, with the affidavit of the treasurer thereto attached, that the tax has not been paid, describing it as on the assessment-book or delinquent-list, is prima facie evidence that such tax and the per centum are due, and entitles him to judgment, unless the defendant proves that the tax was paid.

History: En. Sec. 150, p. 118, L. 1891; re-en. Sec. 3918, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2674, Rev. C. 1907. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3809.

2228. Allowance and payment of expense of such proceeding. The treasurer and county clerk must allow the expenses of collecting such tax, and permit a deduction thereof from the amount collected, if they do not exceed one-third of the amount of the tax collected.

History: En. Sec. 3919, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2675, Rev. C. 1907.

2229. Protest against sale requisite, when assessment void in part, to invalidate sale or grant thereunder. Whenever property is advertised for sale for the non-payment of delinquent taxes, and the assessment is valid in part and void for the excess, the sale must not for that cause be deemed invalid, nor any grant subsequently made thereunder be held to be insufficient to pass a title to the grantee, unless the owner of the property, or his agent, not less than six days before the time at which the property is advertised to be sold, delivers to the treasurer a protest in writing, signed by the owner or agent, specifying the portion of the tax which he claims to be invalid, and the ground upon which such claim is based.

2230. Duty of treasurer on delivery of such protest. In case any owner of property advertised to be sold for delinquent taxes, at least six days before the time advertised for the sale to take place, delivers to the county treasurer his protest in writing against such sale, signed by himself or his agent, claiming that the assessment is void in whole or in part, and if in part only, for what portion, and in either case specifying the grounds upon which such claim is founded, it is the duty of the treasurer either:

1. To sell the property assessed for the whole amount appearing upon the duplicate assessment-book; or

2. Withdraw the property from sale, and report the case to the board of county commissioners for its direction in the premises; and in such case the board may either direct the foreclosure of the lien of such tax by action, which proceeding is hereby authorized to be had, or direct the treasurer to proceed with the sale.

History: En. Sec. 152, p. 119, L. 1891; re-en. Sec. 3921, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2677, Rev. C. 1907.

2231. Assessment of property purchased by county and adjournment of sale thereof. In case property assessed for taxes is purchased by the county, pursuant to provisions of section 2191 of this code, it must be assessed the next year for taxes in the same manner as if it had not been so purchased. But it must not be exposed for sale, and the sale thereof, under such assessment, must be adjourned until the time of redemption under the previous sale shall have expired.

History: En. Sec. 153, p. 119, L. 1891; re-en. Sec. 3922, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2678, Rev. C. 1907. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3813.

The fact that the treasurer intends to violate this and the succeeding section, by exposing for sale, for the delinquent taxes of one year, part of the lands purchased by the county at the sale for the taxes of the preceding year, and yet unredeemed, does not entitle the owner of the equity of redemption to an injunction. Cobban v. Hinds, 23 Mont. 338, 350, 59 Pac. 1.

History: En. Sec. 154, p. 119, L. 1891; re-en. Sec. 3923, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2679, Rev. C. 1907. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3814.

Cited or applied as section 3923, Political Code, in Cobban v. Hinds, 23 Mont. 338, 350, 59 Pac. 1.

History: En. Sec. 155, p. 120, L. 1891; re-en. Sec. 3924, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2680, Rev. C. 1907. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3815.

History: En. Sec. 156, p. 120, L. 1891; re-en. Sec. 3925, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2681, Rev. C. 1907. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3816.

2235. Sale of unredeemed property by county commissioners. Whenever the county has become the purchaser of any real estate sold for delinquent taxes, and the same has not been redeemed by the person entitled so to do, and the time for such redemption has expired, the board of county commissioners may at any time, by an order made and duly entered upon the minutes of its proceedings, sell the same at public auction; provided, however, that no such sale shall be made or confirmed unless the price offered shall be sufficient to discharge all accrued taxes to date of sale, together with interest and costs, but if the price so offered shall be the reasonable market value thereof, in the judgment of said board of county commissioners, then the said board is authorized to accept said price so offered, and the chairman of said board is authorized to execute a title therefor vesting in the purchaser all the title of the state and county to the real estate so sold. The money arising from such sale must be paid into the county treasury, and the treasurer must settle for money so received as other state and county money.

CHAPTER 175.

COLLECTION OF TAXES BY SUIT.

Section 2253. Collection of Taxes by Action.
2254. Complaint in Action for Taxes.

History: En. Sec. 4020, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2738, Rev. C. 1907.

2254. Complaint in action for taxes. In such action a complaint in the following form is sufficient:

(Title of Court.)

The State of Montana,
(naming the defendant).

Plaintiff avers that the defendant is indebted to plaintiff in the sum of ..... dollars, state and county taxes for the fiscal year 19...., with ten per cent. added for the non-payment of such taxes, and ..... dollars, costs of collection to date. Plaintiff demands judgment for said several sums, and prays that a writ of attachment may issue in form as prescribed by law.

(Signed by the county treasurer, or state auditor, or his attorney.)

On the filing of such complaint, the clerk must issue a summons and the writ of attachment prayed for, and such proceedings shall be had thereunder as under writs of attachment issued in civil action. If, in such action, the plaintiff recover judgment, there shall be included in such judgment an attorney's fee of ten per cent. on the amount of the tax. In such action the certified copy mentioned in the preceding section made by the treasurer and delivered to the state auditor is prima facie evidence that the person against whose property the tax was levied is indebted to the state of Montana in the amount of such tax. In case of payment of any such taxes after suit, as above mentioned, shall have been commenced, or after the recovery of judgment therefor, such payment must be made to the county treasurer of the county in which such taxes are due, whereupon the treasurer, after distributing to the several funds of the county the portions belonging to it, and paying to the state auditor or his attorney the portion received as attorney's fees and other costs, must pay the remainder to the state treasurer, at the times and in the manner prescribed by law for the payment of other state taxes.

CHAPTER 177.

PAYMENT OF TAXES UNDER PROTEST—ACTIONS TO RECOVER.

Section 2268. Injunction Does Not Lie.
2269. Payment of Taxes Under Protest—Action to Recover.
2270. Assessment for Taxation—Increase Over Statement of Owner.
2271. Illegal Tax Refunded.
2272. Other Remedies Superseded.

1. Where the tax, or the part thereof sought to be enjoined, is illegal, or is not authorized by law. If the payment of a part of a tax is sought to be enjoined, the other part must be paid before an action can be commenced.

2. Where the property is exempt from taxation.

History: En. Sec. 204, p. 128, L. 1891; re-en. Sec. 4023, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2741, Rev. C. 1907.

This and following sections prohibit courts and judges from enjoining the sale of the property for non-payment of any tax, except in those instances where the tax is illegal, or not authorized by law, or where the property is exempt from taxation, and provide the means and remedies whereby the rights of persons who deem the taxes irregularly or improperly demanded of the owners, or sought to be enforced, against the property, may be guarded and protected. Cobban v. Hinds, 23 Mont. 338, 349, 350, 59 Pac. 1. See Montana Ore Purchasing Co. v. Maher, 32 Mont. 480, 490, 491, 81 Pac. 13; Hensley v. City of Butte, 33 Mont. 206, 211, 83 Pac. 482, Cobban v. Meagher, 42 Mont. 399, 411, 113 Pac. 290, and Barnard Realty Co. v. City of Butte, 50 Mont. 159, 167, 168, 145 Pac. 946.

Injunction will lie if the action of the assessor or board of equalization was such that the tax complained of is manifestly void under any circumstances; but, if the error complained of is only an irregularity on the part of the assessor, board of equalization, or treasurer, or where the tax is not necessarily void under all circumstances, the remedy of payment under protest and an action to recover back is exclusive, except in the unusual cases mentioned in section 2272. Montana Ore Purchasing Co. v. Maher, 32 Mont. 480, 490, 81 Pac. 13; Hensley v. City of Butte, 33 Mont. 206, 211, 83 Pac. 482; Cobban v. Meagher, 42 Mont. 399, 411, 113 Pac. 290; Barnard Realty Co. v. City of Butte, 50 Mont. 159, 167, 145 Pac. 946.

The court may not restrain the collection of a tax levied on the surface of an unpatented mining claim having a separate and independent value because of its use for other than mining purposes, on the ground that the assessor failed to set forth in the assessment the fact that the surface ground was assessed for other than mining purposes, but the remedy is by an action at law under section 2269 to recover the taxes paid under protest. Cobban v. Meagher, 42 Mont. 399, 410, 411, 113 Pac. 290.

This section, by necessary implication, provides a remedy by injunction where the tax demanded is illegal or not authorized by law. Cunningham v. Northwestern Improvement Co., 44 Mont. 180, 218, 119 Pac. 554.

Where a portion of an assessment made in a lump sum to plaintiff railway company, was legal and a portion illegal, and the company was unable to ascertain and pay that which was legal, the remedy by injunction to restrain the threatened issuance of a tax deed was available to it. Northern Pac. Ry. Co. v. Musselshell County, 54 Mont. 96, 108, 109, 169 Pac. 53.

Custer County, 28 Mont. 278, 282, 72 Pac. 659; as section 2741. Revised Codes, in Reilly v. Hatheway, 46 Mont. 1, 11, 125 Pac. 417.

Erroneous or invalid levy or assessment as ground for injunction against collection of tax, see notes in 3 Ann. Cas. 564; 12 Ann. Cas. 764; Ann. Cas. 1915C, 755.

Injunction as remedy for assessment of property disproportionately with other property, see notes in Ann. Cas. 1914D, 916; Ann. Cas. 1917E, 97.

2269. Payment of taxes under protest—Action to recover. In all cases of levy of taxes, licenses, or other demands for public revenue which are deemed unlawful by the party whose property is thus taxed, or from whom such tax or license is demanded or enforced, such party may pay under protest such tax or license, or any part thereof, deemed unlawful, to the officers designated and authorized to collect same; and thereupon the party so paying, or his legal representatives, may bring an action in any court of competent jurisdiction against the officer to whom said license or tax was paid, or against the county or municipality in whose behalf the same was collected, to recover such tax or license, or any portion thereof, paid under protest, provided, that any action instituted to recover any tax paid under protest shall be commenced within sixty days after the thirtieth day of November of the year in which such tax was paid. The tax so paid under protest shall be held by the county treasurer, and no part thereof paid to the state treasurer until the determination of any action brought for the recovery thereof.

History: Ap. p. Sec. 4024, Pol. C. 1895; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 108, L. 1905; re-en. Sec. 2742, Rev. C. 1907; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 135, L. 1909.

Note.—The latter portion of this section as amended in 1909 is omitted from this code, having been held unconstitutional in Dolenty v. Broadwater County, 45 Mont. 261; 122 Pac. 919.

This section, being construed with section 2272, is not restricted to cases brought where an assessment was void, notwithstanding the provisions of section 2268. Western Ranches v. Custer County, 28 Mont. 278, 282, 283, 72 Pac. 659.

If the owner of the surface of an unpatented mining claim objects to its assessment for town-site purposes, he has a remedy by paying the taxes under protest, and then suing for their recovery, under section 2272, in an action at law, and the remedy thus provided is made, by said section 2272, to supersede all others. Cobban v. Meagher, 42 Mont. 399, 410, 113 Pac. 290.

A statute, providing for payment of "taxes, licenses, and other demands for public revenue" under protest, is inapplicable to unauthorized demands by the state auditor. Cunningham v. Northwestern Improvement Co., 44 Mont. 180, 218, 119 Pac. 554.

The provisions of this section, that an action to recover taxes paid under protest must be commenced within sixty days after the thirtieth day of November of the year in which taxes are paid, applies generally to any action instituted to recover any tax paid under protest. Apparently the legislature assumed that taxes might be paid under protest and contested for reasons other than those referred to in section 2269; and it was for the purpose of covering such cases that the amendment to this section was made, and a uniform rule established covering all cases of action to recover taxes paid under protest. Dolenty v. Broadwater County, 45 Mont. 261, 265, 122 Pac. 919.

Whenever a statute grants a right which did not exist at common law, and prescribes the time within which the right must be exercised, the limitation thus imposed does not affect the remedy merely, but is of the essence of the right itself, and one who seeks to enforce such right must show affirmatively that he has brought his action within the time fixed by the statute; and if he fails in this regard, he fails to disclose any right to relief under the statute. Dolenty v. Broadwater County, 45 Mont. 261, 267, 122 Pac. 919.

An action to recover an unlawful license fee, exacted by a city ordinance, and paid under protest, was held to be properly brought under this section before its amendment, and the plaintiff was not required to resort to the remedy given under the preceding section. Reilly v. Hatheway, 46 Mont. 1, 11, 125 Pac. 417.

An injunction lies to restrain the collection of a tax wholly void. Barnard Realty Co. v. City of Butte, 50 Mont. 159, 167, 168, 145 Pac. 946.

If money paid under protest upon a special improvement assessment is a "tax, license, or other demand for public revenue," within the meaning of this section, suit to recover same is barred sixty days after November 30th of the year in which the tax was paid. If, however, money so paid is not such a "tax, license, or other demand for revenue," it forms the basis of a mere demand against the city, not suable until after presentation to and disallowance by the city council. Leggat v. City of Butte, 54 Mont. 137, 140, 168 Pac. 38.

Cited or applied as section 4024, Political Code, before amendment, in Montana Ore Purchasing Co. v. Maher, 32 Mont. 480, 490, 81 Pac. 13; Hensley v. City of Butte, 33 Mont. 206, 210, 83 Pac. 481; as section 2742, Revised Codes, as amended, in Hill v. County of Lewis and Clark, 54 Mont. 479, 485, 171 Pac. 929; Read v. Lewis and Clark County, 55 Mont. 412, 414, 178 Pac. 177.

Recovery of illegal tax paid "under protest," see notes in 8 Ann. Cas. 669; 10 Ann. Cas. 1050; Ann. Cas. 1915A, 495.

Payment of tax to avoid imposition of penalty as involuntary, see note in Ann. Cas. 1913C, 1052.

Prohibition as remedy against levy and collection of tax, see note in 20 Ann. Cas. 964.

Necessity and sufficiency of statement of grounds in notice of protest required as condition of recovering back payment of an unlawful tax, see note in 36 L. R. A. (N. S.) 476.

2270. Assessment for taxation—Increase over statement of owner. Whenever any person has delivered to the assessor a sworn statement of his property subject to taxation as now provided by law, and given the estimated value of such property, and the assessor shall increase such estimated value, or add other property to such assessment list, he shall, at least ten days prior to the meeting of the county board of equalization, give to such person written notice of such change, which notice shall be substantially in the following form:

(Date) .....

Mr. .....

A change has been made in your assessment list as follows:

Assessor ..... county.

Such person may then appear before the county board of equalization, ascertain the nature of such change, and contest the same; and if the assessment of any such person has been added to or changed, either by the assessor or by the county board of equalization, and such person has not been notified thereof and given an opportunity to contest the same before the county board of equalization, the tax of such increased value or added property shall, upon such facts being established, be adjudged by the court to be void, and such facts and all questions relating thereto, when said tax has been paid under protest, may be heard and determined in the action provided for in the preceding section. When any person has appeared before the county board of equalization, and has contested the increase in the estimated value of his property, or the additions of other property to his assessment list, and is aggrieved at the final action of the board in making or allowing such increase or addition, he may, in the action provided for in the preceding section, contest and litigate the payment of taxes on such increased valuation or added property list, on the same grounds and for the same reasons that he has contested the same before the county board of equalization, and for no other reason and on no other reason and on no other ground; provided, that any action instituted for the purpose of recovering any tax, paid under protest for any of the reasons mentioned in this section, shall be commenced within sixty days after the thirtieth day of November of the year in which such tax was paid; provided, further, that when any action is instituted to recover any tax paid, if the valuation of the property as increased by the board of equalization or assessor is an over-valuation of such property, the jury in the case shall determine the actual value of such property at the time the same became liable for taxes, and if the value as fixed by the jury is in excess of the amount on which taxes were levied, the plaintiff shall be liable in damages equal to the product obtained by multiplying such excess valuation as found by the jury by the rate per cent. at which taxes were levied in the municipality where the property was assessed for the year the protest was made.

This section applies only to actions brought to recover taxes paid under protest for any of the reasons therein mentioned. Dolenty v. Broadwater County, 45 Mont. 261, 265, 122 Pac. 919.

Where the taxing authorities levy a tax not authorized by law or upon property not subject to be taxed, their action is without jurisdiction and wholly void, and the remedy by injunction is available. The right of the owner of property to relief by injunction is not in anywise affected by his failure, either upon notice by the assessor or by the board itself, to make timely objection. The assessment being wholly illegal, because without authority, its validity may be questioned by any available method. Barnard Realty Co. v. City of Butte, 50 Mont. 159, 167, 145 Pac. 946.

The provision found in this section, to the effect that if the assessment has been added to or changed either by the assessor or by the county board of equalization, etc., is, by its terms, available only to the "person who had delivered to the assessor a sworn statement of his property subject to taxation" with "the estimated value" thereof. This means all of his taxable property, according to his best knowledge and belief, and the fact that, notwithstanding such list, the assessor or board may increase the value or add other property implies that an honest controversy must exist between the public and the taxpayer as to what property should have been taxed, or what value should have been placed upon it. Hill v. County of Lewis and Clark, 54 Mont. 479, 485, 486, 171 Pac. 929.

Cited or applied as section 2743, Revised Codes, before amendment, in Merges v. Altenbrand, 45 Mont. 355, 364, 123 Pac. 21; as section 2743, Revised Codes, as amended, in Leggat v. City of Butte, 54 Mont. 137, 139, 168 Pac. 38; Anaconda Copper Min. Co. v. Ravalli County et al., 56 Mont. 530, 186 Pac. 332.

2271. Illegal tax refunded. In case it be determined in such action that said tax or license, or any portion thereof so paid under protest, was unlawfully collected, judgment for recovery thereof and lawful interest thereon, together with cost of action, shall be entered in favor of the plaintiff; and upon being presented with a duly authenticated copy of such judgment, the proper officer or officers of the county or municipality whose officers collected or received such tax shall audit and allow such judgment, and cause a warrant to be drawn on the treasury of that county or municipality for the amount recovered by said judgment in favor of the legal holder thereof; which warrant shall be paid in preference to warrants of any other class drawn on such treasury.

Cited or applied as section 4025, Political Code, in Barrett v. Shannon, 19 Mont. 397, 400, 48 Pac. 746; Cobban v. Hinds, 23 Mont. 338, 350, 59 Pac. 1; Western Ranches v. Custer County, 28 Mont. 278, 284, 72 Pac. 659; Montana Ore Purchasing Co. v. Maher, 32 Mont. 480, 490, 81 Pac. 13; Hensley v. City of Butte, 33 Mont. 206, 210, 83 Pac. 481.

2272. Other remedies superseded. The remedy hereby provided shall supersede the remedy of injunction and all other remedies which might be invoked to prevent the collection of taxes or licenses alleged to be irregularly levied or demanded, except in unusual cases where the remedy hereby provided is deemed by the court to be inadequate.

History: En. Sec. 4026, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2745, Rev. C. 1907.

The publication of the notice of a tax sale three weeks, when the statute required four weeks, does not render the taxes illegal, and authorize the enjoining of the collection of such tax. Nor does the fact that the treasurer intends to violate certain sections of the law, by exposing for sale, for the delinquent taxes of one year a part of the lands purchased by the county at the tax sales of the preceding year, and yet unredeemed, entitle the owner of the equity of redemption to an injunction, since the above section provides that the remedy before the board of equalization shall supersede the remedy of injunction, etc., except in those unusual cases where the remedy thereby provided is deemed by the court inadequate. Cobban v. Hinds, 23 Mont. 338, 350, 59 Pac. 1.

The phrase "irregularly levied or demanded" was used by the legislature advisedly, and as prescribing the limits wherein the statutory remedy is exclusive, as distinguished from those cases of illegal taxes the collection of which may be restrained by injunction. Montana Ore Purchasing Co. v. Maher, 32 Mont. 480, 490, 81 Pac. 13.

Cited or applied as section 4026, Political Code, in Western Ranches v. Custer County, 28 Mont. 278, 282, 72 Pac. 659; Hensley v. City of Butte, 50 Mont. 159, 167, 145 Pac. 946.

Right to resort to court to recover taxes paid on erroneous or excessive assessment without previous resort to statutory remedies, see note in 16 L. R. A. (N. S.) 685.

The assessor may require the person or his agent or any officer or agent or manager of any association or corporation to make a verified statement showing the number and giving the names of the employees of such person, association, or corporation, and if such statement is not furnished, the assessor must make an estimate of the persons so employed and assess them, and such statement is as valid as if made on a verified statement. The person, association, or corporation refusing to make such verified statement forfeits the sum of five hundred dollars, which may be recovered in an action brought in the name of the county.

It is not the duty of the assessor to offer to swear the person or persons as to the facts he wished to elicit. State v. Owsley, 17 Mont. 94, 42 Pac. 105.

2285. May seize property of corporation. The assessor, in case of a failure of a person, corporation, or association to pay the poll-tax in the manner mentioned in this chapter, must seize so much of the property of

The state, in the exercise of its police power, has authority to care for its poor, sick, and infirm, who are public charges, and it may delegate that authority to the counties; moreover, an exaction imposed by it in so caring for such persons is not invalid merely because it may be called a poll-tax; such an exaction is not a "tax" as that term is used in the constitution and revenue measures generally, and it is not subject to the uniformity rule or to other restrictions that hedge about measures relating to taxation. Pohl v. Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Ry. Co., 52 Mont. 572, 577, 160 Pac. 515. See, also, Hilger v. Moore, 56 Mont. 146, 169, 182 Pac. 477.

Second. Mutual savings bank not having a capital stock represented by shares;

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 79, L. 1917; Subd. 16 amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 64, L. 1921.

The purpose of this act being the imposition of a license fee of one per cent. upon the net income of every corporation in the state for the privilege of doing business as such, without regard to the character of the business, insurance corporations were intended to be within its purview. Equitable Life Assur. Co. v. Hart, 55 Mont. 76, 84, 173 Pac. 1062.

This act did not operate to repeal section 6112, requiring insurance corporations to pay certain license fees before commencing to do business in this state. Equitable Life Assur. Co. v. Hart, 55 Mont. 76, 86, 88, 173 Pac. 1062.

The license fee required of insurance corporations by this act and section 6112 do not constitute a case of double taxation, the impositions, though upon the same persons, not being for the same thing. Equitable Life Assur. Co. v. Hart, 55 Mont. 76, 86, 173 Pac. 1062.

This act is not unconstitutional because of alleged discrimination between corporations whose business is and those whose business is not wholly within this state, such discrimination being necessary to attain reasonable equality of burdens between the two. Equitable Life Assur. Co. v. Hart, 55 Mont. 76, 89, 173 Pac. 1062.

2297. Method of ascertaining net income of corporation doing business wholly within state. In the case of a corporation engaged in business wholly within the state of Montana, such net income shall be ascertained by deducting from the gross amount of its income received within the year from all sources.

First. All the ordinary and necessary expenses paid within the year in the maintenance and operation of its business and properties, including rentals or other payments required to be made as a condition to the continued use or possession of property to which the corporation has not taken or is not taking title, or in which it has no equity.

Second. All losses actually sustained and charged off within the year and not compensated by insurance or otherwise, including a reasonable allowance for the wear and tear of property arising out of its use or employment in the business or trade. No deduction shall be allowed for any amount paid out for any buildings, permanent improvements or betterments made to increase the value of any property or estate and no deduction shall be made for any amount of expense of restoring property or making good the exhaustion thereof for which an allowance is or has been made.

Third. The amount of interest paid within the year on its indebtedness to an amount of such indebtedness, not in excess of a sum of (a) the entire amount of the paid-up capital stock, outstanding at the close of the year, or if no capital stock, the entire amount of capital employed in the business at the close of the year, and (b) one-half of its interest-bearing indebtedness then outstanding. For the purpose of this act preferred capital stock shall not be considered interest-bearing indebtedness and interest or dividends paid upon this stock shall not be deductible from gross income. In cases wherein shares of capital stock are issued without par or normal value the amount of paid-up capital stock within the meaning of this section as represented by such shares will be the amount of cash or its equivalent paid or transferred to the corporation as a consideration for such shares. In the case of indebtedness wholly secured by property collateral, tangible or intangible, the subject of sale or hypothecation in the ordinary business of the corporation, as a dealer only in the property constituting such collateral or in loaning the funds thereby procured, the total interest paid by such corporation within the year on any such indebtedness may be deducted as a part of its expenses of doing business, but interest on such indebtedness shall only be deductible on an amount of such indebtedness in excess of the actual value of the property collateral. In the case of bonds or other indebtedness which have been issued with a guarantee that the interest payable thereon shall be free from taxation, no deduction for the payment of the license fee herein imposed or any other tax or license fee paid pursuant to such guarantee shall be allowed. In the case of a bank interest paid within the year on deposits of any moneys received for investment and secured by interest-bearing certificates of indebtedness issued by such bank shall be allowed.

Fourth. Taxes and license fees paid within the year imposed by authority of the United States or its territories or possessions, or any foreign country, or under the authority of this state or any county, school district, or municipality or other taxing subdivision of this state, not including those assessed against local benefits.

Fifth. In the case of insurance companies, in addition to the above; the net addition required by law to be made within the year to reserve funds, and within the year on policy and annuity contracts.

Sixth. And in addition to the foregoing deductions, every such corporation shall also have the right and privilege of making an additional arbitrary deduction of the sum of two thousand five hundred dollars.

2298. Method of ascertaining net income of corporations doing business partly within the state. In the case of a corporation engaged partly in business within the state of Montana and partly within any other state or territory of the United States or any foreign country, the net income shall be ascertained by deducting from the gross amount of its income received within the year from all sources within the state of Montana, other than the income derived from interstate commerce.

First. All the ordinary and necessary expenses actually paid within the year out of earnings in the maintenance and operation of its business and property within the state of Montana, including rentals or other payments required to be made as a condition to the continued use or possession of property to which the corporation has not taken or is not taking title or in which it has no equity.

Second. All losses actually sustained within the year in business or trade conducted by it within the state of Montana, and not compensated by insurance or otherwise, including a reasonable allowance for the wear and tear of property arising out of its use or employment in the business or trade within the state of Montana. No deduction shall be allowed for any amount paid out for new buildings, permanent improvements, or betterments made to increase the value of any property or estate, and no deduction shall be made for any amount of expense of restoring property or making good the exhaustion thereof for which an allowance is or has been made.

Third. The amount of interest paid within the year on its indebtedness in the business carried on in the state of Montana to an amount of such indebtedness not in excess of the proportion of the sum of (a) the entire amount of the paid up capital stock outstanding at the close of the year, or if no capital stock, the entire amount of the capital employed in the business at the close of the year and but one-half of its interest-bearing indebtedness then outstanding which the gross amount of its income for the year from business transacted and capital invested within the state of Montana bears to the gross amount of its income derived from all sources within and without the state of Montana. In case of bonds or other indebtedness which have been issued with a guarantee that the interest payable thereon shall be free from taxation, no deduction for the payment of the license fee herein imposed or any other tax paid pursuant to such guarantee shall be allowed.

Fourth. Taxes paid within the year imposed by the state of Montana or by any county, school district or municipality or other taxing subdivision of the state of Montana not including those assessed against local benefits.

Fifth. In the case of insurance companies, in addition to the above: (a) The net addition required by law to be made within the taxable year to reserve funds (including in the case of assessment insurance companies, the actual deposit of sums with state or territorial officers pursuant to law as additions to guarantee of reserve funds); and (b) the sums other than dividends paid within the taxable year on policy and annuity contracts.

Sixth. And in addition to the foregoing deductions every such corporation shall also have the right and privilege of making an additional arbitrary deduction of the sum of two thousand five hundred dollars.

Provided, however, that as to any corporation engaged in both intrastate and interstate commerce, the net earnings from intrastate business in Montana, so far as expenses of maintenance and operation are concerned, shall be determined by deducting from the gross earnings from intrastate business in Montana such portion thereof as the total expenses of such corporation for maintenance and operation, both within and without the state of Montana, are of the gross earnings of such corporation from all sources both within and without the state; provided, further, that as to any such corporation the deduction for interest shall be such portion of all interest paid on the entire indebtedness of such corporation as the gross intrastate earnings of such corporation from all sources, both within and without the state, and the deduction for taxes shall be such portion of all taxes paid by such corporation in Montana as the gross intrastate earnings of such corporation in Montana are of the gross earnings of such corporation from all sources within the state, and otherwise the foregoing provisions with reference to deduction shall apply.

2299. Upon what income license tax to be computed—Return of annual net income. The license fee shall be computed upon the total net income of the corporation received within each preceding calendar year ending December 31st; provided, that any corporation subject to this license fee may designate the last day of any month in the year as the day of the close of its fiscal year, and shall be entitled to have the license fee payable by it computed upon the basis of the net income ascertained as herein provided for the year ending on the day so designated in the year preceding the date of assessment, instead of upon the basis of the net income for the calendar year preceding the date of assessment, and it shall give notice to the state treasurer of the day it has thus designated as the close of its fiscal year, at any time not less than thirty days after the first day of January of the year in which its return would be filed if made upon the basis of the calendar year.

Every corporation subject to the license fee herein imposed shall, for the year ending on the thirty-first day of December, or for its fiscal year selected under the provisions hereof, in each year hereafter, beginning with the year 1917, render a true and accurate return of its annual net income, in the manner and form to be prescribed by the state treasurer with the approval of the state board of equalization, and containing such facts, data, and information as are appropriate, and in the opinion of the state treasurer necessary to determine the correctness of the net income returned, and to carry out the provisions of this act. For the purpose of fixing the license fee to be paid for the year 1917, every corporation subject to the license fee herein imposed shall make the required return as to its annual net income for the year 1916, on or before the first day of May, 1917. The return shall be sworn to by the president, vice-president, or other principal officer, and by the treasurer or assistant treasurer, and shall be filed with the state treasurer on or before the first day of March in each year except the year 1917, when it shall be filed on or before the first day of May. In cases wherein receivers, trustees in bankruptcy, or assignees are operating the property or business of a corporation subject to the license fee imposed by this act, such receiver, trustee, or assignee shall make the return in the same manner and form as such corporation is hereinbefore required to make return, and any license fee due on the basis of such returns made by the receiver, trustee, or assignee, shall be assessed and collected in the same manner as if assessed directly against the corporation of whose business or property they have custody and control, and shall be paid by such receiver, trustee, or assignee out of the property of the company in his hands, prior to the claims of creditors or stockholders.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 79, L. 1917.

2300. Assessment of license fee—Notice and payment. All assessments shall be made by the state treasurer, and the several corporations shall be notified of the amounts for which they are respectively liable, on or before the first day of June of each successive year, and said assessments shall be paid on or before the fifteenth day of June; provided, that every corporation computing its license fee upon the income of the fiscal year which it may designate in the manner hereinbefore provided, shall pay the fee due under its assessment within thirty days after the date upon which it is required to file its list or return of income for assessment. In cases of refusal or neglect to make such return, and in cases of erroneous, false, or fraudulent returns, the state treasurer shall, upon the discovery thereof at any time within three years after said return is due, make a return upon information obtained as provided for in this act, and the assessment made by him shall be paid by such corporation immediately upon notification of the amount of such assessment. If the license fee assessed thereunder shall not be paid by any corporation liable to pay the same under the provisions of this act on or before the fifteenth day of June in any year, or within thirty days from the date on which the return of income is required to be made by the corporation, there shall be added the sum of ten per cent. on the amount of the license fee unpaid, and interest at the rate of one per cent. per month upon said license fee from the time the same becomes due, and the state shall have a lien for the payment of such license fee, penalty, and interest, which said lien shall attach to any and all property owned or possessed within the state by such corporation, which lien may be enforced in the same manner as liens are enforced at law.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 79, L. 1917.

2301. Penalty for refusal to make return or rendering false or fraudulent return. If any corporation shall refuse or neglect to make a return at the time hereinbefore specified in each year, or shall render a false or fraudulent return, such corporation shall be liable to a penalty of not exceeding five thousand dollars, and may be adjudged by a court of competent jurisdiction to forfeit the right to continue to engage in business in the state of Montana as such corporation until the license fee, together with all penalties and costs, shall be paid, which forfeiture may be enforced by the attorney-general by proper proceedings in court.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 79, L. 1917.

2302. Filing returns and corrections—To be open to inspection, when. When the assessment shall be made as provided in this act, the returns, together with any corrections thereof which may have been made by the state treasurer, shall be filed in the office of the state board of equalization, and shall constitute public records and be open to inspection as such only upon the order of the governor, and under rules and regulations to be prescribed by the state board of equalization.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 79, L. 1917.

2303. Understatement of returns—Proceedings. If the state treasurer has reason to believe that the amount of any income returned is understated, he should give notice in writing of not less than five days to the corporation making the return to show cause why the amount of the return should not be increased, and upon proof of the amount understated may increase the same accordingly. Such corporation may furnish sworn testimony to prove any relevant fact, and, if dissatisfied with the decision of the state treasurer, may appeal to the state board of equalization for decision under such rules of procedure as may be prescribed by the state board of equalization. The state treasurer, with the approval of the state board of equalization, shall have power to prescribe forms for return and notices, and such other regulations as may from time to time be found to be necessary for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this act. Jurisdiction is hereby conferred upon the district court of the first judicial district of the state of Montana, in and for the county of Lewis and Clark, to compel the attendance of witnesses to testify before the state board of equalization, together with the production of books and such other testimony by appropriate process.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 79, L. 1917.

2304. Invalidity of portion of law does not affect remainder. If any section, subsection, subdivision, sentence, clause, paragraph, or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional or void, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act, so long as sufficient remains of the act to render the same operative and reasonably effective for carrying out the main purpose and intention of the legislature in enacting the same, as such purpose and intention may be disclosed by this act.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 87, L. 1917.

2306. Statements to be filed with state board of equalization. Any express company as defined in the preceding section, doing business in this state, shall annually, between the first and thirtieth day of April, after the approval of this act, under oath of the person constituting such company, if a person, or under oath of the president, treasurer, superintendent or chief officer in this state of such association or corporation, if an association or corporation, make and file with the state board of equalization, a statement in such form as the board may prescribe, containing the following facts:

In case of failure or refusal of any express company to make the statement required by law or furnish the board any information required by it, the board shall inform itself as best it may on the matters necessary to be known in order to discharge its duty, and at any time after the meeting of the board and before the gross receipts of any express company for business done within the state are determined, any person, company or corporation interested shall have the right, on written application, to appear before the board and be heard on the matter of such determination. After the determination of the amount of the gross receipts of any express company for business done in the state and before the certification of such amount by such board, the board may, on the application of any person, company or corporation interested, or on its own motion, review and correct its findings in such manner as may seem to it to be just and proper.

The attorney-general, on request of the state board of equalization, shall institute such action against any such person or persons, joint-stock company or corporation so delinquent in any court of competent jurisdiction in this state.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 87, L. 1917.

2310. State board of equalization authorized to require production of books. Any member of the board is authorized and empowered to administer such oath. Any person who shall refuse to attend before the board when subpoenaed so to do, or shall refuse to bring with him and submit for the inspection of the board any books or papers in his possession, custody or control, or shall refuse to answer any questions put to him by the board affecting the organization or business of the express company under investigation shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof, shall be fined not more than five hundred dollars nor less than one hundred dollars.

The state board of equalization shall, on the first Monday of August, annually, enter in a book provided for that purpose the amount of gross receipts of express companies doing business in this state for the year next preceding the first day of April, as determined by the provisions of this act. It shall be the duty of the state treasurer annually to collect from each such express company doing business in this state, a sum in the nature of a license tax to be computed by taking four per centum of the amount fixed by the state board of equalization as the gross receipts of such express company for business done within the state for the year next preceding the first day of April as determined and certified by the state board of equalization; provided, however, that nothing contained in this act shall exempt or relieve any express company from the assessment and taxation of its tangible property in the manner authorized and provided by law. History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 141, L. 1911.

Note.—The attorney-general of Montana in volume 4, p. 352, Opinions of the Attorney-General, holds that this and the following section apply only to sleeping-cars used in purely local or intrastate commerce, and as authority for that position cites the case of State v. Rocky Mountain Bell Tel. Co., 27 Mont. 394, 71 Pac. 311, in which it was held under a similar statute providing that telephone companies doing business in this state must pay a license in each county for each instrument in use, that it will not be implied that the legislature intended to go beyond its lawful powers and that as to instruments used in interstate business the act was intended to have no application whatever.

2315. Statement to be filed by company. Every such person, association, or corporation shall annually, on the thirty-first day of December of each year, file in the office of the state treasurer a statement of the number of such cars used by it during the year preceding in the conduct of such business, and the names of such cars, so far as the same have names, which statement shall be verified by the oath of some officer of the corporation, testifying of his own knowledge as to the facts therein stated.

The county clerk must affix his official seal to, number, and sign all licenses, and from time to time deliver them to the county treasurer in such quantity as may be required, taking his receipt therefor, and charge him therewith, giving in the entry the numbers, classes, and amount thereof.

History: En. Sec. 4041, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2747, Rev. C. 1907. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3357.

2412. County clerk to keep license account. The county clerk must keep in his office the stubs of all licenses by him delivered to the county treasurer, and a ledger in which he must keep the county treasurer's account for all licenses delivered to him, sold or returned unsold by him.

2413. When license to be procured. A license must be procured immediately before the commencement of any business or occupation liable to a license tax from the county treasurer of the county where the applicant desires to transact the same, which license authorizes the party obtaining the same in his town, city, or particular locality in the county to transact the business described in such license; separate licenses must be obtained for each branch establishment or separate house of business located in the same county. No license issued under this chapter authorizes any person to carry on any business within the limits of any incorporated city or town having power by its charter to impose or levy city or town license taxes, unless such person, in addition to the license provided by this chapter, also procures the license required by the ordinance or orders of such city or town.

History: En. Sec. 4043, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2749, Rev. C. 1907. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3359.

This section requires that a license shall be obtained as a condition precedent to the right to do business. State v. Northern Pac. Ex. Co., 27 Mont. 419, 421, 71 Pac. 404, 94 Am. St. Rep. 824.

necessary affidavit for the writ of attachment, and such writ of attachment may issue without any bonds being given on behalf of the plaintiff; and in case of a recovery by the plaintiff, fifteen dollars damages must be added to the judgment and costs to be collected from the defendant. It shall be the duty of the board of county commissioners or the state examiner, when examining the treasurer's report, to investigate if any persons are doing business in the county without a license, or if the amount of the license is sufficient. In either event the treasurer shall be officially notified, and thereafter shall be personally liable for such license or increase unless he promptly proceeds under this section or under section 2419 of this code to collect the same.

History: Ap. p. Sec. 4044, Pol. C. 1895; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 92, L. 1903; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 122, L. 1907; re-en. Sec. 2750, Rev. C. 1907. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3360.

The words "any person required to take out a license" mean any person engaged in a profession, trade, or occupation for which a license tax is required and a person engaged in any such business, upon the payment of the required fee, can demand a license as a matter of right. In the enactment of the section, the legislature intended nothing more than to provide means for the collection of a license fee from one entitled to a license as a matter of right upon payment of the fee. State ex rel. Carter v. Kall, 53 Mont. 162, 166, 162 Pac. 385, 5 A. L. R. 1309.

2415. County treasurer—Duties. History: En. Sec. 4045, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2751, Rev. C. 1907. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3361.

2416. Proof on trial. Upon the trial of any action authorized by this chapter, the defendant is deemed not to have procured the proper license unless he either produces it or proves that he did procure it; but he may plead in bar of the action a recovery against him and the payment by him in a civil action of the proper license tax, together with damages and costs.

History: En. Sec. 4, p. 200, L. 1897; re-en. Sec. 2776, Rev. C. 1907.

17 Mont. 54, 41 Pac. 1078, 30 L. R. A. 415; State v. Camp Sing, 18 Mont. 128, 44 Pac. 516, 56 Am. St. Rep. 551, 32 L. R. A. 635.

The legislature is not required to tax all occupations equally or uniformly; hence it had power to single out proprietors of hand laundries and compel them to pay a license; and so long as the law was uniform as to all persons operating such laundries, there was no denial of the equal protection of the laws. Quong Wing v. Kirkendall, 39 Mont. 64, 69, 101 Pac. 250; affirmed in 223 U. S. 59, 63, 56 L. Ed. 350, 32 Sup. Ct. 192.

Assuming that this section classifies laundries for license purposes, into steam laundries and laundries operated by hand, such classification is not arbitrary or unreasonable. Quong Wing v. Kirkendall, 39 Mont. 64, 68, 101 Pac. 250; affirmed in 223 U. S. 59, 63, 56 L. Ed. 350, 32 Sup. Ct. 192.

This section is not, because of the exemptions therein contained, an unconstitutional denial of the equal protection of the laws. Quong Wing v. Kirkendall, 223 U. S. 59, 56 L. Ed. 350, 32 Sup. Ct. 192.

2441. Architects, builders, contractors, manufacturers. Every architect, builder, contractor, or manufacturer, doing a business of more than fifteen thousand dollars per year, must pay a license of ten dollars per quarter.

History: En. Sec. 4082, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2778, Rev. C. 1907.

A merchant tailor is not a manufacturer within the meaning of this section. State v. Johnson, 20 Mont. 367, 369, 51 Pac. 820.

2442. Manufacturers of malt. Every manufacturer of malt, when not engaged in the manufacture of malt liquors in the state of Montana, must pay a license of one hundred dollars per annum.

Cited or applied as section 4083, Political Code, in State v. Courtney, 27 Mont. 378, 382, 71 Pac. 308; as section 2779, Revised Codes, in Equitable Life Assur. Co. v. Hart, 55 Mont. 76, 84, 173 Pac. 1062.

This section does not authorize an action to collect a license tax, but merely imposes a penalty for doing business without the license required. State ex rel. Carter v. Kall, 53 Mont. 162, 165, 162 Pac. 385, 5 A. L. R. 1309.

State, county, and local health officers, or their authorized deputies, within their respective jurisdictions, are hereby directed and empowered, when in their judgment it is necessary to protect the public health, to make examinations of persons reasonably suspected of being infected with venereal disease, and to detain such persons until the results of such examinations are known, to require persons infected with venereal disease to report for treatment to a reputable physician and continue treatment until cured, or to submit to treatment provided at public expense until cured; and also, when in their judgment it is necessary to protect the public health, to isolate or quarantine persons infected with venereal disease. It shall be the duty of all local, county, and state health officers, or their authorized deputies, within their respective jurisdictions, to investigate sources of infection of venereal disease, to co-operate with the proper officials whose duty it is to enforce laws directed against prostitution, and otherwise to use every proper means for the repression of prostitution.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 106, L. 1919. Compulsory examination for venereal diseases, see note in 2 A. L. R. 1332.

2567. Isolation hospitals. The county board of health of each county shall provide an isolation hospital for the care and treatment of all persons within the county suffering from venereal diseases, and shall make all necessary rules and regulations for the conduct and management thereof; provided, however, that the county board of health of any county may, in its discretion, if no isolation hospital has been established in such county, contract for the care and treatment of persons suffering from said diseases, with any county of the state that maintains an isolation hospital for the care and treatment of such diseases, or may contract with any private institution for the care and treatment of any such patients.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 106, L. 1919.

2568. Pay patients. Every person who is committed to, detained, or treated in such isolation hospitals, and who is financially able, shall be required to pay all expenses for care and treatments while detained in such hospital, and the county board of health is authorized to maintain a civil action in the name of the county to recover therefor.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 106, L. 1919.

2569. Examination and treatment of prisoners. All persons who shall be confined or imprisoned in any state, county, or city prison in the state shall be examined for, and, if infected, treated for venereal diseases by the health authorities or their deputies. The prison authorities of any state, county, or city prison are directed to make available to the health authorities such portion of any state, county, or city prison as may be necessary for a clinic or hospital, wherein all persons who may be confined or imprisoned in any such prison, and who are infected with venereal disease at the time of the expiration of their terms of imprisonment, and, in case no other suitable place for isolation or quarantine is available, such other persons as may be isolated or quarantined under the provisions of section 2566, shall be isolated and treated at public expense until cured; or, in lieu of such isolation, any of such persons may, in the discretion of the local, county, or state health officer, be required to report for treatment to a licensed physician, or submit to treatment provided at public expense as provided in section 2567. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to interfere with the service of any sentence imposed by a court as a punishment for the commission of crime.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 106, L. 1919.

2570. Quarantine of infected persons. Local and county health officers are authorized and directed to quarantine persons who have, or who, after examination, are reasonably suspected of having syphilis, gonorrhea, or chancroid, whenever in the opinion of said local or county health officer, or the state board of health or its secretary, quarantine is necessary for the protection of the public health. In establishing quarantine the health officer shall designate and define the limits of the area in which the person known to have, or reasonably suspected of having, syphilis, gonorrhea, or chancroid, and his or her immediate attendant are to be quarantined, and no other person than the attending physician shall enter or leave the area of quarantine without the permission of the local or county health officer. No one but the local, county or state health officer shall terminate said quarantine, and this shall not be done until the diseased person has become non-infectious, as determined by the local, county, or state health officer or his authorized deputy, through the clinical examination and necessary laboratory tests, or until permission has been given by the state board of health or its secretary.

2571. Instruction of patients in disease. It shall be the duty of every physician, and every other person who examines or treats a person having syphilis, gonorrhea, or chancroid, to instruct such person in measures for preventing the spread of such diseases, and inform such person of the necessity for treatment until cured, and to hand such person a copy of the circular of information obtainable for this purpose from the state board of health.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 106, L. 1919.

2572. Duty of physician or other person consulted concerning disease. When a person applies to a physician or other person for the diagnosis or treatment of syphilis, gonorrhea, or chancroid, it shall be the duty of the physician or person so consulted to inquire of and ascertain from the person seeking such diagnosis or treatment, whether such person has theretofore consulted with or has been treated by any other physician or person, and, if so, to ascertain the name and address of the physician or person last consulted. It shall be the duty of the applicant for diagnosis or treatment to furnish this information, and a refusal to do so or a falsification of the name and address of such physician or person consulted by such applicant shall be deemed a violation of these regulations. It shall be the duty of the physician or other person whom the applicant consults to notify the physician or other person last consulted of the change of advisers. Should the physician or person previously consulted fail to receive such notice within ten days after the last date upon which the patient was instructed by him to appear, it shall be the duty of such physician or person to report to the local or county health officer the name and address of such venereally diseased person.

If an attending physician or other person knows or has good reason to suspect that a person having syphilis, gonorrhea, or chancroid is so conducting himself or herself as to expose other persons to infection, or is about so to conduct himself or herself, he shall notify the local or county health officer of the name and address of the diseased person, and the essential facts in the case.

2573. Druggists and unlicensed persons prohibited from prescribing—Duty of druggists. No druggist or other person, not a physician licensed under the laws of the state, shall prescribe or recommend to any person any drugs, medicines, or other substances to be used for the cure or alleviation of gonorrhea, syphilis, or chancroid, or shall compound any drugs or medicines other than proprietary for said purpose, from any written formula or order not written for the person for whom the drugs or medicines are compounded, and not signed by a physician licensed under the laws of the state. All druggists are required to keep a record of the names and addresses of all persons to whom proprietary or patent medicines, commonly or presumably used in the treatment of venereal diseases, are sold or supplied to, and shall forward a report to the proper health officer at the end of each week, giving the names and addresses of such persons and the remedy sold in each case.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 106, L. 1919.

2574. Certificates of freedom from disease. Physicians, health officers, and all other persons are prohibited from issuing certificates of freedom from venereal disease, providing this rule shall not prevent the issuance of necessary statements of freedom from infectious diseases, written in such form or given under such safeguards that their use in solicitation for sexual intercourse would be impossible. Such certificates shall not be used or exhibited for solicitation for immoral purposes.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 106, L. 1919.

Requiring certificate of freedom from venereal diseases as condition to marriage, see note in 52 L. R. A. (N. S.) 778.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 106, L. 1919.

2576 Rules and regulations for the control of venereal diseases. The state board of health is hereby empowered and directed to make such rules and regulations as shall, in its judgment, be necessary for the carrying out of the provisions of this act, including rules and regulations providing for the control and treatment of persons isolated or quarantined under the provisions of section 2566, and such other rules and regulations, not in conflict with provisions of this act, concerning the control of venereal diseases, and concerning the care, treatment, and quarantine of persons infected therewith, as it may from time to time deem advisable. All such rules and regulations so made shall be of force and binding upon all county and municipal health officers and other persons affected by this act, and shall have the force and effect of law.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 106, L. 1919.

2577. Penalty for violation of act or regulations. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this act, or any lawful rule or regulation made by the state board of health, pursuant to the authority herein granted, or who shall fail or refuse to obey any lawful order issued by the state, county, or local health officer, pursuant to the authority granted in this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars or by imprisonment for not more than a year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

It shall be unlawful for any person, persons, firm, or corporation, within this state, to manufacture for sale, within this state sell, offer for sale, or have within his or their possession, with the intent to sell within this state, any drugs or article of food which is adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of this act. The term "drug," as used in this act, shall include all medicines or preparations recognized in the United States Pharmacopoeia or National Formulary for internal or external use, and any substance or mixture of substances intended to be used for the cure, mitigation, or prevention of disease of either man or animals. The term "food," as used in this act, shall include all articles used as food, drink, confectionery, or condiment by man or animals, whether simple, mixed or compound.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 130, L. 1911.

The pure food and drug act is a general police regulation, which recognizes the fact that the sale of adulterated foodstuff is a constant menace to the health of the consuming public, and the duty enjoined by it upon the seller is such that a violation of it can affect the public health only through the individuals who are injuriously affected by partaking of such food. The duty imposed upon the vendor is one which extends to the public considered as a composite of individuals, and if a consumer sustains some special injury by reason of defendant's violation of the act he has a right of action against the latter. Kelley v. John R. Daily Co., 56 Mont. 63, 71 181 Pac. 326.

A complaint alleging that, at the time of the sale of impure food by defendant to plaintiff, defendant was engaged in selling at retail, to the public generally, meat and meat products for human consumption, was sufficient to bring the case within the statute, and disclose the duty defendant owed to the public, including plaintiff, to see that its food products offered for sale were not adulterated within the meaning of such statute. Kelley v. John R. Daily Co., 56 Mont. 63, 71, 181 Pac. 326.

A charge in a complaint that defendant sold and delivered to plaintiff's husband, for immediate use in his family, including plaintiff, adulterated meat containing "diseased, infected, putrid, decomposed, poisonous acid and animal matter," sufficiently charged defendant with a violation of the pure food act, and with a breach of duty constituting legal negligence. Kelley v. John R. Daily Co., 56 Mont. 63, 72, 181 Pac. 326.

The seller of food products is made insurer of their purity, and guilty knowledge on his part is not an ingredient of the offense prohibited; the obligation is personal, and cannot be avoided by showing that the impure food was purchased from a foreign concern and bore the stamp of approval by the government inspectors. Kelley v. John R. Daily Co., 56 Mont. 63, 74, 181 Pac. 326.

Liability under the pure food act arises from a violation of the statute, and it is immaterial whether the foundation of an action based upon such violation is laid in negligence or warranty. Kelley v. John R. Daily Co., 56 Mont. 63, 74, 181 Pac. 326.

It is not necessary for a plaintiff to refer to the pure food and drug act in order to recover damages for injuries arising from a violation of it. The courts take judicial notice of the general and public domestic statutes, and they need not be specially pleaded. Kelley v. John R. Daily Co., 56 Mont. 63, 74, 181 Pac. 326.

2579. What deemed adulterated. For the purposes of this act, an article shall be deemed as adulterated, in case of drugs:

First. When a drug is sold under or by a name recognized in the United States Pharmacopoeia or National Formulary, if it differs from the standard strength, quality, or purity, as determined by the test laid down in the United States Pharmacopoeia or National Formulary, official at the time of investigation; provided, that no drug shall be deemed to be adulterated under this provision if the standard of strength, quality or purity be plainly stated upon the bottle, box, or other container thereof, although the standard may differ from that determined by the test laid down in the United States Pharmacopoeia or National Formulary.

Second. If its strength or purity fall below the professed standard or quality under which it is sold.

In the case of foods:

First. In the case of confectionery, if it contains terra alba, barytes, talc, chrome yellow, or other mineral substance or poisonous color or flavor, or other ingredient deleterious or detrimental to health, or any vinous, malt, or spirituous liquor or compound or narcotic drug.

Second. If any substance or substances have been mixed with it so as as to reduce, or lower, or injuriously affect its quality or strength.

Third. If any substance has been wholly or in part substituted for the article.

Fourth. If any valuable constituent has been wholly or in part abstracted from it.

Fifth. If it contains any proportion of a filthy, diseased, decomposed, putrid, or rotten animal or vegetable substance, whether manufactured or not, or in the case of milk, if it is the product of a diseased animal.

Sixth. If it is mixed, colored, coated, polished, powdered, or stained in a manner whereby damage or inferiority is concealed, or whereby it is made to appear better or of greater value than it really is.

Seventh. If it contains any added poisonous or other added deleterious ingredient.

Eighth. If it contains any added antiseptic or preservative substance, except common salt, saltpeter, cane-sugar, beet-sugar, vinegar, spices, or in smoked foods, the natural products of the smoking process, or other harmless preservatives whose use is authorized by the state board of health, and no preservative shall be used in greater quantity than the rules and regulations of the state board of health shall designate.

Where weights or measures are stated in pounds and ounces, they shall be exclusive of the wrapper or other container, and each pound shall contain sixteen ounces, each ounce containing four hundred and thirty-seven and one-half grains. Second. If it be labeled or branded so as to deceive or mislead the purchaser, or purport to be a foreign article when not so, or if the contents of the package as originally put up shall have been removed, in whole or in part, and other contents shall have been placed in such package, or if it fail to bear a statement on the label of the quantity or proportion of any morphine, opium, cocaine, heroin, alpha or beta eucaine, chloroform, cannibis indica, chloral hydrate, acetanilide, phenacetine, or antipyrine, or any derivative or any preparation of any such substance or substances contained therein; provided, that such statement shall not be required as to articles of food in the hands of wholesalers or retailers on or prior to January 1, 1912.

If, upon such examination, the state engineer shall find that said reservoir is unsafe, or is being filled with water to such an extent as to render it unsafe, it shall be his duty to notify the county attorney of the county in which the reservoir is located, setting forth his findings, and the county attorney shall immediately take the necessary steps to abate the danger and make the structure safe.

In the event of either party being dissatisfied with the findings of the state engineer, he may take an appeal to the district court of the district wherein the reservoir is located, and said court shall hear and determine the matter at the earliest practical time, subject to the right of either party to take an appeal as in other civil cases; provided, that the judgment of the state engineer shall control until the final determination of the case.

Cited or applied as section 2139, Revised Codes, before amendment, in Frederick v. Hale, 42 Mont. 153, 168, 112 Pac. 70.

2660. Complaint against filling unsafe reservoir—Duty of court to order examination. Upon complaint on oath made by any person or persons, and filed in the district court, that a person, association, or corporation is filling or proposing to fill with water a reservoir, or has filled or gathered water in a reservoir, and that life and property are thereby endangered, the judge must appoint three disinterested persons, at least one of whom must be a resident of the county in which the dam or reservoir is situated, and one of whom must be a competent and experienced civil or hydraulic engineer, each of whom must take an oath that he will examine the dam and reservoir to determine as to its security to the best of his ability.

History: En. Sec. 2140, Rev. C. 1907; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 168, L. 1917.

2661. Examination and report. It is the duty of the person so appointed to make a thorough examination of the dam or reservoir, and if, upon examination, they find that persons or property are endangered by reason of the dam or reservoir, and it is not secure against the pressure of the water confined therein, or the water that may be confined therein, or against rains and freshets that may occur, and if they find that the same is secure against the occurrence of the casualties mentioned, or any of them, they must make a report in writing to the judge, which must be entered of record as a proceeding in court.

History: Sec. 2141, Rev. C. 1907.

2662. Report—What to contain. If, upon such examination as to the safety of such reservoir, they consider such reservoir insufficient and insecure, they must further inquire whether the danger to be apprehended is imminent, and if they are of the opinion that such danger is imminent, and that destruction of life or property may result from delay, it is their duty forthwith to draw from such reservoir the waters therein, or so much thereof as will insure safety, and they must make return of their action to the judge; and in the discharge of such duties, the persons so acting are peace officers.

History: Sec. 2142, Rev. C. 1907.

2663. Proceedings when dam or reservoir is insecure. If, upon examination, they are of opinion that such dam or reservoir is insecure and insufficient, but that the danger therefrom is not immediate or imminent, they must so state in their report to the judge, who must thereupon cause a copy of the report to be served on the owner or person in charge thereof, with a notice requiring him to make the same secure, or to draw the water therefrom without delay; and unless such order is complied with after hearing, the judge may order the sheriff to draw from said dam or reservoir the waters thereof.

History: Sec. 2143, Rev. C. 1907.

Note.—For earlier history of sections 2663 to 2671, see also history of section 2658.

2664. Issues and trial. The owner of the dam or reservoir may answer the complaint, and an issue may be joined at the hearing, and the question of the security and sufficiency of the dam or reservoir may be tried before the court or jury as in other cases.

History: Sec. 2144, Rev. C. 1907.

2665. Judgment. If the jury find the dam or reservoir insufficient or insecure, judgment must be entered thereon, declaring such dam or reservoir a nuisance, and that all the water be drawn therefrom. Costs may be taxed as in other cases to the losing party.

History: Sec. 2145, Rev. C. 1907.

2666. New trial and appeal. Any party to the proceedings may move for a new trial and appeal as in other cases.

History: Sec. 2146, Rev. C. 1907.

2667. Water may be drawn off pending an appeal. The judge may, after the verdict of the jury, and pending an appeal, order that the water be drawn from the reservoir so as to make the same secure and safe until the final determination of the proceedings.

History: Sec. 2147, Rev. C. 1907.

2668. Board of county commissioners may appoint experts to examine dam. Whenever any person is constructing a dam or reservoir, and complaint is made to the board of county commissioners that the same is being built in an insecure and unsafe manner, and dangerous to life or property, or that when constructed will be insecure and dangerous, it is the duty of the board to appoint three experts under whose supervision the dam or reservoir must be constructed, and such reservoir must not be filled with water, nor shall any water be allowed to flow therein, until the owner thereof has filed in the office of the county clerk a certificate, signed by a majority of the persons so appointed, to the effect that such dam or reservoir is constructed in a proper manner and is safe and secure.

History: Sec. 2148, Rev. C. 1907.

2669. Compensation of experts. The persons acting as experts are entitled to a reasonable compensation for their services, to be allowed by the board and paid by the owners of the dam or reservoir.

History: Sec. 2149, Rev. C. 1907.

2670. Duty of board when complaint filed. Whenever such complaint is made to the board of commissioners, it is the duty of the board, in case such dam or reservoir is not being constructed in a safe and secure manner, to proceed against the owner or persons constructing the same, in the manner provided for in this chapter, and any person may file a complaint and proceed against any such owner of or person constructing such dam or reservoir, as provided in this chapter.

History: Sec. 2150, Rev. C. 1907.

2671. Penalties. Any person violating any of the provisions of this chapter is punishable as provided in section 11280 of the Penal Code, and if death ensue by reason of any of the acts prohibited by this chapter, the person guilty of the same may be convicted of murder, manslaughter, or any other felony, as the case may be.

Any person, company, or corporation owning or using any pole or appliance on which is run, placed, erected, or maintained in the state of Montana, any wire or cable used or to be used to conduct or carry electricity for the purpose of light, heat, or power, shall provide and maintain an unobstructed climbing space adjacent to any such pole or appliance, so that persons shall be able to ascend any such pole or appliance with reasonable safety and convenience up to and through the wires, connections, attachments, and structures of any such pole or appliance, and all cases where any "buck" or reverse arm is used, or where special construction is used, there shall be provided and maintained unobstructed climbing space of not less than twenty-two inches square, omitting the area of any pole or appliance.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 171, L. 1917.

2678. Space between arms on poles or appliances for high and low voltage. At least one standard pole-gain, or the equivalent of four feet, shall be left vacant between the nearest cross-arm on which is placed or maintained any wire or cable conducting or carrying more than four hundred and forty volts of electricity, and any cross-arm occupied by or used for wires or cables carrying four hundred and forty volts or less.

The said standard pole-gain shall be spaced not less than twenty-four inches center to center, except that one "buck" or reverse arm may be placed not more than twelve inches below any cross-arm; and provided, that this section shall be held not to apply to bridge construction; and further provided, that it shall be held not to apply to primary taps to transformers on poles; and provided further, that all such primary taps leading to transformers on poles shall be of double-braid, rubber-covered wire of at least twenty-two hundred volts insulation.

2680. Bridge arms. Bridge arms having the same pin spacing as the standard cross-arm and a cross-section of not less than four by six inches may be installed in alleys or at alley and street intersections, wherever such construction may be proper, to provide the necessary clearance for fire-escapes and other obstructions which may be overhanging the alley. All such structures shall be provided with idle arm, or span wire, for use of workmen.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 171, L. 1917.

2681. Double arms. Double arms, if of wood, shall be used at all line terminals, corners, and curves where there is excessive strain. All double arms must be blocked and bolted in accordance with standard practice.

All poles on which wires are permanently "dead-ended" shall be double armed.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 171, L. 1917.

Any guy wire attached to any pole or appliance on which is run, placed, erected, or maintained any wire or cable used to conduct or carry electricity for the purpose of light, heat, or power, or used jointly with telephone, telegraph, or other signal wires, shall be permanently and effectively insulated at all times, by the insertion of at least two strain insulators. The upper of these insulators shall be inserted in the guy so as to be at least six feet in a horizontal line from the pole itself, and the second strain insulator shall be inserted in the guy so as to be not less than eight feet in a vertical line from the surface. In short guys in which the two insulators are required, and which will be located at the same points or near each other, two insulators may be coupled in series and put into the guy together. All strain insulators shall be so constructed and maintained that the guy wire or guy cable holding the insulator in place shall interlock in case of failure or breakage thereof. The above shall not apply to railway electrification, where at least one insulator shall be inserted in each end of every auxiliary cross-span, and one in each auxiliary guy.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 171, L. 1917.

Every guy wire which passes either over or under an electric light or power wire, other than those attached to the guyed pole, shall be so placed and maintained as to provide a clearance of not less than three feet between the guy and any electric wire.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 171, L. 1917.

2685. Arc lamps. No arc lamp shall be erected or maintained in the state of Montana on any pole or appliance, unless such arc lamp be so constructed and maintained as to be lowered within six feet from the surface; provided, that this section shall not include arc lamps used for ornamental street lights attached to iron pedestals or any arc lamp attached to buildings, poles, or other structures which do not carry wire other than those feeding the lamp.

2687. Trolley and "span" wires. Trolley wires must readily stand the strain put upon them when in use, and shall have a double insulation from the ground. In wooden-pole construction the pole shall be considered one insulation. In all cases where "span" wires are attached to grounded supports, or on buildings or other structures, there shall be provided and maintained at least two approved insulators in any such "span" wire between the trolley and any such other structures. The outer insulators shall be placed at a distance equal to that of the curb. one and one-fourth inches thick, except that grounds for four hundred and forty volts or less, and railway auxiliary negative taps, shall be required to be incased down the pole to a point five feet below the lowest cross-arm. All metal casings to be permanently and effectively grounded; provided, that this section shall be held not to apply to wires or cables which lead from overhead to underground systems, except in case of joint construction; and further provided, that it shall not apply to high-tension lines.

2703. Generating and substation equipment, records, and warnings. In every generating and substation used for light, heat, or power, there shall be kept a log-book or record showing the changes in the condition of operation, including the starting and stopping of electrical supply equipment, the name of each foreman or workman locally in charge of work, and all unusual occurrences and accidents.

The log-book or record shall be signed by the person in charge before being relieved. He shall keep within sight an operating diagram or equivalent device, indicating whether electrical supply circuits are open or closed, and where work is being performed. On circuits carrying normally in excess of seventy-five hundred volts, the operator in charge shall place "Men at Work" tags upon switches controlling any circuits upon which men are known to be working, and it shall be his duty to enforce the safety rules, and permit only authorized persons to approach the equipment or lines.

This section shall not apply to isolated plants, generating current for telegraph, telephone, and signaling purposes.

History: En. Sec. 27, Ch. 171, L. 1917.

2704. Protective devices. There shall be provided in conspicuous and suitable places in electrical stations and shops, a suitable and sufficient supply of first-aid and protective devices, all of approved kinds and qualities; the kinds and number of such devices will depend on the requirements of each case, as may be from time to time prescribed by the state industrial accident board, and it shall be the duty of the said state industrial accident board to prescribe such necessary protective devices. History: En. Sec. 30, Ch. 171, L. 1917.

2707. Safety measures—Head room—Guarding passages, manways, etc.—Grounding of wires. Where necessary, all forms of electrical apparatus shall be effectively grounded for the protection of persons.

Wherever wires or conductors are installed within inclosures or buildings, in and about switchboards and other appliances where conductors are run, placed, or erected, a clear head room of six and one-half feet above the floor or surface must be maintained, or the wires be effectively guarded. All apparatus, passages, manways, and other places where persons may enter into, must be protected with efficient guards in accordance with standard practice; provided, this shall not be held to apply to electrical machinery and auxiliary devices carrying six hundred volts or less.

When lines or wires carrying seventy-five hundred volts or more are disconnected from their source of power, for work to be performed thereon, said lines or wires shall be effectively grounded for the protection of workmen.

History: En. Sec. 31, Ch. 171, L. 1917.

2708. Opening to outer air for manholes. The openings to outer air for any manhole used for light, heat, or power shall be circular in shape, and shall not be less than twenty-four inches in diameter.

The opening to outer air for any manhole used for telephone, telegraph, or other signal wires shall be circular in shape, and shall be not less than twenty inches in diameter.

Whenever persons are working in any manhole, whose opening to the outer air is less than three feet from the rail of any railway or street-car track, a watchman or attendant shall be stationed on the surface at the entrance of such manhole at all times while work is being performed therein.

History: En. Sec. 32, Ch. 171, L. 1917.

2709. Violation of act a misdemeanor—Penalty. Every corporation or joint-stock company or individual, which shall violate any of the provisions of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars.

History: En. Sec. 33, Ch. 171, L. 1917.

2710. Date for act to take effect. This act shall go into effect on the first day of May, 1917, from which time all new construction shall conform to the provisions hereof, and all betterments on existing plants and equipment shall be made to conform to the provisions of this act.

History: En. Sec. 34, Ch. 171, L. 1917.

2711. Repealing clause. All acts or parts of acts, and all ordinances or parts of ordinances, of cities and towns in the state of Montana, in conflict with this act, are hereby repealed, and hereafter no ordinance in conflict with any provisions of this act shall be enacted or passed in any city or town in the state of Montana.

2728. Operation of Boiler or Steam-Engine Without License.
2729. Sale of Second-hand Boilers.

2712. Appointment, term and compensation of boiler inspectors. The industrial accident board shall appoint not to exceed four inspectors of boilers and shall prescribe their term of office and fix their compensation.

History: En. Sec. 550, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 1639, Rev. C. 1907; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 30, L. 1913; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 12, L. 1921.

2713. Qualifications of boiler inspectors. No person is eligible to hold the office of inspector of boilers and steam-engines who has not had at least ten years of actual experience in the operation of steam-engines, steam-boilers, and steam machinery, and who has not held for at least five years immediately preceding his appointment a first-class stationary engineer's license of the state of Montana, or who is directly or indirectly interested in the manufacture or sale of boilers or steam machinery, or any patented article required to be sold relating thereto.

History: En. Sec. 2, p. 102, L. 1889; amd. Sec. 551, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 1640, Rev. C. 1907; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 30, L. 1913.

2714. Inspection of boilers. The inspector of boilers must inspect all steam-boilers and steam-generators before the same are used, and all persons who bring into this state any boiler or boilers must notify the boiler inspector stating the number and kind of boilers, where they had heretofore been located, and where they are to be located and operated in this state, and must secure from the boiler inspector a certificate of inspection before said boilers are placed in operation, except in the case of new boilers, which must be inspected within ninety days after they are put in use, and all boilers must be inspected at least once in every year. Any person failing to give notice to the boiler inspector as herein provided, or who operates such boilers without a certificate from the boiler inspector, shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars for each offense, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than thirty nor more than ninety days, or by both such fine and imprisonment. The inspector of boilers must subject all boilers to hydrostatic pressure, which hydrostatic pressure must be thirty-three and one-third per cent. greater than the steam pressure allowed on the boilers, providing there are no such leaks on such boilers which prevent the inspector from applying such hydrostatic pressure. And the inspector must satisfy himself by a thorough interior and exterior examination that the boilers are well made and of good and suitable material; that the openings for the passage of water and steam, respectively, and all pipes and tubes exposed to heat, are of the proper dimensions and free from obstructions; that the flues are circular in shape; that the fire line of the furnace is at least two inches below prescribed minimum water line of the boilers; that the arrangements for delivering the feed water is such that the boilers cannot be injured thereby, and that such boilers and the steam connections may be safely employed without danger to life.

2715. Same—Further requirements in making inspection. The inspector must also satisfy himself that the safety-valves are of suitable dimension, sufficient in number and area, and properly arranged, and that the safety-valve weights are properly adjusted so as to allow no greater pressure in the boilers than the amount prescribed by the inspection certificate; that there are a sufficient number of gauge-cocks properly inserted to indicate the amount of water, and suitable gauges that will correctly record the pressure of steam; and adequate and certain provisions for an ample supply of water to feed the boilers at all times, and that suitable means for blowing out are provided, so as to thoroughly remove mud and sediment from all parts of the boilers when they are under pressure of steam, and any renter, user, or owner of a boiler, or any person or persons who tamper with the safety-valve to allow the boiler to carry greater pressure than is allowed by the inspection certificate, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

In subjecting the boilers to the hydrostatic test, the test applied must exceed the working pressure allowed in the ratio of one hundred to sixty-six and two-thirds, provided the valves and other conditions of piping on the boiler will allow the inspector to make such test. But where there are leaks on the boiler which make it impossible to apply such hydrostatic pressure, or where the water cannot be procured with which to make such test, the inspector may make a hammer test of said boiler and inspect same closely and give to such boiler a rating for steam pressure as its condition will warrant. In all cases the inspector must use judgment in the steam pressure allowed on boilers. Where a boiler is constructed with lap horizontal seams on boiler, dome, or drum, a factor of four and one-half shall be used in determining the safe working pressure allowed on such boiler. But where the boilers are constructed with butt-strap horizontal seams, a factor of four may be used in determining such safe working pressure. But in any case the inspector may use a higher factor if the conditions are such as to warrant it. If boiler rests on side wall on lugs, or is hung by I-beams, or is in any way set up so that the weight of the boiler is pulling against the horizontal seam of rivets, a factor of five must be used to determine the safe working pressure allowed on boiler. Where the horizontal lap seams of boiler are exposed to the fire, a factor of five must be used to determine the safe working pressure to be allowed on such boiler. On stay bolts, if new, seven thousand five hundred pounds pressure per square inch shall be allowed. If such stay-bolts are corroded or defective, the inspector must determine the pressure to be allowed on same. On braces made of solid material, eight thousand pounds pressure per square inch shall be allowed. On welded braces or braces with only one crowfoot, six thousand pounds pressure per square inch shall be allowed. No cast-iron shall be used in the construction or reinforcements of any boiler where the pressure allowed on said boiler is more than one hundred pounds per square inch.

2716. Same—Material to be used. No boiler or steam-pipe, nor any of the connections thereto, must be approved which is made in whole or in part of bad material, or is unsafe from any cause. Nothing herein shall be construed to prevent the use of any boiler or steam-generator which may not be constructed of riveted iron or steel plates, when the inspector has satisfactory evidence that such boiler or steam-generator is equal in strength to and as safe from explosion as boilers of the best quality, constructed of iron or steel plates.

History: En. Sec. 556, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 1645, Rev. C. 1907.

Note.—The latter part of the foregoing section as originally enacted is omitted from this code to conform to later enactments.

2717. Examination may be made at any time. In addition to the annual inspection, it is the duty of the inspectors to examine at proper times, when in their opinion such examination is necessary, all such boilers as shall have become unsafe from any cause, and to notify the owner or the person using such boilers of any defect and what repairs are necessary to render them safe.

History: En. Sec. 557, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 1646, Rev. C. 1907.

2718. Duty of owner to permit inspection—Sealing of fire-box—Costs and expenses. It is the duty of the owners or managers of steam-boilers to allow the inspector free access to the same. In case the owner or manager of any boiler is notified by the inspector to have said boiler ready for inspection on a day certain, and fails to have such boiler ready for inspection at such time, the inspector shall at once seal up the fire-box in such boiler, and such seal must not be removed from the fire-door without a written order from the inspector. Any person tampering with or removing said seal shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than two months nor more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment. If the owner or manager of any boiler that has been so sealed desires to have the same inspected before the next regular visit of the inspector to the district where said boiler is situated, he must pay all transportation and hotel expenses of the inspector who makes the inspection, in addition to the inspection fee provided by law. It shall be the duty of the engineer operating any boiler or boilers to assist the inspectors in their examination of the same, and point out any defects known to him in the boilers or machinery under his charge. Any engineer not complying with this section shall have his license revoked or suspended.

History: En. Sec. 558, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 1647, Rev. C. 1907; amd. Sec. 7, Ch. 30, L. 1913.

2719. Classification of licenses—Who not granted license. No person must be granted a license to operate steam-boilers or steam machinery under the provisions of this article, who has not been examined by the inspector and found competent to perform the duties of an engineer, and received from such inspector a written or printed license so to act. Any person who operates any steam-boiler or steam-engine without first obtaining a license from the inspector is guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty dollars nor more than one hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than sixty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

History: En. Sec. 559, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 1648, Rev. C. 1907; amd. Sec. 8, Ch. 30, L. 1913.

The trade of engineer is a proper subject for police regulation. Johnson v. City of Great Falls, 38 Mont. 369, 374, 99 Pac. 1059, 16 Ann. Cas. 974.

Licensing or regulating stationary engineers, see note in Ann. Cas. 1915A, 1017.

2720. Classification of engineers. Engineers intrusted with the care and management of steam machinery as specified in the preceding section must be divided into four classes, namely, first-class engineers, second-class engineers, third-class engineers, and low-pressure engineers. No license shall be granted to any person to perform the duties of a first-class engineer who has not taken and subscribed an oath that he has had at least three years' experience in the operation of steam-boilers and steam machinery, or whose knowledge and experience is not such as to justify the belief that he is competent to take charge of all classes of steam-boilers and steam machinery. No license must be granted to any person to act as a second-class engineer who has not taken and subscribed an oath that he has had at least two years' experience in the operation of steam-boilers and steam-engines, and is, on examination, found competent to take charge of all classes of steam-boilers and steam machinery not exceeding one hundred horsepower. No license must be granted to any person to act as a third-class engineer who has not served at least one year under a competent engineer, and is found, upon examination, to be sufficiently acquainted with the duties of an engineer to be intrusted with the care of steam-boilers, and of steam machinery not exceeding twenty horsepower. All firemen who have charge of steam-boilers, as to the regulation of feed-water and fuel, where the boilers are so situated as not at all times to be under the eye of the engineer in charge, are required to pass a third-class engineer's examination and procure the same kind of license. All firemen who operate boilers where over thirty pounds pressure per square inch is allowed must hold at least a third-class license. All persons who operate heating boilers or plants, in public buildings where the steam pressure allowed on such boilers is thirty pounds per square inch or less, must procure from an inspector a low-pressure license. Applicants for this grade of license must have at least six months' previous experience in the care and management of low-pressure boilers, and must be found competent, on examination, to hold such grade of license. Such license shall not entitle the holder thereof to operate steam-boilers or steam machinery where the boiler pressure allowed is over thirty pounds to the square inch. Engineers holding third-class or higher class of license may operate boilers in heating plants where thirty pounds pressure or less, per square inch is allowed, without obtaining a low-pressure license. All applicants for license as stationary engineers or firemen must be at least eighteen years of age. None of the licenses in this section above named shall entitle the holder thereof to operate a traction-engine, but all persons who are intrusted with the care and management of traction-engines, or boilers on wheels, are required to pass an examination as to their competency to operate such class of machinery and to procure a license to be known as a traction license. Such traction license shall not entitle the holder thereof to operate any other class of steam machinery specified in the preceding section. No license shall be granted to any person to act as a traction engineer who has not had at least six months' experience as fireman on traction-engines, and who is not found, upon examination, to be sufficiently acquainted with the duties of a traction engineer to be intrusted with the care of traction engines. Applicants for traction license must be at least eighteen years of age.

2721. Complaints and revocation of license. Whenever complaint is made against an engineer holding a license from the inspector that he through negligence, want of skill, or inattention to duty, permitted his boiler to burn or otherwise become in bad condition, or that he has been found intoxicated while on duty, it is the duty of the inspector or assistant inspector to make a thorough investigation of the charge, and upon satisfactory proof of such charge to revoke the license of such engineer.

History: En. Sec. 561, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 1650, Rev. C. 1907; amd. Sec. 10, Ch. 30, L. 1913.

2722. Certificate of inspection. In making an inspection of the boilers and machinery herein provided for, the inspectors may act jointly or separately, but the inspector or assistant inspector making such inspection must in all cases certify the same under the seal of the boiler inspector's office. Any inspector or assistant inspector who wilfully and feloniously certifies regarding any steam boilers or their attachments, or grants a license to any person to act as engineer contrary to the provisions of this article, is punishable under the provisions of section 11198 of the Penal Code.

History: En. Sec. 562, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 1651, Rev. C. 1907; amd. Sec. 11, Ch. 30, L. 1913.

2723. Fees for inspection or examination. The inspector of boilers is authorized to charge a fee of ten dollars for the inspection of each steam-boiler and its steam connections, and five dollars for each additional boiler when connected. The fee for the inspection of each traction-engine or boiler on wheels shall be ten dollars. The fee for the inspection of boilers in incorporated cities shall be five dollars. Such fees shall be payable at the time of the inspection. In case of the failure of the owner, manager, or person in charge of any boiler to pay such fee upon the demand of the inspector, said inspector is authorized to seal the fire-box of said boiler, and said seal shall not be removed until said fee is paid and the written order of the inspector authorizing its removal is received by said owner or manager. Any person who tampers with or removes such seal without such written order shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and punished as provided by section 2718. The fee for the examination of applicants for engineer's license is seven dollars and fifty cents for first-class engineer; five dollars for second-class engineer; three dollars for third-class engineer; two dollars for low-pressure engineer, and three dollars for traction engineer, to be paid at the time of application for license. In case of the failure of any applicant to pass a successful examination, ninety days must elapse before he can again be examined as applicant for license. But the inspector may grant to the applicant a lower grade of license than that applied for upon such examination. All certificates of inspection and engineers' licenses must be displayed in a conspicuous place in the engine room.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 32, L. 1905; re-en. Sec. 1652, Rev. C. 1907; amd. Sec. 12, Ch. 30, L. 1913; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 32, L. 1919.

2724. Re-examination for license. If any person who has applied for a license as a first or second or third-class engineer, under the provisions of this article, and has been rejected, feels aggrieved, he may at any time after the lapse of ten days, and within ninety days after the date of his rejection, by petition in writing set forth the causes of his grievance and demand another examination. Such petition must be addressed to and served upon the inspector, and shall be duly verified by the rejected applicant, and accompanied by the required fee for a second examination. Within two days after receiving such petition and fee, it is the duty of the inspector to notify the applicant in writing that on a day certain, which shall not be less than five nor more than forty days after the date of the service of the petition upon such inspector, he will be ready to grant him another examination. At least two days before the day set for examination the applicant must designate in writing to such inspector the name of an engineer holding a certificate of equal grade with the one applied for, and such engineer may present himself upon the day and at the hour fixed for the re-examination.

History: En. Sec. 564, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 1653, Rev. C. 1907.

2725. A board to re-examine applicants. Upon the same day, or any day prior to the date set for such examination, the inspector and selected engineer must in writing agree upon, and designate and notify a third disinterested engineer holding a license equal in grade to the license applied for by the rejected applicant, to sit with them. On the day and hour set for such examination all three of such board, that is, the inspector and the engineer selected by the applicant, and the engineer agreed upon by them, must proceed to carefully re-examine such applicant, and fully and fairly test his qualifications and capabilities to receive a license such as he has applied for. After such examination is completed, if a majority of such board decide that such applicant is entitled to the license he has applied for, or any license of any inferior grade, the inspector must without delay issue a certificate accordingly, but if a majority of such board reject the applicant, it is a final rejection, and he must not be granted another examination for the space of ninety days after such last rejection, when he may again apply to the inspector or assistant inspector as provided by section 2723 of this code, and no person must be granted more than one re-examination before a board under the provisions of this article. One-half of the fee which may have accompanied any rejected applicant's petition for re-examination must be awarded by the inspector to each of the engineers who sit on any such examining board, and in case the applicant is granted a license, the fee paid when he was first rejected is the fee for the issuing of such license granted by any board. In any case any engineer selected or agreed upon as by this section is provided fails or neglects to appear or serve, another may be selected in his place in the manner herein provided.

2726. Boilers exempted from provisions of act—Duty of owner of traction-engine—Notice of purchase. Boilers used for heating purposes in private residences and locomotives used on railroads conducting a general business in hauling passengers and freight do not come under the provisions of this article. But locomotives, commonly known as dinkey-engines, used in operating logging or mining railroads, or any similar work where such locomotives are owned, leased, or operated by any individual, company, or corporation, and are used in the business of such individual, company, or corporation, and not for general commercial purposes, shall be classed as traction-engines, and be subject to inspection as are other traction-engines, and the persons operating or firing such dinkey locomotives shall be required to hold traction license. Nor are locomotive engineers, save as herein provided, or persons operating any of the engines or boilers herein exempted from the operation of this article, required to procure license from the inspectors. It shall be the duty of the owner and user of any traction-engine or boiler on wheels to notify the inspector of the location of such boiler on or before the first day of June of each year. Any owner or user of such traction-engine or boiler on wheels who shall fail to notify the inspector as herein provided shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. Any person purchasing any steam-boiler, whether traction or stationary boiler, shall be entitled to receive from the seller the certificates of inspection issued on such boiler, and any person purchasing any steam-boiler, whether traction or stationary, not exempted by the provisions of this section, shall, within ten days after such purchase, report the fact of such purchase to the boiler inspector and notify such inspector where he intends to locate or operate said boiler. Any person failing to comply with the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. All other steam-boilers and steam-engines, save as herein exempted, come under the provisions of this article and persons operating same are required to hold the proper grade of license.

2727. Certificates must be renewed yearly—Annual report. All certificates of license to engineers of all classes shall be renewed yearly, except as herein provided. The fee for renewal is one dollar in all cases. Any engineer failing to renew his license as herein provided, or within at least thirty days thereafter, must forward the fee for the original license of the same grade, before license can be reissued; provided, however, that any engineer whose license expired while such engineer was in the military or naval service of the United States shall have sixty days from the time such engineer is discharged from such military or naval service within which to renew his license at the renewal fee of one dollar.

All moneys collected by virtue of the provisions of this article must be paid into the state treasury once in each month and credited to the industrial accident board administrative fund as other inspection fees of the industrial accident board are now paid and credited.

2728. Operation of boiler or steam-engine without license. It is unlawful for any person in this state to operate a stationary boiler or steam-engine, or any boiler or steam-engine other than railroad locomotives or other engines and boilers exempted by the provisions of section 2726 of this code, without a license granted under the provisions of this charter. The owner, renter, or user of any steam-engine or boiler is equally liable for the violation of this section. But in case of accident, sickness, refusal to work, or any unforeseen prevention of the licensed engineer employed by any owner, renter, or user of a steam-engine or boiler operated in remote districts, which would retard the work to be performed, the owner, renter, or user may, for the space of fifteen days, employ any person of the age of eighteen years whom he may consider competent to run the engine or boiler, although such person so employed may not be the holder of an engineer's license. The person so employing the unlicensed engineer must immediately notify the inspector or assistant inspector. But no owner, renter, or user of steam machinery shall be allowed to so employ unlicensed engineers for more than fifteen days in any one calendar year. And it shall be unlawful, except as stated in this section, for any person, firm, or corporation to employ any person not duly licensed as an engineer, within the meaning of this act, to run or operate any of the boilers or engines subject to the provisions of this act.

2729. Sale of second-hand boilers. Any person, firm, or corporation who sells or offers to sell, or who uses or attempts to use, or who rents to others for use, or who delivers to others for use, or who induces others to use any steam-boiler that has theretofore been used, either within or without this state, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail for not longer than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment; provided, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to boilers or engines exempted by the provisions of section 2726 of this code, nor does it apply to boilers which have been inspected within one year prior to the commission of the act complained of, and on which a certificate of inspection has been issued and has not been revoked, nor does it apply to boilers on which a certificate of inspection has been extended as provided in section 2714 of this code within the time limit of such extension.

REGULATION OF HOISTING ENGINES—LICENSES.

2732. Scope of License—Who Need Not Obtain.
2733. First and Second-Class Licenses—Qualifications of Applicant.
2734. Machinery Which Licensee Deemed Qualified to Operate.
2735. Renewal of Application by Rejected Candidate.
2736. Penalty for Operating Machinery Without License.

2730. Operators of hoisting engines must procure license. It shall be unlawful for any person to operate an electric hoisting engine, or any air hoisting engine, or any hoisting engine operated by gas, oil, or any product of oil, of over five horsepower when used in lowering or hoisting men, except in operating elevators in buildings, or any air compressor operated by any power, without first obtaining a license therefor from a boiler inspector as herein provided. Except that in emergencies the provisions of section 2728 relating to the employment of unlicensed engineers shall apply to the operation of the engines and machinery named herein.

2731. Application and fee for license—Life, renewal, and revocation of license. Application for such licenses shall be made to the state boiler inspector in the manner, and the same fee shall be charged therefor and for such license, as now required by law for obtaining a license to operate steam-engines and steam-boilers, and such license shall be given for a period of one year from the date of issuance thereof, and may be renewed in the same manner provided by law for the renewal of a license to operate steam-engines or steam-boilers; provided, that the state boiler inspector shall have the right to revoke any license issued under the provisions of this act for any of the reasons for which he could revoke a license to operate steam-engines and steam-boilers.

2789. Maximum allowed. No quantity in excess of three hundred thousand pounds, or in case of blasting caps no number in excess of twenty million caps, shall be had, kept or stored in any factory building or magazine in this state.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 129, L. 1917.

2790. Reduction of distances. Whenever the building, railroad or highway to be protected is effectually screened from the factory, building or magazine, where explosives are had, kept or stored, either by natural features of the ground or by an efficient artificial barricade of such height that any straight line drawn from the top of any side wall of the factory building or magazine to any part of the building to be protected, will pass through such intervening natural or efficient artificial barricade, and any straight line drawn from the top of any side wall of the factory building or magazine to any point twelve feet above the center of the railroad or highway to be protected will pass through such intervening natural or efficient artificial barricade, the applicable distances given in columns 2, 3 and 4 of the quantity and distance table may be reduced one-half.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 129, L. 1917.

2791. Containers. Except only at a factory building, and except while being used, no person shall have, keep or store explosives at any place within this state unless such explosives are completely enclosed or encased in tight metallic, wooden or fibre containers, and, except while being transported or used or in the custody of a common carrier awaiting shipment or pending delivery to consignee during the time permitted by federal law, explosives shall be kept and stored in a magazine constructed and operated as provided in the following section, and no person having explosives in his possession or control shall, under any circumstances, permit or allow any grains or particles to be or remain on the outside or about the containers in which such explosives are held. All containers in which explosives are held shall be plainly marked with the name of the explosive contained therein.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 129, L. 1917.

2792. Magazines. Magazines in which explosives may lawfully be kept or stored shall be of two classes, as follows:

(a) Magazines of the first class shall consist of those containing explosives exceeding fifty pounds, and shall be constructed of brick, concrete, iron, or wood, covered with iron, and shall have no openings except for ventilation and entrance. The doors of such magazine must at all times be kept closed and locked, except when necessarily open for the purpose of storing or removing explosives therein or therefrom, by persons lawfully entitled to enter the same. Every such magazine shall have sufficient openings for ventilation thereof, which must be screened in such manner as to prevent the entrance of sparks of fire through the same. Upon each end of such magazine, above the side walls thereof, or upon its barricade, there shall at all times be conspicuously posted a sign with the words "Magazine—Explosives—Dangerous" legibly printed thereon in letters not less than six inches high. No matches or fire of any kind shall at any time be permitted at any such magazine. No package of explosives shall at any time be opened within fifty feet of any magazine, nor shall any explosives be kept therein except in the original containers. Magazines in which more than fifty pounds of explosives are kept and stored must be detached from other structures, and magazines where more than five thousand pounds of explosives are kept and stored must be located at least two hundred feet from any other magazine, and magazines where quantities of explosives over twenty-five thousand pounds are kept and stored must have an increase over two hundred feet of two and two-thirds feet for each one thousand pounds of explosives in excess of twenty-five thousand pounds stored therein; provided, that where magazines are protected one from the other by natural or efficient artificial barricade, the distance above specified may be reduced one-half.

(b) Magazines of the second class shall be made of fire-proof material or wood, covered with sheet iron, and no more than fifty pounds of explosives shall at any time be kept or stored therein, and, except when necessarily opened for use by authorized persons, shall at all times be kept securely locked. Upon each magazine there shall at all times be kept conspicuously posted a sign with the words "Magazine—Explosives—Dangerous" legibly printed thereon, and not more than two such magazines shall be had or kept in any building.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 129, L. 1917.

2793. Blasting caps. No blasting caps, or other detonating or fulminating caps, or detonators, shall be kept or stored in any magazine in which other explosives are kept or stored.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 129, L. 1917.

2794. Certificate of compliance. All persons engaged in keeping or storing explosives on the date when this act takes effect shall within sixty days thereafter, and all persons engaging in keeping or storing explosives after this act takes effect shall, before engaging in the keeping or storing of explosives, make a report in writing, subscribed to by such persons, or his agent, to the state fire marshal stating:

(2) The kind of explosives that are kept or stored or intended to be kept or stored, and the maximum quantity that is intended to be kept or stored thereat.

(3) The distance that such magazine is located or intended to be located from the nearest buildings, railroads, and highways.

The state fire marshal shall, as soon as may be after receiving such report cause an inspection to be made of the magazine, if then constructed, and in the case of a new magazine as soon as may be after same is found to be constructed in accordance with the specifications provided in section 2792 of this code, the state fire marshal shall determine the amount of explosives that may be kept and stored in such magazine by reference to the quantity and distance table set forth in section 2788 of this code, and shall issue a certificate to the person applying therefor, showing compliance with the provisions of this act, which certificate shall set forth the maximum quantity of explosives that may be had, kept or stored in said magazine. Such certificate of compliance shall be valid until canceled for one or more of the causes hereinafter provided. Whenever by reason of change in the physical condition surrounding said magazine at the time of the issuance of the certificate of compliance therefor, such as

(a) The erection of buildings nearer said magazine,

(b) The construction of railroads nearer said magazine, or

(c) The opening for public travel of highways nearer said magazine, then the amounts of explosives which may be lawfully had, kept or stored in said factory or magazine must be reduced to conform to such changed conditions in accordance with the quantity and distance table notwithstanding the certificate of compliance, and the state fire marshal shall modify or cancel such certificate in accordance with the changed conditions. Whenever any person to whom a certificate of compliance has been issued, keeps or stores in the magazine covered by such certificate of compliance, any quantity of explosives in excess of the maximum amount set forth in said certificate of compliance, or whenever any person fails for thirty days to pay the annual license fee hereinafter provided after the same becomes due, the state fire marshal is authorized to cancel such certificate of compliance. Whenever a certificate of compliance is canceled by the state fire marshal for any cause hereinbefore specified, the state fire marshal shall notify the person to whom such certificate of compliance is issued of the fact of such cancellation and shall in said notice direct the removal of all explosives stored in said magazine within ten days from the giving of said notice. Failure to remove the explosives stored in said magazine within the time specified in said notice shall constitute a violation of this act.

2803. Exemptions. Nothing contained in this act shall apply to the regular military or naval forces of the United States, nor the duly authorized militia of any state or territory thereof, nor to the police or fire departments of this state, or of any municipality or county within this state, providing the same are acting in their official capacity, and in the proper performance of their duties.

Nothing contained in this act shall apply to explosives while being transported upon vessels or railroad cars in conformity with the regulations adopted by the interstate commerce commission; nor to transportation or use of blasting explosives for agricultural or prospecting purposes in quantity not exceeding two hundred pounds at any one time; nor to any explosives in quantities not exceeding five pounds at any one time; nor to any person or persons carrying ammunition in reasonable amounts.

History: En. Sec. 18, Ch. 129, L. 1917.

2804. Existing ordinances not affected. Nothing contained in this act shall affect any existing ordinance, rule or regulation of any city or municipality not less restrictive than this act governing the manufacture, storage, and sale of explosives, or affect, modify, or limit the power of cities or municipalities in this state to make ordinances, rules, or regulations not less restrictive than this act, governing the manufacture, storage, sale, use, or transportation of explosives within their respective corporate limits.

History: En. Sec. 19, Ch. 129, L. 1917.

2805. Explosives, misrepresentations concerning percentage of nitro-glycerine. Any person or corporation engaged in the business of selling blasting or giant powder by whatever name the same shall be known containing nitro-glycerine, or equivalent explosive compound in any form, who shall sell or vend any such blasting powder upon the representation that the same contains a certain percentage or proportion of nitro-glycerine, or equivalent explosive compound, or who being applied to for blasting powder containing a certain percentage or proportion of nitro-glycerine or equivalent explosive compound shall sell or deliver any such blasting powder, containing a less percentage or proportion of nitro-glycerine, or equivalent explosive compound, than represented or than such powder as was applied for, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and, on conviction, shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars nor less than one hundred dollars.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 124, L. 1909.

2806. Regulating sales of explosives. That every person, company or corporation, manufacturing, storing, selling, transferring, dealing in, or in any manner disposing of any powder, gunpowder, giant or Hercules powder, giant caps, or other highly explosive substances, shall keep in a book for that purpose an accurate record of all transactions, with the date thereof, relating to the receiving and disposing of the same, which record shall show the amount of each such explosive received, by whom transported or conveyed, and each and every sale or other disposition made of such explosive, with the amount thereof, and the name of the person to whom delivery of the same was made, who shall be required to receipt therefor. Such record shall at all times be open to the inspection of the state inspector of mines, or any peace officer.

History: En. Sec. 707, Pen. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 8545, Rev. C. 1907.

2807. Storage of explosives in mines. No person, company or corporation shall store, deposit or keep in any mine a greater quantity than three thousand pounds of blasting powder, giant or Hercules powder, or other highly explosive substance, and no explosives named in this section shall be stored, deposited, or kept in any place where its accidental explosion would cut off the escape of miners working in said mine.

History: En. Sec. 708, Pen. C. 1895; Sec. 8546, Rev. C. 1907.

An allegation of negligence in storing dynamite in a mine, in a quantity greater than three thousand pounds, or in storing that or any other explosive in a mine where, should an explosion accidentally take place, escape by those working in the mine would be cut off, charges the violation of a specific duty imposed by this section, and such a violation is negligence per se. Westlake v. Keating Gold Min. Co., 48 Mont. 120, 128, 136 Pac. 38.

Plaintiff who, at the time of the explosion of a quantity of dynamite stored at a place in a mine contrary to the provisions of this section, was not so situated as to have his escape from the mine cut off by it, could not charge as an act of negligence the storage of the powder in a place where, in case of accidental discharge, escape by those working in the mine would be cut off, since the causal connection between his injuries and the stoppage of egress from the mine would be lacking. Westlake v. Keating Gold Min. Co., 48 Mont. 120, 130, 136 Pac. 38.

2808. Storage of explosives in cities, etc. No person, company, or corporation shall store, deposit, or keep within one mile of the limits of any city, town, or village any powder, gunpowder, giant or Hercules powder, or other highly explosive substance, in greater quantities than one hundred pounds, or more than one thousand giant caps, at any one time, nor shall such explosives be stored, deposited or kept in any quantities whatever within one mile of such city, town, or village, except in a magazine constructed as hereinafter described; provided, that this section shall not be construed to prevent any person, company or corporation, operating a mine within one mile of the limits of such city, town, or village, from storing powder for use in such mine in the manner prescribed in sections 2807 and 2809 of this code; provided also, that this section shall not prevent the keeping of a reasonable amount of gunpowder, not exceeding fifty pounds, in a safe place for sale.

An illustration is found in this section and the next succeeding section of the frequent legislative use of the term "city or town" without any definite prefix, but under circumstances which would render it absurd to hold that only incorporated cities and towns are meant. State ex rel. Powers v. Dale, 47 Mont. 227, 230, 131 Pac. 670, Ann. Cas. 1914D, 227.

Validity of ordinance regulating the keeping of explosives within city limits, see note in 1918E, 145.

2809. Construction and location of magazines. It shall be unlawful to store, deposit, or keep any powder, gunpowder, giant or Hercules powder, giant caps, or other highly explosive substance, in amounts exceeding one hundred pounds, elsewhere than in storehouses or magazines constructed as follows:

The walls of such storehouses and magazines shall be constructed entirely of stone or brick. There shall be no opening in such magazine except necessary ventilation, and one entrance not exceeding thirty inches in width. There shall be two doors to such entrance, an outer door opening outward and an inner door opening inward. The said doors shall be of plank not less than two inches in thickness, and both doors shall be entirely covered with one-eighth inch iron, and shall be hinged upon two or more iron hooks securely anchored in the walls of such magazine. Both said doors shall be kept securely locked at all times when powder is stored therein, except when it is necessary to store therein or remove therefrom such powder or other explosives. Such storage room or magazine shall be well and securely roofed with fire-proof and bullet-proof material. Such magazine shall not be constructed within less than one-fourth of a mile of any human habitation except by the permission of the county commissioners, nor shall any magazine constructed within one mile of the limits of any city, town, or village be constructed within one hundred feet of any building owned by any other person.

Cited or applied as section 8548, Revised Codes, in State ex rel. Powers v. Dale, 47 Mont. 227, 230, 131 Pac. 670, Ann. Cas. 1914D, 227.

2810. Magazines, etc., to bear warning signs. Every storehouse or magazine constructed as provided in the foregoing section, in which shall be stored, deposited, or kept any powder, gunpowder, giant or Hercules powder, giant caps, or other highly explosive substance, shall at all times have posted above the entrance thereof a sign-board on which shall be painted in conspicuous letters not less than four inches in length the words "explosives—dangerous." Every dray, wagon, freight car, or other vehicle in which shall be transported, transferred, or delivered any of the said explosives, shall bear on each side thereof a similar sign with conspicuous letters not less than two inches in length.

History: En. Sec. 711, Pen. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 8549, Rev. C. 1907.

2811. Transportation of explosives. It shall be unlawful to knowingly transport or deliver or cause to be delivered giant or Hercules powder, giant caps, nitro-glycerine, nitroleum, blasting or nitrated oil, or powder mixed therewith or fibre saturated therewith, or any other highly explosive substance in any quantitities whatever on any vessel or vehicle whatever carrying passengers by land or water between any points within the state of Montana; provided, that on mixed trains intended for service on railroad lines leading to mining localities or camps the aforesaid explosive substances or any of them may be lawfully carried, by hanging a placard on each side of the car or cars carrying the explosives, reading thus: "This car is loaded with powder"—each letter of said placard to be at least two inches long, but this proviso shall not permit the carrying of any of said explosive substances in the same car or coach in which the passengers are carried.

2812. Careless use of explosives. Every person who shall recklessly or maliciously use, handle, or have in his or her possession any blasting powder, giant or Hercules powder, giant caps, or other highly explosive substance, whereby any human being is intimidated, terrified, or endangered, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

History: En. Sec. 713, Pen. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 8551, Rev. C. 1907.

2813. Penalties. Any person, or association of persons, violating any of the provisions of this act, shall be punished by imprisonment in the penitentiary not exceeding five years, or by fine not exceeding five thousand dollars, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

History: En. Sec. 714, Pen. C. 1895; re-en. 8552, Rev. C. 1907.

2814. Penalty when death caused by violation of this act. When the death of any person is caused by the explosion of any powder, gunpowder, giant or Hercules powder, giant caps, or other highly explosive substance that has been stored, kept, handled, or transported, contrary to the provisions of the foregoing sections, the person or persons who have so unlawfully stored, kept, handled, or transported such explosives, or who may have knowingly or negligently permitted their agents, servants, or employees to so unlawfully store, keep, handle, or transport the same, shall be guilty of manslaughter, and, on conviction, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for a period not exceeding ten years.

2815. Sales of explosives after dark. No person or persons shall store, or keep in any store, warehouse, or any other building within the limits of any unincorporated town or village, more than five thousand giant caps at any one time, or any coal oil, kerosene or petroleum, exceeding sixty gallons, other than in original packages, within the limits of the said unincorporated town or village, or shall sell, lend, barter or dispose of, deliver or receive the same, or any or either of the said articles or materials, in the section herein enumerated, after dark, by the aid of any lamp, lantern, candle, match, or other artificial light, except electric light.

History: En. Sec. 3, p. 72, L. 1893; re-en. Sec. 716, Pen. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 8554, Rev. C. 1907.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 96, L. 1915.

The Workmen's Compensation Act is applicable to counties and county employees, and as such it is not class legislation, nor is it in violation of the constitutional prohibition against donations to individuals. Lewis and Clark County v. Industrial Accident Board, 52 Mont. 6, 12, 155 Pac. 268, L. R. A. 1916D, 628.

The Workmen's Compensation Act is not repugnant to the state constitution. Shea v. North-Butte Min. Co., 55 Mont. 522, 179 Pac. 499.

The rule, that a statute will not be declared invalid on constitutional grounds unless its invalidity is made to appear beyond a reasonable doubt, applies with peculiar force where, as in the case of the Workmen's Compensation Act, the statute seems to have been found satisfactory after a four-year period of operation, by those directly affected by it, namely, the employer and the employee. Shea v. North-Butte Min. Co., 55 Mont. 522, 530, 179 Pac. 499.

Inasmuch as the Workmen's Compensation Act becomes binding upon the employer and employee only at their election, neither may thereafter object to its enforcement, and the fact that the modes in which they may indicate their election are different, does not make it objectionable on the ground that it discriminates against either employer or employee. Shea v. North-Butte Min. Co., 55 Mont. 522, 534, 179 Pac. 499.

The silence of an employee, when given an opportunity to elect whether he will be bound or not bound by the provisions of the workmen's compensation law, establishes a presumption that he elects to become subject to it. Shea v. North-Butte Min. Co., 55 Mont. 522, 536, 179 Pac. 499.

It is competent for a party to waive his right to have a cause of action determined by a court before it actually arises, especially where the legislature has provided a substitute remedy, as under the compensation act, which renders his right to relief absolute. Shea v. North-Butte Min. Co., 55 Mont. 522, 536, 179 Pac. 499.

While the industrial accident board, created as a purely administrative body, exercises many functions that are judicial in character, it is not vested with judicial power, in the sense in which that expression is used in the constitution, wherein it means the power of a court to decide, to pronounce a judgment, and to carry it into effect, between persons and parties who bring a case before it for decision. Shea v. North-Butte Min. Co., 55 Mont. 522, 536, 179 Pac. 499.

History: En. Sec. 16, Ch. 96, L. 1915.

The phrase, "injury arising out of and in the course of his employment," means that to warrant payment of compensation, the facts must disclose that the injury or death, as the case may be, resulted from an industrial accident, arising out of and in the course of the employment. These terms are employed conjunctively, and not disjunctively, and the burden of proof is upon the claimant to establish, by a preponderance of the evidence, that the three of these conditions are met. Wiggins v. Industrial Accident Board, 54 Mont. 335, 342, 170 Pac. 9, Ann. Cas. 1918D, 1164, L. R. A. 1918F, 932.

The terms of the Workmen's Compensation Act are sufficiently comprehensive to include injury resulting from an act of God; thus, death resulting to an employee of a county, from lightning, while he is engaged at work on a public road, is death resulting from an industrial accident, but there can be no recovery therefor without proof that the injury causing death arose "out of" and "in the course of" the employment. Wiggins v. Industrial Accident Board, 54 Mont. 335, 342, 170 Pac. 9, Ann. Cas. 1918D, 1164, L. R. A. 1918F, 932.

An injury to a workman arises "out of" his employment if it is the result of exposure to a hazard peculiar to the employment, or of exposure to more than the normal risk to which the people of the community generally are subject. Wiggins v. Industrial Accident Board, 54 Mont. 335, 343, 170 Pac. 9, Ann. Cas. 1918D, 1164, L. R. A. 1918F, 932.

In determining whether a claimant was a dependent, the board is not concerned with problematical future conditions, but only with the condition of the claimant at the time of the injury to the decedent. Morgan v. Butte Central Min. etc. Co., 58 Mont. 633, 644, 194 Pac. 496.

2952. Jurisdiction to rescind or amend any order, decision, award, etc. The board shall have continuing jurisdiction over all its orders, decisions, and awards, and may, at any time, upon notice, and after opportunity to be heard is given to the parties in interest, rescind, alter, or amend any such order, decision, or award made by it upon good cause appearing therefor. Any order, decision, or award rescinding, altering, or amending a prior order, decision, or award, shall have the same effect as original orders or awards.

History: En. Sec. 20, Ch. 96, L. 1915.

2953. Record of proceedings to be kept and testimony to be taken down—Attorneys. A full and complete record shall be kept of all proceedings and hearings had before the board, or any member thereof, of any formal hearing had, and all testimony produced before the board or any member thereof shall be taken down by a stenographic reporter appointed by the board, and the parties shall be entitled to be heard in person or by attorney. In cases of an action to review any order or decision of the board, a transcript of such testimony, together with all exhibits, and of the pleadings, records, and proceedings in the cause shall constitute the record of the board.

History: En. Sec. 20, Ch. 96, L. 1915.

2954. Collateral attack not permitted. No orders or decisions of the board shall be subject to collateral attack, and may be reviewed or modified only in the manner provided therein.

History: En. Sec. 20, Ch. 96, L. 1915.

Cited or applied as section 20 (h), chapter 96, Laws of 1915, in Willis v. Pilot Butte Min. Co., 58 Mont. 26, 35, 190 Pac. 124.

2955. Application for rehearing. At any time within twenty days after the service of any order or decision of the board, any party or parties aggrieved thereby may apply for a rehearing upon one or more of the following grounds, and upon no other grounds:

(1) That the board acted without or in excess of its powers;

(2) That the order, decision, or award was procured by fraud;

(3) That the evidence does not justify the findings;

(4) That the applicant has discovered new evidence, material to him, and which he could not, with reasonable diligence, have discovered and produced at the hearing;

(5) That the findings do not support the order, decision, or award;

(6) That the order, decision, or award is unreasonable.

History: En. Sec. 21, Ch. 96, L. 1915.

2956. Board may at any time diminish or increase an award. Nothing contained in the preceding section shall, however, be construed to limit the right of the board, at any time after the date of its award, and from time to time after due notice and upon the application of any party interested, to review, diminish, or increase, within the limits provided by this act, any compensation awarded upon the grounds that the disability of the person in whose favor such award was made has either increased or diminished or terminated.

History: En. Sec. 21, Ch. 96, L. 1915.

2957. Application for rehearing—Contents—Rules of procedure. The application for rehearing shall set forth specifically and in full detail the grounds upon which the applicant considers said order, decision, award, rule, or regulation to be unjust, or unlawful, and shall in other respects conform to such rules and regulations as the board may prescribe. The board shall have full power and authority to make and prescribe rules to govern the procedure upon rehearing, and any matter before it and any order made after such rehearing abrogating or changing the original order shall have the same force and effect as an original order, and shall not affect any right, or enforcement of any right, arising from or by virtue of the original order.

History: En. Sec. 21, Ch. 96, L. 1915.

2958. Application for rehearing or appeal shall not operate as stay. An application for rehearing or the appeal hereinafter provided shall not excuse any employer, employee, or other person from complying with or obeying any order or requirement of the board, or operate in any manner to stay or postpone the enforcement of an order or requirement thereof, except as the board or the court may direct.

History: En. Sec. 21, Ch. 96, L. 1915.

2959. Appeal to district court. Within thirty days after the application for a rehearing is denied, or, if the application is granted, within thirty days after the rendition of the decision on the rehearing, and within twenty days after notice thereof, any party affected thereby may appeal to the district court of the judicial district of the state of Montana, including the county in said state wherein the employer may have his place of residence, or if such employer be a corporation, may have its principal office or place of business, or if said appeal be prosecuted by an injured workman or his dependents, such appeal may be taken to the district court wherein is located the county within which such workman was injured, which said appeal shall be for the purpose of having the lawfulness of the original order, decision, or award, or the order, decision, or award on rehearing inquired into and determined.

On an appeal to the district court from an award made by the industrial accident board, the court should not reverse the findings of the board unless the evidence clearly preponderates against them, the board having been in a better position to determine of the credibility of the witnesses and the weight to be given to their testimony than can the court from an inspection of the record. Review on appeal of facts under compensation act, see notes in Ann. Cas. 1916B, 475; Ann. Cas. 1918B, 647; L. R. A. 1917D, 186.

2960. How appeal taken—Notice—Record—Trial. Said appeal shall be taken by serving a written notice of said appeal upon the chairman of such industrial accident commission, or upon any other member thereof, which said service shall be made by the delivery of a copy of such notice to such chairman or member, and filing the original with the clerk of the court to which said appeal is taken. A copy of such notice must also be served upon the adversary party, if there be any, by mailing the same to said adversary party to such address of such party as said party shall have left with the board. If such party shall have left no address with the board, then no service upon such party shall be required. The order of filing and service of said notice is immaterial. Immediately upon service upon said board of said notice, the said board shall certify to said district court the entire record and proceedings, including all testimony and evidence taken by said board, with the clerk of said district court. Immediately upon the return of such certified record, the district court shall fix a day for the hearing of said cause, and shall cause notice to be served upon the board and upon the appellant, and also upon the adversary party, if there be any. The court may, upon the hearing, for good cause shown, permit additional evidence to be introduced, but, in the absence of such permission from the court, the cause shall be heard on the record of the board, as certified to the court by it. The trial of the matter shall be de novo, and upon such trial the court shall determine whether or not the board regularly pursued its authority, and whether or not the findings of the board ought to be sustained, and whether or not such findings are reasonable under all the circumstances of the case.

History: En. Sec. 22, Ch. 96, L. 1915.

The power given by this section is that of review rather than that of retrial. Willis v. Pilot Butte Min. Co., 58 Mont. 26, 34, 190 Pac. 124.

2961. Appearances—Setting aside conclusions, orders, etc., of board—Judgment and findings. The board and each party to the action or proceeding before the board shall have the right to appear in the proceeding, and it shall be the duty of the board to so appear. If the court shall find from such trial, as aforesaid, that the findings and conclusions of the board are not in accordance with either the facts or the law, or that they ought to be other or different than those made by the board, or that any finding and conclusion, or any order, rule, or requirement of the board is unreasonable, the court shall set aside such finding, conclusion, order, judgment, decree, rule, or requirement of said board, or shall modify or change the same as law and justice shall require, and the court shall also make and enter any finding, conclusion, order or judgment that shall be required, or shall be legal and proper in the premises.

2962. Appeals to supreme court. Either the board, or the appellant, or any adversary party, if there be one, may appeal to the supreme court of the state of Montana from any final order, judgment, or decree of the said district court, which said appeal shall be taken in like manner as appeals are now taken in other civil actions to the said supreme court, and upon such appeal the said supreme court shall make such orders in reference to a stay of proceedings as it finds to be just in the premises, and may stay the operation of any order, judgment, or decree of said district court, without requiring any bond or undertaking from the applicant for such stay. When any such cause is so appealed it shall have precedence upon the calendar of the said supreme court, and shall be tried anew by said supreme court upon the record made in said district court and before said board, and judgment and decree shall be entered therein as expeditiously as possible.

This section is invalid to the extent that it attempts to confer authority on the supreme court to try the cause "anew" as though the matter was originally before the court. Willis v. Pilot Butte Min. Co., 58 Mont. 26, 34, 190 Pac. 124.

2963. Appropriations to carry out provisions of act. There is hereby appropriated out of the state treasury the sum of fifty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to be known as the industrial administration fund, out of which the salaries, traveling, and office expenses of the board shall be paid, and all other expenses incident to the administration of this act.

There is hereby appropriated out of the industrial accident fund such sums as may be necessary to pay the compensation provided for in this act.

2965. Effect of decision holding any part of act unconstitutional. If any section, subsection, subdivision, sentence, clause, paragraph, or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional or void, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act, so long as sufficient remains of the act to render the same operative and reasonably effective for carrying out the main purpose and intention of the legislature in enacting the same, as such purpose and intention may be disclosed by the act.

History: En. Sec. 24, Ch. 96, L. 1915.

Though part of this act may be invalid, that does not require the conclusion that any other part of it is invalid, if, after the invalid part is eliminated, enough is left to accomplish all the purposes for which the legislation was enacted, particularly when this section is considered. 2966. Money in industrial accident fund held in trust. The moneys coming into the industrial accident fund shall be held in trust for the purpose for which such fund is created, and if this act shall be hereafter repealed, such moneys shall be subject to such disposition as may be provided by the legislature repealing this act; in default of such legislative provision, distribution thereof shall be in accordance with the justice of the matter, due regard being had to obligations of compensation incurred and existing.

2970. When and how employer may elect to adopt—Direct payment to employee.

COMPENSATION PLAN NUMBER ONE.

Any employer in the industries, trades, works, occupations, or employments in this act specified as hazardous, by filing his election to become, subject to and be bound by compensation plan No. 1, upon furnishing satisfactory proof to the board of his solvency and financial ability to pay the compensation and benefits in this act provided for, and to discharge all liabilities which are reasonably likely to be incurred by him during the fiscal year for which such election is effective, may, by order of the said board, make such payments directly to his employees as they may become entitled to receive the same under the terms and conditions of this act.

History: En. Sec. 30, Ch. 96, L. 1915.

2971. Proof of solvency of employer electing plan No. 1 to be filed. Every such employer now or hereafter engaged in the state of Montana, in the industries, trades, works, occupations, or employments herein mentioned, and who shall have elected to be bound by such compensation plan No. 1, shall file such proof of his solvency within the time and in such form as may be prescribed by the rules or orders of the board.

History: En. Sec. 30, Ch. 96, L. 1915.

2972. Employer permitted to carry on business and settle directly with employee—Renewal of application. If such employer, making such election, shall be found by the board to have the requisite financial ability to pay the compensation and benefits in this act provided for, then the board shall grant to such employer permission to carry on his said business for the fiscal year within which such election is made, and such proof filed, or the remaining portion of such fiscal year, and to make such payments directly to his employees as they may become entitled to receive the same. Every employer, so long as he continues in his said employment, and so long as he continues to be bound by such compensation plan No. 1, shall, at least thirty days before the expiration of each fiscal year, renew his application to be permitted to continue to make such payments as aforesaid directly to his employees for the next ensuing fiscal year, and under like circumstances as those mentioned for the granting of such permission upon such first application, the board may renew the same from year to year.

History: En. Sec. 30, Ch. 96, L. 1915.

2973. Additional proof of solvency—Revocation of order. The board may at any time require from any employer acting under compensation plan No. 1 additional proof of solvency and financial ability to pay the compensation provided by this act, and may at any time, upon notice to such employer of not less than ten or more than twenty days, after and upon a full hearing, revoke any order or approval theretofore made.

History: En. Sec. 30, Ch. 96, L. 1915.

2974. Requiring security of employer. If said industrial accident board shall find that such employer has not financial responsibility for the payment of the compensation herein provided to be paid, which might reasonably be expected to be chargeable to such employer during the fiscal year to be covered by such permission, said industrial accident board must so find, and must require such employer, before granting to him such permission, or before continuing or engaging in such employment, subject to the provisions of compensation plan No. 1, to give security for such payment, which security must be in such an amount as said board shall find is reasonable and necessary to meet all liabilities of such employer, which may reasonably and ordinarily be expected to accrue during such fiscal year. Said security must be deposited with the treasurer of the board, and may be a certain estimated per centum of said employer's last preceding annual pay-roll, or a certain per centum of the established amount of his annual pay-roll for said fiscal year or said security may be in the form of a bond or undertaking executed to said industrial accident board in the amount to be fixed by it with two or more sufficient sureties, which undertaking must be conditioned that such employer will well and truly pay, or cause to be paid, all such sums and amounts for which the employer shall become liable under the terms of this act to his employees during said fiscal year; or such security may consist of any state, county, municipal, or school district bonds, or the bonds or evidence of indebtedness of any individuals or corporations which the board may deem solvent; and every such deposit and the character and amount of such securities shall at all times be subject to approval, revision, or change by the board as in its judgment may be required, and upon proof of the final payment of the liability for which such securities are given, such securities, or any remaining part thereof, shall be returned to the depositor. The treasurer of the board and his bondsmen shall be liable for the value and safekeeping of all such deposits or securities, and shall, at any time, upon demand of the bondsmen or the depositor or the board, account for the same, and the earnings thereof.

History: En. Sec. 30, Ch. 96, L. 1915.

2975. Failure of employer to pay compensation—Duty of board. Upon the failure of said employer to pay any compensation provided for in this act, upon the terms and in the amounts and at the times when the same shall become due and payable, it shall be the duty of such state accident board, upon demand of the person to whom compensation is due, to apply any deposits made with the board to the payment of the same, and it shall be its duty to take the proper steps to convert any securities on deposit with the said board, or sufficient thereof, into cash and to pay the same upon the liabilities of said employer, accruing under the terms of this act, and it shall be its duty, in so far as the same shall be necessary, to collect and enforce the collection of the liability of all sureties upon any bonds which may be given by the said employer to insure the payment of his said liability. And to these ends, and for these purposes, the board shall be deemed to be the owner of said deposit and security and the obligee in said bond in trust for the said purposes, and may proceed in its own name to recover upon such bonds, or foreclose and liquidate said securities.

History: En. Sec. 30, Ch. 96, L. 1915.

2976. When employer to make deposit or security to guarantee payment of compensation. Within thirty days after the happening of an accident where death or the nature of the injury renders the amount of future payments certain, or reasonably certain, the employer shall make a deposit or give security as herein defined with the treasurer of the board for the protection and guaranty of the payment of such liability, in such sum as the board may direct; provided, however, that if sufficient securities are already on deposit with the said board, or if the said board shall have determined that the employer has sufficient financial responsibility to meet said liability of the said employer, together with other liabilities already accrued, no such additional deposit or security shall be demanded.

History: En. Sec. 30, Ch. 96, L. 1915.

2977. When employer may be relieved from liability. Any employer against whom liability may exist for compensation under this act, may, with the approval of the board, be relieved therefrom by

(1) Depositing the present value or the estimated present value of the total unpaid compensation for which such liability exists, assuming interest at five per centum per annum, with the treasurer of the board; or

(2) Purchasing an annuity within the limitations provided by law, in any insurance company granting annuities, and authorized to transact business in this state, subject to the approval of the board.

History: En. Sec. 30, Ch. 96, L. 1915.

2978. Employer electing plan No. 2 to insure his liability.

COMPENSATION PLAN NUMBER TWO.

Any employer in the industries, trades, works, occupations, or employments in this act specified as hazardous, by filing his election to become subject to and bound by compensation plan No. 2, may insure his liability to pay the compensation and benefits herein provided for, in any insurance company authorized to transact such business in this state.

History: En. Sec. 35, Ch. 96, I. 1915.

Constitutionality of compulsory industrial insurance, see note in 37 L. R. A. (N. S.) 466.

2979. Duty of employer electing plan number two—Amount of insurance necessary. Any employer electing to become subject to and bound by compensation plan No. 2 shall file with the board written acceptance of the provisions of compensation plan No. 2, together with a statement upon forms provided by the board of the nature of his employment, the character and location of his works, the number of men employed during the preceding year, or any part of the preceding year, and the probable number of men to be employed during the first fiscal year to be covered by such election, and the board shall thereupon determine the amount of insurance which will be reasonably necessary to secure the compensation with which the said employer may reasonably be expected to become chargeable during such fiscal year. And thereupon the said employer shall file the policy or policies of insurance herein provided for with the board, which policy or policies shall insure in the amount so fixed by the board against any and all liability of the employer to pay the compensation and benefits provided for in this act. The amount of such insurance shall be fixed by the board for each ensuing fiscal year during which said employer shall engage in his said employment, and shall remain subject to the provisions of compensation plan No. 2, and for the purpose of fixing such amount of said insurance, the said board may make all reasonable and necessary investigation, and the said employer shall furnish to such board all information which it may require.

History: En. Sec. 35, Ch. 96, L. 1915.

2980. Policies to contain what. All policies insuring the payment of compensation under this act must contain a clause to the effect that as between the employee and the insurer the notice to, or knowledge of the occurrence of the injury on the part of the insured, shall be deemed notice or knowledge, as the case may be, on the part of the insurer; that jurisdiction of the insured for the purpose of this act shall be jurisdiction of the insurer; and that the insurer shall, in all things, be bound by and subject to the awards, orders, judgments, or decrees rendered against such insured.

History: En. Sec. 35, Ch. 96, L. 1915.

2981. Agreement to be contained in policies of insurance—Deposit of bonds. No such policy shall be issued unless it contains the agreement of the insurer that it will promptly pay to the person entitled to compensation all the instalments of compensation or other payments in this act provided for, and that the obligation shall not be affected by any default of the insured after the injury, or by any default in the giving of any notice required by such policy or by this act or otherwise. Such agreement shall be construed to be a direct promise by the insured to the person entitled to compensation. Before issuance of any policy by an insurer as herein authorized, such insurer must deposit with the treasurer of the industrial accident board, bonds of the United States or the state of Montana, or of any school district, county, city, or town in the state of Montana, in an amount not less than five thousand dollars or more than twenty thousand dollars, as the industrial accident board may determine. If any insurer shall fail to discharge any liability after the amount thereof shall be determined by the board, and within the time limited by the board, it shall be the duty of the board to convert said bonds, or such part thereof as is necessary, into cash, and from the proceeds liquidate such liability; and thereafter said insurer must make an additional deposit to meet any deficiency caused thereby.

2982. Policies made subject to this act—Form of insurance. Every policy for the insurance of the compensation herein provided for, or against liability therefor, shall be deemed to be made subject to the provisions of this act. No insurer shall enter into any such policy of insurance unless its form shall have been approved by the board, and as otherwise provided by law.

History: En. Sec. 35, Ch. 96, L. 1915.

2983. Renewals. Every renewal of such policy shall be made and delivered to said board at least thirty days prior to the expiration of the expiring policy.

History: En. Sec. 35, Ch. 96, L. 1915.

2984. Deposits by insurer with board. Within thirty days of the happening of an accident where death or the nature of the injury renders the amount of future payments certain or reasonably certain, the insurer shall make a deposit, as herein defined, with the treasurer of the board for the protection and guarantee of the payment of such liability in such sum as the board may direct; provided, that if the board deems the amount on deposit by said insurer under the provisions of section 2981 sufficient to cover all liabilities of the insurer, then no further deposit shall be required.

History: En. Sec. 35, Ch. 96, L. 1915; amd. Sec. 11, Ch. 100, L. 1919.

2985. How insurer relieved from liability. Any insurer against whom liability may exist for compensation under this act, may, with the approval of the board, be relieved therefrom by

(1) Depositing the present value or the estimated present value of the total unpaid compensation for which such liability exists, assuming interest at five per centum per annum, with the treasurer of the board; or

(2) By purchasing an annuity within the limitations provided by law in any insurance company granting annuities, and authorized to transact business in this state, subject to the approval of the board.

History: En. Sec. 35, Ch. 96, L. 1915.

2986. Cancellation of insurance policy. No policy of insurance issued under the provisions of compensation plan No. 2 shall be canceled within the time limited for its expiration except upon thirty days' notice to the employer in favor of whom such policy is issued, and to the board, unless such policy sought to be canceled shall have been sooner replaced by other insurance.

History: En. Sec. 35, Ch. 96, L. 1915.

2987. Report of insurance companies to board. Every insurance company transacting business under this act shall, at the time and in the manner prescribed by the board, make and file with the board such reports of accidents as the board may require.

History: En. Sec. 35, Ch. 96, L. 1915.

2988. Policies to contain clause agreeing to do what—Approval or change. Every policy or contract insuring against liability for compensation under compensation plan No. 2 must contain a clause to the effect that the insurer shall be directly and primarily liable to and will pay directly to the employee, or in case of death, to his beneficiaries, or major or minor dependents, the compensation, if any, for which the employer is liable. Every such policy shall at all times be subject to the approval, change, or revision by the board, and shall contain the clauses, agreements, and promises required by this act.

History: En. Sec. 35, Ch. 96, L. 1915.

2989. Deposits under plan No. 2 as security. Any deposit made under the provisions of compensation plan No. 2 shall be held in trust by the treasurer of the board as security for the payment of the liability for which the deposit was made. Such deposit may be reduced from time to time with the permission of the board, as the payment of the liability of the insurer may reduce the amount required to be on deposit. Such deposit may be changed or renewed when desired by the depositor, by withdrawing the same, or any part thereof, and substituting other deposits therefor; upon proof of the final payment of the liability for which such deposit was made, any deposit remaining shall be returned to the depositor. All earnings made by such deposit shall be first applied upon any liability of the depositors, and if no such liability exists, then such earnings shall upon demand be delivered to such depositor. The treasurer of the board and his bondsmen shall be liable for the value and safe-keeping of such deposit, and shall at any time, upon demand of his bondsmen, the depositor, or the board, account for the same and the earnings thereof.

History: En. Sec. 35, Ch. 96, L. 1915.

There is a state board of arbitration and conciliation consisting of three members, whose term of office is two years and until their successors are appointed and qualified. The board must be appointed by the governor, with the advice and consent of the senate. If a vacancy occurs at any time the governor shall appoint some one to serve out the unexpired term, and he may in like manner remove any member of said board.

History: En. Sec. 1670, Rev. C. 1907.

Note.—A territorial board of arbitration and conciliation was created by act of February 28, 1887, 5th Division Compiled Statutes 1887, sections 82 to 88. This act was superseded by sections 3330 to 3338, Political Code 1895, appearing as sections 1670 to 1678, Revised Codes 1907.

3053. Who may be appointed. One of the board must be an employer, or selected from some association representing employers of labor, and one of them must be a laborer, or selected from some labor organization, and not an employer of labor, and the other must be a disinterested citizen.

They shall at once organize by the choice of one of their number as chairman. The decision must at once be made public, and must be recorded in a book kept by the clerk of the board, and a statement thereof published in the annual report, and the board must cause a copy thereof to be filed with the clerk of the county where the dispute arose.

History: Sec. 1673, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 3052.

3056. Application, how made. The application to the board of arbitration and conciliation must be signed by the employer, or by a majority of his employees in the department of the business in which the controversy or difference exists, or their duly authorized agent, or by both parties, and shall contain a concise statement of the grievances complained of, and a promise to continue on in business or at work without any lockout or strike until the decision of said board, if it shall be made within four weeks of the date of filing said application. When an application is signed by an agent claiming to represent a majority of such employees, the board shall satisfy itself that such agent is duly authorized in writing to represent such employees, but the names of the employees giving such authority shall be kept secret by said board. As soon as may be after the receipt of said application, the secretary of said board shall cause public notice to be given for the time and place for the hearing thereon; but public notice need not be given when both parties to the controversy join in the application and present therewith a written request that no public notice be given. When such request is made, notice shall be given to the parties interested in such manner as the board may order; and the board may, at any stage of the proceedings, cause public notice to be given, notwithstanding such request. When notice has been given as aforesaid, each of the parties to the controversy, the employer on one side, and the employees interested on the other side, may in writing nominate, and the board may appoint, one person to act in the case as expert assistant to the board. The two persons so appointed shall be skilled in and conversant with the business or trade concerning which the dispute has arisen. It shall be their duty, under the direction of the board, to obtain and report to the board information concerning the wages paid, the hours of labor, and the methods and grades of work prevailing in manufacturing establishments, or other industries or occupations, within the state, of a character similar to that in which the matters in dispute have arisen. Said expert assistants shall be sworn to the faithful discharge of their duty; such oath to be administered by any member of the board, and a record thereof shall be preserved with the record of the proceedings in the case. They shall be entitled to receive from the treasury of the state such compensation as shall be allowed and certified by the board not exceeding.....dollars per day, together with all necessary traveling expenses. Nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent the board from appointing such other additional expert assistant or assistants as it may deem necessary, who shall be paid in like manner. Should the petitioner or petitioners fail to perform the promise made in said application, the board shall proceed no further thereupon without the consent of the adverse party. The board shall have power to summon as witness any operative or employee in the department of business affected, and any person who keeps the records of wages earned in those departments, and to examine them under oath, and to require the production of books containing the record of wages paid. Summons may be signed and oaths administered by any member of the board.

History: Sec. 1675, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 3052.

3058. The decision—When binding. Any decision made by the board is binding upon the parties who join in the application for six months, or until either party has given the other notice in writing of his intention not to be bound by the same at the expiration of sixty days therefrom. The notice must be given to employees by posting the same in three conspicuous places in the shop, office, factory, store, mill, or mine where the employees work.

Such board shall, in respect to the matters referred to it, have and exercise all the powers which the state board might have and exercise, and its decision shall have whatever binding effect may be agreed upon by the parties to the controversy in written submission. The jurisdiction of such board shall be exclusive in respect to the matters submitted to it, but it may ask and receive the advice and assistance of the state board. The decision of such board shall be rendered within ten days of the close of any hearing held by it; such decision shall at once be filed with the clerk of the county in which the controversy or difference arose, and a copy thereof shall be forwarded to the state board and entered on its records. Each of such arbitrators shall be entitled to receive from the treasury of the county in which the controversy or difference that is the subject of the arbitration exists, if such payment shall be approved by the commissioners of said county, the sum of three dollars for each day of actual service, not exceeding ten days for any one arbitration. Whenever it is made to appear to the mayor of any city or two commissioners of any county, that a strike or lockout such as described hereafter in this section is seriously threatened or actually occurs, the mayor of such city, or said commissioners of such county, shall at once notify the state board of the fact. Whenever it shall come to the knowledge of the state board, either by notice from the mayor of a city, or two or more commissioners of a county, as provided in this section, or otherwise, that a strike or lockout is seriously threatened or has actually occurred in any city or county of this state, involving an employer and his present or past employees, if at the time he is employing or up to the occurrence of the strike or lockout was employing not less than twenty persons in the same general line of business in any city, town, or county in this state, it shall be the duty of the state board to put itself in communication as soon as may be with such employer and employees, and endeavor by mediation to effect an amicable settlement between them, or to endeavor to persuade them, providing that a strike or lockout has not actually occurred or is not then continuing, to submit the matters in dispute to a local board of arbitration and conciliation as above provided, or to the state board; and said state board may, if it deems it advisable, investigate the cause or causes of such controversy, and ascertain which party thereto is mainly responsible or blameworthy for the existence or continuance of the same, and may make and publish a report finding such cause or causes, and assigning such responsibility or blame. The board shall have the same powers for the foregoing purposes as are given it by section 3055 of this code. Witnesses summoned by the state board shall be allowed the sum of fifty cents for each attendance, and the further sum of twenty-five cents for each hour of attendance in excess of two hours, and shall be allowed five cents a mile for travel each way from their respective places of employment or business to the place where the board is in session. Each witness shall certify in writing the amount of his travel and attendance, and the amount due him shall be certified to the state board of examiners for auditing, and the same shall be paid as other expenses of the state from any moneys in the state treasury.

This statute, prior to its amendment, was held to be constitutional. State v. Livingston Concrete etc. Mfg. Co., 34 Mont. 570, 87 Pac. 980, 9 Ann. Cas. 204.

If a statute makes a requirement, or prohibits a thing, for the benefit of a person or class of persons, one injured by reason of a violation of it, if free from fault himself, is entitled to maintain an action against him by whose disobedience he has suffered injury; and this is true whether the statute is penal in its character or not, a violation of the statute being negligence per se, or legal negligence. Melville v. Butte-Balaklava Copper Co., 47 Mont. 1, 6, 130 Pac. 441. See Kelley v. John R. Daily Co., 56 Mont. 63, 73, 181 Pac. 326.

Under the rule that an action does not lie at the suit of one who must base his claim, in whole or in part, on the violation of a criminal or penal law of the state, a miner who was killed while working in violation of a statute providing that eight hours shall constitute a day's work in mines, under penalty of fine and imprisonment in the county jail, could not, if he had survived his injuries, recover damages in an action brought for that purpose. Melville v. Butte-Balaklava Copper Co., 47 Mont. 1, 7, 130 Pac. 441.

Cited or applied as section 1739, Revised Codes, before amendment, in State v. Hughes, 38 Mont. 468, 471, 100 Pac. 610.

Statutory restriction of hours of labor upon public works, see notes in 1 Ann. Cas. 46; 10 Ann. Cas. 721; Ann. Cas. 1912A, 773; 8 L. R. A. (N. S.) 131; 24 L. R. A. (N. S.) 201; 34 L. R. A. (N. S.) 767.

3080. Penalty. Every person, corporation, stock company, or association of persons who violates any of the provisions of the preceding section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than thirty days nor more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 50, L. 1905; re-en. Sec. 2, Ch. 108, L. 1907; Sec. 1740, Rev. C. 1907.

The inhibition contained in this section includes both employer and employee, and renders both subject to the penalty whenever the former causes the employee to work, and the latter works for a period longer than eight hours. State v. Livingston Concrete etc. Mfg. Co., 34 Mont. 570, 577, 87 Pac. 980, 9 Ann. Cas. 204; Melville v. Butte-Balaklava Copper Co., 47 Mont. 1, 6, 130 Pac. 441.

The person who occupies a position of authority over one engaged as an employee, and who exercises control over him, is the employer who comes within the prohibition of the eight-hour law. State v. Hughes, 38 Mont. 468, 472, 100 Pac. 610.

One who does not sustain the relation of employer to any of the men employed by subcontractors is not answerable for the conduct of the latter in requiring their men to work more than eight hours per day. State v. Hughes, 38 Mont. 468, 473, 100 Pac. 610.

3081. Railway employees—Hours of labor. On all lines of steam railroads or railways operated in whole or in part within this state, the time of labor of locomotive engineers, locomotive firemen, conductors, trainmen, operators, and agents acting as operators, employed in running or operating the locomotive engines or trains on or over such railroads or railways in this state, shall not at any time exceed sixteen consecutive hours, or to be on duty for more than sixteen hours in the aggregate in any twenty-four hour period. At least eight hours shall be allowed them off duty before said engineers, firemen, conductors, trainmen, operators, and agents acting as operators, are again ordered or required to go on duty; provided, however, that nothing in this section shall be construed to allow any engineer, fireman, conductor, or trainman to desert his locomotive or train in case of accident, storms, wrecks, washouts, snow blockade, or any unavoidable delay arising from like causes, or to allow said engineer, fireman, conductor, or trainman to tie up any passenger or mail train between terminals.

Until congress has acted, the regulation of the hours of railway employees is a matter for state control, under the exercise of its police power to provide for the public safety and to preserve the health and lives of the employees, and a federal statute, effective at a future date, does not supersede existing state legislation. State v. Northern Pac. Ry. Co., 36 Mont. 582, 584, 93 Pac. 945, 13 Ann. Cas. 144, 15 L. R. A. (N. S.) 134.

In Northern Pac. Ry. Co. v. State of Washington, 222 U. S. 370, 56 L. Ed. 237, 32 Sup. Ct. 160, held the state loses control upon the enactment of a federal statute, though not effective until a subsequent date.

Evidence held insufficient to support a verdict finding the defendant railway company guilty of a violation of the provisions of this section and the following section, prohibiting railroads from requiring their trainmen to work for more than sixteen consecutive hours. State v. Northern Pacific Ry. Co., 41 Mont. 557, 558, 111 Pac. 141.

Regulation by state of hours of labor of railroad employees as interference with interstate commerce, see notes in Ann. Cas. 1917A, 981; 29 L. R. A. (N. S.) 240; 52 L. R. A. (N. S.) 267.

3082. Penalties. Any railroad company or superintendent, train dispatcher, trainmaster, master mechanic, or other railroad or railway official, who shall order or require any locomotive engineer, locomotive fireman, conductor, trainman, operator, or agent acting as operator, to labor contrary to the provisions of the preceding section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars or more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment of not less than thirty days or more than sixty days in the county jail; and all railroad or railway corporations operating lines of railroads or railways in whole or in part in this state shall be liable in damages for all injuries to any person or persons resulting from violations of the provisions of said section.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 5, L. 1907; Sec. 1742, Rev. C. 1907.

Cited or applied as section 2, Laws of 1907, in State v. Northern Pacific Ry. Co., 36 Mont. 582, 585, 93 Pac. 945, 13 Ann. Cas. 144, 15 L. R. A. (N. S.) 134; as section 1742, Revised Codes, in State v. Northern Pacific Ry. Co., 41 Mont. 557, 558, 111 Pac. 141.

3083. Act not to apply to relief or wreck trains. The provisions of section 3081 of this code shall not apply to relief or wreck trains.

3116. Qualifications, appointment, and term. The governor, with the advice and consent of the senate, shall appoint seven learned, skilled, and capable physicians, who shall have been residents of the state of Montana for not less than two years preceding their appointment, not more than two of whom shall be from the same county, and who have attended three courses of lectures, and are graduates of accredited colleges of medicine, who shall constitute the board of examiners for the purposes of this article. The physicians so appointed shall hold their respective offices for seven years; provided, that the terms in office of those constituting the present board shall not be affected by the provisions of this act; and the terms of their successors shall be so arranged as to succeed the present incumbents as their terms expire; and provided, also, that all the vacancies occurring shall be likewise filled by appointment by the governor, with the advice and consent of the senate. Appointments made when the senate is not in session shall take effect immediately, and may be confirmed at the next ensuing session.

Note.—The first board of medical examiners was created by sections 1 to 9, pp. 175 to 178, Laws of 1889. This act was amended by sections 600 to 608, Political Code 1895. The law is here given as it appears with amendments subsequent to 1895.

History: En. Sec. 600, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 1585, Rev. C. 1907.

The practice of medicine is a proper subject for police regulation. Johnson v. City of Great Falls, 38 Mont. 369, 374, 99 Pac. 1059, 16 Ann. Cas. 974.

The act regulating the practice of medicine is not unconstitutional as denying the equal protection of the laws, in that it discriminates in favor of osteopathic practitioners. State v. Dodd, 51 Mont. 100, 149 Pac. 481.

In a prosecution for engaging in the practice of osteopathy without first having a license, an allegation that the defendant engaged in the practice "without first having obtained a certificate or license from the state board," etc., is material, and must be established by the state beyond a reasonable doubt; but the evidence as to that matter is sufficient where the record of the secretary of such board discloses that the defendant had never applied to the board for a license or certificate, and there is no evidence to contradict it. State v. Hopkins, 54 Mont. 52, 64, 166 Pac. 304, Ann. Cas. 1918D, 956.

Cited or applied as section 600, Political Code, in State ex rel. State Board of Medical Examiners v. District Court, 26 Mont. 121, 122, 66 Pac. 754.

Regulation of practice of medicine and dentistry as affected by fourteenth amendment of federal constitution, see note in 25 A. S. R. 890.

3117. Organization of board—Register. The board of medical examiners must, on the first Tuesday of April of each year, elect from among their number a president, secretary, and treasurer, and must have a seal. Four members of said board shall constitute a quorum. The president and secretary have the power to administer oaths in examination of applicants for certificates, and witnesses called before the board in the transaction of business under the provisions of this act. The board of examiners must hold meetings for examinations at the seat of government on the first Tuesdays of April and October of each year, and at such other times and at the same and other places as the board may determine. The board must keep a record of all proceedings thereof, and also a register of all applicants for a certificate, with the age of the applicant, time spent in the study of medicine, and the name and location of all the institutions granting to such applicant degrees or certificates of lectures attended in medicine or surgery. The register must also show whether such applicant was rejected, or has received a certificate under this act; such register is prima facie evidence of all the matters therein kept.

History: En. Sec. 601, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 1586, Rev. C. 1907.

Where, in a prosecution for engaging in the practice of osteopathy without having first procured a license, it is material to allege that the defendant was not a duly licensed practitioner of medicine or surgery, there is sufficient evidence that he was not such a practitioner where his name does not appear upon the register of applicants to the board of medical examiners for a certificate to practice, such register being required to be kept by this section, and where the record has been identified as one required by law to be kept, the presumption attaches, under section 10606, that it has been correctly kept. State v. Hopkins, 54 Mont., 52, 65, 166 Pac. 304, Ann. Cas. 1918D, 956.

Cited or applied as section 601, Political Code, in State ex rel. Seres v. District Court, 19 Mont. 501, 506, 48 Pac. 1104.

3118. Examination of applicants. Every person hereafter wishing to practice medicine or surgery in any of the departments of this state shall apply to said board for a certificate so to do. Every person applying shall present his or her diploma to the said board of examiners for verification as to its genuineness; if the diploma is found to be genuine, and is issued by a medical school legally organized and in good standing, whose teachers are graduates of a legally organized school, which fact said board of examiners shall determine, and if the person presenting and claiming said diploma be the person to whom the same was originally granted, at a time and place designated by said board, or at a regular meeting of said board, said applicant shall submit to an examination in the following branches, to-wit: Anatomy, physiology, materia medica, therapeutics, practice of medicine, surgery, obstetrics, diseases of women and children, diseases of the nervous system, diseases of the eye and ear; and present evidence of having attended four courses of lectures of at least six months each, but such evidence of having attended four courses of lectures shall not be required of the applicants graduating prior to July 1, 1898. Said board shall cause such examination to be both scientific and practical, and of sufficient thoroughness and severity to test the candidate's fitness to practice medicine and surgery; when desired, such examination may be conducted in the presence of the dean of any medical school, or the president of any medical society in this state. After examination, such board, if the candidate has been found qualified, shall grant a certificate to such candidate to practice medicine and surgery in the state of Montana; which said certificate can be granted only by the consent of not less than four members of said board, and which said certificate shall be signed by the president and secretary of said board, and attested by the seal thereof; provided, however, that in all cases where an applicant for a certificate under this section shall produce and exhibit to said board of examiners a certificate from a board of medical examiners, duly appointed and existing under the laws of any state of the United States, and recognizing certificates or licenses from this state, certifying to the fact that the person presenting such certificate is duly and well qualified to practice medicine and surgery in the state issuing said certificate, and that said board issuing said certificate has subjected the applicant to a thorough examination to ascertain this fact, or certifying to the fact that the person presenting such certificate is duly and well qualified to practice medicine and surgery in the state issuing said certificate; and to the further fact, if such is the case, that said applicant was exempt from examination under the provisions of the law of said state, by reason of his residence in said state in the active practice of medicine and surgery at the time of the passage in said state of said law requiring the examination of applicants to practice medicine and surgery; he or she may, at the discretion of said board of examiners, upon paying the fee required of applicants for examination under the provisions of section 3123, and otherwise complying with all the requirements of this article, receive from said board of examiners a certificate to practice medicine and surgery within this state, and upon filing said certificate with the county clerk of the county in which he resides, as is provided in section 3120, he shall be a legally qualified practitioner of medicine and surgery in this state; provided, also, that during any period intervening between the sessions of said board of examiners, any person desiring to practice medicine in this state may present his or her diploma to the president or secretary of said board, who may issue a certificate good until the next regular meeting of said board; and provided further, that all physicians and surgeons who hold certificates granted by the now existing board of medical examiners, or who are now legally entitled to practice medicine and surgery in this state, shall be exempt from the provisions of this section.

licensed to do so shall be permitted to practice medicine in the state of Montana, unless he shall have first been subjected to a thorough examination as to his qualifications, learning, and professional skill by the state board of medical examiners, nor until he has been issued a certificate by such board, after such examination, admitting him to practice as a physician and surgeon in the state of Montana. The board may refuse to grant a certificate for unprofessional, dishonorable, or immoral conduct. Before a certificate can be refused for such cause, the board must serve in writing upon the applicant a copy of any charge or charges against him, and appoint a day for hearing, at which the applicant or any witness in his behalf may appear and give testimony in refutation of such charges. In case the board, after such hearing, refuse a certificate to the applicant, the decision specially stating the ground upon which such refusal was made must be reduced to writing and a copy thereof delivered to the applicant upon demand. Upon a like hearing the board may refuse a certificate to any one who may publicly profess to cure or treat disease, injury, or deformity, in such a manner as to deceive the public. The hearing provided for herein must take place within twenty days after the service of the copy of the charges upon the applicant, unless further time is granted to the applicant, and the decision of the board must not be later than ten days after the day of hearing. If the decision is not rendered within said period of ten days, the applicant is not subject to any penalties for practicing without a certificate during the time that elapses before the decision is made. The board, with the concurrence of four members thereof, may revoke a certificate for unprofessional, dishonorable, or immoral conduct. Before such revocation can take place, a written complaint, specifically stating the charges against the person whose certificate is sought to be revoked, must be delivered to the board, and a copy thereof be served upon such person twenty days before the time fixed by the board for the hearing of such charges. The board must fix the time and place for the hearing, at which the person charged may appear and produce testimony in refutation of such charges. If, after such hearing, the board revoke the certificate of such person, the ground upon which such revocation is made must be specifically stated by the board in writing, and a copy thereof delivered, on demand, to the person whose certificate is revoked. In all cases of the refusal or the revocation of a certificate to practice medicine by said board, the person aggrieved thereby may appeal from the decision of the board as hereinafter provided. An appeal may be taken from the action of the state board of medical examiners in refusing to issue a certificate to practice medicine and surgery to any applicant after examination, or from the action of said board in revoking the certificate of any physician or surgeon, to the district court of the county in which such revocation or refusal was made. The appeal is taken by serving notice of appeal upon the secretary of the board of medical examiners and the attorney-general of the state, within thirty days after notice from the board of medical examiners of its decision, and by filing within the same time with the clerk of the proper district court a verified copy of the decision from which appeal is taken, together with a verified copy of any charge or charges preferred against the applicant and filed with the board of medical examiners. The appellant is required, at the time of filing such appeal, to furnish and file with the clerk of the court a good and sufficient bond, to be approved by the clerk of the court, with two good and sufficient sureties, in the sum of three hundred dollars, guaranteeing the payment of all costs of the appeal should the case be decided against the appellant, and the costs shall consist of the sheriff's fees for serving jurors, jurors' fees, and the fees of the clerk of the court. Such appeal shall thereafter be tried by the district court before a jury of six physicians—not less than two of whom shall be of the same school of medicine as the appellant—and in case such jury cannot be obtained in the county where the case is tried, the judge of such court shall order subpoenas for physicians from any adjoining county or counties, which subpoenas shall be served by the sheriff of such adjoining county upon receipt, after the clerk of the court where the subpoena is issued shall have sent by registered mail such subpoena to such sheriff. Bias or prejudice or fixed opinion shall constitute a ground of challenge to a juror for cause, and the appellant and the medical board shall each have the right to peremptorily challenge not more than two of such jurors. When the jury shall have been selected and sworn to try the cause, they constitute a higher examining board for the purpose of inquiring into whether or not the judgment of the board of medical examiners should be affirmed or overruled upon the issues presented to such board, and such jury may make such examination of the appellant as they may deem necessary or desirable. It shall take four of the jury to render a verdict, and no members of the medical board is qualified to act as a juror. The attorney-general is hereby made the attorney for said board. Jurymen subpoenaed under this act shall be entitled to mileage at the rate of ten cents per mile for each and every mile by them actually traveled in attending upon the court, and of three dollars per day for their services.

Though the board of medical examiners is empowered to revoke a certificate for unprofessional, dishonorable or immoral conduct, it cannot arbitrarily revoke the certificate of a physician without reasonable notice of the charge against him and the time and place of the trial. State v. Schultz, 11 Mont. 429, 434, 28 Pac. 343.

Whether acting under its general constitutional powers or as exercising a special and limited jurisidiction derived exclusively from the statute, the district court has no power to allow an applicant to practice medicine pending his appeal from a refusal of the state board of medical examiners to grant him a certificate. State ex rel. State Board of Medical Examiners v. District Court, 26 Mont. 121, 124, 66 Pac. 754.

The application of a physician to the district court to have the action of the state board of medical examiners, in revoking his license for alleged unprofessional and dishonorable conduct, judicially determined, is a special proceeding, from the judgment in which an appeal lies to the supreme court, if taken within one year; but he cannot, after the time for the appeal has elapsed, have the judgment reviewed and annulled on writ of review. State ex rel. Gattan v. District Court, 39 Mont. 134, 136, 101 Pac. 961.

3120. Certificate must be recorded. Every person obtaining a certificate from the board must, within sixty days from the date thereof, have the same recorded in the office of the county clerk in the county wherein he resides; if he removes from one county to another to practice medicine or surgery, his certificate must immediately be recorded in the county to which he removes. The county clerk must indorse upon the certificate the date of record, and he is entitled to charge and receive his usual fees for such services, the fee to be paid by the applicant. Until the certificate be recorded, as provided by this section, the physician practicing under it is subject to the penalties prescribed in the Penal Code for practicing without a certificate.

3122. Practicing medicine without certificate—Penalties. Any person practicing medicine or surgery within this state without first having obtained a certificate to practice, as provided by law, and after his certificate to practice has been revoked, or contrary to the provisions of this article, shall for each violation of the provisions of this code, or any act relating to the practice of medicine or surgery in this state, be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars nor less than two hundred and fifty dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, nor less than ninety days, or by both said fine and imprisonment, as the court may determine. Any person shall be regarded as practicing within the meaning of this article who shall append or affix the letters M. B. or M. D., or the title of Dr. or Doctor, or any other sign or appellation in a medical sense to his or her name, who shall publicly profess to be a physician or a surgeon, who shall publicly profess either on his own behalf, in his own name, in his trade name, or on behalf of any other person, corporation, association, partnership, either as manager, bookkeeper, solicitor, or other agent, to cure, treat, relieve, or palliate any ailment, disease, or infirmity of the mind or body of another by using or prescribing any drug, medicine, or surgical treatment, or who shall recommend, prescribe, or direct, for the use of any person, any drug, medicine, appliance, apparatus, or other agency, whether material or not material, for the cure, relief, or palliation of any ailment or disease of the mind or body, or for the cure or relief of any wound, fracture, or bodily injury, or other deformity, after having received, or with the intent of receiving therefor, either directly or indirectly, any bonus, gift, or compensation; provided, however, that nothing in this section shall be construed to restrain or restrict any legally licensed osteopathic practitioner practicing under the laws of this state. Nothing in this act shall prohibit any legally licensed pharmacist or mercantile dealer from selling any drugs or medicines which are now

By the adoption of the proviso relating to osteopaths, their status was not affected so as to permit them to practice medicine or surgery, and the section is not open to the objection that it denies to every person, except osteopaths, the right to practice medicine or surgery without a certificate from the state board of medical examiners. State v. Dodd, 51 Mont. 100, 105, 149 Pac. 481; State v. Wood, 53 Mont. 566, 571, 165 Pac. 592; State v. Hopkins, 54 Mont. 52, 59, 166 Pac. 304, Ann. Cas. 1918D, 956.

A conviction upon an information drawn under this section, which undertook to state the circumstances of the offense with unnecessary particularity, and in doing so confined the charge to the giving of a particular prescription, held not justified by the evidence. State ex rel. Gilmore v. Dist. Court, 45 Mont. 335, 122 Pac. 922, Ann. Cas. 1914A, 469.

3123. Fees for examination before state board. Candidates for examination shall pay in advance to the secretary of the board of medical examiners a fee of twenty-five dollars, which fee shall defray the entire expense of said candidates for examination before the aforesaid board of examiners. Any one failing to pass the required examination shall be entitled to a second examination within six months, without fee. And the moneys so received shall be turned over to the state treasurer, to be by him deposited in the medical board fund, as hereinafter provided.

3124. Compensation—Medical board fund. Each member of the board is hereby allowed the sum of five dollars per day and mileage while in the active and necessary discharge of his duties. And there is hereby established a fund to be known as the medical board fund. And a sum of fifteen hundred dollars is hereby annually appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated to meet the expenses incurred in carrying out the provisions of this act. The state treasurer is hereby directed and required to set such sum apart to the credit of such fund, subject to the orders and disbursements as herein provided for. The money in such fund shall only be paid out by warrant on said fund on an order drawn by the secretary of said board, countersigned by the president. The rate of mileage and attendance before said board shall be the same as is now allowed in justice of the peace courts. And the board must report annually on the first Monday in November to the governor, which report must show all the transactions of the board, giving the number of applications received, and from whom received, the number of certificates granted and rejected, and the names of those receiving certificates and those rejected, giving the reasons therefor, the amount of money received, the expenses, the fees and mileage paid, and by whom received, and the amount of money remaining in said fund.

OSTEOPATHY—REGULATION OF PRACTICE.

Section 3125. Board of Osteopathic Examiners—Appointment and Term of Office.
3126. Officers of Board—Certificates of Qualification.
3127. Unlawful to Practice Without Certificate.
3128. Temporary Certificates.
3129. Subjects of Examination—Appeal.
3130. Certificate Does Not Authorize the Practice of Surgery.
3131. Record of License.
3132. Practice of Osteopathy Without License Prohibited.
3133. Revocation of Certificate.
3134. Compensation of Board.
3135. Graduates May Be Licensed Without Examination.
3136. Definition of Term Practicing Osteopathy.
3137. Osteopathy Not Practice of Medicine.

3125. Board of osteopathic examiners—Appointment and term of office. The governor of this state shall appoint a board as soon as possible after the passage of this act, to be known as the state board of osteopathic examiners. Said board shall consist of three qualified, practicing resident osteopaths, each of whom shall be a graduate of a legally authorized school of osteopathy; each member of said board shall serve thereon for a term of four years, and until his successor is appointed, except in cases of the first board, on which one shall serve for four years, one for three years, and one for two years, as specified in their appointment. In case of vacancy by death or otherwise, there shall be appointed in like manner a person to serve through such unexpired term.

Note.—The first board of osteopathic examiners was created by house bill No. 38, pp. 48 to 51, Laws of 1901. This act was superseded by chapter 51, Laws of 1905, appearing as sections 1594 to 1600, Revised Codes 1907. The law is here given as it appears in the Revised Codes 1907, with amendments.

History: En. Sec. 1594, Rev. C. 1907.

The practice of osteopathy a proper subject for police regulation. Johnson v. City of Great Falls, 38 Mont. 369, 374, 99 Pac. 1059, 16 Ann. Cas. 974.

In a prosecution of a chiropractor for practicing osteopathy without a license, this statute was held not repugnant to the state constitution on the ground that there is nothing in the titles of the acts constituting the statute indicating an intention to include "chiropractic"; the latter, like the former, having to do with the art of healing by the use of the hands, falls within the definition of "osteopathy," and is therefore included within it. State v. Hopkins, 54 Mont. 52, 56, 166 Pac. 304, Ann. Cas. 1918D, 956.

The statute regulating the practice of osteopathy is not invalid as arbitrary and unreasonable class legislation, contrary to the fourteenth amendment to the federal constitution; neither does it make an arbitrary classification denying the right of citizens to engage in a lawful occupation, and is therefore not an abuse of the police power of the state. State v. Hopkins, 54 Mont. 52, 59, 166 Pac. 304, Ann. Cas. 1918D, 956.

Cited or applied as section 1594, Revised Codes, in State v. Wood, 53 Mont. 566, 569, 165 Pac. 592; State v. Dodd, 51 Mont. 100, 105, 149 Pac. 481.

3126. Officers of board—Certificates of qualification. Said board of osteopathic examiners shall elect a president, a secretary, and treasurer on the first Tuesday in March each year, from among their number, and shall have a common seal, and its president and secretary shall have power to administer oaths. Said board shall hold meetings for the examinations at the state capitol on the first Tuesday in March and September of each year, and such other meetings as may be deemed necessary, each session thereof not to exceed three days, and shall issue a certificate of qualification to all applicants having a diploma from a legalized, recognized, and regularly conducted school of osteopathy as such, at the time it was issued, or who pass required examinations as provided by section 3128. Said certificates shall be signed by the president and secretary of said board, and attested by its seal, and shall be conclusive of the right of the lawful holder thereof to practice osteopathy in this state. Said board shall keep a record of all proceedings; also a register of all applicants for a license, together with his or her name and age and time spent in the study and practice of osteopathy, and the name and location of the school or institute of osteopathy from which said applicant holds a diploma; and shall keep a register which shall show the names of all applicants licensed; and those who are rejected under this act. Said books shall be prima facie evidence of all matters recorded therein.

History: En. Sec. 1595, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 3125.

The record of the applicants for license, required by this section to be kept by the secretary of the board of osteopathic examiners, showing that defendant had never applied for a license or a temporary certificate, was, in the absence of contradiction, sufficient to support the charge that he had been practicing without a license. State v. Hopkins, 54 Mont. 52, 64, 166 Pac. 304, Ann. Cas. 1918D, 956.

3127. Unlawful to practice without a certificate. It shall be unlawful for any person to practice osteopathy in this state without a license from said board; provided, that all persons practicing osteopathy within this state prior to the passage of this act and holding a diploma from a legally authorized school of osteopathy of good repute as such, and wherein the course of study comprises twenty months or four terms of five months each, may be licensed to practice osteopathy in the state by submitting to said board of osteopathic examiners such diploma and satisfying such board that they are legal holders thereof, or by undergoing an individual examination as hereinafter provided at a regular meeting of said board for examination. The fee for such license shall be twenty dollars, payable to the secretary of said board of examiners when application is made for certificates; provided, that in case of failure of any applicant to pass a satisfactory examination, he will be entitled to a second examination without charge at the next succeeding meeting of the board; provided, that all graduates of a reputable school of osteopathy who present themselves for examination and a license, and who have graduated later than April, 1907, shall present satisfactory evidence to the board of having actually attended such a school for a period of not less than three school years of nine months each; provided, that all graduates of reputable schools of osteopathy who present themselves for examination, and who have graduated later than January, 1919, shall present satisfactory evidence to the board of having actually attended such a school for a period of not less than four school years of eight months each, which was preceded by a four-years' high school course or its scholastic equivalent.

History: En. Sec. 1596, Rev. C. 1907; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 124, L. 1919. See also history of Sec. 3125.

Cited or applied as section 1596, Revised Codes, in State v. Wood, 53 Mont. 566, 569, 165 Pac. 592.

In a prosecution for practicing osteopathy without a license, the state is not required to negative the defendant's possession of the temporary certificate referred to in this section, this being a matter of defense. State v. Wood, 53 Mont. 566, 569 et seq., 165 Pac. 592; State v. Hopkins, 54 Mont. 52, 64, 166 Pac. 304, Ann. Cas. 1918D, 956.

An information charging one with practicing osteopathy without first obtaining a license need not allege that he had procured a temporary certificate permitting him to practice, this being a matter of defense. State v. Hopkins, 54 Mont. 52, 64, 166 Pac. 304, Ann. Cas. 1918D, 956.

Note: Sections 3138 to 3154 of this code now legalize the practice of chiropractice. All annotations to cases differentiating chiropractic from osteopathy are eliminated from this code.

3128. Temporary certificates. The secretary of the board of osteopathic examiners may upon examination, grant a certificate to an applicant to practice osteopathy until the next meeting of said board when he shall report the facts, at which time the temporary certificate shall expire, but such temporary certificate shall not be granted by the secretary of said board after the board has once rejected the applicant.

History: En. Sec. 1597, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 3125.

3129. Subjects of examination—Appeal. All persons, after March 1, 1901, commencing the practice of osteopathy in this state, in any of its branches, shall apply to said board for a license to do so, and such applicant at the time and place designated by said board, shall submit to an examination in the following branches, to-wit: Anatomy, physiology, chemistry, pathology, gynecology, obstetrics, and theory and practice of osteopathy, and such other branches as are taught in well regulated and recognized schools of osteopathy and deemed advisable by said board and shall present evidence of having actually attended for at least twenty months, or four terms of five months each a legally authorized and regularly conducted school of osteopathy, recognized by said board of osteopathic examiners, except as otherwise provided in section 3126 of this code. All examination papers on subjects peculiar to osteopathy shall be examined and their sufficiency passed upon by members of said board, whose decision shall be final thereon subject, however, to the right of appeal, which appeal shall be to the district court of the county in which the examination is held and said district court shall review such examination without a jury and shall have the right to take testimony thereon and the decision of such district court shall be also subject to the right of appeal to the supreme court by any persons aggrieved thereby, and upon such appeal the supreme court shall have the right to consider questions of both law and fact, and said board shall cause such examination to be scientific and practical, but of sufficient severity to test the candidate's fitness to practice osteopathy. After examination the board shall grant a license to such applicants as shall pass the examination to practice osteopathy in the state of Montana, which license shall be granted by not less than two members of such board, attested by the seal thereof. For the support and maintenance of said board, the fee for such examintion and license shall be twenty dollars, which shall be paid in advance to the secretary of said board to defray the expenses thereof.

History: En. Sec. 1598, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 3125.

3130. Certificate does not authorize the practice of surgery. The certificate provided for in the preceding section shall not authorize the holder thereof to prescribe or use drugs in the practice of osteopathy, or to perform major or operative surgery; and any person holding a certificate under this act, who shall prescribe or use drugs in the practice of osteopathy, or who shall perform major or operative surgery, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor; provided, that nothing in this act shall be so construed as to prohibit any legalized osteopath in this state from practicing major or operative surgery after having passed a satisfactory examination in surgery before the state board of medical examiners of the state of Montana.

History: En. Sec. 1599, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 3125.

3131. Record of license. The person receiving such license shall have it recorded in the office of the county clerk in the county in which he or she resides, and the record shall be indorsed thereon. In case the person so licensed shall remove to another county to practice, the holder shall record the license in a like manner in the county into which he or she removed, and the county clerk is entitled to charge and receive the usual fee for making such record.

History: En. Sec. 1600, Rev. C. 1907. See also history of Sec. 3125.

3132. Practice of osteopathy without license prohibited. Any person practicing osteopathy in this state without first obtaining a license herein provided for, or contrary to the provisions of this act, or who, for the purpose of obtaining such license, shall falsely represent himself or herself to be the holder of a diploma as herein provided, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, nor less than two hundred and fifty dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, nor less than ninety days, or by both fine and imprisonment for each and every such offense. It shall be the duty of the respective county attorneys to prosecute violations of this act.

History: En. Sec. 8, p. 51, L. 1901; amd. Sec. 8, Ch. 51, L. 1905; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 112, L. 1907; sec. 1601, Rev. C. 1907.

3133. Revocation of certificate. Any such certificate may be revoked by said board, upon satisfactory proof of fraud, or misrepresentation in procuring the same, or for any violation of the provisions of this act, or any gross immorality by the holder of such certificate.

History: En. Sec. 9, p. 51, L. 1901; re-en. Sec. 9, Ch. 51, L. 1905; re-en. Sec. 1602, Rev. C. 1907.

3134. Compensation of board. Out of the funds coming into the possession of said board each of the members of said board may receive as compensation the sum of five dollars for each day actually engaged in the duties of their office, together with all legitimate and necessary expenses incurred in attending the meetings of said board. No part of the compensation or other expenses of said board shall be paid out of the state treasury. The fees coming into the treasury of said board shall be paid out upon a warrant of the president and secretary thereof in payment of the compensation and expenses of said board in carrying out the provisions of this act. Said board shall make an annual report of its proceedings to the governor of the state for the year ending on the thirty-first day of December preceding the making of said report. Said report shall be filed with the governor on or before the fifteenth day of January of each year.

3135. Graduates may be licensed without examination. Every graduate of a reputable school of osteopathy, who has been strictly examined and thereafter licensed to practice osteopathy in another state, may be licensed to practice osteopathy in this state upon the production to the board of his or her diploma, and the license obtained in such other state and satisfactory evidence of good moral character, and the payment of all legal fees required of other applicants; but the board may examine the applicant as to his or her qualifications.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 51, L. 1905; re-en. Sec. 1604, Rev. C. 1907.

3136. Definition of term practicing osteopathy. Every person shall be deemed practicing osteopathy within the meaning of this act who shall:

1. Append to, or use in connection with his or her name the words "doctor of osteopathy, or diplomat of osteopathy, or osteopath, or osteopathist, or osteopathic practitioner, or osteopathic physician," or words of like import, or any abbreviation thereof, or the letters "D. O."; or who shall

2. Profess publicly to, or who shall, either on his own behalf, in his own name, or in his trade-name, or in behalf of any other person, corporation, association, partnership, either as manager, bookkeeper, practitioner, or agent, treat, cure, alleviate, or relieve any ailment or disease of either mind or body, or cure or relieve any fracture or misplacement or abnormal condition, or bodily injury or deformity, by any treatment, or manipulation or method of manipulating a human body or any of its limbs, muscles, or parts, by the use of the hands, or mechanical appliances, in an effort or attempt to relieve any pressure, obstruction, misplacement, or defect, in any bone, muscle, ligament, nerve, vessel, organ, or part of the body, after having received, or with the intent or expectation of receiving therefor, either directly or indirectly, any bonus, gift, or compensation whatsoever; provided, however, that nothing in this section shall be construed to restrain or restrict any legally licensed physician or surgeon in the practice of his profession.

This section does not authorize an osteopath to practice medicine or surgery, but requires him to confine his practice to treatment by the use of the hands or mechanical appliances. State v. Dodd, 51 Mont. 100, 106, 149 Pac. 481.

Unless an exception found in a statute is part of the definition of the offense sought to be described, the state is not required to negative such exception in an indictment or information. The proviso contained in the second subdivision of the above section is not such an exception, since neither physician nor surgeon can practice osteopathy without first obtaining a license therefor. State v. Wood, 53 Mont. 566, 569 et seq., 165 Pac. 592; State v. Hopkins, 54 Mont. 64, 166 Pac. 304, Ann. Cas. 1918D, 956.

In an indictment or information the state is not required to negative the exception contained in subdivision 5 of this section. State v. Wood, 53 Mont. 566, 165 Pac. 592.

A physician or surgeon is not entitled, under the statute, to practice osteopathy without a license from the state board of osteopathic examiners. State v. Hopkins, 54 Mont. 52, 59, 166 Pac. 304, Ann. Cas. 1918D, 956.

History: En. Sec. 11, p. 51, L. 1901; re-en. sec. 13, Ch. 51, L. 1905; re-en. Sec. 1606, Rev. C. 1907.

Such application shall be designated by a number instead of the applicant's name, so that the identity will not be discovered or disclosed to the members of the board until after the examination papers are graded.

All examinations shall be made in writing, the subjects of which shall be as follows: Anatomy, physiology, symptomatology, diagnosis, chiropractic orthopedy, principles of chiropractic and adjusting, sanitation and hygiene, urinalysis, gynecology, and palpation. Additional subjects may be prescribed from time to time by the board to meet new conditions. A license shall be granted to all applicants who shall correctly answer seventy-five per centum of all questions asked, and if any applicant shall fail to answer correctly sixty per centum of the questions on any branch of said examination, he or she shall not be entitled to a license.

History: See history of Sec. 3138.

3144. Definition of chiropractic. Chiropractic is the science that teaches that disease results from anatomic disrelation, and teaches the art of restoring anatomic relation by a process of adjusting by the use of the hand.

No other means of securing health shall be construed to be chiropractic except the application of the inherent qualities at the time in the patient or appertaining to the chiropractor.

History: See history of Sec. 3138.

3145. Duties of chiropractic practitioners. Chiropractic practitioners shall observe and be subject to all state and municipal regulations relating to the control of contagious and infectious diseases, sign death and birth certificates, and as to any and all matters pertaining to public health, shall report to the proper health officers the same as other practitioners.

History: See history of Sec. 3138.

3146. Rights and limitations governing practice. Chiropractors licensed under this act shall have the right to practic that science defined as chiropractic under section 3144 of this code, in accordance with the method, thought, and practice of chiropractors, and they shall be permitted to use the prefix Dr. or Doctor as a title, but shall not in any way imply that they are regular physicians or surgeons. They shall not prescribe for or administer to any person any medicine or drugs, nor practice medicine or surgery, nor osteopathy; except that the use of antiseptics for purposes of sanitation and hygiene, and to prevent infection and contagion, shall be permitted.

History: See history of Sec. 3138.

3147. Refusal and revocation of license—Proceedings—Reinstatement. The state board of chiropractic examiners may refuse to grant or revoke a license to practice chiropractic in this state, or may cause a licentiate's name to be removed from the records in the office of the recorder of deeds in this state, upon any of the following grounds, to-wit: The employment of fraud or deception in applying for a license or in passing an examination provided for in this act; the practice of chiropractic under a false or assumed name, or the impersonation of another practitioner of like or different name; the conviction of a crime involving moral turpitude; habitual intemperance in the use of ardent spirits, narcotics, or stimulants, to such an extent as to incapacitate him or her for the performance of their professional duties. Any person who is a licentiate, or who is an applicant for a license to practice chiropractic, against whom any of the foregoing grounds for revoking or refusing a license is presented to said board with a view of having the board revoke or refuse to grant a license, shall be furnished with copy of the complaint, and shall have a hearing before said board in person or by attorney, and witnesses may be examined by said board respecting the guilt or innocence of said accused.

Said board may at any time within two years of the refusal, revocation, or concellation of registration under this section, by a majority vote, issue a new license or grant a license to the person affected, restoring him to or conferring upon him all the rights and privileges of, and pertaining to the practice of chiropractic as defined and regulated by this act. Any person to whom such rights and privileges have been restored shall pay to the secretary-treasurer the sum of twenty-five dollars upon issuance of a new license.

History: See history of Sec. 3138.

3148. Recordation of license—Failure or refusal to record. Every person who shall receive a license from the state board of chiropractic examiners shall have it recorded in the office of the recorder of deeds of the county of which he resides, and shall likewise have it recorded in the counties to which he shall subsequently remove for the purpose of practicing chiropractic.

The failure or refusal on the part of the holder of a license to have it recorded before he or she shall be in the practice of chiropractic in this state, after having been notified by the state board of chiropractic examiners to do so, shall be sufficient grounds to revoke or cancel a license and render it null and void. The recorder shall keep for public inspection, in a book provided for that purpose, a complete list and description of the licenses recorded by him. When any such licenses shall be presented to him for record, he shall stamp upon the face thereof his signed memorandum of the date when such license was presented for record.

3149. License of chiropractors—Renewal. All persons practicing chiropractic within this state shall pay, on or before the first day of September of each year after a license is issued to them, as herein provided, to said board of chiropractic examiners, a renewal license fee of five dollars. The secretary-treasurer shall, thirty days or more before September first of each year, mail to all practicing chiropractors in this state, a notice of the fact that the renewal fee will be due on or before September first. If any practicing chiropractor shall fail and neglect or refuse to pay to the board of chiropractic examiners the renewal license tax imposed by this act, thirty days after the same is due and payable, it shall be the duty of the secretary-treasurer to take such action for the collection of the same as is required of the county treasurer in cases of non-payment of other licenses, as provided by section 2414 of this code, and the provisions of said section and of section 2416 of this code shall control all said proceedings so far as the same were applicable hereto.

History: En. Sec. 12, initiative measure November, 1918; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 90, L. 1921.

3150. Disposition of fees—Receipts and disbursements—Per diem and mileage. All examinations and renewal fees received by the state board of chiropractic examiners under this act shall be paid to the secretary-treasurer of said board, who shall at the end of each month deposit the same with the state treasurer, and the said state treasurer shall place said money so received in a special fund of the state board of chiropractic examiners and shall pay the same out in warrants drawn by the auditor of the state thereof, upon vouchers issued and signed by the president and the secretary-treasurer of said board. Said money so received and placed in said fund may be used by the state board of chiropractic examiners in defraying their expenses in carrying out the provisions of this act.

The secretary-treasurer shall keep a true and accurate account of all funds received and all vouchers issued by the board; and on the first day of December of each year he shall file with the governor of the state a report of all receipts and disbursements and the proceedings of said board for the fiscal year.

The members of said board shall receive a per diem of ten dollars for each day during which they shall be actually engaged in the discharge of their duties, and mileage at the rate of three cents per mile for each mile necessarily traveled in going to and from any meeting of said board.

Such per diem and mileage and such other incidental expenses necessarily connected with said board shall be paid out of the fund of the state board of chiropractic examiners, and not otherwise.

History: See history of Sec. 3138.

3151. Bond of treasurer—Dismissal of members of board. The treasurer of said board shall give bond in such sum and with such sureties as the board may deem proper. Upon sufficient proof to the governor of the inability or misconduct of a member of the board, said member shall be dismissed, and the governor shall appoint as his successor some licensed chiropractor practicing in this state, who shall be a graduate of a different school than those represented on the board.

History: See history of Sec. 3138.

3152. Admission to practice of persons from other states. Persons licensed to practice chiropractic under the laws of any other state having chiropractic educational requirements equal to this act, may, in the discretion of the board, be issued a license to practice in this state without examination, upon payment of the fee of twenty-five dollars as herein provided.

History: See history of Sec. 3138.

3153. Penalty for violation of act. Any person who shall practice, or attempt to practice chiropractic, or any person who shall buy, sell, or fraudulently obtain any diplomas, or license to practice chiropractic whether recorded or not, or who shall use the title chiropractor, D. C. Ph. C., or any word or title to influence belief that he is engaged in the practice of chiropractic, without first complying with the provisions of this act, or any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than thirty days or more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

History: See history of Sec. 3138.

3154. Limitations upon construction of act. Nothing in this act contained shall be construed to restrain or restrict any legally licensed physician or surgeon or any legally licensed osteopath in the practice of his profession. The practice of chiropractic as herein defined, is hereby declared not to be the practice of medicine or surgery within the meaning of the laws of the state of Montana defining the same, and is further declared not to be the practice of osteopathy within the meaning of the laws of the state of Montana defining the same. Duly licensed chiropractors shall not be subject to the provisions of sections 3125 to 3137, inclusive, of this code, nor liable to any prosecution thereunder.

3209. Examination of Applicants.
3210. Evidence of Qualifications of Applicant—Registration Fee.
3211. Registration of Graduates of Training Schools—Reciprocity.
3212. Appeals to State Association of Graduate Nurses and to District Court.
3213. All Applicants to Be Examined After July, 1917.
3214. Unlawful to Practice Without Certificate.
3215. Interpretation of Act.
3216. Revocation of Certificate.

3203. Issuance of licenses by governor to nurses. The governor of the state of Montana shall have the power, and it shall be his duty, to issue a license or certificate of registration to any person practicing the profession of nursing the sick, upon the recommendation of the board of examiners for nurses, said board to be appointed as hereinafter provided for.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 50, L. 1913.

The duty imposed by this statute upon the state board of examiners for nurses to examine persons who seek registration as professional nurses, and judge of their qualifications, is quasi judicial, and its performance in any particular way cannot be compelled by mandamus. Where, however, its discretion has been abused, or arbitrarily or capriciously exercised, the writ does lie to compel a proper exercise of the powers granted. State ex rel. Marshall v. District Court, 50 Mont. 289, 294, 146 Pac. 743, Ann. Cas. 1917C, 164.

The aim of this act is, not to prohibit the practice of nursing, either gratuitously or for hire, but to designate the persons for whose qualifications the state is willing to stand sponsor, and to forbid persons from claiming such sponsorship who are not entitled to it. The matter is wholly administrative, and the process of administration may be committed to any agency the legislature may choose to select, with or without direct appeal to the courts or elsewhere. State ex rel. Marshall v. District Court, 50 Mont. 289, 297, 146 Pac. 743, Ann. Cas. 1917C, 164.

This statute is not unconstitutional as depriving, without due process of law, nurses who have not registered of the right to follow a lawful business or calling, since it is expressly provided that it shall not apply to gratuitous nursing, nor to any person nursing for hire who does not pretend to have special training and to be a registered nurse. State ex rel. Marshall v. District Court, 50 Mont. 289, 296, 146 Pac. 743, Ann. Cas. 1917C, 164.

The fact that the act creating the board of examiners for nurses does not provide that the members thereof take an official oath cannot detract from their character as public officers, since the section of the constitution, requiring every public officer within the state to take the oath therein prescribed, is self-executing. State ex rel. Scollard v. Board of Examiners, 52 Mont. 91, 96, 156 Pac. 124.

Mandamus does not lie to compel the state board of examiners for nurses to recommend a person to the governor for certificate as a registered nurse, in the absence of a clear showing of abuse of discretion. State ex rel. Scollard v. Board of Examiners, 52 Mont. 91, 98, 156 Pac. 124.

State regulation of practice of nursing, see note in Ann. Cas. 1917C, 168.

Nursing as practice of medicine, see note in Ann. Cas. 1918E, 687.

3204. Appointment of board of examiners for nurses. The governor of the state of Montana shall, within ninety days after the passage and approval of this act, designate and appoint five persons who shall constitute the board of examiners for nurses. Said board shall consist of five members, and shall be appointed by the governor from the membership of the Montana state association of graduated nurses. The first board shall hold office during the following terms:

One member for the period of one year;

Two members for the period of two years;

Two members for the period of three years—and the members and the terms thereof to be designated by the governor.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 50, L. 1913.

3205. Filling of vacancies in board. Subsequent to the organization of state board of examiners for nurses, the governor of the state of Montana shall fill all vacancies and shall perpetuate said board by appointment of members thereof, which members for appointment shall be selected from persons who are registered nurses under the provisions of this act, and who shall be members of the Montana state association of graduate nurses, and who shall be actual residents of the state of Montana for a period of at least one year immediately preceding the date of appointment and who have actively engaged in the profession of nursing for five years prior to such appointment; and there shall be at all times at least two members of said board who shall have had at least two years' experience in educational work among nurses, or who have had two or more years' experience in the instruction of nurses in training schools.

The terms for which said members shall be appointed shall be for three years, except those first appointed and those to fill unexpired terms.

3206. Organization of board—Officers and compensation. The members of the board shall, immediately after their appointment, meet at the city of Helena for the purpose of organizating said board, and shall elect one of their number president, and shall elect one of their number as treasurer, and shall also elect a secretary, who shall not be a member of the board, who shall also act as inspector of the training schools for nurses, and perform such other services as may be required by the board, and who shall devote her entire time to such work. The board shall adopt a seal which shall remain in the custody of the secretary; the secretary shall keep the records and minutes of the meeting of the board, and shall record in a suitable book the names of all the nurses and training schools registered under this act. The president and secretary of said board shall hold office for the period of one year, and until their successors are appointed and qualified. The salary of the secretary shall be settled and fixed by the board, not exceeding, however, the sum of twenty-four hundred dollars per year. The other members of the board shall receive ten dollars per day while actually engaged in attendance upon meeting of said board, and ten dollars per day for actual time lost in traveling to and from board meetings, and necessary expenses incurred in attending such meetings.

This shall be in full for their expenses, same to be paid from the funds in the hands of the treasurer of the board.

3207. Subjects upon which examination to be held. Said board shall provide a schedule of subjects upon which applicants shall be examined to qualify for registration under this act, which subjects shall include anatomy, physiology, obstetrics, and gynecology, surgery, hygiene and bacteriology, materia-medica, medical and contagious diseases, pediatrics, dietetics, and nursing ethics.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 50, L. 1913; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 117, L. 1919.

3208. Duty of president as inspector of training schools—Registration of nurses. The inspector of training schools shall inspect all training schools for nurses in the state of Montana, and shall report to the board and the governor such training schools as shall provide courses of instruction in the subjects required by the board. The board shall register for a period of one year all such training schools, and shall issue a certificate of registration thereto. Any school so registered shall be required to pay to the treasurer of the board a fee of twenty-five dollars upon registration. The fee for a renewal certificate of registration for the period of one year shall be five dollars. The secretary shall also enter in the register kept for such purposes the names of all nurses who are registered under the provisions of this act, and such register shall be a public record.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 50, L. 1913; amd. Sec. 4, Ch. 117, L. 1919.

3209. Examination of applicants. The board shall adopt rules, which may be changed from time to time, for the examination of applicants for registration under this act, and the board shall meet not less than once each year for the purpose of conducting examinations for applicants for registration. The time and place of meeting of said board shall be advertised in the public press, and notice shall be sent to each training school registered under this act, to each regularly organized association of nurses within the state, to at least one journal of nursing, and notice shall be mailed to each person who has made application for examination under the provisions of this act, at least thirty days prior to said meeting. At such meeting it shall be the duty of the board to examine all persons who are applicants for registration under this act, and to recommend to the governor each duly qualified applicant who shall have successfully passed said examination.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 50, L. 1913.

3210. Evidence of qualifications of applicant—Registration fee. All applicants for registration under the provisions of this act shall furnish satisfactory evidence that he or she is at least twenty-two years of age, of good moral character, and has been graduated from a training school of nurses connected with a general hospital approved by the board, where a systematic course of at least three years' instruction is given, except in the cases hereinafter provided for; provided, that the board may grant proper credit upon such three-year period to any student for previous training and study, under such rules and regulations as the board may prescribe. No training school for nurses shall accept students under nineteen years of age, except high school graduates of at least eighteen years of age. A high school student completing such three-year course of instruction may be granted a temporary certificate by the board until such person shall arrive at the age of twenty-two years; and all persons registered under the provisions of this act shall pay to the secretary of said board a registration fee of ten dollars.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 50, L. 1913; amd. Sec. 5, Ch. 117, L. 1919.

Testimony touching the immoral character of the applicant, introduced at a divorce proceeding to which she was a party, could rightfully be taken into consideration by the board in passing upon the question of her character. State ex rel. Scollard v. Board of Examiners, 52 Mont. 91, 98, 156 Pac. 124.

In its determination of the question whether an applicant for registration as a nurse possesses the good moral character made a prerequisite to certification, the board of examiners is not bound to accept affidavits of citizens deposing to such good character as conclusive, but it may hear evidence, to be produced before it in such manner as it may choose to adopt both in opposition to as well as in favor of the applicant. State ex rel. Scollard v. Board of Examiners, 52 Mont. 91, 97, 156 Pac. 124.

3211. Registration of graduates of training schools—Reciprocity. Any person who shall have graduated prior to July 1, 1917, and after January 1, 1890, from a reputable training school for nurses connected with a general hospital which then gave a course of at least two years' training, and who shall have graduated therefrom, shall be entitled to registration under the provisions of this act.

The governor shall issue a certificate of registration to any person registered under the laws of any other state having requirements for registration equivalent to those of Montana, the board to be the sole judge thereof.

3212. Appeals to state association of graduate nurses and to district court. Any person who makes application to the board for examinations for registration, having the required qualifications, as hereinafter provided for, and who shall not pass said examination, or any person registered in any other state, who shall be refused registration by the board without examination, as provided for in this act, may appeal to the Montana state association of graduated nurses at the first annual meeting thereafter, and shall abide by the majority vote of said association after a full hearing thereon; provided, that any person aggrieved by any decision of the board of graduated nurses, finally determining his or her right to registration, may appeal from such decision to the district court of the county of the residence of said applicant, within thirty days after receiving notice from the board of its decision, which appeal shall be taken by filing notice of appeal with the clerk of the proper district court, and by serving copy thereof upon the secretary of said board. In case of a jury trial said jury shall consist of three nurses registered under the provisions of this act, and three reputable physicians in active practice.

In the absence of provisions prescribing the procedure on appeal from a decision of the state board of examiners for nurses, the statute implies such orderly procedure as will enable the appellate body to fairly determine the right of appellant to registration. State ex rel. Marshall v. District Court, 50 Mont. 289, 297, 146 Pac. 743, Ann. Cas. 1917C, 164.

In contemplation of law, the appellate body is merely an agency for carrying into effect the provisions of the act; the legislature is not required to designate corporations or individuals, to the exclusion of voluntary associations, as agencies for such purposes; on the contrary, it is the settled rule that no such restriction exists. State ex rel. Marshall v. District Court, 50 Mont. 289, 297, 146 Pac. 743, Ann. Cas. 1917C, 164.

3213. All applicants to be examined after July, 1917. On and after July 1, 1917, all applicants for certificates of registration under the provisions of this act shall be residents of the state of Montana, and shall pass the examination required by the board before receiving a certificate of registration, or shall present to the board necessary credentials of registration in another state whose requirements for registration are equivalent to those of Montana.

3214. Unlawful to practice without certificate. It shall be unlawful hereafter for any person to practice nursing as a trained, graduate, or registered nurse without a certificate as herein provided for.

Any person who shall assume a title indicating that said person is a trained, graduate, or registered nurse, or who shall hold himself or herself out to be a trained, graduate, or registered nurse, and who shall not be registered in accordance with the provisions of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction hereof shall be fined for the first offense not less than ten dollars nor more than one hundred dollars, and for each subsequent offense not less than two hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars.

3215. Interpretation of act. This act shall not be construed as conferring any authority to practice medicine, or undertake the treatment of disease, in violation of the medical-practice act of the state of Montana, or to affect or to apply to the gratuitous nursing of the sick by friends or members of the family, nor to any person nursing the sick for hire who does not in any way assume or pretend to have special training in the profession of nursing, and who also does not pretend to be a registered nurse.

3216. Revocation of certificate. The governor shall, upon recommendation by the board, revoke any certificate previously issued to the holder thereof, after a hearing by the full board on charges made by any licensed physician in the active practice of his profession, or upon charges made by the inspector of training schools for nurses, a registered nurse, or any other person charging dishonesty, gross incompetence, a habit rendering a nurse unsafe or unfit to care for the sick, or any conduct or act derogatory to the morals or standing of the profession of nursing, or any wilful fraud or misrepresentation practiced in securing such certificate.

The person so charged under this section shall be given at least thirty days' notice in writing of the specific charge against him or her, and of the time and place of hearing said charge by the board, at which time and place such person shall be entitled to appear and to be represented by counsel. Upon the revocation of any certificate heretofore issued, the same shall be null and void, and the secretary shall take the name of the holder thereof from the roll of registered nurses.

The secretary-treasurer shall give bond in such sum and with such conditions as the board may from time to time direct. The board shall keep full and complete minutes of its proceedings and of its receipts and disbursements, and a full and accurate list of all persons licensed and registered by it, and such records shall be public records, and shall, at all times, be open to public inspection. Such application shall be upon a form furnished by said board, and shall be accompanied by satisfactory evidence of the good moral character of the applicant, and shall present evidence of his having graduated in and received a degree from a legally authorized veterinary medical school recognized by the American veterinary medical association; said school or college having a curriculum requiring a three-year course, or its equivalent, for graduation. On application, the diploma of said applicant shall be submitted to said board for inspection and verification. Every person applying to said board for license to practice shall pay to the board the fee of ten dollars, which fee shall in no case be refunded, and which shall become a part of the funds of the treasury of the board. Said board shall, by means of examination, either oral or written as the board may determine, ascertain the professional qualifications for license of all applicants under this act, and shall issue such license to all who are found upon examination to be in the judgment of said board competent to practice, and no such license shall be issued to any person who is not found by such examination to be competent. Such examination shall be held at a time and place or places specified by said board, and shall include suitable questions for a thorough examination in comparative anatomy, physiology and hygiene, in chemistry and veterinary surgery, obstetrics, pathology, and diagnosis, and therapeutics, including practice of materia medica, bacteriology, parisitology, and other branches deemed advisable by the board. Any candidate failing on one subject, with a general average of eighty per cent. in the others, may be re-examined in that subject at any regular examination; failing in one subject with a lower average, or in two or more subjects, may be admitted to a subsequent examination on original fee after six months have elapsed, and must then take the examination in all subjects. The board may issue temporary license to such candidate, allowing him or her to practice pending the successful passage of an examination.

3221. Application for license as farrier. Any person desiring to begin the practice of treating domestic animals in the state of Montana, under the title of farrier, shall make application to said board of veterinary medical examiners on or before July 1, 1919, so to do. Such application shall be upon a form furnished by said board, and shall be accompanied by the fee prescribed in the preceding section, and satisfactory evidence of the good moral character of the applicant, who shall present satisfactory evidence of having resided in the state of Montana for a period of twenty-four months immediately previous to the passage and approval of this act, and of having treated domestic animals as a part of his or her vocation during that period, and a license shall be granted. Such license shall entitle him or her to all the rights and privileges of this act except those contained in section 3225 of this code.

3222. Farrier defined. A farrier is any person who has had experience in treating the diseases of domestic animals.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 82, L. 1913.

3223. Issuance, registration, and revocation of licenses. The state board of veterinary medical examiners will, at the conclusion of a regular examination, if in their judgment the applicant is duly qualified therefor, issue a license to practice veterinary medicine and surgery or farriery. Every license so granted by the board shall be issued under seal, and shall be signed by each acting veterinary medical examiner of the board, and shall state that the licensee has given satisfactory evidence of fitness as to age, character, veterinary medical education, and all other matters required by law, and that after full examination he or she has been found duly qualified to practice. Each person licensed by the board to practice veterinary medicine or veterinary surgery or farriery in this state shall procure from the secretary of the board on, or before July first, annually, his certificate of registration. Such certificate shall be issued by the secretary upon the payment of a fee to be fixed by the board, not exceeding the sum of two dollars, and certificates so issued shall be prima facie evidence of the right of the holder to practice veterinary medicine or veterinary surgery or farriery in this state during the time for which they are issued. Any certificate of license, granted by the board, may be revoked upon conviction of the party holding such certificate or license of a violation of any of the provisions of this act.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 82, L. 1913.

3224. Display of license and certificate—Arrangement with other boards. Every person practicing veterinary medicine or veterinary surgery in the state of Montana, or representing himself as so practicing, shall display or cause to be displayed conspicuously in his or her usual place of business, license or certificate of registration issued to him or pursuant to the provisions of this act. The board of examiners shall make arrangement with similar boards in the several states in so far as practicable, whereby due credit for state and territorial licenses will be allowed in the state of Montana to such licensees of said board as desire to secure license or practice veterinary medicine or surgery in this state, and whereby licensees of the board of veterinary medical examiners in this state will secure due credit for license issued by said board, whenever such licensees desire to secure license to practice in any other state or territory; but no arrangement shall be made under the provisions of this section which will be liable to lower the standard of practice of veterinary medicine or surgery in the state of Montana. The board may, if deemed necessary, require an examination of applicants for license from other states after careful consideration of credentials from such states.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 82, L. 1913.

3225. Veterinary medicine and surgery defined—Qualifications for practice. Any person shall be regarded as practicing veterinary medicine or surgery in the state of Montana, who shall append or cause to be appended to his name upon any display or advertisement published the letters V. S., D. V. M., V. M. D., M. D. C., D. V. S., or M. R. C. V. S., or the words "veterinary," "veterinarian," "veterinary surgeon," "veterinary dentist," "veterinary horseshoer," "horse dentist," or "horse doctor," or who shall publicly profess to do any of these things, directly or indirectly, as a veterinarian. No person shall practice veterinary medicine or veterinary surgery, or farriery, in the state of Montana after July 1, 1913, unless licensed by the state board of veterinary medical examiners of the state of Montana, and registered as required by this article; nor shall any person practice veterinary medicine, surgery, or farriery, whose authority to practice is suspended or revoked by said board.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 82, L. 1913.

3226. Revocation of certificate. On hearing, the board may revoke any certificate which is obtained by fraud, or where the holder is guilty of gross moral or professional misconduct.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 82, L. 1913.

3228. Practice in violation of law—Penalties. Every person who shall practice veterinary medicine or farriery within this state, without lawful registration or in violation of any provisions of this article, shall forfeit to the county wherein such person shall so practice, or in which any violation shall be committed, not to exceed fifty dollars for every such violation, and for every day of such unlawful practice, and any incorporated veterinary medical society of the state may bring action in the name of such county for the collection of such penalties, and the expense incurred by such society in such prosecution, including necessary counsel fees, may be retained by such society out of the penalties so collected, and the residue, if any, such shall be paid into the county treasury. The state board of veterinary medical examiners may, out of the funds in the treasury, when sufficient proof is before them, begin proceedings for prosecutions under the provisions of this act, independent of such state societies. Any person who shall practice veterinary medicine or farriery under a false or assumed name, or who shall falsely personate another practitioner of a like or different name, shall be guilty of a felony; and any person guilty of violating any of the other provisions of this article, not otherwise specifically punished herein, or who shall buy, sell, or obtain any veterinary medical diploma, license, record, or registration, or who shall aid or abet such buying, selling, or fraudulently obtaining, or who shall practice veterinary medicine or farriery under cover of a license or diploma illegally obtained, or signed or issued unlawfully under fraudulent representation, or mistake of fact in material regard, shall attempt to practice veterinary medicine or farriery, and any person who shall, without having been authorized so to do legally, append any veterinary title to his or her name, or shall assume or advertise any veterinary title in such manner as to convey the impression that he or she is a lawful practitioner of veterinary medicine or farriery, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not more than fifty dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not more than twenty-five days, or both such fine and imprisonment.

3. To supervise the sanitary conditions of livestock in this state, under the provisions of the constitution and statutes of this state and such reasonable rules and regulations as this board may from time to time promulgate, and to this end this board shall have power to quarantine any lot, yard, land, building, room, premises, enclosure, or other place or section in this state, which is or may be used or occupied by livestock, and which, in the judgment of the state veterinary surgeon, or of his authorized agent, is infected or contaminated with an infectious, contagious, communicable, or dangerous disease, or disease-carrying medium by which such disease may be communicated; and this board shall have power to quarantine any livestock in this state, whenever, in the judgment of the state veterinary surgeon, or of his authorized agent, such livestock is affected with, or has been exposed to such disease or disease-carrying medium; and this board shall have power to prescribe treatments and enforce sanitary regulations which, in the judgment of the state veterinary surgeon, or of his authorized agent, are reasonable, necessary, and proper to circumscribe, extirpate, control, or prevent such diseases.

4. To foster, promote, and protect the livestock industry in this state by the investigation of diseases and other subjects related to ways and means of prevention, extirpation, and control of diseases, or to the care of livestock and its products; and to this end to establish and maintain a laboratory, and to make, or cause to be made, biologic products, curatives, and preventative agents; and to do or perform such other acts and things as in their judgment may be necessary or proper in the fostering, promotion, or protection of the livestock industry in this state.

5. 3269. Sale of diseased carcasses forbidden. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation to sell as food for human beings, or to hold or possess as human food intended for sale, the carcass or part of carcass of any animal slaughtered under unsanitary conditions, or which carcass or part of carcass has been prepared, handled, or kept under unsanitary conditions; and it shall be the duty of the livestock sanitary board to see that the provisions of this section are enforced.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 262, L. 1921.

3270. Authority of municipal corporations. Nothing in this act shall prevent the governing authority of any municipal corporation from enacting or enforcing ordinances providing for the inspection of slaughterhouses, meat depots, meat markets, meat-food products, creameries, butter or cheese factories, dairies, and dairy products, sold or offered for sale within the limits of such municipal corporation; but no such ordinance shall be enforced in conflict with the powers of this act delegated to the livestock sanitary board, its officers or agents.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 262, L. 1921.

3271. Classification of animals as to compensation for slaughter. Animals with reference to compensation for slaughter by direction of the livestock sanitary board, or an agent thereof, under the provisions of this act, shall be divided into two classes, to-wit:

1. Animals determined by the state veterinary surgeon, or by a deputy veterinary surgeon, to be affected with an incurable disease, which are killed by order of such officer, shall be designated as animals of class one, and, unless otherwise herein provided, each of such animals shall be paid for on a basis of seventy-five per cent. of its full assessed valuation, as such full assessed valuation is fixed on the completion of the assessment-roll on the second Monday in the month of August next preceding the killing, by the tax-assessment records of the county liable in part for any indemnity to be paid. The county in which such animal was last assessable for tax purposes in this state, or if such animal has not been assessable for taxes in this state, the county in which such animal was located at the time it was condemned, shall be liable in part, as hereinafter provided, for any indemnity to be paid for such animal; provided, the total amount of indemnity to be paid from all sources for any such animal shall not exceed the actual sound value of an animal of its class; and provided further, that the total amount of indemnity to be paid for such animal from all sources shall not exceed the sum of three hundred dollars for any pure bred animal, or the sum of one hundred dollars for any grade animal.

2. Animals of class one shall be paid for on a basis of their full assessed valuation, as herein determined, in event no evidence of such incurable disease is disclosed by autopsy, bacteriologic, serologic, microscopic, or other findings; provided, the total amount of indemnity paid from all sources for any such animal shall not exceed the actual sound value of an animal of its class; and provided further, that the total amount of indemnity to be paid from all sources for such animal shall not exceed five hundred dollars for any pure bred animal, or one hundred and fifty dollars for any grade animal.

3. Animals determined by the state veterinary surgeon, or by a deputy veterinary surgeon, to be affected with or exposed to an infectious, contagious, communicable, or dangerous disease which is not of its nature necessarily fatal, which animals are killed by order of such officer as a sanitary safeguard, shall be designated as animals of class two, and unless otherwise herein provided, each of such animals shall be paid for on the basis of its full assessed value as such full assessed value is determined by the method outlined hereinabove in this section; provided, the total amount of indemnity paid from all sources for any such animal shall not exceed the actual sound value of an animal of its class; and provided further, that the total amount of indemnity to be paid for such animal from all sources shall not exceed five hundred dollars for any pure bred animal, or the sum of one hundred and fifty dollars for any grade animal.

4. Where an animal killed by order of the board, or of its agent, does not appear on the last assessment-roll of the county liable for indemnity, then its assessed valuation herein referred to as a basis for indemnity shall be equal to the minimum assessed valuation for animals of the class and age such animal would have been at the last past assessment time in the county.

5. Animals destroyed but too young to have been assessed at the time of assessment shall be appraised by the state veterinary surgeon, or his authorized agent, and paid for according to that appraised value, but the total claim from all sources shall in no case exceed twenty-five dollars for a grade calf and fifty dollars for a pure bred calf, and thirty-five dollars for a grade yearling, and one hundred dollars for a pure bred yearling. In case of controversy the appraisement of the state veterinary surgeon shall be final, with no recourse, and the owner or agent shall be liable for the actual traveling expenses of the state veterinary surgeon in making such appraisement.

6. Animals which may be injured or killed while they are being inspected or tested in accordance with an order of the livestock sanitary board, and which animals do not come within either class one or class two as herein provided, may be paid for at their full assessed valuation, or in accordance with subdivision 5 of this section, when the claim therefor is recommended for payment at a meeting of the livestock sanitary board and is approved by the state board of examiners, and where it is shown that the injury or death of such animal was not proximately due to the negligence of the owner or his agent. The whole of such claim when so approved shall be paid out of the livestock sanitary board funds; provided, however, that the limit of compensation for such animal from all sources shall not exceed that fixed by this act for animals of class two.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 262, L. 1921.

3272. Payment for other personal property. Personal property, other than livestock, destroyed by order of the livestock sanitary board, or an authorized representative thereof, shall be paid for on the basis of its full assessed valuation; such full assessed valuation to be determined in the manner specified in the preceding section for the determination of the assessed valuation of animals.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 262, L. 1921.

3273. Indemnity—From what funds paid. In payment for animals or property destroyed by order of the livestock sanitary board, the state shall pay one-half of such indemnity out of any moneys at the disposal of the livestock sanitary board, and the county liable in part for the indemnity, as such county is determined by this act, shall pay the one-half part of such total indemnity out of the general fund of the county.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 262, L. 1921.

3274. Presentation of claims for indemnity. Claims against the state and any county thereof, arising from the destruction of animals or property destroyed by order of the livestock sanitary board, shall be made upon official forms, which must contain an affidavit by the owner, or his agent with knowledge of the facts, of such animal or property, that such animal or animals have been killed and buried, and the property destroyed, in accordance with the law and regulations of the livestock sanitary board; and such claims must be accompanied by a certificate from the state veterinary surgeon, or his authorized deputy or agent, that such animal or animals, or property (as the case may be) were ordered destroyed. Such claims shall likewise be accompanied by the certificate of the county assessor of the county liable in part for the indemnity, setting forth the full assessed value of animals or property (as the case may be) destroyed, as shown by the records of his office on the completion of the tax-roll the second Monday in August last preceding the date of the killing or destruction.

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 262, L. 1921.

3275. Examination and payment of claims. Claims against the state arising under this act, and when passed by the board of examiners, shall be examined by the state auditor, and if found correct, he shall issue a warrant upon the state treasurer for the amount payable by the state and charge the same to any funds or account at the disposal of the livestock sanitary board.

History: En. Sec. 16, Ch. 262, L. 1921.

3276. Same—Payment from county funds. The board of county commissioners of the county liable in part for the indemnity for any such animal or property destroyed shall cause to be paid the amount due from said county out of the general funds of the county.

History: En. Sec. 17, Ch. 262, L. 1921.

3277. Sale of condemned carcasses—Disposal of proceeds. Where carcasses of animals ordered destroyed under this act are found, upon postmortem inspection (which inspection must be made in accordance with the regulations of the livestock sanitary board by a state or federal veterinarian) fit for human consumption, the owner may receive the net proceeds from the sale of such carcass and shall have no further claim against the state or county on account of such slaughter. Should the owner refuse to accept this salvage in full settlement for the destruction of the animal, then the representative of the livestock sanitary board may proceed to sell the carcass, upon such terms as shall to him seem to the best interests of the state, and the net proceeds obtained therefrom shall be paid, fifty per cent. to the livestock sanitary board fund and fifty per cent. to the treasurer of the county liable in part for the indemnity to be paid for such animal.

History: En. Sec. 18, Ch. 262, L. 1921.

3278. Persons entitled to indemnity. The owner of any animal or property destroyed, as provided in this act, shall be entitled to indemnity therefor as herein provided, except in the following cases:

1. Animals belonging to the United States.

2. Animals brought into the state violating any provisions of this act, or regulations of the livestock sanitary board.

3. Animals which the owner or claimant knew to be diseased, or had notice thereof at the time they came into his possession.

4. Animals which had the disease for which they were slaughtered, or which were destroyed by reason of exposure to such disease, at the time of their arrival in the state; providing, however, that any animal or animals of the second class which were shipped into the state of Montana in accordance with the livestock sanitary board regulations and accompanied by the proper certificate of health from a recognized state or federal veterinarian may be paid for when such payment is authorized at a meeting of the livestock sanitary board and approved by the state board of examiners.

5. Animals which have not been within the state of Montana for at least one hundred and twenty days prior to the discovery of the disease; provided, that animals of the second class which have not been in the state one hundred and twenty days may be paid for when such payment is authorized at a meeting of the livestock sanitary board and approved by the state board of examiners.

6. When the owner or agent has not used reasonable diligence to prevent disease or exposure thereto.

7. When the owner or agent has not complied with the rules and regulations of the livestock sanitary board with respect to animals condemned.

8. No compensation or indemnity will be paid for the destruction of any livestock affected with tuberculosis, or other infectious, contagious, communicable, or dangerous disease, unless the entire herd or band of which such affected livestock is a part shall be under the supervision of the livestock sanitary board for the eradication of such disease.
